Editorial

The time has come to pass on my Editorship of POLYMER BULLETIN. I am, however, very pleased that after nearly 20 years of editing POLYMER BULLETIN, we have found a most capable individual in the person of Prof. R. Faust who will continue to serve our authors/readers as the new Regional Editor for the Americas and Australia. I have all the confidence in his capabilities and dedication and am looking forward to help him any way I can in his new job.

Joseph P. Kennedy

With much regret we have to announce the retirement of Professor Kennedy's editorship of POLYMER BULLETIN.

Professor Joseph P. Kennedy has served as the Regional Editor for the Americas and Australia for 20 years. As one of the leading polymer scientists in the world he started in this position when POLYMER BULLETIN was launched and together with Prof. Cantow and Prof. Saegusa he established it as one of the leading journals in the field. We would like to thank Prof. Kennedy very much for his dedication and expertise he has given to the journal for so many years.

We are very pleased that Professor Rudolf Faust will take over as the new Regional Editor for the Americas and Australia. We would ask all contributors to POLYMER BULLETIN to continue their cooperation with Professor Faust in the same committed way they did with Professor Kennedy.
