Mrs. Ruth Crum, 6171 St. Albans Street,
Los Angeles 42, Calif.

Sirs: I think Radio Life gets better with every issue. I have wondered so many times what has become of the following people: Al Pearce, Vic and Sade, Parkyakarkus, Chaplain Jim, the Honorable Archie, Scudder, and Watanabe, Shafter Parker, Myrt and Marge, Eb and Zeb. Also G. Allison Phelps who, I believe, broadcasted from his home to the shut-ins.

When will "Death Valley Days" be back on the air? I am asking these questions for myself and for dozens of my friends. Thanks for listening.

P.S. Also, when will "Point Sublime" be back?

Al Pearce has a radio program currently, but it is not at present being carried locally so listeners in this area are unable to hear it. There are as yet no definite plans for the return of "Point Sublime." "Death Valley Days" has been replaced by "Death Valley Sheriff." "Vic and Sade" will likely return, but there is no date scheduled. "Parkyakarkus" is being heard weekly on NBC at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The original "Marge" of "Myrt and Marge" passed away—and we don't seem able to learn the whereabouts of Myrtle "Myrt" Vail at the present time. Perhaps some of our Radio Lifers will know—and also, maybe some of our readers will know more about the other old-timers you mention than we are able to learn from routine sources of information. Hal Berger, who did Shafter Parker, only recently was discharged from service. G. Allison Phelps was recently rumored coming back on the air, but to date, nothing definite.

Gertrude B. McKittrick, 424 North Orange Grove Avenue, Los Angeles 36, Calif.

Sirs: Just read a letter from another Nelson Eddy fan in your issue of July 1. As a new member of the Nelson Eddy fan club, Golden Notes, I agree. Let's have more stories and pictures of Mr. Eddy.

We have taken pictures of him and with him, and he is always patient and kind, even when he is in a hurry.

Hugh B. Birch, Lower Lebang, Yukon, Canada.

Sirs: Again I wish to congratulate you on another grand anniversary issue. I find it difficult to express my appreciation in just words. Believe me, I get quite a "bang" out of the various artists' pictures. Some of them confirm my imaginary ideas of how they look, but a far greater number are so different. However, they all look good to me, and I like all of them.

It might interest you to know that this anniversary issue of Radio Life was dropped in a bag of mail from a plane, detoured from its regular route for this purpose. This is my only mail service during seven winter months other than the odd Indian who may go up or down.

Wishing you another year of success, and an even better anniversary next year. Thanks a million for all the good reading and entertainment you invariably afford me. So long, and cheerio.

Frances W. Shippey, 2530 Ocean View
Avenue, Los Angeles 5, Calif.

Sirs: On Page 3 of your last week's issue, one of your correspondents listed his "most disliked thing in radio," meaning I presume, his most disliked thing in diction,—the "but first" preceding so many commercials.

Monotony and reiteration of a phrase are truly boring, but may I add that my pet aversion is the inevitably slurred two words, "ya see". From otherwise highly trained sophisticates to an occasional rather dubious example of "radio artist", this magic combination of words is supposed to introduce a breath-taking fact that the listener would never "see" unless thus called to his attention. If it weren't such a psittacism, it might be considered an insult to the listener, who doubtless often "sees" fully as clearly as the glib announcer the rather unimportant point he is expounding.

Yours for its abolition, "ya' see?"

Mrs. B. W. Laraway, 774 East 6th Street, Pomona, Calif.

Sirs: On your Sunday page you have "Program Highlights" with Variety, War, Drama, Quiz, Music, etc., etc., but there is nothing at all of Religion. Did it ever occur to you that Christian people make up a large segment of the listening public, and that the Old Fashioned Revival Hour, Dr. Meyer's Lutheran Hour, Percy Crawford's Young People's Church of the Air have millions of listeners who are scattered all over the world? Christian people are coming to a new locale to buy your magazine. They would like these programs "Highlighted" for easy finding. Also people seeking Christian comfort.

We'll make a note of your suggestion. At one time we did log religious programs, but when the paper pinch began to be felt, we discontinued the practice.

Miss Barbara Kersting, 260 South Kingsley Drive, Los Angeles 4, Calif.

Sirs: I want you to know how much our family enjoys Radio Life. Many times we would have missed many of our favorite shows if it hadn't been for your accurate up-to-date lists and special notes.

Incidentally, I'm glad that Robert Mitchell, the organist-pianist and founder of the Boychoir is back with us once more. He was always one of my favorites. I hope he will be back on the airways soon with his organ, piano and his splendid Boychoir. Be sure and let your readers know when Mr. Mitchell does come back on the radio. I, for one, will be waiting for him.

Mrs. May C. Detweiler, 801 Osage Avenue, Inglewood, Calif.

Sirs: I am a regular reader of Radio Life, and was gratified to see the notice of a Radiocast Lecture on Christian Science in the June 24 issue.

Because of this notice, I was able to hear the lecture over the radio and, being a shut-in, it meant much to me.

I like Radio Life. It is interesting, alive, and good clean reading.

Mrs. Roman D. Gray, 129 East Morningside Street, Long Beach 5, Calif.

Sirs: After reading "Radio Life Goes on the Air" by the Staff, I just had to write and tell you how very much we enjoyed the article and the pictures. It was so nice to read all about Editor Evelyn and to see what she looks like, after hearing her on the radio, and after reading wonderful Radio Life for years now. Congratulations to the Staff for a really delightful article. And congratulations to you for the grand job you are doing both in print and on the air!

Is there any way you could get a picture of "Tena" of the "Tena and Tim" broadcasts? I think she is very good, and like the program because it is cheerful and the theme music so comical and gay.

