Guy Lombardo Now Castle Farms A Bit

Castle Farm's skies are literally studded with stars these days. For example, there's Wayne King, who illuminates Castle Farm through Sunday (June 26). Then Guy Lombardo -who opens at Castle Farm on Thursday (June 30) for an orgaof good music with his Royal Canadians through Sunday (July 10). Guy is dark, olive-skinned, boyish-appearing, 29, never has played his violin (which has only one string), weighs 158, has a radio in his auto, enjoys listening to broadcasts by other orchestras, hobby is speed boating, believes no two couples dance alike, has a good sense of humor. His brother Carmen plays first saxaphone, sings the solos, composes song hits. Brother Lebert is 25. A major orchestra leader offered Guy three trumpet-players for Lebert. Brother Victor is 20, plays a saxophone, loves to swim, always fidgets with necktie, resembles Guy, prefers last June at the Plaza and RKO-brunettes, nickname is "Use-Albee. They will be heard over

John Paul Jones Sketch to Feature "Roses and Drums"

Tom Powers, New York Theater Guild star, will re-create the historic role of John Paul Jones in the Sunday (June 26) episode of "Roses and Drums," over WKRC (CBS) at 5:30 Drums," over WKRC (CBS) at 5:30 p.m. This chapter will turn the calendar back to the year 1779, when America's greatest sea fighter took his ship, the Bon Homme Richard, out of Firth, Scotland, to engage the British fleet. It will be the first episode in the series to be staged in the marine setting. The weekly dramas, sponsored by the Union Central Life Insurance Company, record struggles in the creation of the American home. Powers has appeared in such Theater Guild successes as "Androcles and the Lion," "Man of Destiny," "Strange Interlude," "The Apple
Cart" and "Arms and The Man."

WCKY RECEPTION GREATLY IMPROVED

WCKY is now greeting its thousands of listeners with a signal strength nearly double

An entire new antenna sys tem together with various other new equipment has been installed at the WCKY transmitter at Villa Madonna, seven miles west of Covington, on the south bank of the Ohio River. Station engineers and technicians of RCA have been working several months on the installation of the new equipment and the erection of the new 200-foot steel antenna towers which support the new antenna now in use. With the increased efficiency added by the new apparatus, technicians estimate that WCKY's 5,000-watt signal will reach out with practically doubled volume. This means that WCKY's voice will cut through the interference which affects the signal strength in distant points, and that the consistent coverage of the station will be greatly extended.

The new equipment was first put in use Friday, June 17. Since that time, a thorough check-up has been made and station engineers as well as distant listeners report a marked increase in the volume of WCKY's sig-

Doubt as to the Nominee Draws Nation to Radio

The battle for the Democratic presidential nomination and other highlights of that party's national convention, opening Monday (June 27), will be broadcast to the nation over both NBC and Columbia.

For NBC the headliners on the microphone will be William Hard, NBC political analyst; David Lawrence, editor of The United States Daily; Floyd Gibbons and Graham McNamee.

WLW, WCKY and WSAL will be local outlets for the NBC broadcasts.

For Columbia there will be Frederic William Wile and H. V. Kaltenborn, political analysts; Ted Husing, in charge of announcers; Lawrence W. Lowman, vice-president in charge of operations; and Herbert B. Glover, head of Columbia's news broadcasting feature service.

Columbia's daily schedule follows: 9:30—9:45 a.m. daily except Friday. Friday will be 10—10:15 a.m., 3— 3:15 p.m., 5:45—6 p.m., 10—10:15

WKRC will be local outlet for the 3 and 5:45 p. m. Columbia broadcasts.

station. Hope of that distinction comes wrapped up in news from Washington that the Federal Radio Commission has authorized the Crosley Corporation to construct an experimental transmitter using the true improvement American broadcasting has witnessed in several years.

