What was once an idea becomes a reality with this inaugural issue of Organic Preparations and Procedures. As with any undertaking of this kind, it could not have gotten off the ground without the help of many colleagues. In particular, I wish to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to Professor E. I. Becker for his unstinting interest and encouragement. Professor C. G. Overberger gave his unqualified and unquestioned endorsement at the earliest stage of this venture, when it was needed most. The help, the encouragement and the enthusiasm of my Associate Editor Dr. John L. Ferrari were of immeasurable assistance. I wish also to express my deep appreciation to all the members of the Boards who enthusiastically supported the idea.

This issue is dedicated to those who will be using OPP, for in the final analysis, their use of it will justify its existence.
