Tom Breneman:

The Ear Inspires the Pen

Fred A. Ebersold, 4518 Cartwright Avenue, North Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: In your magazine with programs for week beginning Dec. 26, there was a question on page 3 from Mrs. M. Telling, asking about Dr. Harry E. Fosdick's radio appearances. Dr. Fosdick is currently to be heard on National Vespers, every Sunday over KECA-Blue Network at 5 p.m.

Thank you, Reader Ebersold. You and many other Radio Lifers caught Ear Inspires editor napping. Don't let us doze off!

Mrs. W. B. McGehu, Route 2, Box 378, Anaheim, Calif.

Sirs: I couldn't get along without my weekly Radio Life, and especially the "Ear Inspires the Pen" department.

I have read many criticisms about the daily serial programs and agree with a lot of them, but the one big fault I find is against the writers of the plays. Most of them drag on for several days incidents that could easily have taken place in one day. "The Romance of Helen Trent" and "Young Widder Brown" are two of my favorite programs and mainly because they finish one adventure before starting another, and so much always happens in one day. I like "Pepper Young's Family" and "Wic and Sade" because they are so true to life. My "pet peeve" programs are "Backstage Wife," "Kitty Foyle," and "Valiant Lady." I do wish they would bring the two main characters in the latter story together and start something new. It gets monotonous after a year of having them just 'miss' each other. I do not mean to appear to be an old grouch but after you're listened to these programs for several years, you feel you are entitled to give your opinion. I do wish the authors would listen to their own programs and do something about them.

Patty DeVine, 2107 Glen Ivy Drive, Glendale, Calif.

Sirs: I am fifteen years old and go to Glendale High School. Our family enjoys your magazine every week. I like to look over your readers' criticisms and thought I would offer some of my own.

If the "Hit Parade" is not careful it is going to lose its listeners and the reason is that when they advertise their product, Lucky Strike, all they say is "Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco" over and over again. Also, who does that guy who says "L.S.M. F.T." think he is . . . Counterspy?

And then there are those announcers who, when advertising soap, talk as though they had used that soap in all their washes, and had done the washing, too. They tell how their soap gets work shirts, etc. clean without the least bit of rubbing. I bet if they did a washing they would not find it as easy to 'lift the dirt out' as they say it is. Besides, what do men know about washing? Why not get a woman to do the advertising? At least she might know what she is talking about.

Mrs. R. L. Cunningham, 5856 1/2 South Olive Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Here's another request for pictures and perhaps a story. We who have to get our hubbies off to work early like a cheerful morning program without recordings I have found that the "Sunrise Salute" really starts my day just right. It's so much fun to hear everyone on the program and the informality makes me feel as if I were one of the bunch.

It was nice to see what Galen Drake looks like. Now, how about the rest of the gang? Oh, yes, and Dave Lane, too. He's lots of fun on Saturday morning on that program and every morning on his own five-minute spot.

I never miss a copy of Radio Life if the grocer has it and really appreciate the whole magazine. In fact, I usually sit down and read it cover to cover as soon as I get home.

Thanks for a grand magazine and hope we can see the "Sunrise Salutes."

We're taking note of your story requests and will try to take care of them some time soon. Glad you like the magazine and write again.

Jim King and family, 2037 Ewing Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I wish you'd ask the sponsors of the "David Harum" program to stop David saying "Scat my cats" every three or four minutes. Because in the book, David might have said "Scat my cats" once or twice is no reason why the writer of the radio version of "David Harum" should make him say it so often.

Miss Irene Kromas, Santa Teresita Sanitarium, 819 South Buena Vista, Duarte, Calif.

Sirs: In your Radio Life for programs beginning on December 5 was a letter sent in by Mrs. Kathryn Hill of El Monte. She said she had quite a number of old Radio Lifes that she thought someone would like to have. So I wrote her a letter and told her I would appreciate having those magazines as I don't have any of the back copies, for I discovered Radio Life just a few weeks ago. Well, to make a long story short, I not only got a nice stack of Radio Lifes but they were delivered personally by Mrs. Hill.

I just thought you'd like to know. The nice part about it is that not only will I enjoy these magazines but about 110 other girls also will, because after I've seen them I will pass them on and they will go through all the wards.

Mrs. Jules Dickens, 1170 Glendale Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I see some others are criticising, so here goes. Why does Dinah Shore wear her hair that way? It makes her head look square and does not become her a bit. Having a long head, she makes it longer!

DOING CARTOONS

A series of cartoons being done by Xavier Cugat, maestro of the Mutual-Don Lee Network's variety show, "Your Dubonnet Date," will be used as a visual aid in teaching basic English to beginners.

'Tell You What He Did:

CBS comedian Eddie Marr's familiar punch line, "Tell you what I'm gonna do," enters into a story about a little old lady who was badly in need of a pair of glasses.

The story was told to a group of actors by Commander Kinser of the Navy when he appeared as guest star on a recent broadcast of Columbia's "I Was There."

"I have known this elderly lady for a good many years and I knew she was in desperate need of some glasses. She was too proud to accept them as a gift and I was wracking my brain to think of some way to get them to her without offending her," said the Navy man. "Well, finally I remembered she was a great fan of Marr and his bark-er's routine . . . and I decided to take a chance."

Commander Kinser went to the home of the little old lady, taking with him the glasses and a home-made script. Stepping up behind her, he barked, "You say you need a pair of glasses? You say you can't see your hand in front of your face without a pair? Well, tell you what I'm gonna do!"

So surprised and delighted was the little old lady that she accepted the glasses without a word of argument.

"Slap, Slap, Jingle"

Two soldier-guestars on Ginny Simms' "Johnny Presents" program were boasting of their respective outfits. "Why, our company is so well drilled," said one, "that when we present arms, all you can hear is slap, slap, click."

Remarked the other: "Pretty fair. But when our company presents arms, you can hear slap, slap, jingle." "Jingle?" asked the first. "What did that?" Came the retort: "Oh, just our medals!"

Tom Breneman: Still Wows the Women

By ANN COMAR

*His Antics With Hats
And Sardi's Visitors
Continue to Convulse*

Monday-Saturday, 9:30 a. m.
Blue-KECA

THE brand new baby boy crinkled his button nose, puckered his button mouth and gazed drowsily up at the lady who was holding him. "Oh, he's going to have beautiful, great big eyes!" she said, and kissed him. She was the first woman to see him after his debut into the world and she lost her heart to him completely.

Tom Breneman—for, of course, it was he—has been quickening the heartbeats of ladies of all ages ever since. That "way with the ladies" has made him one of radio's most celebrated masters of ceremony and has built the Blue network show, "Breakfast at Sardi's" into one of the most popular morning programs on the air. Its November Crossley rating was 9.5—highest of any morning show for that month.

