DON'T SCREW IT UP WITH SOMEBODY ELSE'S SPEAKERS.

It pains us, to hear a Pioneer car stereo through anybody else's loudspeakers.

It pains us because we probably make more high-fidelity speakers than anyone else. Some two-dozen different varieties of car speakers alone.

We know what goes into ours. And we know what goes into the other leading brand.

In Pioneer speakers, we use honest, one-piece ferrite magnets. We don't try to fake it with sandwiched magnets, because shortcuts like that increase flux leakage and reduce efficiency.

In Pioneer speakers, we use specially developed cone papers, some with polyurethane-coated cloth edges for high linearity and high compliance. We don't take chances on lesser materials, with poor stability and heat resistance.

In Pioneer speakers, we use more-stable high-frequency cones. We take special precautions for weather and temperature resistance.

And now that you've read about us, hear us.

Ask your car stereo dealer to play the other leading speakers, then Pioneer.

And, believe us, you won't need the ears of a Leonard Bernstein to hear the difference.

Ladies' Choice

Women can't keep their eyes — and their hands — off of guys who wear Angels Flight™.

Small wonder. Nothing in years has made men look as good.

The fit is so snug and provocative — it's downright sinful.

The feel is positively sensual. The silhouette started the disco look.

The material is dressy gabardine — a welcome relief from jeans, but at about the same price.

So give yourself a competitive edge — get into Angels Flight™ pants, vests and blazers.

Chances are, you'll have to fight the girls off.

Advice and Information for Today's Teens from a Teen-ager of the Recent Past

Dear Reader,

Do you have a teen-ager around the house? Are there teen-agers in your neighborhood or at your place of work? Then why not post this helpful article someplace where they will see it—pinned to their pillows, perhaps, or taped to the refrigerator door, or, maybe, pasted to an old lady so they can have something to read while they rape and mug her.

Information

- You can do anything you want to pimples and blackheads—pinch them, squeeze them, poke them with forks—and it won't make a bit of difference. It won't make them any worse or any better or anything.
- If you're under sixteen, you'll probably be released in the custody of your parents even if you kill somebody.
- Your parents will eventually forgive you no matter what you did, and you can live at home for free forever.
- Guys, if you're over fifteen, you can probably beat the shit out of your dad. Dads are notoriously out of shape, and he'll treat you with a lot more respect if he thinks you can whip him, so it's worth a try, anyway. (Girls: This doesn't work with Mom, but fucking her boyfriend does.)
- Your dick/tits is/are perfectly normal.
- That lump/ache/mole/wart isn't cancer.
- You do not have a mysterious, fatal disease which nobody is telling you about even though they all know.
- No, you're not queer.
- No, the earth is not an electron in an atom in a molecule in another universe or anything else that you thought when you were smoking dope.

- The entire world is not a dream and you aren't just imagining all this, so get back outside and finish mowing the lawn.

Advice

- Never envy the real good-looking guy with lots of brains and athletic ability and a family with money because he always has leukemia and dies before he's twenty.
- Also, the real pretty/handsome girl/boy that you're hung up on will get real fat/bald fast. So don't sweat it.
- Don't worry about grades. Nobody in your future life will give a flying fuck about what kind of grades you got in high school. The only thing grades are good for is getting into Harvard, and if you go to Harvard, everybody will always hate your guts and think you're queer.
- Have sex with all the older men and women who ask you to or at least with as many of them as you can stomach, because they'll take you places and give you lots of money and things and no one will ever have to know about it because they aren't going to tell, are they? And remember, you'll never be this good-looking again, so make the most of it.
- Take lots and lots of all kinds of drugs, because pretty soon your body won't be able to handle that kind of punishment, and all you'll be able to do is drink.
- Lose weight. You kids today are really fat, especially the girls.
- Go ahead and kill yourself if you really want to. It works. I mean it really will make your parents feel awful for a long, long time. I know a couple of guys who did it.

- Guys, if you want to have a lot of girl friends, go and make a lot of money, because that's the only thing women care about.
- Girls, fuck like maniacs. That's the only thing men care about except maybe big tits.
- Don't have kids.

PS. I would like to dedicate this issue to three very special, if not necessarily very presentable, people: first, to a nameless nymphette in the Full Moon Saloon in Key West, Florida, who was discussing sexual performance with a man my age or worse and who, when informed that excessive intake of alcohol by an adult male can sometimes render the principal regenerative organ hors de whatever, muttered simply, "That's old." Second, to a certain K---- N---- with whom I had a short but educational relationship earlier this year, and who left me for a hippie treasure diver. Miss N----, although barely able to vote even under the liberal provisions of the Twenty-sixth Amendment, was easily able to tell which career was safer, more intelligent, and had greater chance of regular compensation and so gave her humorist suitor the gate, thereby occasioning a long drug binge and the theme for this issue. And last, to novelist, screenwriter, calf-roper, and thrill-seeking fool Tom McGuane, for the remark, "I like young girls; their stories are shorter."

I'd also like to take this opportunity to thank Connie N., Kathy D., Sally B., Debbie S., Margie L., Peggy R., Margaret C., "Jingles," Sandy R., Robin W., Gabrielle S., Diane T., and Felicita from Jersey for the help they gave our editors in researching this issue. Don't call us at home.

An inside look at Jensen's Total Energy Response.

You're looking at the heart of one of the most uniformly accurate sound reproducers made today. A Jensen Lifestyle Speaker.

Unlike many speakers that require special on-axis listening positions—or others that bounce the sound all over your room—Lifestyle is engineered to deliver a wide spectrum of musical information throughout the listening area. In proper perspective. With all the depth and imaging your source material is capable of. And at real-life volume levels. That's what Total Energy Response is all about.

In fact, for perfectly integrated speaker systems and total quality control, we make every element that goes into the manufacture of our Lifestyle speakers. From the heavy duty magnets to our handwound, high power voice coils. Even the computer-designed crossover network. And of course, all of our precision woofers, midrange drivers and 170° dispersion dome tweeters.

But please, give a critical listen to these speakers in person. We think you'll agree, a notably superior design concept has resulted in audibly superior sound reproduction.

See if you can get them to spend it on submarines. Submarines are really far-out. Maybe you could get them to paint one yellow (you know, like in Yellow Submarine), which would really be a gas. # THE CASSETTE DECK THAT PLAYS REQUESTS.

Any cassette deck can play music. But only a cassette deck with The Sharp Eye™ can play requests.

Sharp's new RT-1157 cassette deck finds and plays the music you want to hear. And skips the selections you can live without.

With it you can repeat your "Gotta hear that one again" favorites, just by pressing the Sharp Eye button.

You can even change your mind in the middle of a selection

"Start with the next song."

"I love it-play it again."

and request it to find the start of the next.

The Sharp Eye is an electronic search system that automatically senses the short blank spaces between songs on a tape and finds the start of any selection. For repeating songs it works the same way, but in reverse.

The Sharp Eye is an exclusive feature on Sharp tape decks, music systems and radio/cassette portables.

But the Sharp Eye isn't the only reason you'll want the RT-1157.

You'll want it for its spectacular sound. And its very respectable specs: wow and flutter, 0.09% WRMS. S/N ratio, 62dB with Dolby.* And a frequency response of 40-14,000 Hz (±3dB) for FeCr.

"Forget that one-play the next."

Take your requests down to your Sharp® dealer. He'll show you how the RT-1157 plays them.

TIPS AND TALES

MY METER IS RUNNING

Where you going, Ace? Abercrombie and Fitch? You must be from out of town. Abercrombie and Fitch is closed. Went out of business. Too bad. I loved that store. Used to get all my guns and fishing tackle there. You know who introduced to me that place, doncha? Ernest Hemingway. You know, the writer. He was a very old and dear friend of mine. "Papa," we called him. He used to call me "Marvin." I know, I know. My name isn't Marvin on my taxi ID. It's Bernie. Marvin is a mistake. Let me tell you how he got to call me by that name. We're stuck in a traffic jam and I got to take you to another sporting goods store anyway, right? I'll tell you the whole story.

It must have been about 1936, in the spring. I was driving along Fifth Avenue about two in the A.M., looking for a high society pickup coming out of one of the night clubs along Fifty-second Street, when this couple hails me. The guy is big and heavy-set—built like Smokey the Bear. He looks a little like Clark Gable and is wearing those suits you wear when you hunt animals in Africa. The woman with him is a very nice-looking brunette with the most beautiful lips I ever saw, and not a bad body, either. They were both very drunk, or "tight," as they used to say in those days.

They get into the cab and the guy says, "Take me to the nearest whorehouse." I figure he's just joking around. But the broad is really mad. They look like they've been fighting for quite a while. She says to him, "O.K., wiseguy, if you're going to a whorehouse for men, then I'll go to one for women." She starts a whole megila, a long story, about why there should be whorehouses with men prostitutes. Women should have equal opportunity to buy sex if they want it, she says, and she was going to find a fucking whorehouse if it took her all night. The guy says, "There's no such thing as a male brothel in New York. And you are a cunt." And they argue for a while, and actually, I kind of feel sorry for the broad. She's getting the short end. Finally she leans over to me and says, "Where's the nearest whorehouse for women?" And I says, "You're in it."

Suddenly, the two of them become cold sober. They want to know what I'm talking about. I say it was only a joke, but if they really want to know, I happen to be the best lay in New York. Maybe it was the way I said it. I mean, other guys like to boast about being great fuckers, but I said it because I really meant it. It was a fact. Well, the broad got very excited just thinking about it, and pretty soon she was propositioning me. She's trying to make the guy mad and jealous, only he gets cooler and cooler and finally says, "O.K., hon, if you want to fornicate with the cabdriver, then do it. Just drop me off at the Plaza for the night."

Now I'm wondering if this whole thing is some kind of Punch and Judy act, a con game where I go to a room with this broad and she gets me hot and then the guy busts in and black-jacks me and takes all my money, leaving me alone with no clothes. I figure I'm not going to give this broad the benefit of the doubt. No kosher salsami, no Jewish cark for her. Besides, she is beginning to behave like a cunt.

But now the guy is playing along with her. He offers me five hundred bucks to fuck her. He wants to watch. He thinks it's all a game and he's buying her an expensive toy, namely me. But I don't go for it. I don't want it. All the money in China wouldn't make me do it.

So now they look at me with respect. They know they can't play games with me. They can see that I'm not just any shitheel New York cabdriver. I was a very sexy guy in those days. I looked just like the actor in Mean Streets, not De Niro—the other guy—Harvey Keitel. I was like an animal in those days. The broads would go into heat just looking at me.

So these two started talking to me and pretty soon they were telling me their life stories, like I was their oldest friend. Turns out that they were married and they're both writers. His name was Ernest Hemingway and he wrote novels and stories. Her name was Martha something or other. I always forget her last name. I never heard of them at the time, but they insisted they were well known. She called him Papa and he called her Paloma, which is Spanish for pigeon. They were very interesting people and very funny. I liked them. And before I know it they're inviting me to their apartment for a drink. Since it was my

IF YOU'VE GOT IT TOGETHER, WE'VE GOT IT TOGETHER.

When you reach the point where simplicity and function mean more to you than impressive gadgetry, you're probably ready for component stereo without components.

Centrex stereo. By Pioneer.

The KH-7766 model shown here delivers a very component-like minimum RMS output power of 12 watts per channel into 8 ohms. Over a frequency range of 40 to 20,000 Hz with no more than 0.8% THD. Delivered through a pair of component-quality, three-way loudspeakers.

All that. Plus an FM capture ratio of 1 dB. A power amp with click-stop bass and treble, and loudness. An automatic record changer with moving-magnet cartridge. A cassette deck with wow and flutter less than 0.15%.

At a price less than that of many leading component systems.

So if your Pioneer dealer is lucky enough to have Centrex music systems in stock, be quick enough to grab one.

Take it home.

Plug it in.

And while it may not look like the biggest thing in the room, it'll certainly sound like it.

'Why I choose to smoke'

"Why kid anyone? I smoke because I enjoy it. I'm the kind of guy who gets pleasure out of a cigarette. But I'm not deaf to what's being said about tar.

"So I searched out a cigarette that would give me taste with low tar. And two years ago I found it in Vantage. Vantage has all the taste I enjoy yet, surprisingly, much less tar than my old brand.

"Why did I choose Vantage? Because I like it."

“WE’RE SENDING OUR CUBANS TO AFRICA”

FIRST WE SECRETLY BREAK INTO ZAIRE. THEN WE BUG THE ENTIRE TELEPHONE SYSTEM -

- AND THEN WE BANG ON A CONGA DRUM AND SCREAM, “LOOO-SEE, LOOO-SEE,” AND SING “BABALU” AND RUN AROUND LIKE CRAZY.

In response to reports of widespread Cuban intervention and provocation in several politically unstable African countries, the U.S. State Department has announced plans for sending “American Cubans, or Cuban-Americans, or whatever they’re called—anyway, the real crazy kind” into Africa to promote “free-world values.” Pictured are the two most accomplished assault teams: Desi Ricardo (above) is an expert in quelling domestic unrest and containing bizarre situations. Other agents, code name “Plumbers,” specialize in covert surveillance, intelligence gathering, and embarrassment of high government officials.

Top U.S. Gov't. Official Goes Red

The State Department has confirmed reports that a high-ranking federal employee, Zbigniew Brzezinski, has defected to Communist China. Brzezinski, who had access to much of America's most vital national security information, has already been displayed to foreign journalists on the Great Wall, where he enthusiastically lauded Chinese officials and announced he had spent eleven continuous hours briefing them on virtually every facet of U.S. policy and military strategy.

The Carter administration has been accused of covering up the affair by claiming Brzezinski was on an official mission to China, while U.S. representatives are in Peking negotiating a hasty repatriation to create the illusion Brzezinski is merely returning home from a round of "successful talks."

The startling defection has not been without other repercussions. The FBI revealed Mrs. Brzezinski was found unconscious in her home, having apparently attempted suicide over the loss of her husband. She declared in a note, "My Zbigniew loved his country. He would never do a thing like this unless the Communists forced him."

First Casino Opens

The first legal casino to open outside Nevada has begun operation in Atlantic City, New Jersey, and early indications are that it's a rousing success.

Owned and operated by Resorts International, Inc., the casino occupies what was formerly the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall Hotel on the boardwalk. Already some three jillion persons have lost what is conservatively estimated at $12.4 zillion at roulette, craps, slot machines, blackjack, and Big Six wheels.