"One Man's Family" is absolutely fascinating these days, and we are so hoping that Paul will find Claudia and Nicky soon. I have heard that Mr. Morse won't use any but the original characters in his story, but even if the original Claudia and Nicky cannot be in this serial any more, please can't we have some one else now? I think, after all this time, that new voices in these parts wouldn't be too hard to take. I wonder what others think about this?

Iris Halsey, 1522 North Fuller Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: I wish to thank you for giving us such interesting write-ups of our favorite characters.

I was happy enough to shout when our beloved "Gospel Singer" returned to the air, and I shall feel the same way when "Vic and Sade" come back. I missed poor old "Rush" when he went into the army, but the new kid, "Russell," was good.

I don't like Death Valley Sheriff as I did Death Valley Days. I stopped listening long ago to "One Man's Family." I like "Guiding Light," but it is very disappointing the way they drop old familiar characters and start out with new ones.

Of all the contest programs, I like "Dr. I.Q." best—the Professor gets right down to business. Can you tell me if there are any psychic programs on the air, and I don't mean Dunninger.

Sorry—we know of none.

William E. Smith, 2268 Fargo Street, Los Angeles 26, Calif.

Sirs: The letter from the San Diego Committee of Fifty which was printed in the July 29 issue has greatly aroused my interest. In my opinion, it was prompted by theory rather than fact, when it accused KFI of cramming conservative commentators down the throat of the radio audience, while many distinguished liberals were silenced.

KFI stated that it dispensed with its own commentators because many of them desired to influence the listener with their own views. Perhaps the station simply became "fed up" as I have been, by some of the KFI commentators who sometimes give way to sarcasm and heckling. Such views can be misleading, but seldom lead to a helpful understanding. Just who are the substituted reactionaries to which the letter referred? There is much to be said for and against the new policy, but it is difficult to find facts that the station is being impartial in any way.

Mrs. I. Reenders, 3491 Amethyst Street, Los Angeles 32, Calif.

I have enjoyed reading your fine little magazine from the day of its birth till now. There's always something interesting to read and to see. But there is one personality I feel sure that you have overlooked. (At least I've failed to see anything about him). That is that old-timer Early Riser (I'd say early morning tonic) the friend of thousands—I mean Doug Douglas. I would like to see a write-up in your magazine about him, and I believe lots of others would too!

If our readers so request, we'll be pleased to oblige.

P. Dusserre, Burbank, Calif.

Sirs: Please give us some pictures of the people who play the Fosters on the "Date with Judy" show. I would also like to see pictures of the "Corliss Archer" show.

See issue of July 29 for the "Foster Family," of "A Date With Judy"; issue of May 29 for feature on Janet Waldo, who plays "Corliss Archer", and issue of June 10 for story on Irene Tedrow who plays "Mrs. Archer". These are merely the latest articles we've done on the two programs you name. Sorry if you've missed them!

Virginia P. Heingelman, 2446 Echo Park Blvd., Los Angeles 26, Calif.

Sirs: Since you seem to be able to give information on all the programs: What goes with "The Younger Generation?"—Carlton Morse's "new" series on KFI. It is just "One Man's Family!" Same characters, and I

Two Guys

who was six could hold his own with guys a lot older. In fact, because of this singular accomplishment, he acquired the name of "Tuffy." It wasn't just the fact that little Norris Goff could stand up and 'fisticuff' with kids much older than himself that made ten-year-old Chet Lauck like him. No, it was much deeper than that.

When it came to games—baseball and the like—Tuffy could hit, run and field right along with Chet and Chet liked that. When they went fishing together, Chet would always pull in a good sized bass—but so did Tuffy. In school, their grades were about on a par and while neither set the world on fire when it came to book larnin', they did as well as the next student.

Inseparable

In the summer, Chet and Tuffy would head for the bend in the river and a cool afternoon swimming or

▲ "BUT, THERE'S WORK to be done," says Chet Lauck (Lum) as Norris "Tuffy" Goff (Abner) sets out for the golf course. "But, not mine," smugly smiles Tuffy, and away he goes.

ABC-Blue, beginning Sept. 3

SOME years ago in a little town down in Arkansas—Mena to be more specific—there were two guys. I don't suppose you would refer to them as guys, on account of their ages were somewhat tender. One was ten at the time—the other was six. At that age, a man who is ten isn't always too friendly with a child of six.

Well, strangely enough, the fellow

▼ IT'S NOT ALL WORK on that 143,000 acre ranch in Nevada. Lauck gets a chance to try his marksmanship now and then. (Someone should warn those ducks lazily swimming about).

▼ HOWEVER, THERE IS PLENTY to be done, and Lauck isn't the fellow to shirk his chores. At that, he finds it fun to wield this hefty mechanical monster.

▼ WHEN RANCHER LAUCK goes to the Helldorado celebration in Las Vegas, he goes first-class. His silver mounted outfit is one of the finest in the west and the horse is a thoroughbred.

In Radio, They See Eye to Eye, but Away From the Mike, Their Interests Differ and Neither Wants to Live the Other's Life

just a cool afternoon. But whatever they did, they did it together.

Grammar school, high school and then college—Tuffy was two years behind Chet, but of course they both attended the University of Arkansas. They both pledged and joined Sigma Chi. Eventually, they graduated, returned to Mena and married two girls who had been their boyhood sweethearts.

Sounds like story-book stuff? Well, it's that and more. Both Chet and Tuffy tried their hands at various types of businesses. Chet went into advertising and later into automobile financing. Tuffy's father suggested strongly he follow in papa's footsteps in the grocery business. Which might have been the end of our story except the boys volunteered to do a benefit show and greasepaint got in their eyes.

The first act was a black-face comedy routine, which later gave way to an act built around people and places and situations which they had known and loved in Arkansas. Their ability to ad lib—their perfect timing in working out a routine, attracted the attention of a local radio station and so, inadvertently, were born "Lum and Abner."