Friendly, informal, affable, a past master of repartee, Breneman is always the same and always just himself. His radio personality is 100 per cent genuine—the same Breneman his friends and family know. And he's won so many loyal followers that if he chose to run for mayor of Los Angeles, Governor of California or even President of the United States, he'd probably collect more votes in this section of the country than any other candidate you could produce—with the one possible exception of Art Baker.

"HERE, TOM, TRY MY BONNET!" urge these lovely guests attending "Breakfast at Sardi's." Although the model he is wearing is chic, Breneman is interested in hats belonging to (left to right) Mrs. Jack Sharp of El Paso, Texas, Miss Martha Jensen of Denver, Colorado, and Mrs. Edith Hancock of Aberdeen, Washington.

▲ BRENNEMAN AND HUGH HERBERT, Tom's guest star, compare notes on chapeaux. While Breneman contents himself with a severe pancake boret, Herbert eyes the effect of a few flowers and wisp of veiling.

▲ "NO, TOM! YOU WEAR IT DOWN, over one eye, this way!" explains breakfast guest, Mrs. Frank Maiser of 7612 South Hoover Street, Los Angeles. Breneman is resigned to her suggestion, or is he?

100,000 Requests

It's harder to get tickets to "Breakfast at Sardi's" than to any other radio program in Hollywood, for there's a small backlog of more than 100,000 unfilled ticket requests. The show's coveted invitations are sent out to fans who write in for them. Ninety attend as invited guests each week-day morning. To see Tom Breneman in action and enjoy the fun, over 400 others each morning join the crowd for breakfast at Sardi's swank Hollywood Boulevard cafe. The guests come to the restaurant at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and are served coffee and rolls. Mondays through Fridays, they stay through two broadcasts, with breakfasts between—the early edition, 8 to 8:30 a. m. PWT, for the East, the second at 9:30 o'clock, for the West. On Saturdays, only the Western broadcast is heard.

The show revolves around Tom Breneman. The handsome host of the program—a big chap with dark hair touched with gray and with large, alert black eyes—has no script to cramp his style. Portable microphone in hand, he just roams from table to table, gabbing with his guests as informally as he would over his own breakfast table at home. And he lets the consequences of his queries fall where they may.

Attracts All Ages

The breakfasters, mostly women, are from every state in the Union, from every walk of life, and range in age from 18 to 100. But, however drab their lives, Tom Breneman finds a little color in them; however prim their mien, a little gayety underneath—and he draws it out. He doesn't try to elicit sensational remarks. He just wants to bring out the familiar human traits that make life the most fascinating entertain-

Want to Lead a Band?

Sammy Kaye Endears Himself to Audiences by Releasing Suppressed Musical Desires

Wednesday, 9 p. m.
CBS-RNX

SAMMY KAYE'S rapid rise to present-day prominence in the nation's musical spotlight is the story of a nice guy who has the right idea of what the public wants, and gives it to them with a smile and a song.

One of the things the public has always wanted, figured Sammy, was the chance to try out the baton-wielding technique of an orchestra leader. Remember hearing Jane and John Doe chanting that provocative "Oh - What-An-Easy-Job-You've-Got; All-You-Do-Is-Wave-a-Stick Blues?" The idea is that most people at one time or another have had the urge to lead a band. It seems so easy. It looks like fun. So Sammy Kaye gave the public a chance to try it. It turns out to be not so easy, but plenty of fun. And with his promotion of the idea, "So You Want to Lead a Band?" and the creation of accompanying contests, Sammy has become America's new ambassador of good will.

◀ THE "SWING AND SWAY" leader, Sammy Kaye, chuckles, over a script. Kaye oftentimes proves himself an excellent ad-lib artist.

◀ EVERYONE WANTS, AT HEART, to wave a baton at a bunch of musicians, and here, one young lady realizes her ambition. Guest "conductors" receive gifts of batons and best one rates cash.

For he has given music-loving Americans the opportunity to release the yearning for rhythm and melody that has always beat within their hearts. And they find in Sammy the sort of geniality and kindly good humor that puts them at their ease and enables them to enjoy themselves completely.

Last summer, on a blistering June day in Chicago, people stood five deep, in a ticket line two blocks long, waiting to get into the famous Chicago Theater to hear Sammy Kaye and his band. The week's engagement they played there broke that theater's boxoffice record for bands presented in June. The next week, Kaye and his musical boys broke the record at a Milwaukee theater.

Their popularity has grown tremendously in the last year, with their weekly Wednesday night program for "Old Gold" on the Columbia Network fast adding to their fame. Almost everyone who listens to the radio is familiar with the catch-phrase, "Swing and sway with Sammy Kaye," and now people who have only a mild interest in popular music are beginning to ask, "Who is this Sammy Kaye?"

"Sweet" Exponent

Well, to start with, he's an exponent of "sweet" music and the composer of "Remember Pearl Harbor," "Until Tomorrow," "Good Night, My Love" and "Hawaiian Sunset." None of these is a tune which has been heard on the "Hit Parade," but they've all been extremely popular and give promise of having a more lingering vogue than some of the big smash tunes.

Sammy, a slim, ash-blonde, blue-eyed baton-wielder, with high cheekbones and conspicuous ears, is now in Hollywood with his band to make a movie and play an engagement at the Palladium, starting February 8. Kaye's will be the first "sweet" band ever booked at the local dance palace.

Born 33 years ago in Rocky River, Ohio, Sammy didn't plan to make a career of music. He was graduated from the University of Ohio in Cleveland as a civil engineer, but he never used that technical knowledge. He had been taking violin lessons since he was 12, and began to play the guitar, banjo and saxophone when he was in high school. The paper route he had when he was going to high school in Athens, Ohio, didn't bring in enough money to cover his needs, so he began to play with small bands.

Kaye went to college on an athletic scholarship, but it paid only for his tuition. So he organized a band and established the Varsity Inn, which became a popular dance spot for the college boys and girls. He took his band out on the road in the summer. "And all the money I made at the Varsity Inn during school months, I spent on the band in the summer," Kaye recalls.

Sammy had every intention of becoming a civil engineer after his graduation. But he had a chance to lead a band at the Cabin Club, a Cleveland tavern, and he grasped it. That lasted the season. Then he took his band to the Hotel Statler in Cleveland. It was there, in 1935, that his music first went on the air.

Key to the kind of a fellow Sammy is lies in his ideas on the organization of an orchestra. He does not feel that the greatest musicians make the best orchestras. Believing that men who must work together for long periods of time should have more fellowship than ability, he has formed his musical unit around that ideal. And as long as Sammy is the director of his orchestra, the ideal of good sportsmanship and sociability shall form his decisions as to the addition of new members to his organization.