"We're going to make this Vegas-on-the-Atlantic," crowed one Resorts International official. "And you know what that means: cocktail waitresses shoving their tits in your face. Ridiculous pseudo-Arabian architecture. Everything—and I mean everything—done in plastic, velour, polyester, and chrome. Overpriced food. Underpoured drinks. And headline superstar acts—I'm talking about such blockbusters as Wayne Newton doing his Sammy Davis impression. Sammy doing Wayne. Steve and Eydie still being married. Liberate blinding everybody not wearing shades. Tony Orlando kissing Totie Fields. And so much more."

Anthropologists Puzzled

Find New Group of "Primitives" in Pacific

Anthropologists have discovered a new group of so-called primitive people living on a group of islands in the Pacific, reports the scientific journal Anthropological Quarterly.

The islands, called "the Philippines," are home to a group of underdeveloped natives known, both to themselves and to neighboring peoples, as "Filipinos." Their mode of existence is a puzzle to most scientists.

"They seem to subsist on a supply of green paper that comes to them from overseas," notes University of California anthropologist David Stein. "With this green paper, they barter for foodstuffs and living material. Where this paper comes from and why it is sent to them, we cannot guess thus far."

Fear Fare Fatal

"Fast Food" Report Released

Recent laboratory tests have revealed that hamburgers fried on a metal grill are more carcinogenic than those broiled.

The tests, conducted under the supervision of biologist and author Barry Commoner, suggest that beef charred by direct contact with heated metal undergoes a chemical change that could lead to the development of cancer.

Related test findings reveal that the most seemingly innocuous popular "fast foods" are in fact deadly poisons. Commoner's research group has released the following findings:

- French fries eaten with most commercially-made catsups cause bubonic plague. French fries eaten without condiments, but with salt, can lead to the development of scarlet fever.
- Pickle chips—those sliced in a circular, disklike shape—have been found to be connected with outbreaks of diphtheria and mononucleosis.
- Sesame seeds, when eaten on a hamburger roll or "bun," act with lettuce in a way not yet fully understood to produce leprosy.
- Melted cheese in its various forms has been connected to a host of maladies. Melted cheddar cheese has been linked to spinal meningitis. Melted American cheese appears to be a mutagen responsible for the onset of schizophrenia.
- Grated cheese, when eaten together with Tabasco sauce on tacos, has been connected to outbreaks of yaws.
- Finally, the combination of catsup, mustard, mayonnaise, and pickle relish (or "special sauce," as it is sometimes referred to) appears to trigger a chemical reaction that apparently results in broken legs, mosquito bites, and chronic depression.

Breakthrough in SALT

First Principles Emerge

The United States and the Soviet Union have simultaneously announced their agreement on a series of basic principles governing the use of force in international relations. The principles were derived from the ongoing Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

Emotions ran high in Vladivostok during a joint press conference called by the two nations. Experts feel that the accord could be a major step toward total international arms limitations, and could in fact usher in an era of complete nuclear disarmament.

The basic principles that are to govern the use of force in any dispute involving the signatories are as follows:

- No hitting with fists.
- No hitting girls.
- No talking about anybody's mother.
- No kicking or biting.
- No fair ganging up two against one.
- No fair saying, "No touchbacks!"
- Double dares go first.

Washington PR Firm Recommends Carter Change Name

The prestigious Washington public relations firm of Goadle, Mockley, and Jones has recommended to the White House that President Carter change his name to boost flagging popularity. "People cannot respond to a man named Jimmy Carter," Herbert Mockley said. "His name suggests he'd be a good grocery store manager, but not a president." The name Heisman Billingham was suggested as a replacement. The firm has had success with a number of other Washington clients, including McGeorge Bundy, whose real name is Wally Smerd; Cyrus Vance, whose real name is Al Lerch; Elsworth Bunker, whose real name is Ira Korngut; and Zbigniew Brzezinski, who changed his name from Alice Coons.

Poll Shows Ford, Reagan, or Himmler Could Beat Carter

YOU'RE DEAD AND I'M A FOREIGN NATIONAL WHO IS WANTED ON A MORALS CHARGE. WHAT ARE THE POSSIBLE DRAW-BACKS TO OUR CANDIDACY?

Following the release of an ABC/Harris poll showing Gerald Ford or Ronald Reagan beating President Carter in a presidential race, further opinion polls have substantially added to the list of those who would oust the incumbent were an election held this month. The new polls went into more detail than the earlier one, questioning voter preference for cabinet and vice-presidential offices as well.

Among those who scored higher than Vice President Mondale were Ed McMahon, Dick van Patten, and Seymour Flush, an executive with WCVP in Pasadena. All three are involved in television, as is CBS newsmen Charles Kuralt, who scored just lower than the vice president. Few analysts were prepared to commit themselves to an explanation of how Hubert Humphrey, the late Senator from Minnesota, roundly defeated Mondale in the "shadow elections."

Expatriate Roman Polanski, a fugitive from the United States now living in Paris, headed the list of nonpoliticians who scored higher than Carter in the category of president. Others who defeated the president included former President Ford, entertainer John Travolta, and a coalition of Heinrich Himmler and Angela Davis.

A surprising number of women were shown ahead of the incumbents on the list. They numbered among them five entertainers, including Brooke Shields and Florence Henderson, an author, Erma Bombeck, and seven golfers now competing on the Women's Professional Golf Association circuit.

The White House refused to comment on the poll, although President Carter did say, during an impromptu meeting with the press, that he felt that it was "unfair" because of the current popularity of John Travolta's Saturday Night Fever movie.

Polish "Dead Brigade" Leader Arrested

Chaplin's Body Recovered

BETTER DEAD THAN RED BRIGADE WISE.

Swiss police investigating the bizarre disappearance of the body of deceased comedian Charlie Chaplin have announced the recovery of the body and the arrest of two men believed among those responsible for the kidnapping. At a press conference in Lausanne, they described the capture and revealed the existence of a Polish "underground terrorist squad" known as "The Dead Brigade." The group's name derives from their tactic of choosing victims among the dead and buried, although a spokesman could not say for sure if the group members were aware that other underground groups performed their acts of terrorism above ground. "All we know at this time," said the spokesman, a senior Swiss policeman, "is that once the leaders had decided to 'go underground,' they saw little purpose in abducting sewer pipes or subterranean telephone cables, and that left bodies."

According to police, the Chaplin abduction was inspired by the Red Brigade's spectacular kidnapping of former Italian Premier Aldo Moro, and evidence suggests that he may have been next on the "underground hit list." Evidence also points to plans the group had to use Look magazine as a conduit for communiqués.

Specially mounted guards have been assigned to patrol the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier after phone calls were received from purported members of the Dead Brigade threatening his abduction "within a month."

While the purpose of the kidnappings remains unclear, the commitment of Dead Brigade members appears almost total. An internal missive apparently listed names of those who had volunteered to shoot themselves in the knees and then disappear into the crowd if the kidnappings failed. No names were released.

Soccer Hooliganism Plagues Europe

European sports officials appear stunned by the alarming wave of soccer hooliganism that is now commonplace at major contests throughout the continent. Overspirited fans are becoming increasingly demonstrative. "Even as the players are on the field playing the game, spectators carry on shouting regardless of who they disturb," complained one observer. The Pan-European Soccer Council has met to deal with the crisis, and, according to its chairman, "The noisemakers and their accomplices are quite distracting, and, frankly, unwelcome."

What can I do to fight the National Lampoon price increase? I'm just one guy.

You can order a subscription to the National Lampoon at the old low price, while there's still a chance. That's what you can do.

If you and thousands of other guys and gals like you send in your $7.95 for a one-year subscription, or $11 for two years, or $16 for three years, you'll beat the price increase. Yes, one little guy can win, can fight back and beat the system—beat back the juggernaut of spiraling inflation—the excessive printing and production costs, the outrageously high postal rates, and the selfish demands of Big Business, Big Labor, and the guys with the fat cigars and pinky rings—all the forces that made us increase our prices.

But we can't make this offer much longer.

Our newsstand price is now $1.50. A one-year $7.95 subscription will save you $10.05 on that new newsstand price. A two-year subscription saves you $25.00, and a three-year subscription nets you a whopping $38.00 saving!

So if there ever was a time to subscribe, it's right now.

PEOPLE MAKING NEWS

Attempts by the Reverend Clarence Peekins to resurrect his late wife resulted in the bizarre return of comic Wally Cox from the dead. Cox, who died several years ago, said that he was "glad to be back" but was "stiff and sore" and "very thirsty." Reverend Peekins has scheduled another attempt to bring back his wife for late August.

Ed McMahon, of "Tonight Show" fame, has admitted that he is actually Johnny Carson's father. But prideful Ed (originally Johnny Carson, Sr.) changed his handle because he didn't want to make it on his son's name.

The government of Red China has officially reinstated five deceased scientists to honorable Party status by means of "posthumous rehabilitation." The scientists had died during the 1968 Cultural Revolution. Chinese authorities also announced the posthumous rehabilitation of Bubbles the Hippo, who had until recently been denounced for her implicit cooperation with the imperialist Western zoo establishment. "Bubbles's valiant escape from her admissions-mongering jailers demonstrated the hippo's true and strident adherence to the tenets of freedom and selflessness inherent in the modern Communist man or hippo," declared a Party statement accompanying the rehabilitation decree.

A desire to "get out of the house" has prompted England's reigning monarch, Queen Elizabeth II, to sign a lucrative contract with Amana, the American appliance manufacturer. She will be featured in advertising using her married name, Mrs. Mountbatten. "We feel Elizabeth can lend credibility and class to our advertising," an Amana marketing executive said. "She has excellent high and low end awareness among consumers, and we feel this will translate very easily into strong message playback and message recall."

Former President Gerald Ford has announced that he will open a chain of trouser stores to be called "The President's Pants." The stores will carry only slacks and trousers and "jeans for older men." The first store will open in Palm Springs in November.

Why POWs Prevailed

A study prepared by the Army's Research Center for Psychological Warfare at Fort Ord, California, has revealed Communist brainwashing techniques were far less successful during the Vietnam War than in Korea. Although methods had advanced in the twenty years between the two conflicts, researchers found most American prisoners captured in Vietnam, unlike Korea, were officers. Persistent North Vietnamese interrogators went so far as to develop a brain presoak and specially concentrated agitation cycles to handle the smaller loads, but as one Hanoi doctor put it, "You can't launder what isn't in the hamper."

A group of former Vietnam War POWs who gathered recently at a reunion on the West Coast seemed to agree. One of them noted, "The war has had surprisingly little effect on the way we are living our lives. We are just as dumb now as we were when we were in the service."

Judge Sentences Physicist for "Slander"

THE DEFENDANT IS MOST ENTIRELY CORRECT IN HIS ACCUSATION. TWELVE YEARS. NEXT CAGE, PLEASE.

In Moscow this week, TASS released the first official photo of Judge Valentina Lubentsova, who recently sentenced Soviet physicist Yuri Orlov to twelve years for "slandering the Russian state." Orlov had stated that he felt citizens of the Soviet Union were often sent to jail for trivial, arbitrary, or political reasons.

U.S. Wins Power Struggle with Soviets over Afghanistan

A senior State Department official told a Washington press conference this week of a fierce behind-the-scenes struggle which resulted in the installation of a pro-Soviet military government in Afghanistan. According to the spokesman, the sometimes heated diplomatic war was kept secret for fear of endangering talks between the U.S. and Russia.

The contest began when Secretary of State Cyrus Vance became concerned over intelligence reports that suggested the impoverished country was leaning toward an alliance with the U.S. Vance then visited the faction-torn nation, and lent his weight to a plan that would absorb Afghanistan into Iran.

This plan became bogged down when Iranian officials expressed concern over the "Mountain Wolf" people of the Afghanistan mountain regions. Members of this isolated sect are known to swoop down from the mountains and devour all the old people and infants in a particular town. They regard this as a form of entertainment and have claimed, with some justification, that theirs is a comparatively benevolent form of recreation in this rugged country.

Other international plans also met with failure, for one reason or another, and the two superpowers were left to fight it out alone. The State Department finally brought the debate to a halt by sending a "strongly-worded ultimatum" to Moscow: "Take Afghanistan. Please."

Is news extinct?

Have you noticed that news has largely been replaced by the staged Media Event, the Official Handout and the Public Relations Campaign? If so, it's time you discovered the missing link between what's going on in the world and what's being printed in the press: NEW TIMES, America's first feature news magazine.

Every other week, NEW TIMES publishes insightful and incisive articles on the otherwise unreported events that are really shaping our lives. Thanks to the hard-nosed reporting and finely crafted writing of our contributors, we've dropped more than our share of media bombshells, and caught the other news magazines with their deadlines down.

NEW TIMES exposed the dubious wit and wisdom of Earl Butz, costing the Secretary of Agriculture his job and possibly Jerry Ford the '76 election.

NEW TIMES alone bothered to interview SLA leaders William and Emily Harris in their jail cells during the Patty Hearst trial, coming up with testimony that blew Patty's defense to bits and led to her conviction.

NEW TIMES went to Washington and discovered a Capitol Hill lifestyle better suited to the ancient Roman Senate than the U.S. Congress. From lavishly appointed offices to dollar haircuts to outrageous freebies, the Imperial Congress is living it up, courtesy of your hard-earned tax dollars.

And in two especially shocking NEW TIMES cover stories, we learned that aerosol cans and our own drinking water may wipe us out before the neutron bomb ever gets off the drawing board.

News of the world, news of the nation, sports, the arts, politics, lifestyles. From backstage scoops to front page leaks, NEW TIMES consistently gets behind major stories ahead of other major publications.

PICTURE NEWS

Sydney, Australia The world's first brain operation performed by a chimpanzee was declared a success, as the surgeon, known simply as Binky, took a much-needed stroll afterward to relieve his tension. Binky, who is probably the world's most intelligent chimpanzee, completed his medical studies at Sydney University, specializing in neurosurgery and open heart work. His manual dexterity is supposed to be greater than any human's, and he is not afraid to perform dangerous operations from great heights.

Chicago, Illinois Merko Karlovy, an authentic vampire from Budapest, poses for a publicity photograph while showing off how much blood he must collect every day to stay alive. Mr. Karlovy pays for his blood at local hospital blood banks while he is touring in a one-man version of Dracula. "Sucking blood from another's flesh is old-fashioned and messy," said Karlovy. "Besides, it would take you hours to ingest the amount you need."

New York City Thousands of young blacks, aspiring to be movie stars, showed up for a casting call in Central Park for the new film version of The Wiz, the all-black Broadway musical version of The Wizard of Oz. Much to their disappointment, they were told that the casting had been changed for the film and it would be an all-white version instead. A near riot was averted when the director promised to use some of the black kids as well by putting them in "whiteface" makeup.