Ever since WJZ began using 50,000 watts back in 1925, it has been evident that high power offers the most efficient means of utilizing the evallable program channels. Experiments conducted by the General Electric and Westinghouse laboratories have established that a power considerably above 50,000 watts is practicable. Yet the Federal Radio Commission in its wisdom (or lack of it) has clung thus far to the £0,000-watt limit for regular service. It is very much to be hoped that Entherization of the Crosley 500,000-watt experiments foreshadows a change of heart. At least, one is over-due.

With far smaller areas to be served, Europe is laps ahead of the United States as regards transmitter power. Stations of from 100,000 to 150,000 watts are comparatively common on the continent, and Russia has a 300,000-watter which can be stepped up ultimately to 500,000. Certainly America should not be content with anything less, consider-

It might be well to explain why station power must be increased by cuch apparently huge steps. Contrary to what might be expected, Crosley's contemplated 500,000-watter will not be ten times louder than the present WLW. In order to double a station's volume, its power must be increased four times, since radio waves radiate in all directions. In other words, the projected 500,000-watter will be about 150 per cent stronger at the loudspeaker than WLW is now. However, what this means to improved reception wherever WLW is now heard is tremen-

In a last will and testament admitted for probate in the orphans court of Rockville, Md., a prom-ment citizen bequeathed his radio as one of the valued assets of his estate. "I leave you my radio"—the will might have read—"confident that if you make proper use of it all the world will be at your service.

"Over its receiving apparatus will come to y u the music of the masters, and the memory-evoking melodies that recall other days, other moments—happy times in the large large marks the favorite long, long ago—maybe the favorite song of a mother or a father, a grandmother or grandfather. And what could be finer than this, the awakening of emotions that carry with them fond recollections?

"So, I leave you my radio — to bring you the old songs and the new, the melodies that knock at the heart and open the floodgates of memory.

"Over the antennà will come to ou, from time to time, messages of cheer and hope, to lift you from the depths of despondency, to help you carry your head just a little bit higher in the crowd that goes ever onward, pushing towards the eter-nal goal. You will hear, if you listen, the profound thoughts of philosophers and the lyric music of poets, the stirring strains of patri-otic speeches, the matter-of-fact statements of economists and accountants who explain the upward and downward swings of the markets—the stock market—the money market—the produce market—all having a vital bearing on your life and happiness.

"By the benefits of broadcast you will have brought into your home all the mannerisms of civilization. All through the live-long day, on the radio, you will have heard bits of human interest and knowledge from household hints to means and methods of balancing the family budget, talks to the farmers, the laborers in the city, the clerks and artisans in all fields of human en-

Those Sisters of the Skillet, oth-|sions on the point, that radio is not erwise Eddie East and Ralph Dumke, get better and better as the weeks go by (NBC over WLW, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, at 7:45 p.m.). Their "solutions" of problems were always good for a chortle. But their new series of comedy shetches is nothing short of comedy sketches is nothing short of a riot. In fact, some of the specimens are just about classics.

And Bill Hay keeps on saying "athlete's fute." Hoot, mon. Dinna ken better?

Who said radio is wireless? The Columbia people used 9000 feet of wire to connect their apparatus for the convention pickups in the Chicago Stadium. And their engineers worked four days and nights making the installation.

Walter O'Keefe is doing well as the m. c. of that new series of Lucky Strike programs (NBC over WSAI, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 9 p.m.), though there's really no law requiring him to follow the Winchell pattern. Also, this dialer can't quite smother a chuckle at the pale imitation of "The Shadow" in the Tuesday crime drama.

Harry Kogen's NBC Farm and Home Hour orchestra always stands while plaving its theme piece, "Stars and Stripes Forever," This reminds us of the early radio days, when sticklers for formality de-manded that all listeners stand during the broadcasting of the "Star Spangled Banner." Somehow, the idea didn't catch on.

Which in furn reminds us that Ed Thorgerson informed an astonished NBC audience during the Republican convention that "America" is the national anthem. Well, we live and learn.

the short-cut to fame and fortune.