As far as the selection of new members is concerned, Kaye's orchestra operates on a fraternal basis. When a new member is needed, or one applies, the entire group holds a meeting and votes on the applicant. If all the boys feel that the prospective member is a "good mixer," and the type of person that they would introduce to their parents, they welcome him into their circle. Since coming to Hollywood, the band has organized its own bowling team.

All Is Happy

This atmosphere is carried over on Kaye's airshow, "Everybody's Inn," heard every Wednesday night over KNX. A well-rounded offering of music, comedy, and present-day drama, it pleases the listener's palate to perfection.

Ushered on the airplanes by the smooth strains of "Swing and Sway," Sammy's original theme which he composed several years ago, the program is highlighted by the sweet swing melodies of the orchestra, with lyrics supplied by such stellar soloists as the lovely Nancy Norman and Sally Stuart, baritone Billy Williams and tenor Arthur Wright, with the popular Kaye choir of 10 blended voices. And, although it is currently not being broadcast, Sammy still uses his "So You Want to Lead a Band" stunt to "warm-up" his studio audiences before airtime.

Because of the impromptu nature of "So You Want to Lead a Band," many side-splitting situations have arisen during the course of the contests, especially during the time Sammy is interviewing the contestants, asking them why they want to lead a band. Some say simply that they love music. Others are in the market for more money. The night life of batoneers appeals to still others, while one fellow wanted to front for a band so he could put his brother-in-law, a drummer, to work. One girl explained that she would make a swell appearance on a podium, while a middle-aged man admitted that he would like to lead a band in order to have a good excuse to stay out every night!

▲ BILLIE WILLIAMS, personable young baritone with the "swing and sway" group. Kaye also leads his musicians in excellent choral work of which we would like to hear more.

Convention Coverage

Elaborate arrangements have been completed by the National Broadcasting Company to bring to its millions of listeners in this country and our troops abroad complete coverage of the coming Republican and Democratic national conventions. All of NBC's top-flight commentators and news reporters have been assigned to the conventions, along with editors and writers from news staffs in New York, Washington and Chicago.

In addition to giving the world day-by-day reports of the proceedings and special pickups, the network has installed facilities to bring into the convention hall the latest war news—news which potentially might change the tenor of the proceedings at some crucial moment.

This year for the first time NBC will shortwave full accounts of the conventions to our fighting men in all theaters of operation throughout the world. Special attention will also be paid to the "women's angle" in the convention proceedings, and every effort will be made to introduce to the nation the women whose husbands hold positions in American political life.

Script Switch

"Never a dull moment," quoth director Paul Pierce as he called a halt to the night-before-broadcast rehearsal of last week's "Stars Over Hollywood" script. Guest star of the week was lovely Anna Lee who rated a much better role than the scheduled play offered her, so Pierce sent out a rush call for a substitute script, ultimately deciding on a re-broadcast of "My Heart Has Wings".

Last-minute switch necessitated rounding up new supporting players, musical score and sound effects; and assembling cast at 7 a. m. Saturday for an early morning rush rehearsal. Ho, hum! That's radio, only the audience never suspects it.

Actor in Rush

Last week it took a motorcycle escort to get Hans Conried to the premiere broadcast of Blue-KECA's "The Life of Riley" series in which he appears as "Uncle Baxter". Much in demand, Conried is featured in another dramatic series over "Ceiling Unlimited" on Sunday morning at CBS and doesn't get off the air until 11:30 a. m. That leaves him just thirty minutes to scramble from the Sunset Boulevard studio to the Ebell Club across town where the "Life of Riley" goes on at 12:00 noon.

Return from Overseas

Jeanne Darrell, one of the original Music Maids on Bing Crosby's Kraft Music Hall, returned to Hollywood recently after an extensive overseas tour during which she entertained our fighting men in South America, Africa and Italy. Jeanne's lovely voice is known to radio audiences all over the world but, for the duration, she says, it will be heard only by armed forces, and she has again applied for immediate overseas duty.

Miss Darrell's husband, Lt. Leslie Brown, was active in the bloody battle of Tarawa. Naturally she hopes her next trip may be in that direction.

Leap Year Victim

A 51-year-old widower, endowed with a pension and lonely since his two boys had entered the service, asked John J. Anthony to solve his problem. He wondered if one in his position should get married again, and Anthony answered, "Yes, if the right girls comes along." Before the program had been concluded, telephone calls and telegrams poured in making Leap Year proposals to the widower.

Mama's Demise

"Pistol Packin' Mama" has been executed by the U. S. Army. Death and formal burial took place at the Army Arsenal at Benica recently. It seems that feminine employees there who pack guns for shipment were becoming so weary of being called Pistol-Packin' Mamas that their reaction constituted a serious employment situation.

United Press-man Nick Bourne came up with a remedy, resulting in a novelty broadcast. Bourne, singer Vincent Romo, Dooley Wilson, Al Donahue and the boys in his band assembled at the Arsenal, and with Bob Williams as emcee, provided song and

Audience Obliges

During the warm-up for the Burns and Allen show, George Burns always asks the producer in the control room to test the applause; then the laughter—for volume. After each test, the producer answers to the effect that "A lady in the fourth row is wearing gloves."

Recently the gag had a surprise kick-back when a woman in the fourth row stood up and, with great deliberation, removed her gloves!

Jim Ameche Valuable

Jim Ameche's "Here's to Romance" sponsor thinks so much of the young emcee that he is willing to pay double to retain him on the show which actually stars singer Dick Haymes. With Haymes returning to the coast to make his second movie, the sponsor could save money by transferring the entire show to Hollywood's CBS.

But in order to keep Ameche, who can't leave the east because of other commitments, expenses are maintained for two complete set-ups for the one show—a set-up backing Haymes in the west and one with announcer Ameche in the east!

Helen Gets Hooked

Studio visitors at a recent swing session by Harry James and his CBS Music Makers were a bit amazed by songstress Helen Ward's somewhat peculiar microphone stance. Secret is that, midway through her torrid ballading, Helen caught her bracelet in the seam of her dress, couldn't get it unhooked, and couldn't stand up straight.

Dear Radio Fans and Friends of Mine:

For the last three years you all have remembered my birthday, maybe because it is on the same day our President, Mr. Roosevelt has his, January 30th. Well, this year again God has been super to me. So I really don't need any presents. So please, take the money you planned to buy my birthday presents and cards with and please, please give it to the infantile paralysis fund. They really need it!

Thank you, to everybody,

(Signed) Conrad Binyon.