Uganda, Africa For the first time, actual photos of Ugandan torture instruments have been smuggled out of the country. This device is known as the mgowa koku, or electric bath. The prisoner is strapped into the tiny bathtub and electric current is fed into the water and passed through his body. The device is also self-propelled. Prime Minister Idi Amin puts prime political prisoners in it and makes them drive around a stadium track while being tortured in front of large crowds.

Canuck Buck Kicks the Pail

Canadian Economy Runs Amuckluk

Canada's "dollar" is no longer purchasing what it ought. Why, it is now only worth eighty-seven real cents. If its worthlessness continues to snowball, the name of the currency unit will have to be changed from dollar to peso, escudo, or dungoon.

RIGHT TO KNOW?

The Canadian has a right to know what the thunder is going on when a fellow has to carry three wallets of money to the taproom in order to get foxed.

SCOT ECONOMIST SPEAKS

Canadian Corner spoke to leading Scot economist and former miniature golf pro "Wandering" Angus McFeely. McFeely spoke from the hospital where he was residing following a blow struck to his head by Mrs. McFeely, who discovered the economist had lost half a box of her kitchen matches in a poker game.

CITES LAZINESS, UNIONS

"Canadians are over-unionized and lazy," said McFeely, agreeing with most Nipponese investors. "The whole country has decided to take a generation off!"

ALARMING FIGURES SUPPORT STATEMENT

- 9.99% of the Northwest Territories remains unplowed.
- Not one auto engine has yet been developed that will burn the Athabasca tar sands.
- Only five French Canadians have been assimilated in the past twenty years.
- No substantial styling innovation in tractors in fifteen years.

YOUTH LIVING ON CAPITAL, BORROWING

Canada's youth have been paying themselves unemployment and welfare benefits at a great rate. Also granting student loans and other great hunks of money unavailable to unemployed middle-aged people. Much of this money is spent on dissipation.

DISASTER AHEAD

The country's improvident youth will soon run through the national trust funds; then, forced to sleep under bridges, they will, in their declining years, man car washes and practice fry-cookery.

HOW LONG?

Economist McFeely expects Canada's treasury to hold out another few years, but it will mean exploiting every source of revenue. Foreigners, for instance, who have been granted asylum in Canada will have to be returned to their native lands, and the rewards offered by their governments turned over to the receiver-general.

FARMERS ANGRY

Farmers are withholding last year's wheat crop after being offered nothing but a freight car load of handmade hash pipes and smelly leather belts, for which they have less use than pants (preferring to drive their tractors "bareback" in order to save on denim, these thrifty Scots). Many farmers feel they are the last workers in the country.

A CURE

Among the more workable cures suggested was that of Reverend Donald MacKenzie, who recommends the immediate importation of 6,000 Presbyterian ministers of the most bigoted and persecuting type to reestablish principles of hard work and thrift in a country too long exposed to the vote-garnering promises of politicians.

PROVOCATIVE INSULTS

Recently, tourists from countries such as Mexico have taken to scattering coinage amongst Canadian workers and laughing insanely as these men jam their arms down sewer grates or under the wheels of buses to retrieve the specie.

ACT NOW

It is time something was done to cure Canada's economic woes. If the country can't manage to have a theater and a balanced budget, then it doesn't deserve a theater. Or a budget. Remember: you are only allowed to have a country as long as you take care of it. Thank God for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Countries. They'll find a new owner for Canada soon enough. Am I right? Darn right.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT RENTING A CAR IF YOU'RE UNDER 24.

The first thing you should know about renting a car if you're under 24 is to come to National Car Rental.

Because face it: When it comes to renting a car at most places you've got problems before you even start.

Car insurance companies don't exactly stand in line to get your business.

You attract more than your share of attention from the highway patrol.

And you're hardly high on the corporate ladder so you don't make a lot of money.

All of which could make you a credit risk.

So what does this mean when you want a car?

Do you borrow Uncle Louie's? Take a bus?

Sometimes. But when you really need to rent a car we'd like to have you ask us.

Because not everyone under 24 is a bad risk. (We don't subscribe to the bad apple theory.)

And we hope if you rent your first car from us, you'll keep renting your cars from us.

The point of all this is to tell you we've got a company policy that makes renting a car easy if you've got a Master Charge card or other major credit card. (If you don't have a Master Charge card, write to: Southeast Bank, Master Charge, P. O. Box 012477, Miami, Florida 33101.)

You won't have to spend half your day filling out forms. Or leave your life savings as collateral.

And you can use our toll-free number to reserve a car almost anywhere in the world.

You can rent a car in Fort Lauderdale while you're still in Philadelphia.

Or reserve a car in London from Laredo. So now when you need a car, consider this:

Uncle Louie has the world's smallest fleet of GM cars. We've got the world's largest.

Renters must be at least 18 years old and have a valid driver's license. Some locations may require renters to be at least 25 years of age.

We feature GM cars

like the Oldsmobile Cutlass and offer S&H Green Stamp certificates on rentals in all 50 U.S. states. To reserve a car anywhere in the world see your travel agent or call toll-free: 800-328-4567.

NEW SANYO AUDIO/SPEC. SOMETHING THIS GREAT HAS TO BE SHARED.

Install it, then get set for some pretty amazing reactions.

Your friends with expensive home component systems will be astonished by the FM tuner's sensitivity (some models are as good as  $1.0\mu\text{V}$ ). Tape recording purists will be taken aback when you switch on the Dolby\* noise reduction to show them what "quiet" is all about.

And even hard-to-impress people will get turned on when you crank up the bi-amplified power stage to an awesome 28 watts RMS total system output. Here's sound to knock your socks off.

AUDIO/SPEC is a series of single chassis in-dash and under-dash tape players (8-track or cassette) . . . with or without stereo radio. Every one delivers real high fidelity sound to just about any vehicle on the road. A fabulous high performance line of AUDIO/SPEC speakers is also available.

Visit a Sanyo car stereo dealer. Be prepared to be amazed at what it can do for you.

Free. Send name and address for our informative new booklet, "How to buy car stereo without getting taken for a ride" (a $1.25 value). Write Sanyo Electric Inc., Car Stereo Dept., 1200 W. Artesia Blvd., Compton, Calif. 90220.

Principal Species

Southern Streaked Blonde

2.

Freckled Plump-Leg

3.

Miniature Jewess

4.

Pygmy Wild Hippie

1. Thinnest of the common teens. Note dark roots and bright lip markings. May bear as many as one live young per year. Habitat: 7-11 stores, turnpike access roads, big city bus stations.
2. Most prevalent and widely distributed species of teen-age girl. Markings include freckles, giggles, and Salem cigarettes. Habitat: Shopping malls, burger stands, high school parking lots. Travels in packs. Will hibernate during all of adult life.
3. High-strung, difficult to train, distinctive yap, and dark mane. Habitat: Boutiques, tennis courts, the Bahamas. Similar species: Eastern guinea chick. Has larger breasts, no braces, mean brothers.
4. Markings vary greatly, but note dark patches of hair on hind legs and under forearms. Habitat: Endangered species, found only in such remote areas as California. Diet: Largely herbivorous. Eats only vegetables and members of rock bands.

What Is a Teen-age Girl?

Between the plump baby and the flabby wife, between the childish blabbermouth and the matronly nag, between the tattling sister and the punishing mom, there stands (with one hip provocatively outthrust) ... the teen-age girl.

She's glamour with glue in its nose, grace with a head full of Quaaludes, Venus in Clearasil, Mona Lisa on a diet pill jag. She's innocence with rubbers in its purse, joy with a giant boyfriend, life in jail with a car of its own.

Teen-age girls come in every size and shape—although the great big fat ones don't really count. They are faith with a rich dad, hope with a stomach pump, charity with an American Express card. Teen-age girls can be found practically anywhere—as long as their parents think they're spending the night at a girl friend's. A teen-age girl is a pert glance, a sparkling smile, a twinkle in the eye, a twinkle in the pants, a pert breast, a hole in the wallet, and a real hard thing to explain to your wife.

Teen-age girls love buying new clothes, downs, going to Bermuda, telling other teen-age girls that they went to Bermuda, buying new clothes, private phone listings, buying more new clothes, and you. You hope.

Teen-age girls hate all the old clothes they already own, drinks with whiskey in them, going to school, most other teen-age girls, boys their own age without cars, not buying new clothes, places where there aren't any clothing stores, and you. Probably.

A teen-age girl—she can break your heart, bust your bank account, destroy your marriage, and ruin your career. But just when you think the world's about to end, when you're down and out and life's got you whipped, that's when she runs up and pops a hand into your lap, throws her legs around your neck, and says she loves you because you're so mature.

Danger

An affair with a teen-age girl can lead to serious legal difficulties, such as going to prison where you have to explain what you're in for to a giant murderer who has teen-age daughters of his own.

Check the Local Laws in Your Area

2 In olden days, an occasional teen-ager was actually put in charge of everybody else, which was a dreadful mistake.

3 Teen-agers in ancient Greece killed their fathers, raped their mothers, and inspired countless poets and playwrights.

How It All Finally Worked O

1 Teen-agers did not fit in from the start, being heavily involved in evolution and other unpleasant things.

6 But there were always more of them, and, one way or another, they were invariably disturbing.

4 In order to minimize their danger, adults worked out many ingenious ways of cutting down the number of teen-agers, such as sending them off to wars where they would kill one another.

5 Later, people hit on the idea of working them to death in large quantities.

ut For Teen-agers by Gahan Wilson

7 They were extremely sexual, for instance, and older people who aroused them had to be very careful.

8 They did weird things to objects particularly treasured by their elders.

9 And by far the oddest thing about them was the way they fit so smoothly into an increasingly corrupt technology. It was impossible to manufacture food too repulsive or entertainment too disgusting for them.

10 But the first indication that teen-agers had hit on something truly and mysteriously new was their ability to levitate at the point of climax.

11 Then they became universally addicted to a new drug which made teen-agers, and only teen-agers, translucent.

12 The drug also made them invulnerable to a new sort of music, which had an unfortunate effect on children and older people in that it killed them.

13 The first solid clue as to what had happened was an alien incubator discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Koeller of Galesburg, Illinois, in the bedroom closet of their son, Arthur.

14 A desperate raid on an idolized musical group confirmed the horrid suspicion that teen-agers had found another alien race and joined forces with it.

15 But by then it was too late, and the world was ruled from then on by aliens and teen-agers; the aliens for life, and the teen-agers until they turned opaque.

A STRETCH IN TIME

We all know that nothing puts the snap back in that old office routine like a little exercise, but we busy bees hardly ever have time to rush out to the park for an invigorating jog, or skip off to the gym for a healthy workout. Right? Well, now you don't have to anymore, because we've discovered these terrific new stretches that you can do right on the job. All you'll need is a standard filing cabinet and two minutes when the boss is elsewhere. Go to it!

PERKING UP YOUR WARDROBE FOR PENNIES!

Here are a lot of really neat new fashion items that cost almost nothing. They're fun and fresh and fit everybody's budget. Go to a novelty shop and bag a great big squirting flower! Stuff a handful of floral toilet tissue in your breast pocket! Why not make a pair of throwaway sandals out of cardboard and string! Wear a whole bunch of pop-top soda can rings in your hair! Or wear a butter cookie like a ring and eat it when it gets crumbly! Wear one of your dad's suits and roll up the sleeves and pants! It'll be real baggy and dopey, and that's neat! Wear a paper bag over your head and write your name and phone number on it! Tie a string around an old Barbie doll and wear her around your neck! And if you have a sewing machine, make a sack dress out of a mildewed old tent. Be inventive. Use your imagination. Who said chic meant expensive?

1. Easy does it the first time, but once you've got the hang of it, you won't want to stop.

2. Sixty seconds is the limit on this upside-down exercise, but it will give you hours of rain'-to-go energy.

Working Girl Make-Over

Plus a terrific office lunch tip for the gal on the go

The modern employment market is rapidly opening up for today's contemporary girl who wants a job, but she's really got to put her best foot forward in order to meet and beat the super competition. Margaret Gornick of Joliet, Illinois, was anxious to land the perfect career, but wasn't sure if she had what it takes. Well, thanks to a Savvyteen three-step make-over, she's now the first sixteen-year-old federal district attorney of California, and that's just the beginning. STEP ONE Your Cosmetic Inventory 1. Hairstyle lacks motivation; needs drive. 2. Lipstick isn't analytical enough; doesn't lend itself to complex, solution-oriented problem-solving. 3. Eyeliner is non-competitive; fails to promote a winning edge. 4. Nails signal lack of advanced education, professional training. 5. Perfume is irresponsible; doesn't evidence participation on the company team. 6. Blush lacks necessary social skills; can't command respect of clients and associates. STEP TWO Your Personal Make-Over Checklist 1. Change name to Wendi. 2. Change address to Pebble Beach. 3. Change father and mother to upper class, trim, successful, and beautiful; superior genetic pool. 4. Change I.Q. to 200. 5. Change law school admission boards score to 800. 6. Change Harvard diploma to magna cum laude. STEP THREE The New Person And, would you believe it? Here she is, the former Margaret Gornick, ready to tackle another day in her busy and rewarding life as a federal attorney. "I'm a completely different person than I used to be, and I can't believe how neat it is."

A lo-cal diet soft drink is just right for office lunches or anywhere, anytime you're hungry. Try it right from the can for office lunchtime fun.

Dear Pretty Person...

I have a huge, ugly nose. It's the biggest nose in our whole school (except this one really old teacher). I hate it so much I want to cut it off and throw it away. My parents say I can't have a nose job until I'm old enough to get married. What can I do?

"Great Big Huge Ugly Stupid Nose"
Iowa City, Iowa

Beauty experts agree that the way to make a large feature look small is to make all the other features look big. Make your mouth look big—lots and lots of lipstick. Wear the biggest eyeglasses you can find. Put big red blush marks on your cheeks and use an eyebrow pencil to double the size of your eyebrows. As your whole face gets bigger, your nose looks smaller. Isn't that neat?

My parents won't let me shave my legs or under my arms and I'm Greek and Armenian and really hairy and I'm sixteen and no boys like me and I also have hair on my bosoms and my belly button and I'm not allowed to wear perfume and I'm allergic to anti-perspirants and I'm miserable and I'm thinking about running away forever and ever and ever.

"I Hate Myself"
Toledo, Ohio

This is a common problem and is easily solved by being perky and friendly and bubbly. No one will notice your problem if you dress in super-happy clothes, and always keep a smile on your face and a cheerful thought on your lips. Don't you feel cuter already?