June 9 goes down as another noteworthy day in Amos and Andy history. On that date Correll and Gosden put no fewer than six characters through their paces in a single broadcast. Besides Amos and Andy, they were the Kingfish, Brother Crawford, Lightnin', and Henry Van Porter. Not a hint of a muff, either.

Dave Rubinoff has 27 suits and 19 pairs of shoes. Yet if he's like most of us mere males, he probably indulges a shameful hankering for the oldest specimens in the lot.

Floyd Gibbons seems to be turning into a radio propagandist for one cause or another these days. Not meaning that he hasn't a right to speak his mind. He has. Still, he was a darned good air reporter. And one good reporter is worth a dozen pleaders of special causes. At least that's how we estimate the average listener's reaction to the

That new series of Edgeworth programs (NBC over WSAI, Wednesday at 9 p.m.), presenting the Corn Cob Pine Club, strikes a refreshing note. It doesn't take more than half an ear to tell that these Virginians are the genuine article.

Among other commendable things, the Jack Frost program (NBC over WLW, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.) gets credit for a much needed piece of boredom sparing. Instead of the usual dreary list of musical shows and song titles at the conclusion, there is simply the crisp announcement that "restricted numbers on this program were presented with the permission of the copyright owners." If permission has to be announced, here is the painless way to do it.

Even before he went on the air at the Republican convention, H. V. Kaltenborn began getting fan letters and wires about his broadcast-ing there for Columbia. He de-served them. As an interpreter of rea is the national anthem. Well, we live and learn.

They say that of 500 people who take studio auditions only three ever get on the air. Proving, in case you have any lingering illusserved them. As an interpreter of news, he's still the class of the radio party. The real mystery is that Columbia doesn't put him on nightly at a good spot. There's no question that he has a tremendous following among intelligent listeners.

THINGS I NEVER KNEW TILL NOW (Give a look and have a learn!)

That a chauffeur's mistake in driving the car of the Grand Duke Francis Ferdinand of Austria up the wrong street at Sarajevo, Serbia, on June 28, 1914, led to the Big Tiff. If he had driven, as directed, on the right street, the Grand Duke's military aide, sitting on the other side of the car, would have been assassinated instead, saving millions of lives, and all these tax tilts.

That over in Germany, when an English version of a flicker is made, the cast works for nothing, hoping that a showing in the United States might mean Hollywood contracts.

That the official address at the N. Pole is "90, N. Lat,"

That Admiral Peary struggled 23 years to reach the North Pole, making it April 6, 1909. Then he stayed only 30 hours.

That you can boil water in your ciggie cellophane wrapper.

That keeping your eye on the ball isn't important in golf. If you have the correct swing, that will take care of itself.

That $2.50 placed in 1932 for settlement in 500 years would call for payment of $2,084,495,605.22.

That in the old German Imperial Navy, on the day of "Emperor's Inspection," sailors were not permitted to sit down from dawn till sundown, for fear of creasing their trousers.

That Iceland has little ice and Greenland a lot of it.

That the most powerful radio stations are not in the U. S. A., but in Warsaw, Berlin and Moscow. The Soviet Union is planning one of 500,000 watts, to be heard around the world.

That Samuel L. Clemens took his pseudonym from the custom he acquired as a Mississippi steamboat pilot—crying out the soundings: "Mark One, Mark Twain, Mark Three!" (What! No Hellinger?)

That Forest Hills is so named because it has neither.

That when the Titanic went down, the ship's orchestra did not play "Nearer My God To Thee." According to a survivor, the bandsmen were caught below, and never seen after the first warning.

That Thomas Edison lost money as an inventor. The expense of fighting claims cost him more than the return in royalties.

That an Argentine cruiser has been helplessly wandering around the Mediterranean in search of some place to land her cargo of 200 "undesirables." They were such a nuisance in Buenos Aires that they were expelled and the liner can find no takers all over Yurrop.