Next Week

We write about that grand veteran of the sports announcing world, Bill Stern, with whom Radio Life shared a few choice moments when he recently came west to tell the world about the Rose Bowl game. . . . Do you know how a radio program gets on the air? It's very technical and way above our heads, but Les Bowman, CBS' chief engineer, outlined seven easy steps with picture illustration, which we will present next week. This is something every listener should want to learn about. . . . Bob Burns, that likeable chap who has made the bazooka renowned, tells how his horn blew him out of the corn. . . . Lowell Thomas is thumb-nail sketched. . . . Radio Life met him when he, too, made a recent trek to Hollywood. . . . The Show Where Sound Is Star is title of another "different" feature which brings a fresh slant on effects used for S. P.'s program.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933

Of Radio Life, published weekly at Los Angeles, California, State of California, County of Los Angeles, for October 1, 1943.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Vinson Vaughan, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of the Radio Life and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereafter the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.) Carl M. Bigsby, 1029 W. Washington.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is (This information is required from daily publications only.)

Where did the name "soap opera" come from—"soap opera" meaning those five-a-week, quarter hour dramatic serials, the best of which are on KFI. We suppose we could sound mysterious and come up with a lot of fancy-sounding explanations, but the truth of the matter is, the explanation is fairly simple.

If you'll tune your radio to KFI some-week-day and listen to these little 15-minute daisies you'll find more than a few are sponsored by various brands of soaps. The name 'opera' was tacked on naturally because some of the serials had a story format which resembled remotely the type of dramas the old stock companies dreamed up. If you're old enough to remember those traveling stock companies who came to town, pitched a tent on the vacant lot just outside of town, you'll see the similarity between those early thespians and our modern radio variety.

And that is about as close as anyone can come to giving a definition to "soap opera."

"Soap opera" is really fine entertainment. If you don't believe us, make a check in your own neighborhood. Ask any dozen housewives you happen to know and the chances are you'll find at least 10 who will tell you they think they are 'swell.'

Most of these Monday through Saturday serials deal with problems that are every-day, down-to-earth situations which could occur in any American home. For that reason, housewives have been known to project themselves into the heroine's role and literally suffer with her. Some people enjoy that sort of thing.

Of course there is that other type of daily serial which, while sometimes called a "soap opera" is not really the same kind of drama at all. We refer to the more humorous type of program such as "Vic and Sade" and "Lorenzo Jones."

May we suggest you set your dial to KFI any week-day and give a listen. For your convenience we include a list the "soap operas" you'll enjoy.

SHOW PROVEN SUCCESS

Latest audience survey report gives “Mr. and Mrs. North” (KFI, 9 p.m., Wednesday) a rating in the twenties, something of a record for a series at the end of its first year on the air.

THE LAMPLIGHTER

The Lamplighter, now heard on KMTR every night, Monday through Saturday, from 12:06 to 1 a.m., will feature pre-release recordings of big name bands. Thus many of the coming smash hits may be heard on the air for the first time on this program. Ted Yerxa, the original and justly famed Lamplighter, will be assisted

RADIO SCHOOL

Frederick H. Speare has added a script writing department to the curriculum of the Speare radio school in the Crossroads of the World, Hollywood. James L. Harris, former AP and INS correspondent in the Orient, author, and playwright, and now with NBC as a commentator, will be in charge of script writing instruction. “Trained writers who know technique will find an eager market for scripts, both now and after the war,” Speare says. Inquiries may be made to Hollywood 2325.

by Mike Stuart in handling the broadcasts.

CHANGES WITH CLIMATE

Now that the rainy season is on in California, lovely Nora Martin, singer on NBC's Eddie Cantor show, has switched to bowling. Still a novice at the indoor sport, Nora proudly states on her first game she bowled 140 and is improving each time.

ON BENNY SHOW

Although the Fred Allen show is back on the air, Minerva Pious and John Brown, formerly of that program's cast and borrowed from Allen during his absence from the air, are remaining with the Jack Benny gang.

Diggin' Discs

With JACK LAWSON

BENNY GOODMAN took the title "King of Swing" for the fifth time in the annual Downbeat poll. Last year DUKE ELLINGTON crowded him out. TOMMY DORSEY led the sweet band group and SPIKE JONES cinched the Corn corner . . . We were surprised to learn SPADE COOLEY had nosed out HARRY JAMES to take fourth spot in AL JARVIS' poll. We've always considered SPADE a "discovery" of our own. Although he was an "unknown" a year or so ago, we talked him up—and we're sure he's going to the TOP before long. Dig his hill-billy jive on KMTR. His music is as smooth as a breeze on the western prairie.

TED (THE LAMPLIGHTER) YERXA is back on the beam, after ticker trouble, and his new show, studded with stars, is heard over KMTR. . . HORACE HEIDT's "commuting" between his home in North Hollywood and his dance job in Southgate . . . This MAURICE ROCCO was such a riot at the Clover Club here recently that he's booked for a repeat, come March . . . To date, there's nothing new on the Petrillo and Columbia-Victor war, but one Columbia exec reports "we're workin' on it."

LONG TIME NO SEE our friends, THE MERRY MACS, but they're back in town after an extensive eastern tour. They waxed four sides for Decca in N'Yawk and are due to cut some new ones here . . . Fan wants to know "Who are some of the famous bandleaders now in service?" . . . Well, there's CAPT. GLENN MILLER, bandmaster in the Army Air Corps at Yale University; C. P. O. ARTIE SHAW, recently back from a tour of the South Pacific with his Rangers; LIEUT. EDDY DUCHIN, caressing the ivories for the navy somewhere in the east; CRPL. RAY MCKINLEY beating the tubs in Miller's band; LIEUT. RUDY VALLEE in the Coast Guard; LIEUT. TED WEEMS in the U. S. Maritime Service; C. P. O. CLAUDE THORNHILL at Pearl Harbor; WARRANT OFFICER SKINNAY ENNIS at Camp Santa Anita; C. P. O. JIMMY GREER in the Coast Guard . . . Anyway, that gives you an idea.

LOOKS LIKE A scoop for TEX RITTER and Capitol. Ritter waxed a new FRANK LOESSER tune called "HAVE I STAYED AWAY TOO LONG" (to be released this week). Now it appears that by the middle of March tune will be Number One Hit Parader. Just watch it . . . DUKE ELLINGTON, now at the Stevens in Chicago, and CAB CALLOWAY, at Chicago's Sherman, both are due here soon . . . Capitol's BOBBY SHERWOOD is doing BIG at the Flagler Gardens in Miami . . . AL DONAHUE's at the Palace in San Francisco . . . XAVIER CUGAT's wintering at the Waldorf-Astoria in N'Yawk.

Trouble Shooters

feat. Moore says he went home, worked on a script from five in the afternoon until two in the morning. The sponsor wept buckets!