A couple of nights ago I used some varnish mixed with an egg and some melted ice cream on my hair because my best friend said it would get rid of my split ends. But all it did was make my hair into a horrible wad which was hard and smelled like paint. My sister told me to soak my head in turpentine and that made the varnish go away, but it took out all the color. When I went to put some color treatment on my hair, it reacted with the turpentine and caught on fire and now I'm in the hospital and my head is all burned and I'm the ugliest thing that was ever born and I wish I was dead. What should I do?

"Hairless"
Tucson, Arizona

The oldest beauty secret in the world is that when you have a big problem (in your case, no hair and a scarred scalp), wear a colorful floppy hat and matching sweater. This is such an adorable combination and so cheerful and cute that not even you will think about the problem. Try it and get well super-soon!

FIVE SUPER-SCENTS to keep the boys sniffing around your door!

Today is a clean time, an outdoors-active-fresh-springtime-all-the-time time, and time to change the way you smell. Princess Mustabog has a new line of boy-catching scents designed to put a smile on your fella's nose! Nothing says "clean, organized, and together" to a boy like the clean closet aroma of Clossett ($7.00).

N'OOK ($4.00) has the scent of a sunny breakfast nook. And what boy can resist the aroma of pancakes and sausage?

What can turn a boy's head quicker than a motorcycle? L'Motor ($6.00) is a wild new fragrance that will remind him of a great big motorcycle! Yum!

And do boys ever love burgers and fries. Will they ever love you when you wear Burgere Du'Fri (5.00).

He'll want to hold you close and smell you with D'Mitt (6.00), which has the dreamy scent of a fresh catcher's mitt. Princess Mustabog has as many exciting new fragrances as it has new bath soaps (from $3.00). There are one or two or ten or maybe twenty just right for you. And your boyfriend! Sniff! Sniff!

Your Guide to Total Tongue Care Every time you open your mouth, your tongue shows. So you want it to be healthy, strong, clean, and rosy pink. Lots of things can rob your tongue of freshness, and let's face it—just sitting all day in your mouth can make it weak and flabby. So turn your tired tongue into a terrific tongue today! 1. Every Morning! Right after you brush your teeth, scrub your tongue with a tongue cleaner and gargle with an astringent mouthwash. 2. Every Two Hours! Keep your eye on the clock, and every two hours dab your tongue with a medicated tongue pad to prevent "yawner's breath" and "talker's mouth." 3. Before Bed! Just before you go to bed, give your tongue a nice soothing and relaxing tongue bath. 4. Tongue Exercises! Five minutes a day will keep your tongue in tip-top shape! Stretch it! Twist it! Curl it! Wiggle it!

For extra pretty skin and a delicious summer snack, TRY AN AVOCADO FACIAL DIP!

Avocados are super yummy to eat and super fabulous for your skin! This great new summer salad facial mask really tastes good and lifts off dead skin and cleans your pores and leaves your face rosy and healthy-looking. Put it on, enjoy it, and look nifty!

Recipe for Pretty Skin
One large avocado

¼ tablespoon lemon juice
¼ onion (chopped)
¼ cup cleansing cream

Mix in a small bowl until smooth and creamy. Apply to your face in big swirls. Garnish with parsley and radish stars. Serve with corn chips or crackers.

Prepare the avocado beauty mask and dip!!

DISGUSTING FACE AND BODY HAIR A TURN-OFF?

MAKE IT DIE WITH DYE-IT

Do you resemble an orangutan? Do you have disgusting hairs all over your body like some kind of filthy animal? Well, you can stop being a repulsive fuzball that looks like it should be in a zoo or something by gently dyeing all that scruffy fur to a naturally light color that blends with your skin tone and is virtually invisible unless you get it wet. Use it wherever you are excessively hairy—cheeks, arms, legs, nipples, back of shoulders, underarms, even in the bikini area.

Would you rather die of embarrassment or cancer?

Buttock cancer can be cured, but only if it is detected early enough. Take a few minutes to learn how to examine yourself. Note changes in the appearance, shape, or color of your buttocks. Be alert for lumps or unusual growths. A weekly examination could save your life.

Begin at the center of the buttocks and work your way out in small circular motions to the hips, back, and legs. Notify your doctor of any suspicious findings.

This message was prepared as a public service of the American Cancer Club.

CRAWDADDY IS AN EVENT!

Read it and create your own.

Each CRAWDADDY features up-and-coming heroes in music, politics and entertainment. CRAWDADDY finds out just why and how they got there. Month after month our writers, editors and photographers travel around the country to bring the excitement and the answers to you.

INTIMATE JOURNALISM

CRAWDADDY gets up close. Rugged movie star Clint Eastwood told CRAWDADDY of his uncertain start as an actor: "I said to my wife, 'I'm going to quit. What am I doing—spinning my wheels? I gotta start doing something with my life.' I was 27."

Rising actress Susan Sarandon of Pretty Baby admitted to CRAWDADDY she was offered a hefty sum by Playboy for a nude centerfold. "If they asked me in the '50s when it would have been shocking, I probably would have done it. But what bothers me is that everyone always looks alike..."

HARD HITTING REPORTS

CRAWDADDY sent war correspondent Michael Herr out to survey the violence of the rock 'n roll battlefield. The New York Times called his book, Dispatches, "quite simply, the best book about the Vietnam War. It's as if Dante had gone to hell with a cassette recording of Jimi Hendrix and a pocketful of pills." And with combat photographer Tim Page, Herr brought his exclusive story back to CRAWDADDY.

ON TARGET COVERAGE

CRAWDADDY pinpointed the nationwide Dracula craze with Broadway's Frank Langella. What makes Dracula so very hot? "He's sexy," Langella said. "It's nice to fantasize having a tall dark stranger appear in your bedroom, pick you up flamboyantly, and do it to you in a whole new way."

CRAWDADDY has also focused on the travails and triumphs of Diane Keaton, John Travolta, both Carly and Paul Simon, Sylvester Stallone, Bjorn Borg, Steve Martin, Raquel Welch, the Eagles, Bob Seger, the Not-Ready-Far-Prime-Time Players, and many, many more.

BREAKING THROUGH

There's a magic instant which comes for every successful performer when he's found the handle, cut the mustard—done the trick. CRAWDADDY puts you there:

Stevie Wonder: "I hesitated before believing that first moment. It was hard for me to accept that I had something special...."

And Stevie Nicks, of Fleetwood Mac: "I knew I could get to people when I wrote my first song. I was 16 years old, really upset about my lost love, and I communicated that pain through the song."

Dizzy Gillespie, Ry Cooder and others have also revealed their inaugural peaks in CRAWDADDY.

POLITICS, SHARKS AND ROCK 'N ROLL

CRAWDADDY has also uncovered corruption in Washington's Federal Drug Administration, spoken to best-selling author Tom Robbins (Even Cowgirls Get the Blues) about how he "signed an imaginary contract to lead a life of enchantment," and gone on location with star Roy Scheider during the stormy filming of Jaws 2.

And each month CRAWDADDY brings you solid on-the-spot interviews with charlbusting bands and the up-and-comers, plus lively reviews of the hot new records.

The National Lampoon, the magazine that will say anything for a laugh, published by people who will do anything for a buck, has now completed its first film comedy, National Lampoon's Animal House.

Entirely financed (at a cost too staggering to mention here) by Universal Pictures, the picture was produced by NatLamp publishing head honcho Matty Simmons and Canadian minimogul Ivan Reitman, and directed by John Landis, who did not win the Academy Award for directing his previous flick, Kentucky Fried Movie, and is really pissed off about it.

The picture stars John Belushi, who first appeared in National Lampoon's Lemmings, then went on to the "National Lampoon Radio Hour," then to NBC's "Saturday Night Live." Following this film, Belushi plans to retire to a monastery or join the Folies Bergere in Las Vegas. In the movie, he plays one of the Delta fraternity on the campus of Faber College—everybody's idea of what their college was like but probably wasn't. Tim Matheson is "Otter," the Delta leader who believes that a little work and a lot of sex makes four years go faster. John Vernon is cast as the villainous dean, and Verna Bloom is his wife, who is trying to forget she's married to him; and Thomas Hulce is "Pinto," a freshman in the world of higher education, sex, booze, and drugs. Donald Sutherland is featured in the role of Dave Jennings, a professor who teaches English literature plus the how-to of pot smoking and heterosexual cohabitation to undergraduates.

National Lampoon's

Animal House was written by Harold Ramis, who co-authored and co-starred in The National Lampoon

Show, the magazine's second theatrical venture;

Doug Kenney, one of the Harvard expatriates who helped start old NatLamp; and Chris Miller, who has, on numerous occasions, been forcibly removed from college auditoriums while reading excerpts from such of his National Lampoon features as "Pinto's First Lay," "Caked Joy Rag," "Night of the Seven Fires," and "Beat the Meatles." It was actually from some of Miller's own college experiences that many of the ideas for Animal

House were developed. Kenney, of course, in addition to having been editor of the National Lampoon, co-edited and co-authored the legendary 1964 High School Yearbook Parody.

All in all, it's an interesting group that gathered to create this celluloid circus.

We warn you. Don't wait around to see this movie on television, airplanes, zeppelins, or in Amtrak rest stations. You've got to go to a theater, pay your money, and see it there. No freebees!

To help those unfortunates who purchased this issue of the National Lampoon, we have, three pages from here, for the first time in the history of a national periodical, printed the names and addresses of the theaters in your area that will be showing the film in the near future. Check out the dates. This magazine is not exactly known for its accuracy.

Bring this special insert to the theater with you and you get absolutely nothing!

Ask Dr. Dan

Real Teen's Registered Adviser

Dear Dr. Dan,
When I'm in the shower at school, after gym, I sometimes get a hard-on when other guys are around me and they are naked. If someone bends over or anything like that, I feel kind of weird inside. I'm very embarrassed about this. What's wrong with me?

Kermit T., St. Louis, Mo.

What's wrong with you, Kermit, is you're a future faggot. Pretty soon you're going to get your ass stomped if you don't get your head straightened out. If I was in the shower and you pulled a boner on me, I'd squeeze your head like a pimple.

Dear Dr. Dan,
My son consulted you several months ago about what could happen to him if he attacked his English teacher and you said that all that could happen would be that he would flunk English. He attacked the teacher and injured him badly and he did flunk English, but he's also been suspended from school. I hold you personally responsible for his action. Youngsters are impressionable and will follow the advice of persons such as yourself regardless of how destructive that advice is. You should be ashamed of yourself. I have appealed to your employers to have you fired. I'm not holding my breath, however, as they seem to be cut from the same filthy cloth as you.

What's the worst thing I can do to my Mom besides kill her or beat her up?

Pek R., Cincinnati, Ohio

Call her a fuck-pig in front of her friends.

Dear Dr. Dan,
I can't stand to listen to the BeeGees anymore. My sister plays them until I'm crazy. I'd seriously like to kill them. How would you go about doing it?

Zack L., Milwaukee, Wisc.

I'd spray them with a hose while they were on stage performing so they got electrocuted. But I think what I'd do if I were you instead is give my sister a pop in the tit if she ever put the BeeGees on again. It'd save a lot of fucking around in court.

Larry Leake—He Lives at Burger King

REAL teen INTERVIEW

By Courtney Gutman

Real Teen: We understand that you have been living at Burger King for a year.

Larry: Over a year.

Real Teen: How are you able to get away with this?

Larry: I go into the bathroom and stand on the toilet seat and they don't see me when they close up.

Real Teen: Why would you want to live here?

Larry: I like their hamburgers.

Real Teen: What have you been doing for money?

Larry: I sold my car last year and made some money, and I still have a lot left. I can eat here for under two dollars a meal.

Real Teen: Why did you choose Burger King?

Larry: I knew a girl who used to live here.

Real Teen: Are there any special problems living here?

Larry: The food makes me fart a lot and I don't have a TV.

Real Teen: You haven't watched TV in a year?

Larry: No, and I think because of that I have a personality problem.

Real Teen: How much longer are you going to live here?

Larry: Next month, me and my friend Brett are going to move into Arthur Treacher's Fish and Chips.

Real Teen: What has this experience taught you?

Larry: I learned how to sleep on a table.

Real Teen: Would you recommend this life for anyone else?

Larry: Sure.

Chemistry Corner

By Lemmy Spiviks

This letter arrived a couple of weeks ago:

"My old man works at a drug company (Puggle & Bloumb) and he's in charge of inventing new medicines, with a specialty in sedatives and stimulants. I try to keep up with what he's working on by sampling from his briefcase (he travels a lot and takes stuff home with him to deliver to other labs). Usually I have a pretty good time, except once I took a gorilla tranquilizer and slept through Christmas vacation. Last week I had an exceptional time (I still am). This new pill is called 33ER-S6a. I took it six days ago and I'm still rushing off it and this is the millionth letter I've written. I wrote my grandmother and I'm not even too sure she's still alive. I'm writing this so fast I'm afraid the paper could catch on fire. My head feels like a frozen clam. Amazing! I thought I just saw my Mom sitting on the eraser of my pencil. It's really a very cool drug. Ah! I just pissed in my pants! Unbelievable. It's funny. I have to go now, okay? I want to take a shower or go to a show or something. Enjoy the pill I've enclosed. I'll write again in about a half hour, okay? See ya. I'm very cool, aren't I? I sure hope so. Did I tell you about this idea I had to put our cat in the radar range?"

That's just a portion of the letter. I thought it was very interesting and let me say that the pill he writes about is the best. I took it over a week ago and I'm still buzzed. It feels like there's ball bearings in my blood. This is definitely a great new drug, and should be brought out immediately. It could change our civilization. I'll keep you informed. He's right about pissing a lot, because I just did. All of a sudden you just piss. It's a drawback, but this drug is so cool. I wish I had a mirror because I get the feeling that my face has turned into a mouse face. That would be really amazing and it was just a

KILLING

YOUR PARENTS

A REAL TEEN SPECIAL REPORT

Jenny, age 14

Mark, age 17

Seth, age 15

Samantha, age 16

Jeff, age 15

It was December 27, 1977, and Justin Wjeski, age fifteen, was angry. He'd gotten a pair of shoes, a sport coat, slacks, hopelessly outdated skis, and a Zenith console stereo for Christmas. His parents didn't seem to care that Justin was upset. They seldom cared when Justin was upset. They said he was selfish and ungrateful. What they didn't realize was that Justin was also dangerous. On December 27, Mr. and Mrs. Wjeski and their two poodles woke up dead. Justin killed them.

Their deaths were not surprising. This happens all the time. It's normal for offspring to harbor ill feelings for their parents. Parents by nature are annoying and bothersome and alien. Sometimes they get killed.

Is it okay to kill your parents? You'll have to ask yourself that question. We can tell you that killing your parents has definite emotional and economic advantages. Dead parents mean an immediate end to parental interference. Dead parents mean an increase in cash on hand from insurance settlements, house, and personal effects sales. Your parents may be worth more to you dead than alive. On the other hand, it can be a hassle sometimes.