Never Lost for Words

It is phenomenal to people who know show business and show people to see how these two guys work. It is not unusual, during their program on the American Broadcasting Company network, for one or the other to throw in suddenly an ad lib intended to set the other casting about for an answer. The answer is always there—and in character. Neither Chet nor Tuffy is ever at a loss for words when they are down in "Pine Ridge." I guess when you think and act alike—live and work alike—for so many years, you get that way.

But for two men who think so much alike as do Lum and Abner, I mean Chet and Tuffy, two men whose life work has been a parallel without equal in show business, to discover that in reality their outside interests can be widely divergent is somewhat of a surprise. And yet, such is the case outside the radio studio or the motion picture set.

While Chet was always the business man—concerned with being a capable manager, Tuffy on the other hand seemed to lean more and more toward someone you'd expect to find playing hookie from the office. And now that they've achieved success and security, they can do pretty much as they please. They can express their personalities in the way they've always wanted to do.

What has happened? Well, Chet owns and personally manages a 143,000 acre cattle ranch in Nevada. In Arizona, he has a large potato farm and a gold mine. In Kern County near Bakersfield he has a very large dairy farm, and don't be surprised if you find several horses running at ➡ NORRIS "TUFFY" GOFF loves to fish and although he doesn't have the opportunity these days to wet a line, he does keep his equipment in tip top shape just waiting for the day when he can hop in his station wagon and head for that trout stream. "Gig," his Boxer Bull, seems to be resting up for that trip, too.

WITH LITERALLY ACRES of lawn about his Encino ranch home, "Tuffy" Goff gets plenty of opportunity to practice putting without leaving his "fire-side."

➡ THAT'S "ISABEL" ON THE left, who in addition to being camera shy, is giving "Tuffy" no little trouble when it comes to putting a halter on her. "Tuffy" has three mares in addition to "Isabel" on his Encino ranch.

▲ THE KIND OF HUMOR our fighting men like is the kind that emcee Bill Gargan and songstress Martha Mears bring to the CBS microphone each Wednesday night. Gags used on the show are sent in by servicemen and women who receive a twenty-five dollar war bond piece in return.

"G. I. LAFFS"

An Airshow for and by Our Men and Women in Uniform, and Emceed by Likeable Bill Gargan

Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.
CBS-KNX

GIRL: Can you tell me where I can find the quartermaster?

Man: I'm in charge here.

Girl: You must have a very interesting job. Is it true you supply soldiers?

Man: That's right, lady.

Girl: Well, supply me with one! The foregoing is a sample of humor on the new "G.I. Laffs" show.

"G.I. Laffs" was born in Cairo, Egypt, in March of 1944 when, during an overseas entertainment tour, Bill Gargan had a chance encounter with an old friend, Charles Vanda, CBS producer. Vanda told the actor of his idea for a radio program of comedy garnered strictly from G.I.'s. He wanted Bill to be emcee.

Today, some seventeen months later, "G.I. Laffs" has been a reality for a number of weeks; grinning G.I.s the world over regularly write in an inexhaustible fund of their favorite humor; and Bill Gargan is the show's beaming master of hilarity.

10,000 Gags Received

Over a tasty plate of giant fried sflrimp at the Brown Derby, Bill Gargan talked enthusiastically about the new program. The busy screen and radio actor was spending a hurried lunch hour away from the motion picture camera, sporting a handsome coat of movie makeup and a small trim mustache for his current film role as a scientist in "You'll Remember Me."

"All the jokes on 'G.I. Laffs' are sent in to us by service men and women," he informed us. "Jokes mailed in by civilians are sent back to them." At this writing, some ten thousand G.I. gags have been received by Gargan and his program cohorts—Producer Vanda, Director Arthur Q. Bryan (well-known air actor), writers Virginia Wright and Charles Stewart (who put the contributions into script form), songstress Martha Mears and batoneer Ivan Ditmar. Besides the above, the show features weekly a guest comedian—funsters such as Billy Gilbert, Sam Levene and the aforementioned Arthur Q.

Each contributor whose material is used on the show receives a twenty-five dollar war bond. An estimated total of five hundred dollars is given away each week.

Post-War Hopes

Bill Gargan looks for the show to continue, even after the war is finished. "It will be needed then as much as ever. We will have a vast standing Army, in addition to the millions of men in service hospitals."

Gargan greatly enjoys radio and intends to increase his activities on the ether waves. Radio-dialers will recall his former air stints—among them, the "Hollywood on the Air" series back in 1932, and his guest emceeing chores on "Which is Which" a few months ago.

Gargan is the son of a detective and a schoolteacher. Before he entered the theater, Bill also worked as a detective. While in high school, however, he was always playing "hookey" to see a show, and it wasn't long after his graduation that he made his debut on the stage, in the role of a Tahitian native. Soon after came featured parts in "Laugh That Off" and "Out of the Blue Sky" and the Red Reagen role in "Animal Kingdom."

Stage success brought him to Hollywood, where his first film role was in "Rain" with Joan Crawford and Walter Huston. Last year, the actor made a 50,000-mile USO trip to the China-Burma-India front with Paul-ette Goddard and Keenan Wynn.

Gargan has been married for more than a decade. His wife's name is Mary and they have two sons. Their home is in Beverly Hills, and they also own a 60-acre ranch in the valley, where Bill supervises the raising of cattle and hogs. He is an excellent horseman, calls horses his hobby, consults the scratch-sheet every morning, likes to play gin-rummy in the evening.

But every Wednesday night now finds him at a CBS microphone delivering laughs to the G.I.s who deliver the gags to him.

Gargan: "You know, folks, it's great to watch the way of these guys with their gals. Boy, oh boy, those military maneuvers! You know—a soldier will follow a girl until she drops her handkerchief. A marine will follow a girl until she drops her glove. But a sailor will follow a girl until she drops!"