"We get into the d—est rows, not to say law-suits," he summarized.

Moore thinks that one of the greatest changes in radio involves the commercials. "They are more intelligent than they were." He believes that quizzes have more or less run their course, unless there is a new idea. News and commentation are in their heyday, and Moore doesn't look for a drop in their popularity for at least 10 years. "We can't get enough good men for this," he stated. He also thinks that there is a terrific angle in some juvenile show not infringing on the Quiz Kids, but so far the idea hasn't bobbed up.

Although every day is a crisis, nervous Moore manages to survive. As an example of an ordinary jam, he tells of the recent visit of James Abbe, who decided he wanted to broadcast from Hollywood.

"Please give me authorization to originate in Hollywood," wired the lean, billiard-ball-headed analyst. "And reserve two rooms with connecting bath for me and daughter, Patience."

Moore replied with authorization to originate in Hollywood, but told Abbe that the hotel reservation business was a headache.

"The Lord will provide," reassured Abbe.

Moore got busy and after two days and nights of unrelenting search, located two rooms with bath. Then he wired Abbe: "The Lord AND Moore have provided."

Sometimes judgment is upset by emotional strain."

"Don't get mad at other motorists," said Dr. Thompsonson, "because anger disturbs your judgment. And don't drive when you are worried about your income tax."

"Traffic Tribunal," doesn't always take the viewpoint of the law. Frequently it is the police who are put on the spot, as it was in the fifth anniversary program of the KFI series last July. Then Judge Leroy Dawson, as Quizmaster, put three traffic officers through the third-degree of the kind most motorists would like to try. The results, however, were much in favor of John Law. On questions of traffic safety the police scored 100 per cent. But nobody gave a satisfactory answer to the question, "Who are most belligerent when stopped, men or women?" Even a supposedly hard-boiled motorcycle cop side-stepped that one!

Putting the Skids on Death!

Thirteen Thousand Traffic Accidents In 1943 Give Air Program Huge Job

Saturday, 5.30 p.m.
KFI

OFFICERS CREWE and Woods, who conduct the "Traffic Tribunal" series, don't have to worry about a script. Their listeners provide them with more ideas than they can use.

From the hundreds of letters they receive every week, these police officers cull questions, dramatic ideas, real-life stories about traffic problems. These are built into a quarter-hour show with students of L. A. City College and U.C.L.A. assisting in the dramatizations. All letters are checked by the police department. If John Public has a beef, it is investigated and answered on the air.

For six years, the Traffic Education Department of the Los Angeles Police Department has been trying to prevent injuries and deaths by this radio program, "Traffic Tribunal." Today, the show faces a bigger job than ever before.

Bad Record

Last year, traffic accidents rose alarmingly in Los Angeles. The increase in population, estimated from three and a half to five million, the rise in number of pedestrians, presence of hordes of servicemen unfamiliar with the regulations—all have contributed to the upswing of accidents.

Last year in Los Angeles city, there were 783 traffic accidents involving Army personnel only. Up until December 21, 1943, 395 persons were killed in traffic, an increase of 15.9 over the 1942 total. Pedestrian deaths totalled 265, a sharp rise of 18.3 per cent over 1942. Injuries in all traffic amounted to 13,631, an upswing of 13.6 per cent, of which 4,022 were pedestrians, an increase over last year of 39.5.

Thus has "Traffic Tribunal's" chore augmented.

To give Producer Jack Edwards a cops-eye view of the traffic problem which the program tries to attack, Officers Crewe and Woods recently took Edwards on a tour of duty in a police car. Back came the producer with a healthy respect for the law, a head full of ideas for vivid drama, a better knowledge of the worries that keep police traffic men awake nights, and a couple of gray hairs.

At another time "Traffic Tribunal" called psychiatry into conference to decide "what makes a jaywalker."

In their broadcast of October 2, the twin voices of the police department interviewed Dr. George N. Thompson, chief psychiatrist of the Los Angeles County General Hospital, to discuss the causes and cure of jaywalking and careless driving.

Apply Psychiatry

Said Dr. Thompson, "Judgment is one of the highest faculties of the human mind" and for this reason it is one of the first to be impaired . . .

DO YOU KNOW?

1. Is it lawful to park "double" if someone remains at the wheel?

Answer: No. Cars must be parked with right-hand wheels no farther than 18 inches from the curb. Double parking destroys the value of an entire lane of traffic.

2. While a pedestrian is crossing the street, the signal changes against him. May he proceed?

Answer: Yes. The law says motorists must yield the right of way to all vehicles and pedestrians on the cross street LEGALLY within the intersection when the signal changes.

3. Is it mandatory that motorists stop for pedestrians at corners where no crosswalk markings exist?

Answer: Yes. Crosswalks exist at EVERY intersection regardless of whether painted lines are present on the street or not.

4. What's the best thing to do if your car goes into a skid on a wet street?

Answer: Leave the clutch engaged, turn your front wheels in the same direction the car is skidding.

5. How can a person detect the presence of carbon monoxide gas?

Answer: Carbon monoxide gas is odorless. You can't see it, smell it, or taste it, so beware. Starting your car in a closed garage or driving with the windows rolled up is dangerous.

6. Aren't most accidents caused by drivers with less than a year's experience at the wheel?

Answer: No. The majority of accidents are found to be caused by drivers with a year or more of experience.

7. What must I do if I am involved in an accident?

Answer: Stop, give assistance if necessary, identify yourself, and report the accident to police within 24 hours, if any personal injury has occurred.

8. How can I secure copies of traffic ordinances and driving rules?

Answer: By requesting them from the Traffic Education Unit, 123 South Figueroa Street, Los Angeles (12), Calif.

Trouble Shooters

Get Radio Tickets, Listen to Crackpots, Engage Hotel Rooms — These Comprise Only Part of Salesman's Chores

▲ A WORRY BIRD ON HIS SHOULDER, Blue network Sales Manager, Tracy Moore, sloughs his troubles and starts a two-listed selling talk to a prospective network time-buyer. "Every day is a crisis," says energetic, gesticulating Moore.

TWO years ago when it was separated from NBC, the Pacific Coast Division of the Blue network had one 15-minute commercial per week, which it lost shortly after through contract expiration.

For the recently completed year of 1943, the Pacific Coast Blue rolled up a gross commercial billing, exclusive of program sales, amounting to $444,000!

The network branch responsible for this achievement is the Sales Department, and the man heading this operation is dynamic, nervous-gesticulating Tracy Moore, ex-advertising man and publisher, Moore entered radio 11 years ago in Portland.

Said he, "Every day is a crisis."

