

Be less curious about people and more curious about ideas ■

Marie Curie (Maria Skłodowska)

Born in Warsaw, Poland, 7 November 1867 – 4 July 1934

French physicist and chemist – pioneer in the field of radioactivity and winner of the Nobel Prize in Physics 1903 (with husband Pierre Curie and Antoine Henri Becquerel) and the Nobel Prize in Chemistry 1911

search faster o navigate smarter o connect more

RSC Publishing

www.rsc.org/platform

Registered Charity Number 207890