FLASH
4PFR

The teletype machine, spitting forth its endless streams of yellow paper, blackened with letters that form words which spell out the destiny of the world and its assorted inhabitants, at last—on August 14, 1945, at four p.m., PWT—belched out the bulletin that made "Peace!" a part of our vocabulary again. At the very instant this "benevolent slot-machine" (as termed by Orson Welles) paid off, the allied peoples in every crowded or forsaken nook of God's green earth, thanks to the man-made miracle of radio, were together in their hour of greatest triumph.

In Hollywood, as all around the globe during the long, tense days and nights that preceded the historic flash, radio's newsmen bent sweating foreheads over the tickertape, puffed wearily on cigarette after cigarette, hastily downed coffee and cold sandwiches, and talked endlessly into the microphones that, since the outbreak of this second vast world conflict, had kept the people ceaselessly informed of this, "the people's war."

NBC Coverage

NBC preceded the flash by two hours with a broadcast by Max Jordan from Berne, Switzerland, disclosing the forthcoming announcement of the enemy's reply, and, having established direct telephonic communication with the nation's capital, the National Broadcasting Company scored a scoop with its initial airing of the good word. On the alert in Hollywood's newsroom were Joe Alvin, NBC's Pacific coast director of news and special events, and his capable staff of newsmen headed by chief of operations, Bill Ratigan. Alvin commended the network's eastern news staff for the job they had done in bringing about the scoop, naming in particular the aforementioned Mr. Jordan; Morgan Beatty and Ralph Howard Peterson who were on the job at the White House; Bill McAndrew, NBC's Washington manager; and Ed Schneider, its night operations man in New York.

A hold-for-release story of radar, a word heretofore banned from the air-planes, was presented to NBC-dialers Tuesday evening. Aired at 9:30 p.m., this special program featured the flight of a B-17, flying blind save for radar equipment. Starting from the vicinity of Santa Barbara, its destination was the sky above Hollywood's Radio City, Sunset and Vine, scheduled to be reached before the program's end at 9:55. Radar experts took part in the broadcast, and the voices of newsmen David Anderson, John Storm and Frank Barton were heard on remote pick-ups from the plane and from a Navy destroyer off the coast of California.

Just a half-hour after the flash had come over the wire, we found NBC's newsroom restored to an atmosphere of comparative quiet, each man fulfilling his particular assignment with calm efficiency. News analyst Fleetwood Lawton was clipping and sorting out the latest bulletins to come off the tickertape, in preparation for his evening program. He fingered through the releases in his hand, smilingly displayed the one reading "WAR ENDS," and remarked, "I'm going to frame it."

CBS on Job

The CBS-Hollywood News Bureau, under the direction of Chet Huntley, aided by Ben Hardman, Clint Jones and Marion Murray, kept a twenty-four hour vigil at teletypes and microphones throughout each of the four chaotic days and nights which preceded the acceptance by Japan of the Allied peace terms.

In addition to the widest possible news coverage, emanating from all CBS bureaus in the United States and from correspondents overseas, Columbia devoted its air-time Tuesday evening to the presentation of special documentary broadcasts, discussion programs, messages from outstanding world leaders and a special prayer service representing the three major faiths.

Highlight of the CBS schedule of special shows was "Fourteen August," a fifteen-minute broadcast, written, produced and directed by etherdom's wonder-boy, Norman Corwin (he who did V-E day's "On a Note of Triumph"), and narrated by his fellow genius, Orson Welles.

These stirring words opened the program:

"This day is the father of great anniversaries.

Men and saints shall picnic together on fourteen August down more years than you or I shall see.

So say it tonight with saluting guns, say it with roses, say it with a handclap, a drink, a prayer, say it any way you want, But say it, say it!"

ABC Alert

ABC was geared, from the moment of the first flash of the Japanese surrender offer, to bring to its listeners its own up-to-the-minute, comprehensive coverage of the fast-moving events. Since Friday morning, the date of the first flash, original schedules for the network were scrapped. Special programs, featuring expert commentators and authorities on the international scene, were drawn up and aired to the tense, waiting world. These special programs, designed to cover all phases of the foreign picture, were planned by Robert E. Kintner, vice-president of ABC; Richard L. Tobin, director of news, and Thomas Velotta, in charge of special features for the network.

ABC's Tuesday evening program schedule was highlighted by a special program from Hollywood featuring Louella Parsons, Cary Grant and Bebe Daniels.

Mutual on Spot

Mutual had established a direct telephonic connection with Washington to enable an instantaneous airing of the "Peace" flash as soon as President Truman made the announcement. Tom Slater broadcast the bulletin at his New York microphone. Mutual's crowded lineup of special programs, newscasts and commentaries that followed included a man-on-the-street broadcast from Hollywood Boulevard. Mischa Pelz, remote engineer, drove on the wrong side of the street in his frantic effort to get through traffic hazards to reach the program's point of origination. Once there, Pelz and mikeman Michael Dolan had their hands full keeping their equipment out of reach of the surging celebrating crowds.

The four major networks were not

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians, who are in Hollywood to make a picture for MGM, have picked more song hits and introduced more song hits on the air than any bandleader in history. In 1944, he introduced ten of the twenty most popular songs of the year. The youngest (and prettiest) of the Lombardo clan, 19-year-old Rosemarie, accompanied her brothers to Hollywood, where she assists them in creating "the sweetest music this side of heaven."