Real Teen visited with five kids who have really done it. Five teens who have committed parricide. They told us how and why they did it and what's happened to them since. We spoke with Jeff, age fifteen, Mark, age seventeen, Seth, age fifteen, Jenny, age fourteen, and Samantha, age sixteen.

Real Teen: How did you do it? How did you kill your parents?

Jeff: I shot them after dinner.

Mark: I blew up our cottage.

Seth: Poison martinis.

Jenny: I burned up their bed when they were sleeping.

Samantha: I ran them over with our Scout.

Real Teen: Why?

Jeff: They bothered me a lot.

Mark: They were just. I don't know, just sickening.

Seth: I never liked them very much.

Jenny: I never thought about it. I don't know.

Samantha: They grounded me and took away my jeep.

Real Teen: Do you or did you feel bad about it?

Jeff: No.

Mark: No.

Seth: My brother was angry with me for a few months and that made me feel bad, and our dog was upset and wouldn't eat and that made me feel bad, but other than that, no.

Jenny: Nope.

Samantha: No.

Real Teen: What has happened to you since you did it?

Jeff: I got $800,000 from insurance and selling the house and I have to go to a doctor once a week.

Mark: I had to go to a detention center because I was seventeen and it was crummy. They had black and white TV and the food was shit.

Seth: I inherited my Dad's company, which I have since sold and split the proceeds with my brother. We live in New York during the summer and we winter in St. Croix. It's great.

Jenny: I go to therapy and once in a while I have some bad dreams.

Samantha: I moved in with my grandparents and they still hate me because I killed their daughter and I get the feeling they are afraid of me.

Real Teen: Looking back, do you think it was a good idea?

Jeff: The best.

Mark: Except for detention it was a good idea.

Seth: There was not much else I could do with them, but it was still a sound idea. I'd do it again.

Jenny: Yeah, I think so.

Samantha: I should have done it a long time ago, before they used up all the money sending my brothers and my sister to college.

With all things considered, killing your parents would seem to be a good way to improve your economics and rid yourself of the many problems of living with parents. If you are under seventeen, maybe you should consider it, but to be on the safe side, check your local laws and find out if you can be punished. In most states, someone under seventeen can do anything, but it wouldn't hurt to double check. Good luck.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO WITH YOUR LIFE?

"I plan to live off my parents."
Eric Gables, Ft. Meyers, Fla.

"What I do with my life will depend on how my father does with his coronary bypass."
Andy Platt, Lake Forest, Ill.

"I'm going to marry a man who has a whole lot of money and a real cute son and then me and the son are going to move down to Florida and live there and get a boat and a custom van and I won't have any kids until the man dies and I marry the son."
Molly Dirksen, El Paso, Tex.

"I'm going to clean up the environment and do some climbing in Yosemite, do some skydiving, hang glide for a few years, catch Bob Seger in concert, and die."

Household Drugs

By Seth Bidwell

It's nice to have a drawer filled with Oaxacan tops or Senegalese or nitrous oxide, but every now and then things go dry and you find yourself on a Monday in serious boredom and your old man wants you to sweep out the garage and your old lady has her period about how you embarrass her and all you want to do is change the channel and get off that show. What can you do besides rev up the Seville with the door down? You can run down to the utility closet and get ripped. Here are a few highs you can get from ordinary household products.

Material	Method	High
Three-in-One Oil (half can)	drink	coma
Couch stuffing (handful)	eat or smoke	long, loud buzz, vomiting, double vision
Canned whipped cream (one can)	shove nozzle up ass	two day intestinal high
Window cleaner (five squirts)	spray up nose	rapid pulse, short breath, dangerous feeling rush
Powder bleach (three lines)	snort	numb head, sore nose
Aspirin and aftershave (ten aspirin, bottle aftershave)	drink	chills, low-grade hallucinations, nod, screamies
Solid wick room freshener (one)	inhale rapidly	long dream-like trance, laughter, blindness weekend I had a Datsun 280Z, insurance, and a Shell credit card. Plus I can stay out as late as I want, and for my birthday I'm getting a Betamax.

Rape is excellent for getting things you want. Whenever I have a man teacher in school, I always get at least a B and never, never have to do homework or take tests. I just tell him on the first day that if he doesn't do what I want, I'll tell my parents he fucked me. That would get him fired and put in jail because if he just touches me on the tit it's a crime, if he makes me touch him it's two crimes, and so on, up to when he actually fucks me and it's the end of him completely. In our society, young girls are sacred.

Pretend rape works all the time, over and over and over. In court or just in the principal's office, your word always goes. They never believe him. As soon as you open your mouth, he's guilty. It's the best! If you cry and hold your crotch like it's hurt they will look at him like he's the Son of Sam. It is so good, it even works on lady gym teachers, because they're real nervous because everybody thinks they're gay anyway.

Pretend Rape

USING IT TO GET WHAT YOU WANT FROM OLDER MEN

By Kimberly Smerkins

A law of nature is that older men spend a lot of their time thinking about fucking teen-age girls. I learned this when I was a freshman. I also learned that when they're not thinking about fucking teen-age girls, they're thinking about how terrible it would be to do it and get caught. It scares older men more than a second heart attack.

I recently told my stepfather that if he didn't do something about my horrible transportation situation very soon, I would tell my mom that he's been trying to fuck me after she goes to sleep. By the

BREAKING UP YOUR PARENTS' MARRIAGE

By Keith Wiggins

If you are one of the unlucky people whose parents' marriage hasn't fallen apart on its own, you can and should help it along. It is definitely to your advantage to have your parents divorce. It's difficult to completely operate parents when they can work together like allies.

You can be the single most destructive force in your parents' lives. You're the one who can split them in two. Begin by telling them different things—if you do something terrible and one parent catches you, tell him or her that the other parent approves of your behavior. This will create the artificial impression that the parents have differing philosophies of child-rearing.

Serious behavior problems with children creates tension in a marriage. So you must nurture problems in your brothers and sisters and create the illusion that you are fucked-up. Mothers can live with fucked-up kids, but fathers would rather not, and as problems at home increase, interest in secretaries and stewardesses and lady barbers increases. A mother reacts to these problems by eating and getting fat and ugly. Before long, sex becomes unbearably gross and the father takes it where he can get it. This situation is the foundation of marital collapse.

When you see sore spots, rub them. When you find a gap, widen it. Make up lies about each parent, start rumors in the neighborhood, gather evidence on your father and when you're ready, drop it. If you keep it up long enough, no marriage can survive.

After you've gotten your parents apart, you can begin to reap the many benefits of being a child of divorce. First, however, you must decide which parent you want to live with. Compare the benefits and drawbacks of life with each parent:

FATHER
Advantages	Disadvantages
1. Seldom home, lots of freedom	1. More discipline
2. Money	2. Private school
3. Young girl friends	3. Do own laundry, cooking
4. Good car	4. Lots of advice and crap

MOTHER
Advantages	Disadvantages
1. Wealthy boyfriend	1. Mother pathetic / depressing / lonely
2. No change in friends / school	2. Half as much money
3. No discipline	3. Grandparents stay for weeks
4. No college	4. Stepfather danger

Regardless of which parent you choose to live with, you will still enjoy the benefits of both parents. They will both feel a need to compensate you for the loss of family unity. Take it, often.

Your Parents' Money

By Perry Sheldon

No matter what your parents say, they have money. Lots of it. Take a look in the checkbook sometime and you'll be surprised at just how much cash on hand they have, not to mention stocks, bonds, and equity in the house. Rule number one in being a parent is to plead poverty twenty-four hours a day. The trick is to rip some of it (or all of it) away from their cheap paws. There are two basic ways to do this. If you're interested in the quick, short-term payoff, go back and forth between your parents, begging, pleading, whining, whining, whining, threatening suicide, and crying. Sooner or later, unless they are deaf or retarded, they'll give in and hand over some cash. If you want to go for the whole wad, it takes some time. Begin by slowly liquidating your parents' assets. Start with your room, selling off everything. As they replace it, sell it. Then move on to the smaller objects in the house. When your parents head out for a weekend, call in a used furniture broker and unload the whole thing. Take your profit and put it immediately into Kona Gold, Puna buds, and 714s for the fastest and safest return on your investment.

Old People!

By Chris Royster

Your questions about people over twenty-one.

Q. Where do old people come from? Do they come from another planet or what? Randy Klinger, Scranton, Pa.

A. Some of them do, but most of them come from Florida and Arizona.

Q. My sister is twenty-five and she is really weird! Like, if she eats at our house, she tells me to eat my vegetables! She and her husband stay home on the weekends and play cards! She calls all of my parents' friends by their first names! I know for a fact that she did a lot of acid and fucked just about every white guy in town! And now she gets off washing and setting my grandma's hair! Is this going to happen to me? If it is, I'm going to die very young! Buddy Stuke, Roseville, Mich.

A. As people get older, they forget how much they used to have and they think things aren't as terrible as they really are. They think their lives are cool, but they suck, and when they find this out, they have a "crisis" and become drunks.

National Lampoon Report on Secondary School Education in America

by John Weidman and John Hughes, with additional material by Michael Civitello

It has become fashionable today to decry what appear to be declining standards of performance and achievement in our nation's high schools. Critics point to the sharp drop in the national average on the SAT exams as just one indicator that the quality of secondary education in America isn't what it used to be. Students and teachers alike have come under attack.

Recognizing that a large portion of its readership comes from the population being criticized, the National Lampoon felt it had a unique responsibility to try to shed some light on this key national question. As a result, six months ago a team of researchers were sent to what computer analysis indicated was a "typical" New York State high school—Thomas E. Dewey High in Albany, New York. Material gathered by our education experts is still being sifted and analyzed, but while we wait for the results, we have decided to present a representative sampling of raw, unprocessed data—material collected in the school itself. Let each reader (and if you're a student at Dewey High, ask Mom or Dad to read the material to you) draw his own conclusions.

The Board of Regents of the State of New York Minimum Achievement Examination

June 5, 1978

INSTRUCTIONS: This examination is designed to test your mastery of a range of basic skills required to function in society. It is being administered to all seniors graduating from high school, public or private, in the state of New York. You have not been singled out. Regardless of your scholastic record, you must pass this examination with a score of 65% or better or you will not receive a high school diploma or equivalency certificate. Wait for the signal from the examiner, then begin.

Unit 23: The Atom and Atomic Energy

Atoms are the building blocks from which all things are made. They are so small as to be invisible, but just the same they're there—in cheeseburgers, steel-belted radials, and skateboards. Every atom has a minute center called a nucleus around which spins at least one other tiny speck of matter. These spinning particles are called electrons.

atoms have to do with what's important in the world today? The answer is that certain kinds of substances, like radium, have atoms which are "nervous" and unstable. These atoms can be "split," and when they are, incredible amounts of energy are generated. How the world will use this energy—for good or evil—is a question which we all must strive to answer if we care about the future of the earth.

Now, what good are atoms? What do

1 This little DC Comics superhero is named Atom. Why? Because, like a real atom, he is extremely small. Ten million atoms side by side would measure only 0.039 in!

2 The unstable or radioactive element radium was first isolated by Marie Curie and her husband Pierre in 1898 in Paris, France.

3 The process of splitting atoms is called fission, and it takes place in a nuclear reactor.

5 Atomic energy can be used for peaceful purposes like powering the flashing lights and hi-fi record players of this with a discotheque, or it can be used in awesome bombs more powerful than all the high explosives detonated in the two World Wars. Which use seems more sensible to you?

4 Within the atom, each electron spins around the nucleus in much the same way that the earth revolves around the sun. (Remember how the earth revolves around the sun? If you've forgotten, turn back to Unit 8. Our Solar System.)

World Historical Perspectives
Thomas E. Dewey H.S.
June 11, 1978

English History/
English History began many years ago. The English way back then were cavemen and then they developed into English people and when they had done that the Romans came and killed many of them and tried to make them part of Rome but it didn't work because the weather was cold and the Romans only wore sandals and long shirts and no pants and so they really froze and went back to Rome.

Then there was a war that lasted 100 years. It was called The War That Lasted One Hundred Years and it was fought because the English and French could not communicate with each other very good. The war took so long because they did not have ~~the~~ planes or missiles and only guns that shot one bullet at a time and then had to be reloaded and cannons and swords and knives and hammers.

The English Empire worked O.K. for a while but it fell apart because the people did all the work and the English just sat around drinking tea and going to parties.

In WW2 the Nazis bombed them but all they did was try to hide in subways and sang. Their soldiers wore shorts and long socks and got creamed wherever they went.

Today England is very screwed up. There are so many strikes that they can't make anything except M.P.s. The Beatles left because it was so depressing over there.

TRIGONOMETRY

Trigonometry is an area of mathematics concerned with calculating the dimensions of triangles. As it happens, the ratio between the sides of a triangle depend upon its base angle (A), and different ratios have been given different scientific names—the sine of A, the cosine of A, and the tangent of A, to name a few. Calculating these ratios is the key to mastering this complex and puzzling branch of higher mathematics. Let's try a couple!

A) What is the sine of  $5^\circ$ ?

To solve this problem, find the button on your calculator which looks like this— $\boxed{5}$ . Push it. Now find the button which looks like this— $\boxed{\sin}$ . Push that one too. Did an illuminated number appear in your display window? Good! Write it on a separate piece of paper, find and push the button labeled  $\boxed{C}$ , and proceed to question B.

B) What is the cosine of  $35^\circ$ ?

First find and push the button labeled  $\boxed{3}$ , then find and push the button labeled  $\boxed{5}$ . Be careful not to do these two steps in reverse! Now push the little  $\boxed{\cos}$  button and, again, transcribe the number which appears lit up in the display. All done? O.K., it's time to check our answers. Here are the correct ones.

A) 0.0872      B) 8192

Are these the figures you came up with? If they aren't, then test your batteries and try again. If they are, congratulations! You have mastered trigonometry and can now proceed with confidence to your next area of study—differential calculus. Good luck.

Roosevelt, Franklin Dealano (b. Jan. 30, 1882; d. April 12, 1945) was the scion of a wealthy and aristocratic family from Hyde Park, N.Y. He was educated at Groton School, Harvard College, and Columbia Law School, graduating from the latter in 1907. He showed no special aptitude for the law; in deed, there are indications that he disliked it mightily and only aimed for admittance to the Bar in order to ~~initiate~~ initiate a political career. This he did in 1910 with his election to the New York State Senate from his home district. His rise in politics was rapid, and in 1912 he was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy by the newly elected president, Woodrow Wilson (see Vol. 16, "Wilson, Thomas Woodrow").