"Every commercial (sponsored) account on our air comes through Sales," Moore explained. "Hence, we reach every department. We're really the trouble shooters."

Technically, the Sales Department is through with an account when it is sold. But being the sponsor's chief contact with the network, Sales is called upon to engage hotel rooms for clients, listen to complaints about shows, wangle radio tickets, Rose Bowl seats, be patient while crackpots air their ideas for programs, see that political candidates fork over the money before they go on the air, decide whether a timepiece-maker who wants to give away a watch on "Breakfast at Sardi's" is motivated by generosity or by the desire to get a free plug from Breneman.

Romance, Too

"The other night I was listening to a well-known comedian," Tracy said, "and got to thinking that Sales was probably responsible for him being married to a certain singer, now retired. This story just proves how Sales tangles into every ramification of radio. We needed an emcee for a certain show and we looked high and low for a comedian who was not too expensive but still had some reputation. This certain man fitted into the picture and came on the program. The girl was singing on the show—that's how they met. They're married now, have a baby, and he's a star."

In instances like this, Sales works hand-in-glove with the Program Department, for Sales must satisfy the client in order to keep the show sponsored.

The case of Vera Vague illustrates this point. Some years ago Barbara Jo Allen, now famous as the screwball Vera, was best known for her work as Beth Holley on "One Man's Family" and for parts on "Woman's Magazine of the Air." She had only performed her zany role a few times.

"Down here in Hollywood," recalled Moore, "'Signal Carnival' wanted a gabby telephone operator-

BLUE ACCEPTABILITY CODE

A—Medical Accounts

Specific standards have been established placing the most cautious restrictions on the advertising of medical products (no copy advertising habit-forming drugs, no copy dramatizing distress or morbid situations involving ailments).

B—Unacceptable Accounts

1. No profession in which it is considered unethical to advertise; for example: doctors, lawyers, etc.

2. Reducing agents, as well as food and beverages when advertised as such.

3. Products purporting themselves as color restoratives for the hair, eye-brow dyes, wrinkle-removers, and similar products.

4. Mouthwashes, or so-called antiseptics to overcome or prevent bad breath.

5. All forms of fortune-telling and any such service.

6. Forms of speculative finance and real estate intended to promote the purchase of specific stocks, bonds, etc.

7. Cemeteries, casket manufacturers, etc.

8. Firearms and fireworks.

9. Organizations and services whose functions are the dissemination of information dealing with general subjects of a controversial nature. This includes: Groups of organizations formed to promote or defeat legislative or governmental issues; religious denominations or groups. (The latter is given a generous portion of sustaining time).

10. Horse races or race tracks when sponsored for the purpose of publicizing forthcoming races or to advertise racetrack as amusement park. A specific horse racing event may be offered for sponsorship if it is considered of sufficient importance from a news standpoint, and if sponsored there will be no reference to odds or betting.

type of comedienne. The one we signed upped her price after the audition. So Sales called Barbara Jo in San Francisco and asked her if she would come to Hollywood. She agreed and, of course, everybody knows how she went on from 'Carnival' to a big spot on the Hope show. Sales takes satisfaction in her success."

Near Miss

A year before Pearl Harbor, Moore recalled, there was a deal pending to sell the beauties of Japan. The Nipponese had used only three-fourths of their appropriation for the Golden Gate Exposition displays and a bright young American-born Japanese promoted the idea of a quarter-hour weekly program to be paid for with the unused balance.

"We even had the order for the deal," Moore said. "But when we met the very polite, low-bowing Japs behind it, we turned the show down. We didn't think it would clear with the State Department."

Moore then went on to explain the modus operandi of Sales. The Blue tries to sell for keeps, rather than for a short-range. So-called "transom sales," where an undesirable or inexperienced sponsor throws an account into the Sales office, are assiduously avoided. The procedure in selling runs about fifty-fifty: sometimes Sales spots a likely sponsor, someone in the money and ripe for a radio campaign. Then the department tries to find a suitable program. At other times, a program idea develops and it becomes apparent that it is just the ticket for a certain product. The job then is to sell the sponsor into bankrolling the show.

Sometimes the fireworks explode. Moore recalls a well-known cigaret outfit which asked for a 48-hour option on a show. While the option period was still in force, another client, a soap concern which had been interested in the same program, gave Sales the order. True to its code, Sales allowed the first client an opportunity to exercise its option.

"A year later," Moore said grimacingly, "another man from our Sales Department and I went to a San Francisco night club for dinner with two representatives of the disappointed firm.

Stranded

"Everything went along swell until I took out my cigarettes and offered some to the soap representatives. When they saw that the brand belonged to the clients who had taken the show they wanted, the two men got up and left us—with the check!"

When Moore first entered radio, he wrote the commercials, sold them, and then played the Irish policeman on the program. He remembers one client who always had to cry before he would accept a script. Every week the same problem arose: to find a script which would provoke the tears. The week eventually came when no script could perform this

People You Should Meet

No. 2 of Radio Life's Series:

Lewis Allen Weiss

FULL-FACED, affable looking Lewis Allen Weiss is executive vice-president of the Mutual Broadcasting System and general manager and vice-president of the Don Lee System. From a de luxe brown and green suite in Mutual's headquarters on Melrose Avenue, he directs his multiple activities.

A champion of free enterprise is Mr. Weiss. He believes that wholesome competition evolves a better product. He views with concern the gradual infringement of the Federal Communications Commission on radio. "The FCC," he points out, "was originally meant to be a technical umpire for broadcasting. As is well known the Supreme Court has sustained the FCC in tremendous powers—'equal to Goebbels,'" says Weiss. He fears that the people, who will be the eventual sufferers by encroachment, will not become aware or aroused until it is too late.

Weiss thinks radio should hold its ground because it will perform its greatest service during the post-war era. "Radio," he explains, "helps the layman to understand what is going on. Its job is to focus the light on the truth. As long as we have free radio, the American public will be better informed than any other people."

A major at USC in economics, his business experience has encompassed practically every phase of advertising, merchandising, and marketing, both as seller and as buyer. A public speaker, a veteran of World War I, a seasoned advertising executive, he has a business man's viewpoint, coupled with the human slant on any situation.

What They Say About Kay

By EVELYN BIGSBY

Five Friends of Kyser
Talk Behind His Back

“WAY BACK WHEN,” Kay poses coyly for the birdie while proud papa, Mr. P. B. Kyser, looks on in silent admiration.

Wednesday, 7 p. m.
NBC-RF7

NOBODY knows Kay Kyser!

Making this statement were five of The Old Professor's closest friends and co-workers; his producer, Paul Phillips; his writer, Carl Hurzinger; his arranger, George Dunning, associated with Kyser for 16 years; his statuesque, ex-model featured femme singer, Georgia Carroll; and baritone Sully Mason, college pal who has worked with Kay for 17 years.

