

ANNOUNCEMENT

PHYTOCHEMICAL SOCIETY OF EUROPE

The winner of the Phytochemical Society
Tate and Lyle Award for 1977 is

EDWIN HASLAM

of the Department of Chemistry, University of Sheffield, who has been so honoured for his notable and distinguished contributions to the structural and stereochemical analyses of plant tannins and to our knowledge of biosynthetic mechanisms in the shikimic acid pathway.

At the April 1977 Annual General Meeting, the following new elections were made:

E. G. BROWN (Swansea): Vice-Chairman and Chairman-Elect
J. D. PHILLIPSON (London): Joint Hon. Secretary
B. H. DAVIES (Aberystwyth): Committee member
R. J. PRYCE (Sittingbourne): Committee member
J. HALL (Sussex): Committee member