SUNDAY NOTES . . . Charlotte Greenwood, whose trials and tribulations in acting as foster-mother to those lovable young Bartons, furnishes an entertaining spot on your Sunday afternoon dial (KECA at 2:30), ends each program in a thoughtful mood. She reads an original poem, with such warmth and sincerity, that she's now having to have them copied to supply the requests made by her fans . . . Those junior mental marvels (with apologies to Dunninger), the Quiz Kids, are sticklers for fairness. Recently they arrived at the studio early for a rehearsal, and a production man, unaware of their presence, called out the title of a song to be used in a question. It was too late then to change the selection and on the show the "Quiz Kids" refused to answer the question. "It wouldn't have been fair," commented the small fry savants. The "Quiz Kids" are on KECA every Sunday night at 8:30. . . . Curt Massey, who co-stars with Carol Bruce on the N-K Ranch show Sunday afternoons at 1:30, is one of radio's most versatile singers. He baritones Cole Porter's sophisticated ditties and songs reflecting the rangeland with equal ease.

Always thought you'd like to attend one of those lively "America's Town Meeting" sessions? Well, Southlanders, now is your opportunity to do just that! That famous forum on current problems will be held in the Pasadena Civic Auditorium on August 30, and in Los Angeles' Philharmonic Auditorium on September 6. Write to KECA, 1440 N. Highland Avenue, Hollywood 28, for your free tickets. Be sure to specify which "Meeting" you wish to attend!

.. All Day .. Every Day .. KECA ..

MUSIC DEPARTMENT . . . There are big things in store for the KECA-American audience this fall! That famed "Gilbert and Sullivan Festival" is now in progress on KECA, Saturdays at 5:30 p. m. Eminent symphonic conductor, Alfred Wallenstein, has been named music director of the American Broadcasting Company, with Paul Whiteman as director of popular music for the network. Basil Adlam becomes American's Hollywood musical director on Sept. 15. All these events portend more and better music, both in the serious music and popular fields, for KECA's listeners.

RADIO WEST

Southern California's only source of radio coverage of the big news. The area's independent stations were equally efficient in their tireless vigil and expert reporting. Rene Bozarth did his usual capable job for KGFI. KMPC brought the bulletin to its listeners immediately followed by fifteen minutes of further reports, then a half-hour news roundup by the editorial staff of the Los Angeles Times, aired from the newspaper's downtown offices. KMPC's schedule also included speeches by the mayor, the chief of police and Dick Hood of the FBI; a man-on-the-street broadcast of people's reactions, handled by Hal Hodge; and interviews with servicemen and their families at the Union Depot, with Keith Hetherington and Tony Periera at the microphone. Kudos too, to KMPC's other efficient mikemen who were on the job, including Dave Roberts, Harry Patterson, Charles Stone and John Baird.

KFWB's Vigil

KFWB's alert program director, Bill Ray, set up housekeeping at his desk on the Thursday that brought the world the first definite indication that the Japs were ready to quit. Ray stayed at his job, day and night, from that Thursday until the following Wednesday morning, grabbing only quick cat-naps on a studio couch. Working overtime with him, to keep a constant vigil over the teletype machines, were the members of his staff—among them assistant program director, Al Gordon; secretary Kay Tillman, Reuter's editor Joe Roos; Reuters London reporter, Serge Flegers; technicians

TIME CHANGE

Beginning August 25, "Melodies America Loves"—the weekly radio concert of the Inglewood Park Cemetery Association—will be heard over KNX on Saturdays from 7:15 to 7:45 p.m. These programs were formerly broadcast each Sunday at 5 p.m.

The concert on Saturday, August 25, will feature the Inglewood Park Quartet and Concert Orchestra, conducted by Earl Towner.

Bill Lawrence, producer of Columbia's "Screen Guild Players," is probably the only radio producer who is a bona-fide member of the American Society of Magicians.

Radio Roundup from KFI

As summer manager of the "Village Store" (KFI Fri. 9:30) JACK HALEY gives out with a brand of fun and comedy that anybody can enjoy. But behind all the hilarity that he creates on the air today there's a personal story that bears repeating.

The comedian began as an apprentice electrician in a navy yard in his home town of Boston only to realize that the thing he wanted most to be in the world was an actor. He took himself to New York and experienced the usual disappointments that befall the "star struck" before his break came as a vaudeville entertainer. Once established in this field, the Haley act found a booking in the vaudevillians' "end of the rainbow"—the Palace Theatre in New York! A successful appearance there gave Jack a chance to try for the legitimate theater and the result is now a matter of history in show business. He had the lead in such top shows as: "Good News," "Follow Through" and played beside George Jessel in "Show Time." Haley came to Hollywood from New York to join the cast of NBC's "Village Store" and readily admits that he is here to stay. Okey by us, Jack, and we mean it!

INTERESTING CHILDREN: Pretty dark-haired Elaine Kent who plays Joan Mears in the serial, "BACK-STAGE WIFE" (KFI Mon.-Fri. at 1:00 p.m.) is a member of a highly-talented family. Her sister, Priscilla Kent, is a successful script writer and a brother Leonard sang on the air before joining the service. The payoff is that there is no theatrical background to their family. In the little spare time that Elaine has, she tends a victory garden planted on the small terrace outside her New York apartment wherein the onions, chives, radishes and morning glories are flourishing.

Hal Burdick of "NIGHT EDITOR" heard over KFI on Friday evenings at 9:00 has been on the air for eleven years with his one-man show. He is author, producer and star with the only supporting actor in the series being Bobby, the young City Desk errand boy who listens to Hal's fabulous tales with open mouth. So well does Mr. Burdick tell his stories that few of the members in his vast audience are aware that it is a story to which they are listening and not a dramatization with a moderate-sized cast.

Mike Schroedermeyer, Cal Applegate and Eddie Ruggles; mikeman Harry Hall, Joe Yocum, John Dehner and Dave Ormont, and news analyst Peter deLima. Further aiding in keeping the KFWB microphones alive with the latest news flashes and provocative commentary were Sam Balter, John B. Hughes and Lou Marcelle.