That statistics reveal that more accidents happen on clear, sunny days than in rainy weather.

That the songwriting trio of DeSylva, Brown & Henderson dissolved after writing: "You Try Somebody Else."

That among the famous Classics of Literature written in prison were "The Consolations of Philosophy" by Boethius, "A Short History of the World" by Sir Walter Raleigh, "Pilgrim's Progress" by John Bunyan and "Don Quixote" by Cervantes.

That it takes an hour to sing a Chinese song.

That Yale just issued a tome by Prof. E. Borchart of the Eli Law School, presenting 65 cases from recent court records in which accused persons were convicted of crimes of which they later were proved absolutely innocent. (Justice isn't blind. Merely a little Turpin-eyed.)

That London closes its night clubs at exactly 12 o'clock on Saturday nights but permits fights on the Sabbath.

That people first hung horseshoes over their doors, not "for good luck," but because they resembled halos.

That in Yemen. Arabia, the cows actually eat fish.

That the largest privately owned garden in New York is atop one of the downtown skyscrapers.

That in these hot days you can cool off at the Equator.

That Chinese soldiers never salute General Tsai Tin-Kai, because he is that democratic, he won't permit it.

That United States hotels and restaurants have a little known, but costly expenditure. They used 48 million pencils last year.

That Robert Fulton invented the steamboat you all know. But he didn't. James Rumsey invented it.

If We Had Our Own Radio Station

By Jack Snow

Good evening radio friends!

This is the weekly program broadcast from the Inner Sanctum of the Simon and Fluster Book Company. We hear the song of the book worm: "Lulla-by of the Leaves."

FROM SPAIN

Spanish melodies will feature "Los Amigos" broadcast Thursday (June 30) at 11 p.m. over WLW with Helen Brooks, Irwin Meyers, Octavio Bermudez and the Los Amigos Orchestra under Virginio Marucci.

WISE and OTHERWISE

BY BOB NEWHALL

"LOVE AND KISSES TO B. BATTALINO!"

A terror quite holy is Billy Petrolle, A wop with a fistic degree; He's the Fargo Express and his punches caress With a label that's marked-"C. O. D.!"

WEEKLY FASHION NOTE.

Women tennis players are against wearing "Shorts" probably because skirts, like charity, cover a multitude of sins—or shins—the words in this case being synonymous!

And Merrie England has adopted the custom of deciding some boxing bouts on the cheers of the spectators. Bronx?

A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE IS A DANGEROUS THING

Maybe you've heard about the baseball rookie eating his first meal in a big hotel and telling the waiter to bring him a large cup of

And society debutantes are not the only creatures with shell-like rs. Boxers and wrestlers have them also if you are thinking of oyster

THE ACID TEST

It the students who swiped the Ohio State Amateur Championship Golf Cup from the Eata Bita Pi house at State used it to mix fraternity gin, it's a cinch the gold lining is gone by now!

The National Boxing Association warns all commissions that there are certain fight managers who are going to try to make a racket of the game. The only fault I find with this is the use of the future instead of the past tense!

DOWNRIGHT VERSATILE

The great number of entries always furnished by Annapolis for the Amateur Intercollegiate fisticusts would go to prove that the Middies can box something beside the compass!

And while it's generally agreed that college boys have refined baseball, one must admit that even though they go into a game with a "B. A." they come out of it with a "B. O."! And if you must this one, read the

JUST A SUGGESTION

Red and green traffic lights on the bases and Casey Stengel in a cop's uniform coaching at third might help Max Carey to get his base-runners

And I just would pick out the day my wife's bridge-club came! Imagine what she said about those three dozen dirty golf-balls soaking in the stationary washstand!

Another innovation. My idea of an enjoyable six-day bicycle race to start the field off headed west. Then you'll only have to suffer as long as they are in sight and can read about the result in the Kansas City papers!

And until next week, So-o-o long!
