

Building on Seven Generations of Piano Artistry

PRAMBERGER

1779

Joseph Johann Pramberger (1779-1834) is born in Tyrol, Austria

1810

Joseph Johann Pramberger acquires full ownership of Schweighofer & Pramberger piano shop in Vienna

1824

Johann Pramberger Sr. patents new type of piano called a Sirenion

1824

Pramberger receives patents for design work on piano strings and metal soundboard

1867

Pramberger piano receives Bronze Medal at Paris exposition

1873

Pramberger piano receives Medal for Technical Excellence in Vienna

1913

Pramberger family members begin working at Steinway & Sons®, NY

1950

*Anton Pramberger family immigrates to New York City.
Anton begins work at Steinway & Sons®*

1958

Joseph J. Pramberger begins work at Steinway & Sons®, NY

1975

Joseph J. Pramberger invents patented bushing for piano actions

1987

Joseph J. Pramberger leaves Steinway and Sons® and creates Pramberger Pianos Ltd., NY

1995

Joseph J. Pramberger joins Young Chang Piano Company

2000

*Pramberger Platinum Edition World-Class
Grand Piano Models JP185 & JP208 debut*

With renowned designer and engineer Joseph Pramberger lending his expertise and vision to the conception and development of Young Chang Pianos, the Pramberger legacy lives on.

Pramberger® Platinum Edition World-Class Pianos

Made by Young Chang
Under License From Joseph J. Pramberger

Young Chang America, Inc. (253) 589-3200
9501 Lakewood Dr S.W. Suite D, Lakewood, WA 98499-0995
PO Box 99995, Lakewood, WA 98499-0995

Young Chang Canada (416) 492-9899
3650 Victoria Park Ave Suite 105, Toronto, Ontario M2H3P7

www.youngchang.com

©2000 Young Chang America, Inc. All rights reserved.
®Pramberger is a registered trademark of Joseph J. Pramberger.
®Steinway & Sons is a registered trademark of Steinway & Sons.