They were clustered around a big oblong table in a special “mass interview” from which Radio Life hoped to squeeze out a newly-slanted story on the energetic, bespectacled orchestra leader, who, with his entertainers has played to three-fourths of our armed forces and has raised 300 million in bonds.

Each was contributing an observation about the strawberry-locked maestro.

“I ought to be able to say a million things,” drawled stocky Sully. “Mam, I can remember when Kay and I were together at the University of North Carolina. He sure proved that he was a natural-born organizer. His marks were good and he made the honorary fraternities. He was a wonderful cheer leader. At Chapel Hill they say they've never seen anything like it. Three years ago when he went back, Kay got out in front of the bleachers and led the cheers. That was the last time North Carolian beat Duke,” Sully remarked a little wistfully.

Limited Repertoire

“While he was in college he organized a band,” spoke up the arranger, George Dunning, who was perfunctorily copying a sheet of music while Sully was reminiscing. “The band knew six pieces. Just six. We were engaged to play at the Oxford Country Club for an evening's dance and we did the six numbers over and over again. I remember two of them were ‘Deed I Do!’ and ‘Everybody Loves My Baby!’”

And now it's the best paid band in the business!

Neither Sully nor George cared to talk about the years between college and success. They shrugged off the hardships almost impersonally, had almost forgotten the time the boys lived on popcorn for three days.

Instead, they turned to the lush years which have followed since Kay and the band made a hit at the Bal Tabarin in San Francisco and a few years later thought up the “College of Musical Knowledge” idea which brought Lucky Strike as a sponsor almost instantaneously.

Punches Jokes

The conversation switched to the show. “Kay,” remarked his writer, that we'll be friends. Henry Gregory is Kay's best friend from his old home town, and the two of them were in business together when Kay was a mere sixteen.

WE HEREBY SOLEMNLY SWEAR

"always punches the devil out of a joke, even if he doesn't like it. He's a great showman. A wonderful ad-libber, too. He can stand up with a guy like Hope. The other night, he and Hope were doing a "Command Performance" and Hope was kidding Kyser about his arthritis. "It took nature 38 years to catch up to you," he told Kay.

Kay answered: "It may have taken nature 38 years to catch up with me, but she started with you from scratch and look at you now!"

"Kay is deeply religious," Carl continued. If there's the slightest question about a gag, he's the first one to throw it out. You don't have to argue with him. He refused to use "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" in a gag.

The producer chimed in. "Kay knows you better than you do yourself. He majored in psychology and he expects everyone to be sharp. One thing he can't forgive is carelessness. But on the other hand, if you do your work well, he always gives credit. On the show he always introduces the performers by name. The teamwork is remarkable.

"To Kay," continued Producer Phillips, "the listening public is the most important thing in the world. He's on the air to entertain, and if he and a contestant happen to get into a funny situation, Kay completely disregards the script and tries to make sure that everybody has a good time. He often calls me 'Mother' Phillips because I worry so much, especially about getting him off the air on time.

"When I come to Kay and he gives me a swell idea, I say 'I should have thought of that originally'."

"Kay kids me and answers, 'That's why I'm Kay Kyser!'"

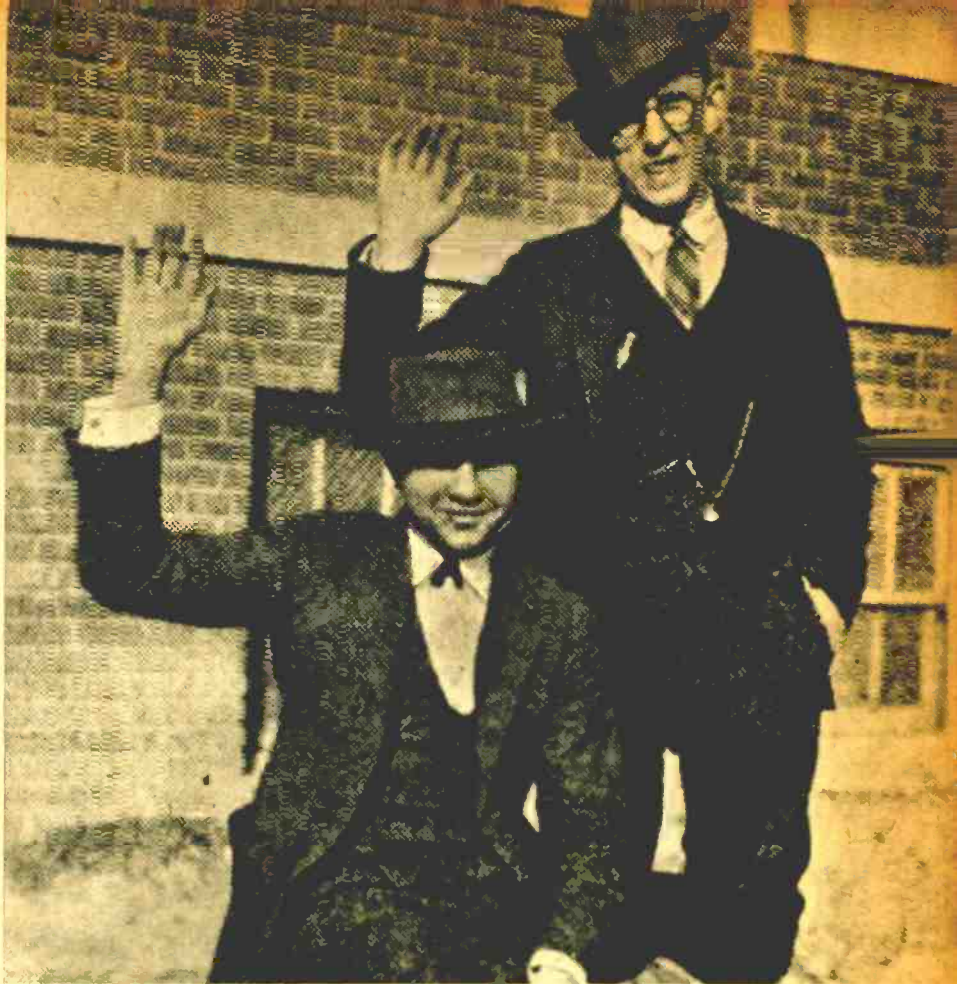

Is Considerate

"He's very thoughtful," interpolated the writer. "He makes note of little things a person wants and then springs them. The other day when we were at one of the camps, I made mention of the fact that I wanted to ride in a tank. I didn't know Kay heard me, but later on he turned to the lieutenant and said, 'Do me a favor? Carl here would like to ride in a tank.' That's how I got to do it."