Negroes Welcome As Era of Brotherhood Dawns at Patton High

As Patton High welcomes its first Negro students, there is a feeling of brotherhood in these hallways where once there was only prejudice. Hand in hand toward a better education we go, black and white, white and black. As Senator Robert F. Kennedy and his late brother John F. Kennedy so strongly believe, we are all one people under heaven and we must work together until all prejudice and hate is gone from the face of the earth the way it looks like it's gone from Patton High and that is a start.

Willie Lee Williamson, Robert Roosevelt Patterson, Jr., DeVina Hutchinson, Carvello DeVrees, and Edwina Washington are Patton's newest students. Willie, Carvello, and Robert have quickly adapted to life at Patton and have already proven themselves on the football field as tackle, linebacker, and end for the Patton Pistols. DeVina and Edwina have made many friends and have introduced "soul music" to the lunchrooms and parking lots of Patton. "It's an exciting life experience for many of our white students." Mr. Harold Norwood, social living teacher, said. "As Negroes move into our neighborhoods, they bring with them new social and cultural benefits and enriching life

"No Butts In P. Lot," Says Dr. Norgle

Patton's principal, Dr. Lauren W. Norgle, has rejected a student council proposal to allow students to smoke before and after school in the Industrial Arts parking lot behind the incinerator chimneys, provided all butts and matches are cleaned up and safety rules are observed. "Smoking is a bad habit and Patton High School will not perpetuate bad habits," Dr. Norgle said. "I'll be out in the lots with a bucket of water if I hear about any smoking."

Mr. Mooney and Mr. Neely Retire

Popular music teacher Mr. Drake Mooney and wrestling coach Mr. Frank Neely have announced they will both retire immediately. Mr. Neely and Mr. Mooney have been close friends for many years. Some believe that Mr. Mooney is leaving because the Board of Education cancelled his OverNights's Camping Club program. Although their plans are not complete,

Mr. Mooney and Mr. Neely say that they will be leaving the area. The Lamp wishes them the best of luck.

BLACKS HOLD STUDY MODULE, INJURE THREE IN ZIP GUN BATTLE

Six black students armed with homemade weapons continue to hold the Social Living Skills Module in the Human Experience Pd. They call themselves the Astro-Muslim Army and they are demanding a million dollars, and an end to all classes but Physical Enrichment. A custodian and two cheerleaders were wounded as the blacks fought with police and Patton Security forces. The custodian got shot in the thigh and the cheerleaders got it in the head. The custodian is okay, but the girls are in bad shape in the hospital. The blacks are holding Harold Norwood, a Life Coordinator.

The predominantly black Student Fairness Committee has been negotiating with police to get at least some of the money for the AMA and are working on a plan that will allow them to go free and continue their educations. The police refuse to bargain and rioting has been

"My Sexual Preference Doesn't Affect My Performance!" Lesbian Gym Teacher Argues as Court Decides Her Fate

Becky Knotts, Physical Enrichment Guidance Person, says she won't quit her job because she is a lesbian. Some parents have complained about Ms. Knotts and her outspoken stand on gay rights and some accuse her of instilling homosexual ideas in her students.

Ms. Knotts can't be legally fired under the rules of her contract, which runs through 1995. "I'm a great teacher, the best!" Ms. Knotts said. "I'd be a liar if I said I didn't enjoy being around girls, but I won't touch them, so what's the sweat?" A court will decide next week if Ms. Knotts's sexual preference and support of gay rights violates the spirit of her contract.

Executive Operations Committee Kills Senior Marijuana Lounge Idea

Patton Executive Operations Committee members dumped all over a student-initiated plan to create a marijuana lounge for seniors. The lounge, which would have been located in the Thought Wing, would have had comfortable chairs and couches, a snack bar, sauna, stereo, and immunity from prosecution. The committee voted ten against, eight for. Too bad. Smoking in a crowded bathroom or classroom is the pits.

ARE YOU MAN ENOUGH TO DRINK LESS THAN THE REST OF THE BOYS?

Some people think the more a man can drink, the more of a man he is. However, it usually works the other way around.

Men who drink to build up their egos, end up putting themselves down.

The guy who claims he can drink everyone under the table looks pretty low. Especially if he gets there.

The hero who thinks it's macho to drink like a fish is regarded by sensible people as an animal.

That's why we, the people who make and sell distilled spirits, urge you to use our products with common sense. If you choose to drink, drink responsibly.

A real man has the strength to say no when he's had enough.

Great Works of Literature

by P.J. O'Rourke and Jeff Greenfield

Many authorities have complained that today's teen-agers are lacking in the skills of literacy. The easy accessibility and frantic pace of television, they say, robs modern young folk of the patience and concentration necessary to comprehend complex prose. And the permissive atmosphere in contemporary schools deprives students of the self-discipline that's needed to gain the full intellectual benefits of the written word. No doubt this is true. But today's teens are coming of age in a new and different world—a world in which "literacy skills" may no longer hold the value that we have traditionally placed upon them. After all, how important will the ability to write be in a society of computerized unemployment benefits and welfare checks electronically credited to one's account? What value will the capacity to read have in a post-industrial economy based largely on cheating the government out of money? And to what extent will the craft of letters be needed at all

Moby Dick

by Herman Melville

“I'm Ishmael... there was this big white whale and this guy wanted to kill it but instead the whale sunk his boat and everybody died but me.”

The Hunchback of Notre Dame

by Victor Hugo

“UGGGGG...I like ring church bells... UGGGGG...Pretty gypsy girl... UGGGGG...They come take her I kill them...Ha!! Ha!! Ha!! Ha!! UGGGGGGGGGG...”

Gulliver's Travels

by Jonathan Swift

“First I went to a place where everybody was real little. Then I went to a place where everybody was real big. Then I went to a couple of places where everybody was real weird. And the last place I went to everybody was a horse except for some naked people who acted like junkies or something.”

A Tale of Two Cities

by Charles Dickens

“Me and this other guy looked exactly alike. Everybody wanted to kill me but they killed him instead and he let them.”

Translated for Today's Teens

by a generation that's going to live off its parents for the next twenty years?

Well, these are important questions, but whatever their answers and whatever the eventual fate of reading and writing in America, there is still enjoyment and instruction to be had from great literature. And this literature should certainly be made available to today's teens. Perhaps those teens cannot, for reasons noted above, appreciate these works in their original form, but, then again, how many of us, their elders, can appreciate the Iliad, Anna Karenina, or even Madame Bovary in their original form? So, with that thought in mind, Mr. O'Rourke and Mr. Greenfield have condensed eight great works of literature and translated them into language that can be easily understood by American adolescents. Furthermore, every attempt has been made to present these translations in an entertaining and highly accessible format.

The Red Badge of Courage

by Stephen Crane

“It was back in the Civil War or someplace a long time ago. This guy was scared. Then somebody hit him over the head and he wasn't scared anymore.”

Crime and Punishment

by Feodor Dostoyevsky

“This guy killed this old lady. Then he turned himself in.”

Romeo and Juliet

by William Shakespeare

“This guy Romeo was going out with this girl Juliet but her folks really hated him. They eloped. Then she O.D.'d or something and I guess he killed himself.”

Paradise Lost

by John Milton

“I'm Satan. I used to be an angel but I got fired. This led to a really long poem.”

A COMPLETE CHEAP NOVEL IN HALF A PAGE! BY ED SUBITZKY

PART I

CHAPTER 1 ON SKID ROW, A SEEDY-LOOKING BUM IS THROWING UP, WHEN...

OH NO! THAT PRETTY YOUNG WOMAN IS ABOUT TO BE HIT BY A RUNAWAY GARBAGE TRUCK!

BUM OR NOT, I'VE GOT TO SAVE HER!

CH. 2 AS A REWARD, SHE TAKES HIM TO DINNER!

MY NAME IS JEANETTE!

MINE IS ELLIOT! AND GEE! WITH YOU, I HAVEN'T THROWN UP FOR A WHOLE HALF HOUR!

CH. 3 THEY SHARE LIFE'S STORIES!

ME, I'M JUST AN OLD-FASHIONED, SIMPLE, KINDHEARTED GIRL LOOKING FOR THE RIGHT MAN!

WHY...MY GRANDFATHER, OLD MAN "NOTES," HEADS AN INTERNATIONAL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA! MAYBE HE CAN DO SOMETHING FOR YOU!

ME, I'M A SCIENTIFICALLY INCLINED ZITHER PLAYER! WHEN I INVENTED A NEW KIND OF "LASER-ZITHER," THEY LAUGHED ME OUT OF THE ZITHER SOCIETY AND I BECAME A BITTER HOBO!

CH. 4 SO ELLIOT BIDS GOOD-BYE TO HIS BEST FRIEND, AN ALCOHOLIC EX-NEUROLOGIST NAMED JONES!

I KILLED MY DOG ONCE, AND GAVE UP MY PRACTICE FOREVER!

CH. 5 ELLIOT BECOMES A SMASH HIT AND HE AND JEANETTE ARE MARRIED!

JUST THINK, ELLIOT! LITTLE ME, MARRIED TO THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS SYMPHONY PLAYER! BUT PROMISE ME YOU'LL ALWAYS REMAIN VUSPOILED AND FAITHFUL, LIKE I AM!

OF COURSE, MY DARLING! NOW EXCUSE ME! I SEE A GIRL SCOUT WHO'S SELLING COOKIES TO AID THE POOR!

PART II

CH. 6 NICE DAY, GRANDPA "NOTES"!

INDEED! YOU KNOW, SON, HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT ABOUT ENTERING POLITICS?

CH. 7 DARLING, I KNOW THE ELECTION IS TOMORROW, BUT DO YOU THINK IT'S RIGHT TO SMEAR YOUR OPONENT BY CIRCULATING THESE FALSE DOCUMENTS ALIGNING HIM WITH A SECRET GROUP OF CHILD-MOLESTING HOMOSEXUALS FROM RED CHINA!

HONEY, DON'T YOU UNDERSTAND! THIS IS POLITICS!

OH, ELLIOT, YOU NEVER SPOKE THIS WAY BEFORE! SOMETIMES I WISH I HAD NEVER TAKEN YOU OFF SKID ROW!

CH. 8 ELLIOT WINS THE ELECTION! ONE DAY, IN THE WHITE HOUSE...

JEANETTE FOLLOWS HER...

OK NO! IT'S THE GIRL SCOUT HE ONCE BOUGHT THE COOKIES FROM! SHE'S OBVIOUSLY AN UNSCRUPULOUS LITTLE SOCIAL CLIMBER WHO READ THAT HE BECAME PRESIDENT!

CH. 9 IN SHOCK AND DESPERATION, JEANETTE WANDERS AIMLESSLY AROUND...

FUNNY I SHOULD LAND ON SKID ROW!

EXCUSE ME, I'M A GIRL SCOUT, GOT A QUARTER FOR A CUP OF COFFEE?

WHY, JONES, THE EX-NEURO-SUR-GEON!

HMMM...LET ME SEE THAT FUNNY GREEN BLOTCH ON YOUR FOREHEAD!

PART III

CH. 10 I'M TRUE, GRANDPA "NOTES" IN CONJUNCTION WITH TOP-SECRET PENTAGON DATA, I REALIZED THAT MY ZITHER EQUATION CAN BE TRANSMUTED INTO A "VIBRATION" BOMB THAT CAN WIPE OUT A CONTINENT IN SECONDS!

CALL AN INSTANT MESSAGING SERVICE OF THE U.S. I'LL TELL THEM I WANT TO BE DICTATOR OF THE WORLD!

NO! I SHOULD NEVER HAVE BROUGHT YOU INTO POLITICS! I MUST STOP YOU!

OH! YOU'VE BROKEN MY CONDUCTING ARM!

YOU'LL NEVER APPEAR IN FRONT OF AN ORCHESTRA AGAIN, YOU OLD FOOL!

CH. 11 ELLIOT IS NOW DICTATOR OF THE WORLD!

BUT, YOUR GLORY, YOU ALREADY HAVE 10,000 GIRL SCOUTS LIVING HERE!

I WANT 20,000! 30,000! 60,000!

CH. 12 JEANETTE - AND HER COMPANION - ARE BROUGHT TO HIM...

MY ONE-TIME BEST FRIEND!

(SOB) I WOULD CONFESS! JONES AND I ARE HAVING AN AFFAIR! BUT IT DOESN'T MATTER! I HAVE AN INCURABLE NEUROLOGICAL DISEASE!

ONCE, I WOULD HAVE BEEN THE ONLY DOCTOR TO BE ABLE TO SAVE HER! BEFORE I TOOK TO DRINK!

CH. 13 WEEKS LATER ON SKID ROW...

DARLING, NOW THAT I'M NOT DICTATOR OF THE WORLD, ALL OF THE GIRL SCOUTS HAVE LEFT ME, AND ANYWAY I'M PURE AND DECENT AGAIN! MARRY JONES IF YOU MUST, BUT KNOW I'LL ALWAYS LOVE YOU!

OH, MY DARLING! JONES KILLED HIMSELF THIS MORNING! HE SAID HIS DOG!

What's weirder than a time warp, unique as a unicorn? A magazine that's totally new in concept, a magazine that's brilliantly executed, a magazine that has real impact on its readers. Heavy Metal, the illustrated fantasy magazine, is one.

Published by Twenty First Century Communications, the creators of National Lampoon, it began in March of '77 with a limited distribution. Within months, its sales had tripled.

Heavy Metal has already gone far beyond any magazine of fantasy or science fiction in the quality of its artwork, the daring of its stories, the number of copies sold.

We have quoted a fan who wrote to us: "Heavy Metal is better than being stoned. Almost."

last call for the night, it was O.K. with me.

Hemingway fixes me a big brandy and soda, and after a few rounds Paloma passes out. Just conks out and falls down on the sofa, fast asleep. By now Hemingway has put away about a half dozen brandies, straight, in those big glasses. He looks down at his wife and starts to cry like a fucking baby. He tells me a secret he never told anyone. The reason why he and Paloma had this big fight in the cab is because they have sex problems. He can't to it right with her. He comes too fast.

So what else is new? The man has a problem as old as Adam and Eve. No big deal. I can cure it in five minutes. How, he wants to know. By fucking, I say. The only way to cure a fucking problem is by fucking. I offered to give him a fucking lesson with Sleeping Beauty, who was lying on the couch like a slab of lox. "I am a maven of fucking," I tell him. "What the hell is a maven?" he asks. "Maven is the Yiddish word for expert—an authority—a master in his chosen field." He likes the word and he starts calling me Marvin instead of maven because he's a little drunk. And that's what he called me till the day he died—Marvin.

