THE "ALL-CANADA" FAMILY

Foreword

IT IS WITH not inconsiderable pride, and with some wonder, that we, the editors and staff of the CANADIAN RADIO YEAR BOOK, present this, its first annual edition. Our pride lies not so much in our product, as in the industry about which, of which, and for which it is intended. The wonder stems from the full realization of that same industry's great breadth, its astonishing growth toward maturity, its strength and its influence upon the community which is Canada.

These factors, coupled with the unusual and unexpected arms, avenues and compartments of the broadcasting industry have made the task of preparing within a limited time such a directory as this considerably more exacting than a similar guide of a more prosaic business. Every possible attempt has been made to create a complete and accurate directory of radio broadcasting in Canada. No expense or effort has been spared to gather the data to be found within. It can be expected that there is even more to be covered, that we have not yet found. We will not apologize for omissions within the fields dealt with, as every opportunity was given to those departments to provide us with information. For information on any field or fields untouched the editors will have special welcome. The YEAR BOOK will cover the industry, but must have the industry's co-operation.

Throughout production the editors were in constant consultation with men and women from all branches of the industry. A special consultative board was set up early in this period. Without the guidance of its membership the YEAR BOOK would not have been possible in anything like its present size or scope. To such men as Jack Radford and Wells Ritchie of the CBC, Guy Herbert, Spence Caldwell and Percy Gayner of All-Canada Radio Facilities Ltd., Horace Stovin of the company of the same name, George Taggart, Harry Sedgwick of CFRB, Arthur Evans of the C.A.B., Athol McQuarrie of the A.C.A., Les Garside of Inland Broadcasting, Harry Rimmer of Canadian General Electric, Gerard Delage and Mac Shoub of Montreal, and others too numerous to mention here, we say thank you.

The YEAR BOOK, as its name implies, will be an annual publication, produced, as is our fervent hope, with less tribulation than that which beset the first edition. For any man who thinks he has had troubles buying new 5,000-watt transmitting equipment or in keeping a leaky 100-watter on the air for the past six years, we cordially invite him into adventuring into that vale of tears known as the printing business. Probably no industry has been so swept off its feet during the recent war and its unpleasant aftermath as this, the art of printing. How it has weathered the storm is a mystery. By next edition we hope it will have returned to something like normalcy.

It was not out of keeping with the times that at the birth of this book broadcasting in Canada was in a state of, to put it mildly, flux. Important issues were at stake in a controversy of policy and procedure. In a young and husky industry, however, such things are not unusual. In one as complex as radio, in a country as complicated as Canada, they need not be unexpected.

Meanwhile, ahead of us lie great things. Frequency modulation and television, as well as facsimile, are still to be explored and exploited. Even AM has not ceased developing in this country. The future is bright with promise. It is our intention to keep pace, in order that we may serve broadcasting in Canada faithfully and well.

PUBLIC RADIO IN CANADA

By A. DAVIDSON DUNTON

Chairman, CBC Board of Governors

THE year ahead will be full of challenges and opportunities for Canadian radio. With the war over, broadcasters in Canada have been readjusting their sights to what only a short time ago we called the "postwar era." That era is here now and responsibilities in it are great. Stewardship of this mighty instrument of mass communication must be carried out every day with great respect, careful planning and constant appreciation of the fact that it exists to serve the public interest.

There are certain basic facts of our country that affect radio, and certain things affected in turn by radio. The first fact is common with other countries. Air seems to be the freest thing in the world. But in the radio sense it is not free.

The whole question of radio was thoroughly studied at the end of the twenties, and during the thirties by the Aird Commission, by different Governments, and by Parliamentary committees. All agreed, and, incidentally, all political parties agreed, that a public body should be set up to develop this great national resource of the air waves in the interests of the whole Canadian public.

A national radio body was set up for this purpose. It had several main functions—to produce programs in Canada, and to bring in suitable programs from outside Canada; to build and operate facilities to broadcast all these programs; to maintain networks to carry the programs by wire lines all across the country; to watch over all broadcasting in the country.

The radio authority had to meet the large and complicated tasks set by Parliament and the challenges set by Canadian conditions. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation does not operate for profit. It does not belong to any individual or group. It does belong to the radio listeners of Canada. The Board of Governors acts as trustee for them. The Governors are members of the public drawn from all across Canada. On the listeners' behalf the Board guides the work of the Corporation and exercises certain checks and supervision over all broadcasting in Canada. It acts as its members sincerely feel is best in the interests of Canadian listeners. In matters that arise in connection with broadcast operations, whether they be public or private, the Board simply tries to carry out its trust.

The Corporation is a public body. But by its constitution it is not part of the Government. It must, of course, answer to the public through Parliament—but on its own, not through the Government. Every year or so a Parliamentary committee, including representatives of all parties, conducts a thorough study of the affairs of the Corporation.

All the revenues of the Corporation go into providing radio service to its owners, the listeners of Canada. The greater part of its revenues come from listeners in the form of radio license fees. By law these go to the Corporation to provide service. The remainder of the revenues, just under one-third, come from commercial operations.

In 1945 the CBC carried 55,000 network programs. Of these 9,500 were commercial, sponsored by advertisers; 45,000 were non-commercial, without advertising. Of these non-commercials 3,000 came from the United States, 3,000 from Britain; 39,000 were our own, produced in Canada.

Advertising programs are usually designed, quite naturally, for very wide popularity, to draw the greatest number of listeners to loudspeakers. In trying to keep a balance in the whole picture, therefore, the CBC has to take into account the fact that on its networks there are a number of top commercial shows providing popular entertainment. To present a planned pattern it concentrates relatively more of its effort on programs having perhaps a more lasting value, although appealing to a smaller number, and probably slightly different group of people.

The CBC is constantly striving to improve the program output and suit it to listeners' needs. But there are, of course, limitations of money and time and facilities that must be reckoned with.

Canada is an extremely expensive country in which to run national radio networks. In Canada we have an unusual condition of great distances and small populations. That means a comparatively small number of stations and thousands of miles of expensive wire lines. Actually the CBC has to pay about a million dollars a year for wire lines alone.

The period before radio will be one of change, of readjustment, of tackling new ideas and developments in the program, technical and public service spheres. The problems and possibilities of new developments, including frequency modulation and television, present a call for co-ordinated planning and action now and in the time to come.

The future of this art is a part of Canada's future and every effort put forth to improve radio will benefit our country. Thus the problems which face Canada and the world—economic stabilization, full employment, reconversion and reconstruction, international security—are radio's problems too, and we must set our hand firmly to solve them if we are to fulfil our responsibilities.

CODE OF ETHICS OF THE C.A.B.

Members of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters subscribe to the following Code of Ethics:

As a member broadcasting station of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, we pledge ourselves to the best of our ability to—

- (1) program each broadcast day to meet the varied interests of all groups of listeners;
- (2) serve the best interests of our community;
- (3) provide suitable religious broadcasts without permitting this station to be used to convey attacks upon any race or religion;
- (4) provide suitable broadcasts for the entertainment and information of children;

- (5) provide programs which educate entertainingly;
- (6) broadcast the news of the day in a factual and unbiased manner;

- (7) provide opportunity for the broadcast of all sides of controversial public issues to the degree of public interest in such issues;

- (8) encourage advertisers and their advertising agencies to present information of goods and services available for the comfort and convenience of listeners to this station and to present such information in a simple, truthful and believable manner;

- (9) deal fairly with advertisers and all others desiring to use the facilities of this station.

