Caesar's Wife to Tell Home Life In Radio Interview December 1 President Hoover

Edward G. Robinson, who acts the gangster or the newspaper editor with equal facility when he is before the motion picture camera making a "Little Caesar" or a "Five Star Final," plays an entirely different role when he gets home. As the photograph of "Little Caesar" and his wife illustrates, Robinson loses all his hardboiled exterior when the Klieg lights are switched out. Just what housewifely devices she uses to accomplish the transforma-tion in her movie-star husband, Mrs. Robinson will explain to Winifred Carter in the interview WSAI will broadcast from the NBC "red" network at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning (December 1). Among other secrets, Mrs. Robinson will reveal the recipe for the favorite dish with which she soothes "Caesar's" savage breast.

"Grand Canyon", New Symphony By Grofe,

Has Radio Premiere

The first act of Verdi's "La Traviata" will be broadcast to an NBc and to an Verdi's "La Traviata" will be broadcast to an NBc and the visit of Grand Canyon," Ferde Grofe's latest score, and one on which Paul Whiteman is said to have spent approximately $20,000, will be played by that king of jazz in a special concert at 11:15 p. m. Sunday (November 28) on the NBC "red" network which probably will include WTAM (1020 kc.). WENR (870 kc.), and WGY (890 kc.) as well as WEAF (660 kc.).

Freddie Miller, Billy Shaw Bout Is On WFBE Card

Freddie Miller and Billy Shaw will fight for the Olio Feather-weight chanpionship, Monday night (November 30) at 9:30, with WFBE reporting the bout-Harry Hartman will re-report the match as the information cause to him by wire direct from the ringside at Sydney, O.

Radio happenings in November, 1931 have been recorded for posterity. Ray Lawill, traffic manager of WKRC, and Eugene Mittendorf, manager, saw to it that a copy of last week's Radio Dial was sealed in the corner stone of the new Cincinnati Union station November 20.

Grofe, a native of the West, conceived the idea of a descriptive symphony five years ago on a visit to the Grand Canyon, but the press of com posing and his radio work (he directs the Florsheim Frolie on Sunday afternoons) has permitted him little time for the writing. In fact, he en-countered some difficulty in completing the last movement, the Storm. In desperation, he finally went to the woods of northern Wisconsin for a While he was there, a terrific thunderstorm gave him the theme. The symphonic suite has five move-ments: Sunrise, Painted Desert, Humoresque, On the Trail, and Cloudburst.

This broadcast of Whiteman is expected to equal in importance his first concert some years ago when, in Carnegie Hall, he made musical history by playing Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," with orchestration by Grofe.

Addresses Home Owners' Meeting

President Hoover's views on the relationship of the home to the nation will be heard throughout the country when his address before the President's Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership is broadcast over NBC and Columbia networks Wednesday (December 2) at 9 p.m. WKRC and WSAI will broadcast locally.

The President will be introduced by Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont, and will speak from Consti-tution Hall, in Washington, at the opening session of the four-day con-ference.

opening session of the four-day con-ference.

The meetings, called by President Hoover to discuss the extension of home bullding and home ownership, will be attended by more than 1,000 delegates, representing national organizations. Among the associations included will be the American Federation of Labor, the American Institute of Architects, the Association of General Contractors, the Association of General Contractors, the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the National Granges.

WSAI Signal Strength Is Improved Here

WSAI now is operating with a signal strength of 1000 watts or with a measured strength in Cincinnati of twice as much at night and four times as much in daytime as before the Radio Commission's recent grant of more power. J. A. Chambers, chief engineer of the Crosley stations, reports that alterations to the WSAI antenna at Mason, O, now throw the most of its signal strength in a southernly direction, making it more audible to Cincinnati listeners.

By THE DIAL TWISTER

So John W. Holbrook, of the "cheirman" on the Arco Birthday NBC's New York Staff, copped the 1931 diction medal for announcers. That gives the National people a batting average of 1000% on the creeks so far. Milton Cross was the first to win the coveted banble, then Alway Bach, and now John have to announce their call-letter. the first to win the coveted banble, then Alwyn Bach, and now John Holbrook. But this time the Columbia people landed David Ross at the top of the runner-up hear, with William Abernathy, NBC Washington, and A. W. (Sen) Kaney, NBC Chicago, also getting honorable mention. So the junior chain's turn may come one of these days. By the way, the prize isn't for the most popular announcer. It's for the best one from the standpoint of correct speech. There's quite a difference.