Anyway, he stops crying and points to all his books. He's got hundreds of them, on every subject you ever heard of. And he shows me scrapbooks full of pictures. The guy has traveled everywhere and done a lot of things. He looks at me with his blue eyes and takes my hand in his big fucking paw. "Marvin...I know about a lot of things," he says. And then there's a long pause and he's very quiet. "Except fancy fucking."

Well, that is exactly what I am there for. So we drag Sleeping Beauty to the bedroom and take her clothes off. She's not a bad-looking broad in the tits and ass department, but this is Hemingway's show, not mine. First, I show him some of my secret techniques, things you can do to a woman's body that can make her crazy. I don't show my top secret stuff, just my regular everyday routines. I got some moves that can wake up the dead. And sure enough, Paloma gets the message and wakes up hot and heavy.

Three teen-agers react to the National Lampoon's teen issue

JOEL FISHMAN

Senior, James Garfield High School,
New York City

I strongly object to the National Lampoon's treatment of teen-agers. By the way, I hate the word teen-ager, but I suppose that's what we are, so there's no point in being ashamed of it. What really gets me mad is that the National Lampoon has no idea of what teen-agers are doing these days. Your editors may be shocked to learn that some of us can actually read and write, can talk in real sentences, and even have an idea of what we want to do in life.

I would just like to give you an idea of what I do, and I consider myself fairly typical. I am captain of the fencing team and also play on the tennis and soccer teams. I've got an A-minus average and have been accepted at Brown University and Stanford. I love to write and one of my short stories has been printed in The New Yorker. But my primary ambition is to be a doctor, an old-fashioned GP who makes house calls and doesn't charge a lot of money. I want to work in a disadvantaged neighborhood and bring good medical care to the people who need it the most but can afford it the least.

Before I enter college, I'm going to live with a family in Provence, France, as part of the Quaker Travel-Exchange Program. I'll also travel around the world a little. Don't worry, I'm not independently wealthy. I earned the money for my vacation by playing lead guitar with a rock and roll group in local clubs. We've been offered a recording contract by Warner Brothers.

I've been going steady for two years with a lovely Korean girl named

Nancy Kwoo, who also wants to be a doctor, and she will be working at a cancer research lab in Washington, D.C., this summer as part of a new premed study program for high school seniors. We plan to be married in a year.

So that's what I've been doing. And believe me, there are millions of other teen-agers in high school just like me. The trouble is, we're not juvenile delinquents, pussypants, or sub-moronic punks, so we don't make for funny copy.

You people at the NatLamp just don't know what's happening. You are missing the boat on this generation of teen-agers, baby. This teen-ager, meaning yours truly, has a few other things going besides setting off firecrackers and smoking reefer. I am taking film writing courses at Chicago University at night, and my last script has been taken under option by Bill Cosby and Harry Belafonte. Films are one of my major passions. The other is fashion. I design my own line of clothes called Dee-Dee's Closet, and I'm having a showing this year at Marshall Field and I. Magnin. O.K.? And I still manage to get a B-plus average and run the 100-yard dash for the girls' track team. I believe in cultivating the body as well as the mind. I have a brown belt in karate and do highly advanced yoga. I also teach karate and yoga to a bunch of kids at the neighborhood Sunday school. Yes, Sunday school. You people at the NatLamp probably haven't seen the inside of a church since the day you were christened. But hey, I don't hate you. I feel sorry for you. You must all live in some kind of ivory tower back in New York.

GARTH DAVIS

I used to read the National Lampoon a few years ago, but lately the magazine is losing its relevance to me. The current issue on today's teens is as low as you've ever got. Your picture of America's teen-agers is totally false and not very funny to boot. I don't know if I'm a typical teen-ager, but the one thing my friends and I have in common is a passion for learning and a total involvement in the real issues and problems of today. That is not to say that we are grinds and know-it-alls. We like to play and we like to party, but we also have other things on our minds beside dope, sex, hot rods, motorcycles, and beer.

I happen to be interested in conservation and plan to work in this field as my career. I'm working in a special pilot forestry program at Colorado University with a group that is trying to find new ways of making trees grow faster and bigger and giving greater yield per acre. I've already been to Kenya to study their animal conservation program, and a portfolio of my photographs has appeared in the Denver Post.

My hobbies are snowshoeing, cross country skiing, and mountain climbing. Last month I was on a team that successfully climbed El Capitan, in Yosemite National Park. You know, when you're standing on top of El Capitan, a magazine like the National Lampoon, with its sick and unfunny articles on today's teens, seems very, very small. □

I AM OVER 21 YEARS OF AGE

Now they're getting hotter by the second. They're doing everything I say and they're doing fine. Then Hemingway stops and says, "This is where I usually muck it up. I put my dingus in and bingo, a few twitches and I'm spent."

So I kneel down on the floor next to them, like a basketball coach giving instructions during a time out. Think of your cock, your penis, as if it were a gun, I say. You told me you are a hunter. Well, every time you come, it's like shooting your gun. So you have to ask yourself, "Do I love this person I am on top of?" He says yes, yes, he does love her. Well then, you wouldn't want to shoot the woman you love, would you? God no, he says. So every time you are about to come, about to shoot off your gun, you have to say to yourself, my God, I can't do it, I can't shoot the woman I love. If you still feel yourself coming, pull your nose three times and stick your tongue out. That always works.

So he does what I say, and sure enough, he doesn't come. Except now he's beginning to lose his hard-on and Paloma is not too crazy about that. So I turn to her and say, "This guy loves you and will not bring himself to shoot you with his gun. But you are a crazy little bitch and you want to be shot because it feels good. You want him to kill you with it. So you have to keep him in your little cubbyhole by squeezing his pee-pee with these special little muscles you have down there." And I showed her how to do it.

What I did was go back and forth from one to the other, telling them how to handle the job. I tell Hemingway that there is a little angel inside his pee-pee, a good little angel who tells him that it's wrong to shoot the woman he loves. Meanwhile, Paloma has a little devil inside her wet place that is driving her crazy and makes her squeeze Hemingway's wee-wee and won't let it get out. But Hemingway has to get it out before she squeezes too hard or he'll shoot her. He is now screaming that it feels too good to pull it out. So put it back in, I say. But don't kill her, don't shoot. And so it went—back and forth—and pretty soon they're ignoring my orders. They are playing angel and devil without me. I hear cries of "No, no, no." And then, "Yes, yes, yes." Now I know they don't need my help anymore. A few minutes later they killed each other and fell asleep. I wasn't tired, so I had another drink and read one of Hemingway's stories about hunting in Africa.

About an hour later, they come out of the bedroom looking very happy. Hemingway is smiling for the first time since I met him. Paloma goes down on her knees in front of me to thank me. I saved their fucking relationship, that's what I did.

So we became fast friends. They adopted me into their little clique, which included a lot of famous people. We made an agreement. I was to call them every night when they were in Manhattan, and they would hire me as their personal driver and pay me double what I usually make. So pretty soon I am driving them around on their crazy nights on the town and we become real drinking buddies. And before I know it, I am invited to their home in Cuba anytime I need a vacation.

Part II, Bernie's weekend with the Hemingways, will appear in the next issue.

National Lampoon Condensed Books Presents

THE BOOK OF LOTS MORE LISTS

edited by Richard Smith

Editor's Note: The National Lampoon is pleased to bring its readers a selection from the forthcoming Book of Lots More Lists. Following hard on the heels of the enormously successful Book of Lists, the Book of Lots More Lists is a further collection of lists of things listed by people who like to list things and presented for the enjoyment of people who like to see things listed.

Four Formidable Culinary Feats

1. A one-inch pizza with everything on it (Chef Aureliano Hem, author of Regional Cooking of Corsica).
2. Mexican jumping chili (José's Luncheonette and Lumber Yard, Iguala, Mexico).
3. A fourteen-course gourmet dinner, including steamed lobsters, sauce ravigote, fried chicken wings, carrot bread, and spiced cupcakes with sea-foam frosting using nothing but a battery-operated hot plate (Esther Mullins, Lima, Ohio).
4. Edible cold porridge (Sybil Filagree, 4-H Leader, Cicero, Illinois).

Six Self-Help Books Yet to Be Written

1. Be the Person Your Parents Meant You to Be
2. Building Your Own Pet Allergies
3. Eat Your Way to a Chest Full of Hair
4. Make Your Pants Windproof

What Happened to the Wayward Children of Six Famous Composers?

1. Barney Johann Strauss—hated waltzes but adored square dancing. Composed several, including "Calico Tootsie," "Oily Banjo," and "Hike Your Legs, Lorraine." His Viennese contemporaries were not quite ready for such raffish music and thought him insane. Disowned by family, shunned as a dunce, Barney ended his days testing diphtheria remedies.
2. Orloff Tchaikovsky—enjoyed brief success as composer of "Walkin' My Baby Back Home," "Jeepers Creepers," and "Beloved Threshing Combine." Presently manages the complaint section of the GUM department store in Moscow.
3. Stregga Verdi—Defied his father and also wrote Aida, changing nothing but the name of the tenor from Rhadames to Tack and interpolating "O Solo Mio" in the tomb scene.
4. Loomis Beethoven—The "runt" of the litter. Claimed that his composing abilities were severely hindered by the local wines. Worked at a variety of nonmusical occupations—baker, drover, saboteur—but never quite found his niche. Died at the age of eight and was buried in a pauper's grave.
5. Ethelbert Vivaldi—Followed in his father's footsteps and wrote 4,681 concerti. Unfortunately, all were scored for saxophone, which had not yet been invented.
6. Murray Handel—In addition to an opera, a polka, and a gigue, Murray also wrote a song cycle based on the epic poem Little Elf Citizen by L. Aubrey Goethals, Poet Laureate of England, 10:45 A.M. to 11:00 A.M., May 4, 1809.

True Facts

● The commander of the Rockaway chapter of Disabled American Veterans was at the grave of a World War II soldier who died in the Pacific when he noticed an artificial flower that had fallen from a Memorial Day wreath. He picked up the flower, and discovered a tag on the underside reading Made in Japan. The commander was "shocked," and promptly urged other veterans' group leaders to investigate the origin of memorial wreaths and flowers in their jurisdictions. New York Daily News

● A twenty-three-year-old man was arrested in Columbus, Ohio, after he allegedly stole a pair of eyeglasses from a female pedestrian. An ophthalmic motive was ruled out when police searched the suspect's home and discovered eighty additional pairs of women's corrective lenses, which he had been in the process of eating. Columbus Citizen-Journal (contributed by Rodger Bumpass)

● Under the State of Colorado's so-called sunset law, government agencies are subject to periodic legislative review, under which individual agencies must justify their existences or be abolished. The statute, enacted to help detect and eliminate needless expenditures, has thus far resulted in the dissolution of three entities: the State Athletic Commission, the Board of Registration for Sanitarians, and the Board of Shorthand Reporters, with combined annual budgets of $6,810. However, legislators, state auditors, and private consultants paid out a total of $212,000 to complete the various reviews.

Colorado therefore spent $31 for every dollar it saved, at which rate the state would have to disperse another $6,572,000 to uncover the $212,000 wasted on the audit. The New York Times

● A government survey of racial prejudices among Australian citizens documented "many gross examples of personal rejection and exclusion" directed against the nation's 110,000 aborigines. One solution to the race problem frequently encountered by survey takers was a suggestion that all of Australia's aborigines be herded onto an offshore island and subsequently bombed into extinction. The study revealed this and other such unvarnished racial slurs are considered normal in the white community. Toronto Globe and Mail (contributed by Mark Johnston)

● A young actress was auditioning for a play in Highland Park, Michigan, when, at the height of a pitched scene between an arguing couple, the playwright became aggravated with the woman. He approached her from behind with a five-pound sledgehammer and bashed her several times in the head until dead. The actress's small child was also pummeled, but escaped with injuries. The title of the play was Hammer. New York Post

● There are two rival beauty contest groups in war-torn Lebanon: the National Committee for Miss Lebanon Contests, and the Lebanese Committee for Miss Lebanon Elections. The former is officially sanctioned by the Ministry of Tourism; the latter is not, and because of a recent government decree, is prohibited from staging further pageants. The decree was prompted by incidents that occurred during two recent attempts to select Lebanon's representatives to the Miss World and Miss Universe contests—both preliminary affairs under the sponsorship of the nonsanctioned organization. In the first, relatives of one of the losing entrants drew guns and began a shooting melee that had to be quelled by Lebanese troops. The second contest was wracked by flying plates, chairs, bottles, and more bullets after a losing contestant grabbed the microphone and shouted insults at the judges and the winner's family. A spokesman for the Lebanese Committee for Miss Lebanon Elections has taken a vow to fight the government ruling against his group. New York Daily News

● A customer at Nicholson's Restaurant in Pembroke, Ontario, grabbed a fork from a table, held it to an employee's back, and demanded the contents of the cash register. He escaped with $116—and the fork. The Ottawa Citizen (contributed by Gary J. Hayes)

LIVES OF THE GREAT
THIS MONTH:
EDMUND G. "JERRY" BROWN
DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA

MEMORABLE QUOTE: "THE ONLY WAY A PERSON CAN GET A JOB IN MY CABINET IS IF HE'S A POVERTY LAWYER, A KOOK, OR A PRIEST WHO WORKED WITH CESAR CHAVEZ."

BROWN, WHO ASPIRES TO BE PRESIDENT, HAS CALLED HIS JOB AS GOVERNOR "A PAIN IN THE ASS."

IN A DISCUSSION OF POLICY WITH ADVISERS, BROWN ONCE STATED "I'LL BELIEVE I HAVE TO DO SOMETHING FOR THE UNEMPLOYED ONLY WHEN THEY START RIOTING IN THE STREET."

BROWN CHOSE TO SUPPORT MEXICANS RATHER THAN BLACKS DURING HIS GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN, SAYING, "BLACKS ARE THE WRONG SYMBOL FOR THE SEVENTIES."

HE LIKES TO SPEND HOURS IN A SLEAZY SACRAMENTO CAFE, DRINKING AND DANCING WITH THE MEXICAN WOMEN WHO IDOLIZE HIM.

GOLDEN FLEECE AWARDS

For the last three years, Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin has been conferring his monthly "Golden Fleece" awards on wasteful federal programs and expenditures. Presented below is a small selection of these Golden Fleece award recipients.

Department of Agriculture for spending nearly $46,000 to determine how long it takes to cook breakfast. The USDA calculated that a pair of eggs may be fried in 838 TMUs (time measurement units—one TMU equals .036 second). One needs 1,222 TMUs to cook a six-ounce order of hash; 960 TMUs for French toast. The Department of Agriculture has plans for a similar study of lunch and dinner items and no explanation of where TMUs come from.