"VARIETY" SAYS:

"Small local stations throughout the country never used to be considered much of a buy for national advertisers, but they are now. The long, hard haul for the little guys is finally paying off . . .

"Ten years ago a national advertiser wouldn't consider a 250-watter, being of the opinion, and rightly, that nobody listened to them because people got better programs on the webs. Today, however, the small-timer has come into his own as a sales weapon.

"Reason obviously is that the little guys have made themselves a power in their communities. The big guys can't do it because their setups don't lend themselves to such promotion."

(Taken from "Variety" Feb. 20th)

We're quite proud of the list of stations we represent — some of them "little guys," some of them bigger — but all local stations that are "a power in their communities."

THE CANADIAN ASSOCIATION OF BROADCASTERS

By T. ARTHUR EVANS

Secretary, C. A. B.

THE Association has a voluntary membership of independent owners of broadcasting stations duly licensed by the Dominion Government.

The Association serves three main purposes:

- (1) By the exchange of ideas and plans to improve the standard of broadcasting and the service rendered by the member stations to their listeners—the people of Canada.
- (2) Since each member station is dependent for its operation upon the revenues received from the sale of time to advertisers, an important function of the Association is that of establishing advertising practices and standards which make it easier for advertisers to use the medium and at the same time serve the public by bringing to them the story of products and services available for their use and comfort in the communities served by member stations.
- (3) Since every broadcasting station is licensed by the Dominion Government and subject to the regulations of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Association represents member stations in discussions and meetings with the Government and the Corporation.

All holders of a broadcasting license who have a broadcasting station in operation, with the exception of stations owned by or operated for the Dominion Government, are eligible for membership.

The licensee in applying for membership is entitled to designate the individual who is to represent the station at any or all meetings of the Association and who is authorized to vote for the licensee.

There is an Associate Membership which, by resolution of the membership at the 1943 annual meeting, was made available to companies or individuals affiliated with the industry. Associate members have no vote.

Organization

The pattern of operation of the Association is set at the annual meeting. At each annual meeting the members elect a Board of Directors as the executive committee. There are eleven directors who, in turn, elect a chairman and vice-chairman for the annual term of office.

The directors appoint the president and general manager, the secretary-treasurer and the chief engineer, to form the management for the Association. The management is responsible to the Association through the Board of Directors.

The annual meeting sets forth broad policies which are initiated by the Board of Directors and administered by the president and general manager and headquarters staff.

Engineering

The Association maintains an Engineering Department under the direction of a graduate engineer. This department studies international treaties and their general allocation structure with reference to their effect upon the status of the CAB membership. Confidential assistance on technical problems is given to the members from this department.

Committees

Much of the work of the Association is undertaken by the committees appointed either at the annual meeting, or by the directors. In 1946 the following committees were in operation:

(1) Policy Committee

Appointed from the Board of Directors, it acts in an advisory capacity. It takes action in only such matters as may be referred to it from time to time by the Board of Directors.

(2) Committee of Standard Rate Structure

It consists of radio station representatives who are associate members, and is responsible for the development of standard practices and the format of radio station rate sheets. The brochure of Canadian radio station rates is the work of this committee.

(3) Commercial Radio Research Committee

This committee was established in 1944 and is made up of representatives of:

- Association of Canadian Advertisers,
- Canadian Association of Advertising Agencies,
- Canadian Broadcasting Corporation,
- Canadian Association of Broadcasters,
- Radio Station Representatives.

under the chairmanship of Mr. Robert Jones, Advertising Manager of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company Limited. During the past two years a number of surveys have been made and tested, and interim reports issued from time to time. This committee is of necessity, a continuing one, due to the changes in radio art and radio technique.

(4) Code Committee

Responsible for the interpretation of the Code of Ethics, it continues to study the code, and to make such further recommendations as may be deemed necessary, from time to time.

(5) Public Relations Committee

The Public Relations Committee was established following the 1942 Annual Meeting. It is responsible for originating and co-ordinating recommendations to member stations. It presents plans, policies and programs for the purpose of developing a better understanding on the part of the public as to the place and responsibilities of the member stations in broadcasting in Canada.

Meetings

The Association meets annually and under special circumstances may be called together by the Chairman of the Board, the Vice-Chairman, or at the written request of one-third of the members.

The Board of Directors meets four times a year, at the call of the Chairman of the Board or, in his absence, at the call of the Vice-Chairman.

Committees meet at the call of the Chairman and are required to render a report of their activities at each annual meeting.

This outline of the purpose and operation of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters gives an indication of the services rendered by the Association to its members. Naturally, there is much to be accomplished in the future if broadcasting stations are to be successful, and are to fulfill their proper function in relation to the public in their several communities.

The members of The Canadian Association of Broadcasters are mindful of their obligations to their communities, and to the people of Canada. The Association can and does assist its members in bringing to its listeners programs of the highest calibre in all branches of radio broadcasting.

LEGISLATION AND REGULATIONS OF BROADCASTING IN CANADA

THE CANADIAN BROADCASTING ACT, 1936

An act respecting Broadcasting (Assented to 23rd June, 1936). Consolidated with amendment, Chapter 33 of 1944. (Assented to 15th August, 1944).

HIS MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as The Canadian Broadcasting Act, 1936.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,

(a) "broadcasting" means the dissemination of any form of radioelectric communication, including radiotelegraph, radiotelephone, the wireless transmission of writing, signs, signals, pictures and sounds of all kinds by means of Hertzian waves, intended to be received by the public either directly or through the medium of relay stations;

(b) "channel" means a wavelength or frequency authorized to be used for broadcasting;

(a) "Corporation" means the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation;

(d) "Minister" means the Minister of Transport;

(e) "private station" means any broadcasting station licensed to a person other than the Corporation;

(f) "Corporation station" means any broadcasting station owned or operated by the Corporation;

(g) "station" means any station licensed under the Radiotelegraph Act as a broadcasting station.

3. (1) There shall be a Corporation to be known as the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation which shall consist of a board of nine governors appointed by the Governor in Council and chosen to give representation to the principal geographical divisions of Canada.

(2) The Governor in Council shall designate one of the Governors to be the Chairman and one to be the Vice-Chairman of the Corporation.

(3) The Governors shall hold office for three years, provided that of those first appointed one-third shall be appointed to retire in one year, one-third in two years and one-third in three years.

(4) Retiring Governors shall be eligible for re-appointment.

(5) Each Governor shall hold office during good behaviour for the period of his appointment, but may be removed for cause at any time by the Governor in Council.

(6) In the event of a casual vacancy occurring on the board, the Governor in Council shall appoint a person to fill such vacancy for the balance of the term of the Governor replaced.

(7) The Chairman shall be paid such annual salary as may be determined by the Governor in Council and shall devote the whole of his time to the performance of his duties under this Act, and shall not hold any other office or accept any other employment. If an executive committee is established by by-law, each of the other Governors on such executive committee shall receive an honorarium of one thousand dollars per annum; other Governors of the Corporation shall each receive fifty dollars for each meeting they attend, but shall not receive more than five hundred dollars in any one year. (1944, c. 33, s. 1.)