Gus Arnheim wrote that tune "Sweet And Lovely" you've been hearing so often. It's rather good, as the popular ditties go,

That NBC engineer, H. Warden (Hack) Wilson, has been guest-artisting some mighty elever impersonations in the Club Valspar program (WSAI, Saturday at 9:30 p.m.) Some of his mintations aren't so hot, of course. But some of them are perfect bull's-eyes, for instance the one of Sell Parker. And the aumazing part is that he can do so many so well.

And Edna Wallace Hopper, the "eternal burker," bobs up on Columbia (WKRC, Sunday at 10 p.m.). That's worth remembering if you run short of laughs.

The boys who know their football have been giving Grant P. Ward a big hand for his work on the Ohio State games over WTAM Here's a football annonucer who not only knows the difference between a tonehback and a safety (Graham McNamec has just learned the last comple of years), but even knows which team has the ball, which is plenty of a distinction as a lot of football broadcasting goes.

There's a rumor that the Federal Radio Commission is going to change regulations so stations will have to announce their call-letters every 30 instead of 15 minute. Some of the DX boys probably will risc here to remark ironically that this onght to be a good thing, since a lot of the stations let an hour or more go by between call-letters.

Those talks on child training by Angelo Patri (WKRC, Sunday and Tbursday at 8:45 p.m.) are going over big with hardworking parents. He's such an understanding chap.

Walter Daurrosch is going to in-clude opera in English on his NBC Symphonic Hour (WLW, Sunday at 1:15 p. m.). Loud cheers from those of us who have always won-dered what it was all about.

NBC supplies the momentous news that Mildred Bailey has grace-fruited her way down to 187 pounds. With Paul Whiteman still making a mere shadow of himself, it begins to look as if the catchline around National's Chicago shop is "Have you lost your pound today?"

That series of talks by the University of Cincinnati faculty (WLV, Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.) is as interesting as we expected from the fine performance of previons

And NBC har added KGU, Honchillu, to its chain by short-wave. Which probably leaves Columbia nothing to do but take on a station in Manila or Alacka.

ON THE CHIN

Sports broadcasting has taken it on the chin twice during the last couple of weeks. The first jolt came when Judge Landis, zar of the diamond, decreed that future World Series games shall be radioed only by qualified baseball experts. And the second half of the "one-two" landed when Harvard banned Ted Husing from the Crimson stadium because the Columbia wordster applied the term "putrid" to Barry Wood's work in the Dartmouth game.

Obviously, these two incidents are related only in that they concern sports broadcasting.

The Husing affair may seem to hinge on whether Wood's work really supports broadcasting.

The Husing affair may seem to hinge on whether Wood's work really cannot be shackled by any such implied censorship. So it is to be hoped that the Harvard authorities will see what a dangerous precedent they are establishing, and revoke the ban on Ted.

The Landis decree raises no such issue of principle. But it does open up a question even more live.

The Judge speaks the convictions of many listeners when he characterizes much of the baseball announcing on the networks as uninformed and careless. He might have added that much of the chain for the rivet boy climbed up the era actorized and careless. He might have added that much of the chain football announcing is guilty on the same counts. It is not necessary for one of the networks to declare the frank policy of making sports announcing entertaining first, and technically complete or correct only incidentally. That has been too apparent for a long time to anyone with a smattering of sports lore.

Judge Landis now domands that this arrangement shall be changed, that the emphasis shall be placed on technical accuracy and complete repressional control of the cook new their sports only the honest cook of the cook new the range of the networks to declare the frank policy of making sports formed. Alter that the cook new the range of the networks to declare the frank policy of making sports of the networks to declare the frank policy of the policy Ramona, WLW's "blue" singer and pianist, is the innocent cause of a Canada construction crew's cook being taken for a "ride." bound hand and foot, swinging dizzily from a crane 750 feet in the air. The radio is in the cook's shack, and the cook ad strict orders to blow the feed call whenever Ramona came on the air, But one day the cook decided to keep Ramona for bimself. He didn't blow the horn. The rivet boy climbed up the erane and told the men. With one accord the 20 rushed down the crane, tied the cook, looked him on the craue, and swing him up, up, 750 feet off the ground. After that the cook never forgot, Ramona's correspondent informed her.
