Figure 1(a) in our paper should be replaced by the figure presented here. The software package, used for the visualization of the three graphs G_0 , G_{init} , and G_{final} in the original figure, generated overlaps between some nodes and links. As a result, the graphs G_0 and G_{final} looked misleadingly different, whereas they are actually identical. We stress that this is only a visualization problem, which does not influence the data and the results of our study.

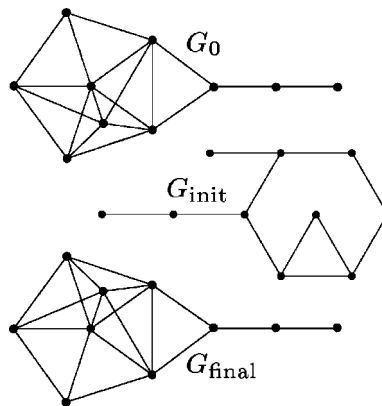

FIG. 1. Graphs G_0 , G_{init} , and G_{final} (note that G_0 and G_{final} are identical).