KFWB also boasted two of the most glamorous "copy-boys" in the history of any newsroom. Marlene Dietrich was at the station, running news bulletins (in her stocking feet) from teletype to microphone, from eleven p.m. on Monday until five o'clock Tuesday evening. When the long-looked-for flash finally came over the ticker-tape, Miss Dietrich (who just recently returned under doctor's orders after long months spent entertaining troops abroad) cried openly, wrung her hands nervously together, repeated the news to herself over and over again with stunned incredulity. Working with the beautiful Marlene in the KFWB newsroom through the suspense-filled seconds of Monday night and Tuesday morning were two more of filmdom's glamorous citizens, Rita Hayworth and her distinguished husband, Orson Welles. With flaming-haired Rita as his "copy-boy," Welles read news bulletins for the benefit of the station's night-dialers.

At one point, he reported, "This machine (the teletype) is stuttering again, which it has a habit of doing at the most crucial moments. It is now stuck on the letter 'P', which could mean anything—Peace, Pacific or Pooh!"

Traffic Jam

In the midst of the happy, hectic hysteria that followed Tuesday's announcement of peace, people didn't cease to be people. Not when there was a traffic jam in the middle of Vine street and in the middle of the traffic jam sat Frank Sinatra.

Grinning, Frank calmly signed the hundreds of papers thrust in his face and shook hands with many more servicemen. "Isn't it wonderful, Frankie," squealed bobby-soxers climbing in, out and through the Voice's green Cadillac convertible. "Wonderful," agreed Sinatra. "Hey, he's not so bad," commented a group of Marines watching the whole procedure.

RADIO WEST

Overhearing them, the singer grinned even more broadly and bowed ceremoniously to them. Moving forward with a surge of traffic, Sinatra left a desolate group of teen-age girls looking wistfully after him until, again, they were caught up in the riotous celebration and promptly forgot everything else but the wonderful occasion they were cheering.

Television Class

Television is being added to the curriculum of the University of California Extension, according to its class organizer, Miss Margaret Wotton. With Cameron Pierce, electronic and radio engineer of the General Electric Company, as instructor, the course will open September 14 at the Extension Center, 813 South Hill Street in downtown Los Angeles. Enrollment is open to all persons interested, and a University Extension bulletin may be obtained by addressing the Hill Street center.

Topics to be studied in the television class include television background, principles of optics, television cameras and theater-projection television.

First Comes Courage

When Vox Pop visited the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, the high courage and good humor of the American wounded heroes was emphasized by Marine PFC George Durand, who was blinded on Iwo Jima. Rendering this ditty "composed" by himself and his ward buddies, he not only kidded the night medical corpsman but amused the audience as well:

Penicillin hits the spot,
Four CC's is quite a lot,
Twice as much in the needle, too,
Penicillin is the drug for you, Ouch!

Realistic

Last week's "Suspense" star, Lloyd Nolan was in deadly earnest compared to everyone else's facetiousness. Nolan, looking very trim and handsome with his prematurely gray hair, took his radio rehearsal seriously in contrast to the "Suspense" regulars, who happily joked among themselves.

Fighting a heavy cold and cough made Nolan doubly nervous before the mike. Turning in an A-1 performance, the star sat down to relax and laugh heartily at the pranks of the supporting cast.

In delivering the closing commercial, Truman Bradley stated that the program was sponsored by Roma Wines, made in California—not "for enjoyment throughout the world"—but for enjoyment throughout Nevada.

KMTR COVERAGE

Six members of the KMTR staff worked a 36-hour shift beginning Monday morning, August 13 and ending Tuesday evening, August 14, to give listeners a complete coverage of world events. Included were Dustin Rhodes, Jim Strain, Bob McLoughlin, Graham Alexander, Ed Hargrove and Al Warner. Filling in with pertinent comment on the development of the news were K. Louis Flatau and Averill Behrman.

"War Time Speeches" dating back to August 1, 1939 were compiled into an hour and half program and heard on August 15. Voices heard were those of the late President Roosevelt, King George, Hitler, Churchill, and President Truman. This program will be heard again on official V-J Day.

KGFJ VIEWS WAR'S END

Independent coverage of the capitulation of Japan was highlighted in the public service record of KGFJ. This station was alerted Thursday afternoon, August 9 by news analyst Rene Bozarth who predicted Japan's surrender 64 hours after Russia's entry into the war. Newscaster David Ballard handled the spot bulletins and was assisted by announcers Ray Bohannon, Lou Place, Kyle Thomas and Bill Reynolds.

it is bringing about. For instance, take this one.

Charlie Hathaway, musical conductor for "Hollywood Mystery Time," is a plenty worried guy these days. Whenever he has had a sore throat in the past, "Chuck" has had a sure cure for same. Now, he's afraid to use it.

When asked why, he explained that whenever the old throat acted up, he merely used a spray to soothe it. But, because of recent developments, he's taking no chances.

Says Conductor Hathaway, "Who wants to get so close to an ATOMIZER?"

"Likewise, I'm Sure"

By Betty Mills

Thursday, 8:30 p.m.
CBS-KNY

WHILE chatting with Ann Sothern in her gorgeous Beverly Hills home about the radiozation of "Maisie", Radio Life discovered Miss Sothern isn't really like Maisie at all.

Whereas Maisie usually appears on the silver screen decked out in the frilliest of frills and loudest of colors, Miss Sothern appeared daintily cool in a stiffly starched white pinafore. While Maisie chatters somewhat unintelligently about anything, Ann knows what she is talking about and doesn't mince words. But there is the same soft, pleasing femininity about both of them. And if you closed your eyes and listened to Ann's voice you might think you were listening to a well-educated version of Maisie.

