AAPS is pleased to announce the launch of an endowment campaign for the Dale E. Wurster Research Award in Pharmaceutics. As we build this endowment, we look to our supporters like you to help make this a success.

The Dale E. Wurster Research Award in Pharmaceutics recognizes individuals who have made significant research contributions to the field of pharmaceutics. This research may be in the areas of physical pharmacy, preformulation, dosage form design, formulation, biopharmaceutics, and/or pharmacokinetics.

Recipients of this distinguished award are announced at the AAPS Annual Meeting and Exhibition. This individual will join a distinguished group of scientists who have substantially impacted the field of pharmaceutics. Our past winners are:

1990: George Zografis, Ph.D.	2002: Nicholas A. Peppas, Sc.D., D.Eng.
1992: Gerhard Levy, Pharm.D.	2004: David J. W. Grant, Ph.D.
1994: William I. Higuchi, Ph.D.	2006: Patrick P. DeLuca, Ph.D.
1996: Joseph R. Robinson, Ph.D.	2008: Larry Augsburger, Ph.D.
1998: Sung Wan Kim, Ph.D.	2010: Theodore W. Randolph, Ph.D.
2000: Leslie Z. Benet, Ph.D.	2012: Brad Anderson, Ph.D.

This award was created and generously funded by Dean and Professor Dale E. Wurster for 20 years. A fundraising initiative has been launched to permanently fund the award via an endowment and is currently 50% funded. This reflects the strong support to memorialize Dean Wurster's scientific contributions and to recognize him as a founder of AAPS. The University of Iowa College of Pharmacy & University of Iowa Pharmaceuticals (UIP) is the lead corporate sponsor. Two additional tiers of support have been created with significant contributions from AstraZeneca, Gilead, Merck, Metrics Contract Services, Patheon Pharmaceuticals and additional support from AlphaVektor, Formex, Magothy Consulting, and Norwich Pharma Services. Significant donations have been received from individuals supporting this award. The Wurster family, including Professor Dale Eric Wurster, his wife Pamela, and Dr. Susan Wurster Biel personally covered the 2012 award and contributed to a co-lead position in anchoring the endowment.

With your support, we can provide the recognition and resources needed to highlight those who are making everlasting contributions to pharmaceutics while encouraging our younger generation to follow in their footsteps. Contribute to the AAPS Dale E. Wurster Endowment Today!

AAPS Launches Three New eCourses

AAPS eCourses have been designed to address perceived training gaps in the pharmaceutical and biopharmaceutical sciences and strive to provide extensive and novel educational material to the pharmaceutical science and related communities. These eCourses are comprehensive online offerings that provide the convenience of self-paced learning. Facilitated by top researchers in the field, AAPS eCourses provide practical perspectives from practicing scientists and allow participants the opportunity to receive a Certificate of Completion.

We invite you to visit the ecourse page to learn more about these exciting projects and to view the introductory video on our YouTube channel. Check out these four ecourses online today!

AAPS BIOTECHNOLOGY 101

AAPS REGULATORY AFFAIRS 101

AAPS IMMUNOGENICITY 101

AAPS TRANSLATIONAL SCIENCES 101

For more information visit www.aaps.org/eCourses.

AAPS members receive a discount on ecourses!

AAPS is offering a new member benefit by offering CE credits with completion of any of the three new AAPS eCourses. Look for the ACPE logo for credit hour information.

Submit an eCourse Proposal

AAPS will be accepting submissions three times a year for ecourses. The proposal submission form requires details such as proposed objectives, topics, audiences, speakers, etc. The AAPS Electronic Program Development Committee will review all proposals and make their selections. AAPS' goal is to increase its ecourse offerings by at least 2–3 ecourses every year. Thank you for helping AAPS develop valuable educational opportunities for pharmaceutical scientists.

AAPS Newsmagazine

The AAPS Newsmagazine is the most respected source for industry insight and association news for the world's leading pharmaceutical scientists. Feature topics include drug delivery systems, the use of technology, regulatory agencies' activities, and industry modernization. As a member of AAPS, you receive a print copy of the AAPS Newsmagazine monthly. Your print issue offers regular features, including the cover article, Pharmaceutical Science Update, U.S. Regulatory News preview, AAPS Meeting news, AAPS Publications, Member Spotlight, and more.

Digital Edition and Online Extras

As a member of AAPS, you also receive online access to the AAPS Newsmagazine digital edition and online extras.

The current issue is now available along with archives of the AAPS Newsmagazine from 2009 to the present.

Portable, interactive, and easily accessible from the nearest computer, the AAPS Newsmagazine digital edition delivers your content to you before you receive your print issue; allows you to search the entire issue and back issues; offers you the capabilities to email an article or the entire issue to your friends and colleagues; and provides you with links to connect directly to company Web pages.

While the AAPS Newsmagazine print and digital editions focus on the science, the online extras provide additional content that is more oriented toward the association via the AAPS website. Look for additional Pharmaceutical Science Updates, the full U.S. Regulatory News report, the Graduate Focus article, Focus Group Features, and much more through the table of contents provided for each AAPS Newsmagazine issue. View the August 2014 online extras table of contents.

*If you are looking for an archived issue of the AAPS Newsmagazine from 2001 to 08, please contact the AAPS Editorial Offices at magazine@aaps.org.

The AAPS Newsmagazine is a member exclusive benefit. To access the publication, please visit www.aaps.org/tojoin or scan the QR code.

Mobile Apps

The AAPS Newsmagazine mobile app is available to all AAPS members for iPhones and iPads. The app allows you to access prior issues and build your own personal library of past issues. You may download the AAPS Newsmagazine mobile app for free from the iTunes store.

A Web version of the AAPS Newsmagazine digital edition is also available for Android phones. AAPS members with Blackberries may also access a text-only version of the AAPS Newsmagazine digital edition via the "Text View" button in the top navigation bar of the digital edition (beginning with the December 2011 issue).
