

SCHMITT NEUROLOGICAL SCIENCES SYMPOSIUM

"Transplantation into the Mammalian CNS"

June 30 - July 3, 1987
University of Rochester
Rochester, New York

The Schmitt Symposia series will sponsor the Second International Symposium on Transplantation into the Mammalian CNS. The program will be devoted to critically analyzing recent advances in neural transplantation in both the basic and clinical sciences.

The Second International Conference will include platform presentations and poster sessions as well as selected workshops. A call for abstracts is being issued with a deadline of October 30, 1986. Based on submitted abstracts, a preliminary selection of speakers for the various sessions will be made by the International Program Committee. All attendees wishing to make a presentation in poster or session form should submit a preliminary abstract of up to 250 words describing their research to be presented.