"He remembered my birthday," Georgia said, her eyes glistening. "We had a surprise party at Kay's house—ment in the world. Occasionally, he matches wits with a famous guest star in an ad lib interview.

In the course of each broadcast, Breneman awards several gifts. The gifts are, of course, an attraction, but the most powerful magnet is Breneman himself. The program is the child of his own fertile brain. He was lunching at Sardi's with a group of friends one day three years ago when it struck him that the famous cafe, with its tiered rows of booths surrounding a large open space, would be an ideal place to stage a program. Six weeks later, on January 13, 1941, Tom emceed the first broadcast of the breakfast show, sent out by remote control from station KFWB.

The rainy season was at its height. The show was absolutely dependent upon an audience. Taxicabs were sent out each morning to pick up the 60 guests. Breneman and John Masterson, manager of the program ever since its start, lived in constant horror of finding themselves without an audience some rainy morning. "But we discontinued the taxicabs two months after the first broadcast," Breneman reminisces. "The requests for tickets began to exceed the accommodations."

When daylight saving time went into effect, they wondered, "Will women be willing to brave the dark on winter mornings to come to the show?" They were. No matter how dark the morning, nor how rainy, there was always a crowd waiting to get in when Sardi's doors opened. Nine months after its first broadcast, the show was bought by the Blue network.

"Considering all the writing and rehearsing that goes into other radio shows, the success enjoyed by this program, with no preparation at all, is amazing," remarks Manager John Masterson.

Uncle Corny's jokes, now written by Vance Colvig, are the only lines prepared in advance. Telling them, Tom Breneman is both himself and "Uncle Corny."

Models Hats

Tom Breneman's modeling of women's hats highlights the hilarity on every program. He borrows the wildest looking piece of feminine headgear in the room, discusses it with its owner and eventually, tries it on, at the angle that will make him look as ridiculous as possible. He prefers hats that are flattest on top because he thinks they make him look the silliest. Almost invariably, he opines, the woman who wears the hat regards it as quite conservative and when he asks to borrow it, gasps, "You don't mean my hat!"

Gag hats, obviously worn to attract his attention, Tom usually ignores. He loves to find an extreme hat on the head of a woman attending the broadcast with her husband. He puts the two of them on the air, asking the head of the family how he likes the hat. "Were you with her when she bought it?" queries Tom. After the husband's vehement denial of his presence and approval, host Tom pursues, "What did you say when she came home with it?" "Do you really want to know?" asks the husband, warningly. And that's when Tom walks off with the microphone and a knowing, "That's all, brother."

Tom finds the women from every part of the country equally good subjects for interview, but the elderly ladies prove the best. "Women seem to lose their self-consciousness and their inhibitions as they grow older," he observes.

A 92-year-old Van Nuys woman was frank to admit she had come to get the orchid which is always given the oldest woman present. She received the orchid. "Do you use Minute-Man Soups?" asked Breneman. She caught on fast. "I certainly do and I'm all out of it." Breneman presented her with a case of the soup. "Do you use Old English polish?" "Yes, I do, and I'm all out of that, too!" She got the polish. Then she smiled up at him impishly and said, "I want to take you home with me, too!"

"You never can tell what kind of an answer you're going to get," Breneman declares. "Some of the replies certainly ought to prove that the show isn't prepared in advance. For example, I asked an elderly lady, 'Do you use Minute-Man Soups?' 'I never eat store-boughten soup,' she replied, emphatically. 'I make the best soup in the world!'"

Not an answer to make the program very popular with the sponsor. But Tom turned it to good advantage by asking the lady a series of questions which brought out the fact that making soup in the old-fashioned way takes a long time and is lots of drudgery.

"Yes"—Women

One morning, Breneman questioned a nice-looking, large gray-haired woman who had eyes as big and black as his own. "Are you a fan of my program?" he asked. "I certainly am." "Do you listen in every morning?" "I certainly do." Then he walked away, and talked to someone else. After a bit he came back. "Do you think I'm a good-looking man?" he inquired. "Yes, I do." "Do you think I'm a good master of ceremonies? Do you think I'm underpaid?" He got an emphatic "Yes," to every question. "You sound like my mother!" observed Tom. "I am your mother," said the subject of the interview. It took a minute or two for the truth to sink in, and then the crowd howled with glee.

Tom's sociable, 74-year-old mother and his petite, vivacious blonde wife are two of his most valued critics. Both listen in regularly, the elder Mrs. Breneman from her home in North Hollywood, the younger from the Tom Brenemans' rambling white, green-shuttered Colonial-type home in Encino. He also gets frequent adwith trick presents and a cake. We girls on the show have lots of fun, but Kay expects us to look 'just so' when we make an appearance. Our dresses must be very feminine, and we get the dickens if Kay spots an uneven hem-line."

"We fellows have to dress just as slick," Sully remonstrated. "Kay looks us over and if our shoes aren't shined or our hankies at the right angle, he sure lets us have it."

"Of course, as you may know, his favorite form of entertainment is ribbing," interposed George. "He can kid you until you don't know what the score is."

Modest Liver

"He's not extravagant," volunteered Sully. "He doesn't baby us. We carry our own instruments and set them up, too. In the extra things, Kay is very generous. But in the every-day matters, he's very practical. Why, he only has a two-room apartment with a kitchenette. It's nice, but it's only two rooms."

"I lived with him for two years when we were on the road," said George. "Kay has a keen sense of smell."

"And two extra eyes," interrupted Sully.

"He has a photogenic mind," continued George. "He's a wonderful leader and after he's heard a song once, he can tell you whether you are playing it right. But you knew, didn't you, that Kay doesn't play any instrument?"

vice from his two fair-haired, blue-eyed youngsters, Tom Jr., 10, and Gloria, 15. It's really professional advice from his wife, for she was audition manager for KFWB when he got his first radio job through her "O. K." back in the '20's after several years in vaudeville singing, dancing, playing the piano and doing dialogue. His radio experience since then, in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York, has ranged from singing, announcing and piano-playing on that first job to managing stations and managing production.

Radio Life asked him, "How do you explain the phenomenal success of 'Breakfast at Sardi's'?"

"It's just people," he replied. "As long as people are interesting, this program should be. It proves that some of the greatest performers on radio are just being themselves."

Strange to say, Tom Breneman, who has modeled so much modish millinery designed for females, rarely wears a hat except when it rains. He told us, "One time a radio station asked for one of my hats for a bond drawing. They wanted to give it as a prize. I had a terrible time finding one, but finally I dug up a battered old light-weight Stetson that was crammed down behind the cushion in the front seat of my car. I hadn't seen it for months and it was so dirty I had to have it dry cleaned!"