We learned, too, that Ann doesn't share Maisie's enthusiasm for poking her cute, up-turned nose into everybody else's business. Ann is more reserved and far harder to know than the galavanting Miss Revere. And we soon realized that Ann's mind, unlike Maisie's, was centered on the activities of the man of the house, Lieutenant Bob Sterling. It was one of those heavenly afternoons and Bob had a one day pass from the army. So naturally, while Ann bent an attentive ear our way, she was also greatly aware of Bob's putterings in the garden.

Turnabout

But we weren't at all surprised to find that Ann admires radio. And since turnabout is fair play, radio greatly admires Ann.

Producer Tony Stanford of the "Maisie" ether series hands verbal bouquets to his pretty star on every occasion. While radio is an entirely new medium with which to work, she handles herself like a veteran. She remains calm, cool and very collected. Asked if she were nervous she smiled and answered that she was apprehensive, especially on her debut appearance. She thought nobody laughed—which, of course, was only a figment of her imagination. It seems Maisie has come to the air with as much gusto as she created in her initial flicker screening seven years ago.

Ann, who operates on hunches, feels that perhaps her radio career will be charmed. Her aforementioned home once belonged to the late Danny Danker, radio light of a prominent agency.

Ann also operates on decisiveness! Here is a gal who knows what she wants and never messes with "Mr. In-Between." The number-one thing in her life is seven-month-old Patricia Ann (Titia to her parents). For Titia, Ann plans an extensive education and then it's up to the young lady. Mama Sothern hopes the youngster will be musically inclined, which looks like a pretty good bet with both Mom's and Pop's whizzes at the piano.

Number-two item (conversationally speaking) is husband Bob Sterling. As you remember, Bob was quite a star in his own right before his induction into the army three years ago. Now as a member of the Armed Forces, Lieutenant Sterling frowns upon publicity of any kind. Whereupon, loyal wife, Ann makes it known that the subject is pretty much taboo. When questioned about Bob's life in the service, her pretty face becomes an inscrutable blank and you almost expect her to reply, "Bob, Bob who?"

Number-three item, her career, is pretty well set and presents no problem. Under contract for the next five years to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer (and the same number of years with her radio sponsor) Ann is just getting back into the swing of acting since the birth of Titia. A new "Maisie" comedy is in the offing, to be followed by one a year.

Is Energetic Planner

She has plans for a wonderful post-war home. She intends adding to her fine collection of contemporary American paintings, including the works of Paul Clemmens, Hobson

LOOK AT THEM NOW!

THIS IMPRESSIVE ASSEMBLAGE of gifted musicians started out as an enthusiastic little group of hometown boys who gathered together for jam-sessions (it was jazz in those days) in the parlor of Fred Waring's family home in Tyrone, Pennsylvania.

From a Group of College Boys Grew The Pennsylvanians; Still Growing. They Maintain the Same Spirit That Brought Them National Prominence

Monday through Fridays, 8 a.m.
NBC-KFI

BACK in mother Jessie Waring's parlor in Tyrone, Pa., Fred Waring and his brother, Tom, and several other local lads organized the band that has become an American institution—the Pennsylvanians.

Brother Tom is still with Fred, and the Waring organization now occupies two floors of a Broadway office building, but the same spirit that brought the Waring group into national prominence is still evident throughout the tremendous musical group that has recently instituted another unusual musical innovation on NBC—the presentation of a night-time-quality radio show five mornings a week.

Always on the lookout for promising talent, Fred assembled a bunch of college boys into the original Pennsylvanians. That was when he was studying architecture at Penn State. Some of his present group were among that first professional Waring band. Poley McClintock, recently having entered the hospital for treatment of a stomach ailment, held the record for longest service, more than twenty-five years. There are fourteen others who have been with Waring more than ten years—a rare thing in the music business where a musician is considered a veteran if he stays with a band for six months.

Prolific Song Writer

Fred, who labeled his band the Pennsylvanians in honor of his alma mater, has a nostalgia for college life. He's found outlet for some of this pent-up collegiate emotion by writing "fight" and "alma mater" songs for ninety-six colleges and universities. Since Pearl Harbor he has found time to write songs for many special branches of the armed forces—fourteen in all.

He has always been a fighter for his musical principles. When he was trying to break into commercial radio in the early 1930's, Fred refused twenty-eight different radio offers because the contracts didn't include the Glee Club. The twenty-ninth offer did and Fred accepted. Now, choral singing has become standard in radio.

At rehearsals, Fred is the boss, but five minutes later, sweating it out in a table tennis game, he is one of the boys. Although he is a rugged individualist in his musical theories and drives people hard, the results have justified his approach. When the Pennsylvanians do a song, you have the feeling that you are hearing the ultimate in arranging and performance.

Extra Member

The Glee Club boasts a member who really isn't a member. Many people suspect Fred of an ulterior motive for his purchase and operation of the Shawnee Country Club and the Shawnee Inn. Fred, who helped re-finance the resort, acquired the services of Mel Smith, famed golf "pro" in the deal. The rumor is that Fred had to buy the resort to get Smith as his golf instructor—Smith ▼ "POLEY" McCLINTOCK, drummer-comic of the Waring aggregation, is one of the orchestra's first members. He recently bowed out to enter the hospital for treatment of a stomach ailment.

▼ MAESTRO FRED is a handy man in the kitchen, having promoted the manufacture of several household appliances including the Waring Blendor and a new quick-heating iron. Besides which, the man likes to eat.

▲ SULTRY SONGSTRESS, NBC's Dinah Shore, is another of those named as radio's most fashion-wise. She wears here a summer print of white crepe with red firecrackers popping across the fabric. The frock, designed by Edna Vilm, has a Chinese collar and peplum.

Seen on the Radio Scene

▼ FUNSTER GRACIE ALLEN goes serious to display the flair for fashion that resulted in her being named among radio's best-dressed femme stars. She is wearing a smooth black crepe cocktail frock with draped skirt, and "Peeking" double-diamond neckline designed by Jean Carol.