(8) All Governors shall be entitled to receive and be paid their actual disbursements for expenses necessarily incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under this Act.

(9) Four Governors shall constitute a quorum.

(10) Each Governor shall, before acting as such, take and subscribe before the Clerk of the Privy Council and shall file in the office of the said Clerk, an oath of office in the following form:

"I Do Solemnly Swear that I will faithfully, truly and impartially, to the best of my judgment, skill and ability, execute and perform the office of Governor of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and that, while I continue to hold such office, I will not accept or hold any other office or employment, or have any pecuniary interest, direct or indirect, individually or as a shareholder or partner, or otherwise, in broadcasting or, in the manufacture or distribution of radio apparatus. So help me God."

4. The Corporation shall be a body corporate having capacity to contract and to sue and be sued in the name of the Corporation.

5. The head office of the Corporation shall be at Ottawa in the province of Ontario and the Corporation may establish branch offices elsewhere.

6. There shall be a general manager who shall be chief executive of the Corporation and who shall be appointed by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Corporation.

7. There shall be an assistant general manager of the Corporation who shall be appointed by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Corporation.

8. The Corporation shall carry on a national broadcasting service within the Dominion of Canada and for that purpose may:

(a) maintain and operate broadcasting stations;

(b) establish, subject to approval of the Governor in Council, such stations as the Corporation may from time to time consider necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Act;

(c) equip stations with all such plant, machinery and other effects as may be requisite or convenient to permit of the same effectively receiving and transmitting for broadcasting purposes;

(d) make operating agreements with private stations for the broadcasting of programs;

(e) originate programs and secure programs, from within or outside Canada, by purchase or exchange and make arrangements necessary for their transmission;

(f) make contracts with any person or persons, in or outside Canada, in connection with the production or presentation of the programs of the Corporation;

(g) make contracts with any person or persons, in or outside Canada, to perform in connection with the programs of the Corporation;

(h) publish and distribute, whether gratis or otherwise, such papers, periodicals, and other literary matter as may seem conducive to any of the objects of the Corporation;

(i) collect news relating to current events in any part of the world and in any manner that may be thought fit and to establish and subscribe to news agencies;

(j) acquire copyrights in any literary musical or artistic works, plays, songs, gramophone records, news and other matter;

(k) acquire and use any patent, or patent rights, brevets d'invention, licences or concessions which the Corporation may consider useful for the purpose of carrying out its objects;

(l) make arrangements or agreements with any organization for the use of any rights, privileges or concessions which the Corporation may consider useful for the purpose of carrying out its objects;

(m) establish and support a pension fund for the benefit of employees or ex-employees of the Corporation, or the dependents of such persons;

(n) acquire private stations either by lease or subject to the approval of the Governor in Council, by purchase;

(o) subject to the provisions of sections ten and eleven hereof, purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire, any real or personal property which the Corporation may deem necessary or convenient for the purposes of its business;

(p) subject to the provisions of sections ten and eleven hereof, sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of, all or any part of the property of the Corporation;

(q) do all such other things as the Corporation may deem incidental or conducive to the attainment of any of the objects or the exercise of any of the powers of the Corporation.

9. The Corporation shall not seek any concession, right or privilege from, or enter into any negotiations or arrangement with any British or foreign government with regard thereto, without having first obtained the consent in writing of the Minister.

10. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Corporation shall not, unless the approval of the Governor in Council has first been obtained:

(a) enter into any agreement involving any expenditure in excess of ten thousand dollars;

(b) enter into an agreement or lease for a period exceeding three years;

(c) acquire any personal property, the cost of acquisition of which exceeds the sum of ten thousand dollars, or in any manner dispose of any personal property having an original or book value exceeding the sum of ten thousand dollars.

11. (1) No real property or private station shall be purchased, acquired, sold, exchanged or mortgaged by the Corporation except with the previous consent of the Governor in Council, and if the Corporation is unable to agree with the owner of any real property or private station which it is so authorized to purchase, as to the price to be paid therefor, the Corporation shall have the right to acquire the same without the consent of the owner and the provisions of the Expropriation Act, chapter sixty-four of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, shall mutatis mutandis, be applicable to the acquisition of such property by the Corporation.

(2) Any plan and description deposited under the provisions of the Expropriation Act may be signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the Corporation or by one of the Governors and the property shown and described in such plan and description so deposited shall thereupon be and become vested in the Corporation for the purposes of the Corporation unless the plan and description indicates that the property taken is required for a limited time only, or that a limited estate or interest therein, is taken; and by the deposit in such latter case, the right of possession for such limited time or such limited estate or interest shall be and become vested in the Corporation.

(3) The compensation payable in respect of the taking of any such real property or private station or of any interest therein, or of lands injuriously affected by the construction of any undertaking or works shall be ascertained in accordance with the provisions of the Expropriation Act, and for that purpose the Attorney-General of Canada may file an information in the Exchequer Court on behalf of the Corporation to all intents and purposes as if such property had been expropriated by His Majesty under the provisions of the said Act. The amount of any judgment upon such proceedings shall be payable out of the funds of the Corporation.

(4) If the Minister decides that the cancellation or refusal to renew any licence in the interest of broadcasting generally in Canada is desirable, and if such cancellation or refusal is not on account of any failure to comply with this Act or any regulation hereunder or the Radiotelegraph

Act or regulation thereunder, compensation may be paid to the extent of an amount not exceeding the depreciated value of the licensed radio equipment requisite for the efficient operation of the station together with a reasonable allowance to cover the cost of restoring the premises to a tenable condition for ordinary purposes

(5) In determining the compensation to be paid, no allowance shall be made for the value of a licence terminated by the taking over by the Corporation or the Minister of any private station, and no person shall be deemed to have any proprietary right in any channel heretofore or hereafter assigned, and no person shall be entitled to any compensation by reason of the cancellation of the assignment of a channel or by reason of the assignment of a new channel in substitution therefor.

12. (a) The Corporation may make such by-laws as may be necessary,

(i) to enable it to carry into effect the obligations imposed upon it by this Act;

(ii) to provide for an executive committee of the Board of Governors to exercise such powers as the by-laws may specify;

(iii) to provide for the appointment of advisory councils to advise it as to programs;

(iv) to provide for the employment, dismissal, control and remuneration of such officers, clerks, and employees, technical or otherwise, as may be necessary for the transaction of the business of the Corporation.

(b) No such by-laws shall come into force or effect until approved by the Governor in Council, and no alteration, modification or repeal of any such by-law shall have any force or effect until so approved.

13. (1) Notwithstanding anything in the Civil Service Act, chapter twenty-two of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, the Civil Service Superannuation Act, chapter twenty-four of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, or any other Act of the Parliament of Canada, a civil servant who, at the time of his appointment to the staff of the Corporation under authority in that behalf conferred by any Act of the Parliament of Canada, is a contributor under the provisions of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, shall continue to be a contributor under the said Act; his service on the staff of the Corporation, in virtue of an appointment as aforesaid, shall be counted as service in the civil service for the purposes of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, and he, his widow and children or other dependents, if any, shall be eligible to receive the respective allowances or gratuities provided by the said Act; and in the event of his being retired from his office or position on the staff of the Corporation for any reason other than that of misconduct he shall be eligible, in accordance with the regulations made under the Civil Service Act, for assignment to a position in the civil service of the class from which he was so retired or to any other position for which he may have qualified or, in the alternative, to receive the same benefits under the Civil Service Superannuation Act as he would have been eligible to receive if he had been retired under like circumstances from the position in the civil service which he held immediately prior to his appointment to the staff of the Corporation.