Law Enforcement Assistance Administration for funding a $27,000 investigation of the reasons inmates are anxious to escape from prison. The report concluded in part: "The increase in predictability of escape from R = .64 when secondary variables are used singly and R = .61 when questionnaire variables are used singly to R = .77 when both are used conjointly, empirically demonstrates that escape is associated with both static and dynamic factors."

U.S. Postal Service for launching a $3.4 million ad campaign to encourage Americans to write more letters. Postal authorities have stated that the increased first class revenues from these letters will help offset the deficits incurred by other categories of mail. However, the Post Office's financial reports also show that each piece of first class mail is sent at a loss. Therefore, $3.4 million is being spent to increase Post Office losses.

National Endowment for the Arts for paying an artist $6,025 to film skydivers unraveling one mile by twenty inch rolls of crepe paper as they dropped from two airplanes. The artist also photographed a team of parachutists wearing backpacks full of glowing gasses. Figures show $1,424 of the grant money was spent on a trip to the island of St. Maarten, where the grantee found it essential to shoot a portion of her film—the exclusive Caribbean resort was cited as an important influence on the artist's development.

Department of Labor for granting a $384,948 contract to hire 101 persons to count the dogs, cats, and horses at 160,000 dwellings in Ventura County, California. Census takers and administrative aides were paid from $3.25 an hour to $250 a week under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) project, intended in the main to check for rabies immunizations. There has not been a reported case of rabies in Ventura County in over ten years.

Law Enforcement Assistance Administration for developing and later scrapping a prototype police patrol car, designed at a cost of $2 million. The cruiser featured a multiple spark discharge ignition system, hand-held voice/digital terminal, heads-up display, audio recorder, wide angle periscope rearview mirror, tire sensor, brake wear sensor, carbon monoxide monitor, microcomputer, digital cassette reader, and keyboard. Also provided was a visual indicator that showed whether or not the siren was on.

Smithsonian Institution for contributing nearly $89,000 toward the compilation of a Tzotzil dictionary. Tzotzil is an unwritten Mayan language spoken by 120,000 Mexican corn farmers, only 10,000 of whom are capable of understanding the particular dialect Smithsonian scholars chose to define. Few, if any, of these 10,000 have any use for the publication, however, as none of the definitions are in Spanish.

National Endowment for the Humanities for making a $2,500 grant to Arlington County, Virginia, for the purpose of learning why people cheat, lie, and are rude on tennis courts. The money will be used to hire professors of sociology, ethics, and philosophy; conduct public meetings; and survey the attitudes of 300 sample players toward local tennis regulations. Researchers hope to find out why some tennis players become frustrated by court abuses.

Department of Transportation for spending $225,000 on a report forecasting U.S. transportation needs in the year 2025 under the hypothetical conditions of Ice Age, Dictatorship, Hippie Culture, and "American Dream." The document predicted an Ice Age would cause "a very large number of people" to move to the South and Southwest to escape an undesirable climate. In the case of dictatorship and consequent urban guerrilla warfare, cities will need more transit police, and automobile damage insurance rates may increase. Gasoline costs are projected at: Ice Age—$1.70; Hippie Society—$1.50; Dictatorship—$1.85; and in a successful "American Dream" situation—$1.05.

These advertisements appeared in Time magazine between February and December of 1954. At that time, women were, however, generally allowed to vote, travel freely across state lines, and own property.

Give a girl a gift she can use...all her life

Be sure it's made of long-lasting Armco Stainless Steel

There's something about a Christmas gift made of handsome Armco Stainless Steel that appeals to a woman's sense of value. And rightly so.

THE MAN WHO DIDN'T WANT A "WOMAN'S JOB"

Before Stanley R. lost his left arm he was the kind of a guy who took pride in a good day's work and a man-sized job. And after his accident he was exactly the same guy. Not afraid of work.

When Stan came to the Liberty Mutual Rehabilitation Center to get fitted with an artificial arm and to be trained in a trip to the plant and inside a job analysis.

Those Liberty Mutual specialists found the jobs that Stan could handle very well. Important jobs. Man-sized jobs. And after spending a month and a half at the Center, Stan went back to take his place as a highly productive worker.

Rehabilitation is only one part of Humanics — the Liberty Mutual program that makes money for any employer. Not only does Humanics lower insurance costs — it also reduces the uninsured cost of accidents. Humanics actually increases profits.

For information, call the nearest Liberty Mutual office, or write to us at 175 Berkeley Street, Boston 17, Massachusetts.

Does a machine ever think like a man?

You bet! Many business machines can out-calculate a normal, quick-thinking man. It's a good thing they do, or business would never get its bookkeeping done.

These machines are collections of small machined steel parts, working smoothly under cover of sheet steel housings.

They are marvels of accuracy that sometimes actually seem to think.

And many of them are made of J&L cold finished steels and J&L sheet and strip steel.

Spoilers

Here are the endings to some things which you'd only read or sit through to find out the endings.

MOVIES

F.I.S.T.: Sylvester Stallone plays a poor boy who works his way up to president of a trucking union. Although he is a hero to millions, his union is riddled with corruption. In the end, his family disappears and he is killed by mobsters attempting to stop an investigation of the union.

Pretty Baby: Girl prostitute Brooke Shields marries photographer Keith Carradine, who spends his time with the girls of New Orleans' red light district, but in the end her mother takes her back home.

The End: Burt Reynolds finds out that he is suffering from an incurable blood disease and sets about trying to commit suicide. He takes a drug overdose and finds himself in a mental hospital, where he meets fellow inmate Dom DeLuise. He is unsuccessful at suicide, even with his new friend's help, and ultimately decides he wants to live after all.

The Greek Tycoon: The story of Jackie Kennedy Onassis, JFK., and Aristotle Onassis. For no apparent reason, JFK. is shot on a beach and Robert Kennedy is not assassinated.

BOOKS

A Place To Come To by Robert Penn Warren: Jed Tewkesbury seduces Rozelle, the most sought-after girl in his high school, but marries her best friend. She ultimately marries an Indian mystic, and Jed divorces his wife.

Lancelot by Walker Percy:

Lance, an aristocratic and dissipated Southern lawyer, blows up his estate and everyone in it after learning of his wife's infidelities. He ends up in an insane asylum, where he falls in love with the mute woman in the room next to his.

Perdido by Jill Robinson: A Hollywood "brat" pursues her childhood crush through adolescence, marriage, and the McCarthy era, only to discover that he is her father and her love must always remain unrequited.

The Holcroft Covenant by Robert Ludlum: Noel Holcroft, the estranged son of Heinrich Clausen, a neo-Nazi leader closely resembling Joseph Goebbels, assassinates the leader known as "the tinamou" and helps avert an international Nazi revival.

Bullshit

"The character is like me," he says, "not an intellectual, but a genius and extremely devious."

—Sylvester Stallone, re the hero of his new novel/movie, Paradise Alley. People, May 8, 1978.

...The value you place on a course that appeals to the non-shooting public depends entirely upon how much you value your freedom under the Second Amendment. Bear in mind that the anti-gun syndrome is an illness and that education is the prescription for a cure.

—Bernie Fuller, "The Prescription." American Rifleman, May 1978.

"In the sixties, that would have been a bomb."

—Jane Pauley, upon the occasion of a cup of cold coffee being thrown in her face by a student while she was covering the commencement ceremonies at Columbia University. Quoted in "Newsmaker," Newsweek, May 29, 1978. This commencement marked the tenth anniversary of the student takeover of the president's office at Columbia. From the trashing of Grayson Kirk's office to the dousing of, God help us, Jane Pauley with a cuppa jake. (Followed by an on-camera apology by the perpetrator.) Quo vadis, youth?

"War has always been a part of Judeo-Christian history," Cohen said in an unpublished interview. "Emphasis is on killing the soldiers in the battlefield and saving the cities. The neutron bomb is in the best interests of Judeo-Christian morality."

—Samuel Cohen, inventor of the neutron bomb. Quoted in "The New York Intelligencer," New York magazine, April 24, 1978.

Cohen may have taken his cue from State Senator James H. Donovan's recent philosophizing on capital punishment, which he likes. "Where would Christianity be," he asked, "if Jesus got eight to fifteen years with time off for good behavior?"

—ibid.

Mission: Entertainment

U.S. Air Force

It's not surprising the men of NORAD (North American Air Defense Command) would be drawn to entertainers with an aviation bent, such as the Canadian Snowjobs acrobatic team shown above. This precision "bomb burst" maneuver is being performed for personnel at NORAD's Twenty-fourth Regional Headquarters.

"Luckily, our director, Dan Petric, had the intelligence to realize that with Olivier, you can't make a film about corruption inside a huge motor company and then, on another level, have a situation in which a nude body comes onto the scene every 10 pages."

—Lesley-Anne Down, re The Betsy. Quoted in "The Proper Lady from 'Upstairs' Turns Sex Object," by Donald Goddard, Us, March 22, 1978.

"She's an innocent talent, and that's what rock and roll is."

—Paul McCartney, re his wife, the former Linda Eastman. From "The Private Life of Paul and Linda McCartney," by Elliot Mintz, Us, March 22.

EDITORIAL

P.P.S. Reader response to our July 100th Anniversary cover has been so pronounced that it would seem to merit a word or two of mention. For those who missed it, this cover showed a charmingly diseased clown with flaming candles stuck in his hair and "Happy 100th Anniversary" stenciled across his nose—the whole rendered with great sensitivity and taste by the world-famous or, at least, municipally notorious comic artist Rick Meyerowitz. Mr. Meyerowitz is particularly noted for his use of the palette. His colors are to the spectrum what the music of the Ramones is to the harmonic scales, and several of the hues utilized by him in July are illegal in countries less progressive than our own. Anyway, letters of praise have been pouring in from all over the country. Many readers claim to have rid their entire houses of rats, mice, and insect pests just by posting this cover under the sink. While other members of our audience state that they have caused remarkable improvements in the behavior of their children by the simple expedient of threatening to leave Mr. Meyerowitz's oeuvre overnight in a naughty tot's room. The cover also appears to be effective against plant aphids, bathroom mildew, and, possibly, athlete's foot. Congratulations, Rick; by all accounts this is your finest effort since the "In Like a Lion" feline sheep rape cover of March 1976, which jammed the automatic mail sorting equipment of post offices in fifteen states.

P.P.P.S. Speaking of covers, that which graces this very issue is certainly deserving of comment. Unfortunately, you're not supposed to tease ladies, and cover artist Mara McAfee is nothing if not a lady, so we will just have to come right out in plain old boring nonironic English and say that her painting is double-swell, super-neat, and wall-to-wall real good. Our special thanks also to Brooke Shields for posing as the teen-ager and for being, as she always is, the most patient and professional of models. And more special thanks to Teri Shields, mother of Brooke, for posing as Brooke's mother and to National Lampoon Books Design Director Mike Cross for posing as his usual cheerful self.

Sirs:

Well, it was a horrible thing, but it's all over now, thank God. And at least everybody acquitted themselves honorably. I mean, you can only imagine how awful it would have looked in the eyes of the world if I had, for instance, written a bunch of whining, sniveling, self-pitying letters to the government and my family begging and pleading for them to save my life at any cost? That would have been appalling. Fortunately, however, I am Italian, and no Italian would ever do such a thing. Unless, of course, his mother told him to or unless he was threatened with something really terrible like having water thrown on his clothes.

Sirs:

Speaking of courageous honchos, how's about us? We sure been pounding the crap out of those Commies over in Africa, haven't we? Well, it's not our fault. It's the new volunteer army. They say they're all too busy to go right now. Really. And then almost all of them are afraid to fly and the new volunteer Navy has voted not to have any overnight guests on its boats until they've finished redecorating. (It really is a pest to have people underfoot while you're trying to pick out wallpaper.) So we can't get over there even if we wanted to. Besides, we learned an important lesson in Vietnam. That important lesson being: Please don't hit us oh no please don't hit us pretty please with sugar on it we'll do anything you want....

Sirs:

Could you fellows loan me a few dollars until payday? I've made a mess of my finances, and I'm short on my rent. Twenty-five ought to do it.

Sirs:

The other day, Little Sprout was playing over at the corn processing plant and he apparently fell into a vat of Niblet's brand corn. He was sealed in a Boilin' Bag in our own butter sauce and shipped out. Could we ask all of your readers to check their freezers right now? If they should happen to find the poor little nipper, they should call me, toll free, at 800-555-4857.

Sirs:

At a time when all other sit-com shows were about goofy next-door neighbors or mean mothers-in-law, I was the first to introduce such amusing subjects as racial hatred, menopause, and abortion to TV comedy. Now I'm planning to quit television to move into motion pictures. Mel Brooks and Gene Wilder are making a lot of funny, entertaining movies these days, and I think it's time to get started on taking all the fun out of that, too.

Sirs:

Somebody just told me that sooner or later, everybody has to die. That's terrible. I had no idea that this was the case. But don't worry, I've already got my staff working up some regulatory legislation that will make it illegal.

Sirs:

I'm afraid there has been some confusion as to what I was talking about when I claimed that a "New Man" would emerge from the socialist society in Cuba. I did not mean to imply that man is perfectable or even that socialism necessarily creates better human beings; I was just pointing out how easy it is to improve on Cubans.

Sirs:

Ballet is really getting popular among the hip set in New York. Jann Wenner, who owns Rolling Stone, for instance, never misses a performance. And believe me, it's worth the price of admission just to see him in a tutu.

Sirs:

I recently read in People that TV was searching for a new "sex symbol." I would like to suggest a finger being rapidly inserted and withdrawn between a circle composed of the forefinger and thumb of the opposite hand.

Coming Next Month

In the September National Lampoon...

STYLE

With: elephant bells, ironed hair, go-go boots, the midi, Hush Puppies, stretch jeans, Nehru jackets, tab-collar shirts, turtleneck dickies, shorty pajamas, Madras dinner jackets, clam diggers, huge fuzzy mohair sweaters that get all over everything, Mohawk haircuts, and a hot pink sheath dress with a brassiere that's got those kind of rock-hard B-cups that make your tits look like rocket ships. Plus a lot of queers and a picture of your mom drinking beer in her boxer shorts.

Meet Ronrico of Puerto Rico.

Who is he?

He's the descendant of 6 generations of Puerto Rican rum-masters (since 1860).

And he's no ordinary rum.

He's smooth. Light in manner. A good mixer. And — more.

Down deep, inside, where it counts, Ronrico has character. A fineness. The result of decades of distilling — and perfecting.

So for authentic rum of Puerto Rico, get to know Ronrico.

A well-bred fellow.