▼ PRETTY HARRIET HILLIARD was chosen as the perfect evening dress type and here models a Victorian plaid taffeta gown designed by Jean Carol of California. Note the American Beauty rose peeking wickedly out from the gay little bustle.

Pettman and Arron Bohrad. She is in the midst of planting a garden. She is training Bob to tell the flowers from the weeds so that in the future he won't undo all of the good she did.

She hasn't had time to sew for herself lately, but can hardly wait to tackle a pinafore or two for Titia. (Her specialties are pinafores—no wonder, she looks like a dream in them.) She professes no talent for housekeeping, yet, on the other hand, is a home-body at heart. She loves entertaining in her spacious house.

She and Bob have become amateur photographers since the birth of Titia. But they have a silent pact between them not to bore the day-lights out of everybody by showing off their latest efforts. (Each suspects the other is cheating on the side). Ann has had both Bob's and her best motion pictures cut down to 16 m.m. to save for Titia. She also compiles a scrapbook for her daughter.

She wants at least one more baby and if her hunch is correct, she'll have another daughter. (She was sure Titia was going to be a boy). She is thrilled over a forthcoming picture concerning the adventures of the first newspaper woman. She has an original drawing of herself as "Maisie" by Paul Clemmens and another which we mistakenly thought was Lucille Ball. (It did look like Lucille Ball).

She frankly wonders what working in pictures and on radio, plus holding down the jobs of a wife and mother will do to her. She was terribly thrilled over the surprise party Bob planned and gave her after her first broadcast. And wistfully wishes that every broadcast would warrant a surprise party. But at any rate, she tremendously admires radio. And needless to say, the feeling is mutual.

Santa Anita from the Lauck stables. He's a business man through and through and having the time of his life. Of course, such a schedule does have certain obligations, and these he shoulders despite the inroads they make on his time and energies.

Home Body

What about Tuffy? Well, he likes to putter around the house and visit with the neighbors. He likes golf and fishing and hunting—provided they don't take him too far away from home. While Chet must spend his spare time traveling to Nevada, or to Arizona, or up to the dairy farm, Tuffy can relax in the sunshine at his Encino ranch in the San Fernando valley, and without moving a muscle—or hardly a bicep—tell if his live stock, which consists of a flock of turkeys, a cow and some chickens—is being cared for properly. Unlike many of the characters he portrays on the air, Tuffy relaxes and lets life go merrily down the road.

is now considered one of the Pennsylvanians.

Fred Waring has seen his fraternity band grow into a big business—a creator and trainer of choral groups, a music publishing firm, a promoter of civic music and counselor to schools and colleges on their musical problems.

think the same first episode as the Family twelve years ago, with the names and locale changed. Does this mean that the Family is to be dropped, and that the new series will start the cycle all over again? If not the new show should go. The memory of his audience is not so short as Mr. Morse may think. Tonight's script, timely twelve years ago, sounded sadly dated.

Carolyn Ross, 5533 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: Your magazine is a "must" in our home, but there is a program on the air that we, and many others, think is tops that you have overlooked. We think it has everything that makes good entertainment and would like to see an article in Radio Life about it. It's called "The Curfew Club," and is on the air every night on KFI. From midnight to 1 a. m. it's on with the best recordings and a young girl who m.c.'s, sings and chatters with the announcer. She has a wonderful personality, and the show is tops. Why not listen in and see if you think I'm right. It's worth some plugging.

Mrs. O. Couture, 15915 Ventura Blvd., Encino, Calif.

Sirs: A humble, but very enthusiastic, thank you for the story about Evelyn Bigsby.

A lot is being said pro and con about the many programs, but I would like to mention something about the sponsors who are doing so much for our service men and women. To name a few: Bromo-Seltzer, Hind's, Dr. Pepper, Camels, Ivory Soap, Kellogg's and so many others who see to it that the boys and girls get so many things—including cash. I think they should be given recognition. They are doing their part.

Bob Jellison, 11580 Bliz Street, North Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: This is a belated but sincere thank you for the pieces you did about me in your issue of June 17.

You made it all sound so interesting that even I've read it—oh—fifteen, or twenty times.

My thanks again to all concerned.

Mrs. Lyle E. Parsons, 765 South Irolo St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: My favorite shows (guess you could call them the spook ones) are "Topper," "Boston Blackie," "Counterspy," "Thin Man," "Mr. and Mrs. North," "Falcon," etc.

Sure enough, I like GOOD music, but the popular "stuff" of today is a waste of time.

I for one wish that "Young Doctor Malone" could have the original players. Then it was swell.

I heard Knox Manning on the air the other eve and had to drop him a card of welcome home. He's the best, for my money.

Robert D. Oventile, 537 East Avenue 28, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I'd like to tell you what I think of some of the radio programs. As for those soap operas, I tune in just to get a laugh at those unreal, slow-moving sad stories.

My favorite program is "It Pays to be Ignorant". I think that its jokes rate way above most other top comedy programs. Another of my favorites is "Hires Icebox Follies" starring Niles and Prindle. I have attended their broadcast many times, and I urge everyone to listen to them. I would like to see a write-up on one of these programs or the personalities, especially Niles and Prindle.

Did you see August 12 Radio Life, with Niles-Prindle layout? Sorry, too. If you've missed our previous features on Wen and Ken, and the "It Pays to Be Ignorant" crew.

Ernie Treece, 272 North Los Robles Avenue, Pasadena 4, Calif.

Sirs: Wish you would give a write-up on the Rexall Ray Bolger Show in Radio Life. I think it's the best program on the air.

I'm glad I discovered Radio Life on the grocer's counter. I enjoy it very much.

Radio Life carried a Ray Bolger story July 1.