(2) Any employee of the Corporation, who at the time of his appointment or employment under or pursuant to the provisions of this Act, holds a position in the "civil service" or is an "employee" within the meaning of the Civil Service Act, shall continue or retain and be eligible to receive all the benefits, except salary as a civil servant, that he would have been eligible to receive had he remained under that Act.

14. (1) The Minister of Finance shall deposit from time to time in the Bank of Canada or in a chartered bank to be designated by him to the credit of the Corporation:

(a) the moneys received from licence fees in respect of private receiving licences and private station broadcasting licences, after deducting from the gross receipts the cost of collection and administration, such costs being determined by the Minister from time to time;

(b) any appropriation granted by Parliament for the purposes of the Corporation; and

(c) any advances or grants to the Corporation which are authorized to be made from Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(2) The Corporation shall retain for the purposes of this Act all moneys received by it arising out of its business.

15. The Corporation may administer all funds which may be placed to its credit in the Bank of Canada or in a chartered bank in accordance with the provisions of section fourteen hereof, and may administer all other sums and revenues which may be obtained by or given to the Corporation or derived from any other source, exclusively in furtherance of the purpose for which the Corporation is constituted.

16. The Governor in Council, on the recommendation of the Minister, may authorize the Minister of Finance to place to the credit of the Corporation working capital advances from any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund, but the aggregate amount of such advances outstanding at any one time shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, and such advances shall be repayable to the Minister of Finance on demand.

17. (1) The Governor in Council may authorize the construction, extension or improvement of capital works of the broadcasting facilities of the Corporation in Canada and, on the recommendation of the Minister, may authorize the Minister of Finance to place to the credit of the Corporation from any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund such sum or sums as may be necessary to carry out such construction, extension or improvement of capital works: provided that the total amount which may be so authorized for the said purposes shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars.

(2) Such moneys so advanced shall bear such rate of interest and shall be amortized on such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Governor in Council.

(3) The interest and amortization charges on the moneys so advanced shall be a first charge on the revenues of the Corporation.

18. For the fiscal year 1936-37 the Minister of Finance shall deposit to the credit of the Corporation the net amount collected in licence fees during such year in accordance with paragraph (a) of subsection one of section fourteen hereof, less an amount equal to the amount or amounts paid out of Appropriation No. 226, 1936-37, for the purposes of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission.

19. The Corporation shall establish and maintain an accounting system satisfactory to the Minister and shall, whenever required by him, render detailed accounts of its receipts and expenditures for such period or to such day as he designates, and all books of account, records, bank books and papers of the Corporation shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Minister or of such person as he may designate.

20. The accounts of the Corporation shall be audited by the Auditor General of Canada and a statement of such accounts shall be included in the annual report of the Corporation.

21. No private station shall operate in Canada as a part of a chain or network of stations except with the permission of, and in accordance with the regulations made by, the Corporation.

22. (1) The Corporation may make regulations:

(a) to control the establishment and operation of chains or networks of stations in Canada;

(b) to prescribe the periods to be reserved periodically by any private station for the broadcasting of programs of the Corporation;

(c) to control the character of any and all programs broadcast by Corporation or private stations;

(d) to determine the proportion of time which may be devoted to advertising in any programs broadcast by the stations of the Corporation or by private stations, and to control the character of such advertising;

(e) to prescribe the proportion of time which may be devoted to political broadcasts by the stations of the Corporation and by private stations, and to assign such time on an equitable basis to all parties and rival candidates.

(2) If the Corporation is unable to agree with the licensee of a private station as to the amount of compensation, if any, to be paid by the Corporation for the use of such station for the broadcasting of programs of the Corporation, the Minister may fix an amount which, in his opinion, is fair and reasonable and such amount shall be paid by the Corporation to the licensee in full settlement of his claim to compensation.

(3) Dramatized political broadcasts are prohibited.

(4) The names of the sponsor or sponsors and the political party, if any, upon whose behalf any political speech or address is broadcast shall be announced immediately preceding and immediately after such broadcast.

(5) Political broadcasts on any dominion, provincial or municipal election day and on the two days immediately preceding any such election day are prohibited.

(6) In case of any violation or non-observance by a private station of the regulations made by the Corporation under this section, the Corporation may order that the licence of such private station be suspended for a period not exceeding three months and any such order shall be forwarded to the Minister who shall forthwith communicate the same to the licensee of the station and shall take such steps as may be necessary to carry out the terms of such order.

(7) The Corporation shall take such action as may be necessary to ensure that stations affected by its regulations shall have reasonable notice thereof.

23. (1) The Governor in Council may make regulations prohibiting or regulating the use of any machinery, apparatus or equipment causing or liable to cause interference with radio reception and to prescribe penalties recoverable on summary conviction for the violation or non-observance of any such regulation, provided, however, that such penalties shall not exceed fifty dollars per day for each day during which such violation or non-observance continues.

(2) Such regulations shall be published in the Canada Gazette, and shall take effect from the date of such publication or from the date specified for such purpose in such regulations, and shall have the same force and effect as if enacted herein.

24. (1) The Minister shall, before dealing with any application for licence to establish a new private station or for increase in power, change of channel, or change of location of any existing private station, or making any regulations or changes in regulations governing the activities of private stations, refer such application or regulation to the Corporation, and the Corporation shall make such recommendations to the Minister as it may deem fit. The approval of the Governor in Council shall be obtained before any licence for any new private station is issued.

(2) The Corporation shall, each year, prior to the renewal or issue of the licences for private stations by the Minister, review the activities of such private stations, and shall make such recommendations to the Minister in regard to their working, broadcasting or any other matter concerning such stations as it may deem desirable.

25. The Corporation shall, from the date of the coming into force of this Act, take possession of all property and assets and assume all the obligations and liabilities of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission.

26. The Corporation shall through the Minister submit an annual report to Parliament in such form as the Minister may prescribe.

27. The Canadian Radio Broadcasting Act, 1932, chapter fifty-one of the statutes of 1932 is repealed.

28. This Act in whole or in part shall come into force on a date or dates to be fixed by proclamation of the Governor in Council.

The following regulations, as revised and numbered 1 to 22, were made under authority of subsection one of section twenty-two of The Canadian Broadcasting Act, Chapter twenty-four of the Statutes of 1936, which reads as follows:

The Corporation may make regulations

(a) to control the establishment and operation of chains or networks of stations in Canada;

(b) to prescribe the periods to be reserved periodically by any private station for the broadcasting of programs of the Corporation;

(c) to control the character of any and all programs broadcast by Corporation or private stations;

(d) to determine the proportion of time which may be devoted to advertising in any programs broadcast by the stations of the Corporation or by private stations and to control the character of such advertising;

(e) to prescribe the proportion of time which may be devoted to political broadcasts by the stations of the Corporation and by private stations, and to assign such time on an equitable basis to all parties and rival candidates.

1. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,

(a) The "Act" means The Canadian Broadcasting Act, chapter twenty-four of the Statutes of 1936;

(b) "Corporation" means the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation;

(c) "licence" means a licence issued to a broadcasting station under the Radiotelegraph Act; and "licensee" means the holder of such licence;

(d) "private station" means any broadcasting station licensed to a person other than the Corporation;

(e) "regulations" means these regulations;

(f) "representatives of the Corporation" means the General Manager of the Corporation, the Assistant General Manager of the Corporation or persons authorized in writing by the General Manager of the Corporation;

(g) "station" refers to stations owned or operated by the Corporation as well as by others and it may also refer to the owner or licensee of a station.

2. These regulations apply to all stations in Canada and to all matter broadcast by such stations.

3. (1) Each station shall maintain a program log in a form acceptable to the Corporation and shall cause entries to be made therein as follows:—

(a) date, call letters, location, frequency;

(b) the time at which each station identification announcement is made;

(c) the title and brief description of each program broadcast, with the time of the beginning and ending so as to give a continuous record of each day's broadcast. If a mechanical reproduction is used, that fact shall be noted, together with a statement whether or not announcement thereof was made. In the case of a talk or speech, the name of the speaker and the auspices under which the talk or speech was given shall be entered. If the speech is made by a political candidate or on behalf of a political candidate or political party, the political affiliation of the candidate or party shall also be entered;

(d) the duration of each spot or other similar announcement and the broadcast hour during which it was transmitted;

(e) the name of the sponsor of any program or announcement for which the station is paid.

(2) Key letters or abbreviations may be used if the explanation of each is plainly given in the log. The logs shall be produced for the inspection of the representatives of the Corporation upon the request of such representatives.

(3) Each station shall keep on file a copy of

(a) the continuity used for any program;

(b) all programs or other announcements containing advertising matter;

(c) the manuscript of addresses or talks.

(4) In the case of chain broadcasts these records shall be kept by the originating station.

(5) Such records shall be retained by the station for a period of one year and shall be open for inspection by representatives of the Corporation upon request of such representatives.

4. The time mentioned in all program logs and contracts used in connection with broadcasting shall be local standard time (or local daylight saving time if that is in force) unless otherwise specified or agreed.

5. Each station shall, each week, file with the Corporation in a form acceptable to the Corporation

(a) an advance copy of its program schedule for the following week, showing the exact hours and how they are to be occupied each day;

(b) a true and complete copy of its program logs not later than seven days following the operations the said logs record.

6. Each station shall announce its call letters not less than once nor more than four times an hour, during hours of operation.

7. No one shall broadcast

- (a) anything contrary to law;
- (b) the actual proceeding at any trial in a Canadian Court;
- (c) abusive comment on any race, religion or creed;
- (d) obscene, indecent or profane language;
- (e) malicious, scandalous, or defamatory matter;
- (f) advertising matter containing false or deceptive statements;
- (g) false or misleading news;
- (h) upon the subject of birth control;
- (i) upon the subject of venereal disease, or other subjects relating to public health which the Corporation may from time to time designate, unless such subjects be presented in a manner and at a time approved by the General Manager as appropriate to the medium of broadcasting;
- (j) (i) programs presenting a person who claims supernatural or psychic powers, or a fortune-teller, character analyst, crystal-gazer or the like, or programs which lead or may lead the listening public to believe that the person presented claims to possess or possesses supernatural or psychic powers or is or claims to be a fortune-teller, character analyst, crystal-gazer or the like;
- (ii) programs in which a person answers or solves or purports to answer or solve questions or problems submitted by listeners or members of the public unless such programs prior to being broadcast shall have been approved in writing by a representative of the Corporation;
- (k) advertising content in the body of a news broadcast.

(l) any appeal for donations or subscriptions in money or in kind without having first obtained the consent in writing of the General Manager except an appeal on behalf of a war charity fund registered under the War Charities Act, 1939, or a joint appeal on behalf of two or more charities made with the approval of the municipality or other local authority in which the appeal is made.

(m) any program or speech by means of mechanical reproductions or in any other manner, so as to achieve indirectly or by an evasion that which a regulation or ruling of the Corporation prohibits, and the General Manager of the Corporation shall be the sole judge of what constitutes an evasion under this regulation and his ruling shall be final and binding with respect to any such matter.

8. (1) Political broadcasts are governed by subsections (3), (4) and (5) of section 22 of The Canadian Broadcasting Act, 1936, which read as follows:—

(3) Dramatized political broadcasts are prohibited.

(4) The names of the sponsor or sponsors and the political party, if any, upon whose behalf any political speech or address is broadcast shall be announced immediately preceding and immediately after such broadcasts.

(5) Political broadcasts on any dominion, provincial or municipal election day and on the two days immediately preceding any such election day are prohibited.

(2) Each station shall allocate time for political broadcasts as fairly as possible between the different parties or candidates desiring to purchase or obtain time for such broadcasts.

9. (1) The advertising content of any program shall not exceed in time ten per cent of any program period.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) any station shall upon instructions in writing from the Corporation reduce the total daily advertising content of its programs if the said total daily advertising content in the opinion of the Corporation occupies an undue proportion of the daily broadcast time.

(3) Upon notice in writing from the Corporation any station shall change the quality or nature of its advertising broadcasts.

*Note to Section 7.—It is not the intention of the Corporation to restrict freedom of speech nor the fair presentation of controversial material. On the contrary, the policy of the Corporation is to encourage the fair presentation of controversial questions. At the same time, it should be realized that the message of broadcasting is received at the fireside in the relatively unguarded atmosphere of the home, reaching old and young alike. Certain subjects, while meriting discussion elsewhere in the public interest, are not necessarily suitable for this intimate medium.

10. In any program no one shall advertise

- (a) any act or thing prohibited by law;
- (b) the prices of goods or services, except
 - (i) the prices of publications auxiliary to the information services of the Corporation;
 - (ii) where the terms of a "premium-merchandising offer" include the payment of a sum of money either as a nominal charge or as a price for the premium, the amount of the charge or price may be stated provided:

A. that the amount of the charge or price does not exceed the unit cost of the premium, including costs of handling and distribution, to the program sponsor;

B. that full details of the cost are disclosed to the Corporation;

C. that the premium offered is not of the class or kind of product the sale of which comprises the principal business of the program sponsor;

D. that the premium offered is a product not normally available through competitive trade channels;

E. that the amount of the charge or price does not exceed $1.00;

F. that the broadcast of any such offer is authorized in writing in advance by a representative of the Corporation.

(c) any insurance corporation not registered to do business in Canada;

(d) bonds, shares, or other securities or mining or oil properties or royalties or other interests in mining or oil properties other than the securities of the Dominion or Provincial governments or municipalities or other public authorities, provided nothing herein shall prevent anyone from sponsoring a program giving quotations of market prices without comment;

(e) spirituous liquors;

(f) wine and beer except that programs sponsored by breweries or wine companies will be temporarily allowed in the Province of Quebec subject to the following conditions:

(i) The only announcements of sponsorship allowed shall be two in number—one at the beginning of each program and one at the end.

(ii) The form of such announcements shall be:

"This program is presented with the compliments of the ABC Brewery."

"This program has been presented with the compliments of the ABC Brewery," or some suitable and necessary variation of these forms.

(iii) No other announcement shall be made or devices used in any such program to advertise the product of the sponsor.

(iv) All continuities and programs shall be approved by the General Manager before they are broadcast.

11. (1) "Spot" announcements shall not exceed two minutes for each broadcasting hour, subject always to the provisions of subsection (2) of this regulation.

(2) No "spot" announcement shall be broadcast on week-days between 7.30 p.m. and 11 p.m. nor on Sundays at any time, provided that where exceptional conditions prevail owing to the geographic situation stations may be given permission by the Corporation to broadcast "spot" announcements on week-days during the hours prohibited in this section.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) of this regulation shall not apply to:

(a) Time signals or weather reports provided that no advertising other than the name of the sponsor is mentioned;

(b) Non-sponsored spot announcements made by stations for the sole purpose of testing coverage, the details of which have been authorized in writing by a representative of the Corporation and, notwithstanding Regulation 10 (b), stations may, with the permission of the Corporation, mention a sum not exceeding twenty-five (25 cents) when such procedure is necessary effectively to execute the intent of this subsection.

12. (1) No continuity advertising an article marketed under the Proprietary or Patent Medicine Act or the Food and Drugs Act may be broadcast until it has been approved by the Department of Pensions and National Health. Continuities submitted for approval shall be forwarded, in duplicate, to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation at least two weeks in advance of intended use.

(2) The formula for any article bearing a distinctive or trade name distinguishing it from any other product, and marketed under the Food and Drugs Act, shall be submitted with each pertinent continuity.

(3) No electrical transcription advertising an article marketed under the Proprietary or Patent Medicine Act or the Food and Drugs Act shall be broadcast by any station unless certified by an affidavit that the advertising continuity has been approved by the Department of Pensions and National Health.

(4) No announcer may broadcast any statement concerning any article marketed under the Food and Drugs Act or the Proprietary or Patent Medicine Act that is not contained in the continuity approved by the Department of Pensions and National Health.

(5) Testimonials referring to an article marketed under the Food and Drugs Act or the Proprietary or Patent Medicine Act shall be regarded as constituting a part of the advertising continuity.

(6) No continuity recommending any treatment for any ailment shall be broadcast until it has been approved by the Department of Pensions and National Health.

(7) Inspectors of Food and Drugs, Department of Pensions and National Health, are authorized to act as representatives of the Corporation for the purpose of enforcing this regulation.

13. (1) Stations shall not transmit in the form of newscasts, news commentaries or in any manner any news or information of any kind published in any newspaper or obtained, collected, collated or co-ordinated by any newspaper or association of newspapers or any news agency or service except the following:—

(a) Such news bulletins, free from sponsorship, as are released by the Corporation for the express use of broadcasting stations, broadcasts of which shall be subject to such conditions as the Corporation may prescribe;

(b) Local and sports news under written arrangements to be made by each station individually with its local newspaper or newspapers or collected through its own employees. Copies of all such written arrangements shall be filed with the Corporation immediately upon completion thereof;

(c) News from sources other than those provided for in clauses (a) and (b) hereof with the prior permission in writing from the Corporation and subject to such conditions as the Corporation may specify.

(2) The only announcements of sponsorship allowed for news from the sources as defined in clause (c) hereof shall be two in number, one at the beginning and one at the end of newscasts of ten minutes or more and shall be as follows:—

Opening announcement: "The (name of sponsor) now brings you the (name of news source, if desired) news. (Advertising matter relating to sponsor's product, if desired). And now here is the (name of news source, if desired) news."

Closing announcement: "The (name of sponsor) has just brought you the (name of news source, if desired) news."

(3) The Corporation news bulletins as defined in subsection (1) clause (a) hereof shall be broadcast in the manner and by such stations as the Corporation may designate.

14. Representatives of the Corporation may require the production of material to be broadcast before any broadcast is arranged to take place.

15. Time reserved for the broadcasting of Corporation programs shall be used only for such programs unless approval to the contrary has been received in writing from the Corporation in each specific case.

16. Stations shall upon request of the Corporation give right of way to such Corporation or other programs as the Corporation shall designate. In such event neither the station nor the Corporation shall incur any liability for compensation or damages.

17. No station shall "pick up" and rebroadcast any program unless permission in writing has first been obtained from the Corporation.

18. (1) No station shall use a mechanical reproduction (except when its use is merely incidental as for an identification or background) between the hours of 7.30 and 11 p.m. except with the previous consent of the Corporation in writing. (This subsection was revised and became effective April 18, 1942.)

(2) A mechanical reproduction shall be announced as such immediately before and after the program concerned, except when its use is merely incidental as for an identification or background or as a transcribed commercial "spot" announcement with no musical theme or content. The exact form of announcement is not prescribed, but the language shall be clear and in terms commonly used and understood. The following are examples of statements sufficient for the purpose:—

(a) "This is a recorded program."

(b) "This is a program of electrical transcription."

(3) No program of mechanical reproductions shall contain any reference to the name of any person, firm or corporation connected with the manufacture, sale, hire or ownership of the said mechanical reproductions used in the said program.

19. Unless permission in writing is first obtained from the Corporation

(a) no station shall continue to be a part or shall form a part of a chain or network originating outside of Canada;

(b) no chain or network of two or more stations shall continue to be operated within Canada or shall be set up or operated within Canada;

(c) no station shall continue to be or become an outlet for any station, chain or network existing or originating outside of Canada;

(d) no station shall continue to be or become an associate station of or with any station, chain or network existing or originating outside of Canada.

20. Every station shall file with the Corporation a copy of the forms of contract used by it and a statement of its charges. Every such contract shall expressly make the enjoyment of the privilege to broadcast conditional upon the observance of these regulations. The licensee of each station shall see that a copy of these regulations is available at the station and that the station employees and persons broadcasting are familiar with them.

21. The Corporation may send a written or telegraph notice to the licensee of any station informing him of any alleged violation of these regulations and he shall have a delay of six days within which to answer in writing, giving in full his reply to the notice. The Corporation may make such investigation of the facts as it shall consider appropriate and for this purpose its representatives may examine the records and question the employees of any station.

22. These regulations shall have full force and effect as of the 1st day of April, 1941; and on and after that date all regulations inconsistent therewith shall be deemed to have been repealed.

23. Note.—The penalty for violation of these regulations is provided for under Section 22 (6) of the Act which reads:

(6) In case of any violation or non-observance by a private station of the regulations made by the Corporation under this section, the Corporation may order that the licence of such private station be suspended for a period not exceeding three months and any such order shall be forwarded to the Minister who shall forthwith communicate the same to the licensee of the station and shall take such steps as may be necessary to carry out the terms of such order.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Broadcast Equipment

General Electric leadership in the manufacture of Broadcast Equipment is advanced by the introduction of the new F.M. Broadcast Transmitter and the Two-Studio Consolette.

Made in Canada the G-E Transmitter will use the new Phasitron tube which provides complete crystal control of frequency with less distortion, and fewer tubes.

With the Two-Studio Consolette, completely flexible program control is assured. The equipment handles up to eight microphones, eight remote program lines, and two transcription turntables. These can be connected in many alternative combinations to four pre-amplifiers and two program amplifiers.

For further information, write the Electronic Division, Supply Department, Canadian General Electric Co., Toronto.

G-E 250 WATT F. M. BROADCAST TRANSMITTER provides close frequency control with fewer tubes.

46-R-1

G-E TWO-STUDIO CONSOLETTA gives exceptional flexibility and a new freedom from operating errors.

EXCLUSIVE
Canadian Representative
PRESTO
EQUIPMENT

The unquestioned quality supremacy of Presto equipment is responsible for its use by Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the major American networks and all the bigger independent stations and recording studios throughout the continent. In Canada, we are the sole representatives of this famous equipment.

The Beaver Award

Instituted in February, 1945, by the radio trade paper Canadian Broadcaster, and presented for "distinguished service to Canadian radio," the Beaver Awards are given each year to the artists, announcers, engineers, sponsors, advertising agencies and others who, in the Broadcaster's opinion, have rendered service to the industry "beyond the performing fee or salary." For the two years of their existence the presentations have been made by Richard G. Lewis, publisher of the Broadcaster, at a dinner of the Radio Executives Club of Toronto. The presentation ceremonies in both years have been broadcast over the CBC network on Borden's "Canadian Cavalcade." Object of the awards is "to focus attention on Canadian Radio talent, to encourage such talent to stay in Canada, and to bring the various sections of the industry together." Each year seventeen awards have been given.

THE SHIFTING POPULATION

By DAVID CRAWLEY

The movements of the Canadian people which were so definite and obvious during the war have not ceased, nor are they expected to do so in the first few postwar years. While the volume of migration was considerable, and therefore important, its greatest significance lies in the trends which it so emphatically outlined. Contrary to popular belief, they were not new trends, but were exaggerations of what had been happening ever since the first Great War, and what will continue to happen until some major, and at present unforeseen, sociological phenomenon interferes.

The move by large numbers of persons from the farm and rural areas to the cities assumed large proportions in the thirties. During this period metropolitan districts gained about 135,000 people, while the rural areas lost over 280,000. This flow has continued. Since 1941 farm and rural areas have lost almost 300,000 inhabitants and the metropolitan areas have jumped 345,000.

Four-fifths of this migration has been from the Prairies, one-half of that number from Saskatchewan alone. Two Provinces, Ontario and British Columbia, have gained most specifically, Ontario 58,000 and B.C. 90,000. The far-reaching influence of this last figure can be easily recognized when it is compared with the population of Victoria, the Province's second city, which is in the neighborhood of 80,000.

Saskatchewan gave up 85,000 persons, Manitoba 25,000 and Alberta 15,000. In the east, Quebec yielded 11,000 and New Brunswick 18,000. In Manitoba natural increase covered the loss, but the other two Prairie Provinces came nowhere near matching the out-migration. Quebec, with a birth total of 171,000 during the war, and New Brunswick with 21,000, held, or more than held, their own.

Predominating these movements was the shift of population from rural to urban areas. The eight cities of Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Vancouver, and Ottawa together bulged to an aggregate extent of 237,000 citizens, Winnipeg, it will be noted, being the only Western city except Vancouver to gain.

Farms alone, rural non-farm districts excluded, saw 285,000 head for town. And while this was happening, the natural increase on the farm, the highest in the nation, was only 160,000. For the first time a net loss has been recorded. The long existing move away from the so-called simple life has heretofore been masked by a high birth rate. Only in British Columbia was the attraction of the farm strong enough to break this nationwide trend; in that Province in-migration, coupled with natural increase, boosted farm population figures by 25,000.

Another factor in these moves is the change from agricultural pursuits to wage and salary jobs. During the war the latter class grew from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000—munitions workers not included. Ontario, with 33 percent of the population, pays 40 percent of the wages, yet Quebec, with 29 percent of our people, pays little more than its per capita share, with a 30 percent slice of the national wage bill. British Columbia is the only other Province where the wages paid exceed the population percentage. There seven percent of the Dominion's people pay nine percent of the wages.

Statistics in regard to war industries are scant, and unreliable; and the industries themselves are impermanent. However, it is known that three-quarters of the war workers were in five cities: Montreal (148,000), Toronto (125,000), Vancouver (50,000), Hamilton (34,000), and Windsor (33,000). It is not known whether all these workers plan to stay in their new localities. It is thought (by the Federal Department of Labor) that most of the men will remain in the urban areas if at all possible. Employment opportunity will be the deciding factor, of course, but few have indicated that they will desert the cities. Of the 175,000 women war workers a large number are expected to return to housekeeping.

Generally, it is predicted (again by Ottawa) that the immediate peacetime years will see a larger number of people working, and looking for work, in the bigger cities. Meanwhile, the steady drift from the country will continue. About 90 percent of the veterans plan to return to their home Province—but many, it is expected, will head for a district more populated than the one they left. Almost all of the ten percent who are thinking of settling in another Province are looking towards British Columbia, Vancouver, Toronto, Calgary, and Edmonton are likely to end up with more veterans than they contributed recruits. The reverse will be found in Montreal and Halifax.

Predictions hold out little hope of a back-to-the-land trend, although most servicemen who left farms intend to return. But of civilians few migrants, only about 70,000, plan to retrace their steps.

Housing and employment difficulties may show, or even reverse, these currents; but 1946 finds nothing to indicate such an eventuality. Increasing mechanization of the farm means that employment opportunity is less likely to develop in rural areas, while postwar reconversion holds out hope and security for the city dweller. Wartime travel has educated thousands in the attractions offered by various parts of the nation: the areas which offer the most will find themselves inundated with new residents. Canada's new role, as an industrial nation, is becoming increasingly obvious, if only from the way the population trend would indicate.

RADIO — THE TECHNICAL SIDE

By H. S. DAWSON,

Chief Engineer, Canadian Association of Broadcasters

Since the end of the war there has been a great deal of activity on the technical side of Radio Broadcasting. Television and Frequency Modulation have moved ahead, and the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has agreed to relax its previous power limitations on private broadcasting stations, although this occurred at a time when very few operators could immediately take advantage of the change.

Very little equipment has become available due to the time necessary for reconversion, made longer in most cases by strikes and difficulties associated with the price controls. Delivery of equipment to many of the fifty-two private stations increasing power did not begin until the spring of 1946. Thirty-five of the stations are raising power to five kilowatts, eleven to one kilowatt and six to 250 watts. In each case these powers are considerably greater than were provided by their previous equipments. Many of the stations not included in those raising power have been purchasing new equipment to replace their pre-war transmitters.

There are twenty new broadcasting stations going into operation this year, one with five kilowatt power, eight with one kilowatt and eleven at 250 watts. This is the greatest increase in licenses ever to have occurred in a single year in Canadian broadcasting.

Almost all the stations increasing power and most of the new stations of one kilowatt or more being established, have to utilize directional aerials in order to provide the protection called for by the terms of the Havana Treaty, to other stations on the same or nearby channels.

The Canadian Association of Broadcasters has a membership of seventy-six private stations, out of the 104 stations licensed in Canada. During 1945 the Association established an Engineering Department to provide it with technical information on general problems and also provide the member stations with engineering assistance on their individual problems.

Many people in the Broadcasting industry have expressed surprise at the large number of new stations being added in the broadcasting band, particularly in view of the general understanding that the channels which could be used in Canada were very overcrowded and that in many sections of the country, virtually no new stations could be fitted in. They find it confusing to reconcile themselves to the fact that these new assignments are now possible where they had previously understood that no channel was available for a given locality. The answer is that the standards of interference and range (especially at night) are gradually being lowered. When an engineer says that there is no channel available for a certain city, he really means that there is no channel based on certain standards of interference, but it is literally true that if a very restricted night time range and a very expensive directional aerial are accepted as conditions, additional stations can be erected in almost any locality.

The trend is therefore towards smaller night time coverage and more expensive equipment for the obvious reason that each engineer selects the most desirable remaining location, which is naturally narrowed considerably by previous assignments in the same general section of the country.

Up until the end of the war there were only one or two stations in this country with aerials producing a directional beam. The design of these antennas has required an immense amount of calculation and work by highly trained professional men and this has encouraged the setting-up of consulting service by a number of well-known radio engineers. While Canada had only two consulting radio engineers before the war, there are now no fewer than six offering their services to radio stations.

The manufacturing companies, which previously carried most of the burden of preparing briefs for stations, now have much of this work taken from their shoulders. These companies feel that their engineers could be more usefully employed on the design of equipment.

In addition to the establishment of these consulting engineering practices, two new companies also have entered the manufacturing field in Canada. These are the Canadian General Electric Company and The Federal Telephone and Radio Company, both of whom are well known in the United States.

Frequency Modulation will definitely become a factor in the broadcasting picture within the next few years. The situation here, as elsewhere, is somewhat uncertain, due to the unknown factor of how quickly people will purchase F.M. receivers. It is definitely going to be necessary for broadcasters to put stations into operation before the public can be expected to invest very heavily in receiving sets.

The CBC already has announced plans for publicly owned frequency modulation stations in the major cities and has also indicated that licenses for private stations will be issued in the very near future. A group of radio experts from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the Department of Transport visited Washington recently to work out preliminary details for an arrangement with United States to take care of the border conditions where interference makes agreement necessary. This interference extends only some 200 to 300 miles from the border, which makes the allocation problem very much more simple than A.M. where very long distances must be considered.

It is expected that most present A.M. broadcasters will take out licenses for this new service and that the licensing body will encourage them to do so, by considering the applications ahead of those who are not at present in the broadcasting business.

There is considerable controversy about the best way to build-up a listening audience for frequency modulation. Some feel that manufacturers should be encouraged to construct only very high quality receivers, capable of making the most of the wide band response of the frequency modulation system, while others feel that this will restrict the use of frequency modulation with its great allocation advantages to comparatively few listeners who have the price for this type of equipment.

Television is exciting a great deal of interest and activity in the United States at the present time and there are a number of groups in Canada which would welcome the opportunity to pioneer in this type of broadcasting. So far no licenses have been granted, presumably not until the battle between monochrome and colour has been settled one way or the other.

It is regrettable that Canadian participation has been blocked in the early development of television, since no one can say when the development of any electronic field has reached a settled condition. The history of broadcasting undoubtedly bears this out.

It is to be hoped that this promising field will be opened to those willing to take the initial risk and thus keep Canada technically in the foreground along with the other countries

The Ottawa
 Valley
 Market is over 40%
 FRENCH

An English-speaking salesman couldn't get close enough to the Ottawa-Hull market to be "turned down", let alone "sell". The reason: English isn't the prospects' language. That's why you see National advertisers in Le Droit. They know that the French language holds the key to sales in this rich territory. If you want to reach this productive market, speak French to the French with Le Droit, the Ottawa-Hull Valley's favourite daily for over quarter of a century.

High Fidelity RECORDINGS

In this beautiful studio are produced the recorded transcriptions for over fifty of the larger Canadian radio advertisers as well as all the Advertising Agencies with offices in Montreal.

Fully equipped with a Novachord, Steinway Grand piano, Electric Organ and Leslie Vibratone, this studio is now headquarters for most high class transcribed radio shows in Canada.

Advertisers Recordings Limited also operates a direct wire service, subscribed to by all the larger Advertising Agencies, which enables them to listen in the privacy of their own office to programs originating anywhere.

THE SPOKEN WORD

By R. W. KEYSERLINGK,

Managing Director, British United Press.

The story of radio news is one of the most fascinating episodes in man's long journey along the road of scientific discovery. While the first use Marconi could find for his epoch-making invention of wireless transmission was to send out information, news on the air is a comparative newcomer to the wave-lengths. Today it has established itself, according to all surveys, research statistics and analyses, as the greatest, steadiest and most consistent listening program in peace as in war.

While every other form of programming has a natural limit to its ability to sustain interest, news appeals to man's oldest and deepest instinct—curiosity in his surroundings, in himself and in his world. There are more listeners to radio news—day in and day out, year in and year out—than any type of radio program.

Since, in the economic society in which we live, every latecomer to a new field not only has to overcome certain physical obstacles, but also economic rivalries of the "earlier birds," radio news can look back to a stormy infancy. While freedom of the press took a long time to establish itself, so radio news was at first also made into the coveted object of regulatory interference. It was only after bitter struggles and because of persistent and often courageous championing by the far-sighted that radio news in Canada, the United States and very few other countries has become economically feasible and hence free and independent in its own right.

Unless the public through economic support expresses its approval of a service or of a commodity, it either disappears or has to become the willing handmaiden of a governmental authority or special pleader. Just as with a newspaper, which builds its popularity with a public through circulation and then rightly obtains economic support through advertising, so also radio news supports its freedom and independence through commercial sponsorship. It is noteworthy that neither free newspapers nor free newscasts exist where the public is not permitted through its "economic approval" to support its own sources of information, but rather is subjected to the tutelage of the almighty state, reaching out for the mind through control of all news dissemination.

Thus radio news is merely a part, and a most important part, of that invaluable privilege commonly known as freedom of the press—more accurately described as freedom of news.

It still has an interesting road of further development to follow. Interests shift and interests vary. They shift geographically from battlefield to home, from continent to continent; they shift by subjects from war to peace, from work to play or from sorrows to joy. How to catch the public interest and not misjudge it is radio's constant problem.

Today, as always, radio news is making adjustments. News of wars has been replaced by the reports of violent diplomatic combats and economic and social problems. Beyond this, local news is becoming more and more a matter of individual reporting by the station's own news staffs. Great developments have occurred in building up news staffs by stations, and it is being realized that just as a newspaper has to safeguard its own individuality by its own reporters, so do stations rely for their world and national news on agencies—developing an increasing amount of local coverage themselves.

But it is important for stations to realize that radio news in the final analysis is "front-page news." While a newspaper has not only its front page to hold its readers, it has its comics, features, editorials and a large variety of other material. The ideal newscast requires that every item interests every listener. Otherwise, he might turn his dial and never come back. But not every column in a newspaper need interest every reader. He chooses his columns; in radio he chooses his station.

That is why radio will never be able to sink itself into a provincialism or even too much local news. It need not compete with its nearest weekly or even parish publication. It is still "front page" news which will maintain the greatest audience, and radio news has shown—much to the surprise of many post-war Cassandras—an astounding and growing popularity for live, fresh and important items clearly presented, because news is the ancient art of telling the story of men to men who are always curious about themselves and the other fellow.
