The Ear Inspires the Pen

Mrs. Mies, El Monte, Calif.

Sirs: I'd like to ask that the reader who wrote in to the July 8 issue of "The Ear Inspires the Pen," listen more closely to her programs before trying to spoil them for others. In the first place, "Chi-chi" does not "persistently weep," nor is she on "The Right to Happiness." She is on "Life Can Be Beautiful," which I miss only when it isn't broadcast. I listen to many soap operas, but I don't hear so much weeping. Elaine

She Can Sing, Too!

Sunday, 7:30 p.m.
NBC-KFI

VERY pretty, blonde, blue-eyed singer Betty Rhodes kissed her mother on the cheek, patted her cocker on its head and leisurely strolled into NBC for the afternoon's rehearsal of "Meet Me at Parky's."

"Ah," commented the doorman, "there goes an All-American Girl." "And that," laughs Betty, "is what I've been called since I was nine. If being an All-American Girl means you like a normal life, like to sing, sew a little, cook a little more, swim a lot—then I guess I fit the description."

What she forgot to add is she's youthful, fun, and possesses a very pleasing personality. Her clean-cut profile and lithe figure are very easy on the eyes. And her infectious laugh is a pleasure to hear.

A "Tele-Vision"

As the feminine singer on the NBC "Parky" series, Betty is an old favorite to many radio dialers. Having made her first radio appearance at KHJ while still in pigtails, she has since sung with many big name bands, been elected the first lady of television, and graced many a performance in your favorite movie theater.

Today, again a member of a top-notch radio show, Betty confesses she is happiest. Radio is her first love and always has been. She is working toward a show of her own.

As the possessor of a pleasingly mellow voice, Betty wants to try her hand at femceeing (and singing on) a variety half-hour. With a Dave Rose type of band behind her, she'd sing sweet or hot numbers, interspersed with many ballads (her favorite form of song.) She'd even like to act a little. But most of all, she'd like to sing.

Cooks, Sews, Paints

It isn't all work for Betty, however. With her parents, she lives in a spacious home in the San Fernando valley. There are a swimming pool, badminton court, chickens, dogs and a cat to keep her occupied. She cooks and sews and designs many of her own clothes. She is proudest of her many paintings which line the curved stairway of the Rhodes home, and would like to exhibit them some day.

If there is a man in her life, Betty says nothing, but we believe there is. This lovely lady is pretty definite about the future she plans. After materializing the show she now dreams about, she will be ready to settle down and become Mrs. Housewife. But that is another story and one about which Miss Rhodes smiles to herself.

With her five feet 5½ inches and ▲ THE HORRIFIED LOOK on Junior's face stems from the fact that Jimmy doesn't seem to catch on that the tray Garry's holding isn't for hat, gloves and overcoat (if he had an overcoat) but only for the J. Durante calling card. Oh, well, this is only the beginning. Don't miss the rest—if you can!

▼ HERE WE ARE AT the table, wondering with Junior and Jeri Sullivan if this isn't a hopeless cause. Jimmy's got his toothpick in hand before he's had a bite to eat. (Hmmm, wonder who won the Seventh at Del Mar?)

Friday, 7 p.m.
CBS-KNX
Beginning September 14

GOOD old Jimmy Durante, who didn't realize his ambition to become president (you remember, "Durante, the People's Cherse") isn't going to be too disappointed in the outcome of affairs after all. He's going calling on the Secretary of the Treasury.

Ever since he was knee high, Jimmy's been boasting of what he was going to tell the Secretary if ever they should meet. So now his dream will come true when he and the Secretary meet face to face—or should we say nose to nose—next month.

Always eager to help out his pal, co-partner Garry Moore agreed to coach Durante on a few of the latest etiquette pointers. (Not that Jimmy really needs them, mind you). "How humiliatin'," mutters Schnozzola, but agrees to listen to Junior, aided by lovely songstress Jeri Sullivan.

So here you see pictorial proof of all's well that ends (Garry hopes).

▲ LEAVE US FACE IT! Things have taken a turn for the worse. We can't decide whether Jimmy is reaching for the knife or for an olive, or is demonstrating with gestures how the Cincinnati Reds won that double-header. Isn't this humiliatin'?

▲ AS YOU CAN SEE, when J. D. is crossed he becomes an unruly character. (Check that look of grim determination). Ah, ha Jimmy! We're a watchbird watching you. Naughty, naughty!

while Jimmy still mutters "How mortifyin'"—and, a little bird tells us, is still eating peas with a knife, picking his teeth, and draping his napkin down his front. In fact the only thing Jimmy got out of his etiquette course was a fine new book for his unread collection.

▼ THIS, GOOD PEOPLE, is the end of the meal. But Jimmy seems reluctant to part with his plate. Why? Don't ask us. We didn't start this. Maybe he likes the pretty pictures on the bottom.

▼ "SWELL BOOK," opines Jimmy after a good (?) repast. "What's it all about?" "GRR::&*," screams Junior in a ragg, pointing at JD's brogans gracing the coffee table. Jeri doesn't seem to mind,—she gave up a long time ago. (Wonder if Jimmy ever read "How to Lose Friends and Alienate People"?)

BING'S OWN HIT PARADE

*All Crosby Has to Do Is Sing a Song
Once on KMH and It's in the Money*

WHEN Bing Crosby sings a song on NBC's Kraft Music Hall, it automatically becomes a song hit. Overnight, sales begin picking up speed, calls for recordings of it tax music houses, juke box people include it in their lists and Tin Pan Alley blooms suddenly with another smash, while song pluggers get busy in radio studios, nightclubs, with band leaders, top vocalists and around hang-out spots of musical people. Der Bingle's voice heard around the world, from the most remote GI foxhole to the smartest cafe in Rio de Janeiro, has given new and lasting glory to another song, destined to circle the globe with words and music.

This has been true since Bing Crosby inaugurated his radio show for Kraft Cheese Corporation, December 5, 1935. On that day Bing selected a song from his new Paramount picture, "College Humor,"—titled "Learn to Croon." It was a perfect song for Crooner Crosby, and one which became an immediate sensation. As weeks passed, Bing continued to see songs of his introduction on the air hit the popularity brackets.

"Been Lucky"

Says Bing of his song-picking: "I knock off tunes from my own pictures on The Hall, because it's good business. I have been lucky that so many of them paid off." (He's too unassuming to admit the possibility that he made those songs popular.) "I rarely 'discover' a new song because I wait until the public discovers a tune—then I sing it because the people like it," he explains. "Once in a while a song like the 'Army Air Corps Song' comes along. Sure, I sang it on the air first, but that kind of a song you can't hold down—not in war times."

From "Learn to Croon" on his first show, Bing followed with another Robin-Rainger ballad, "June in January," and soon the whole nation was singing it. The same year (1935), he introduced "Boots and Saddles," and thereby started a new onrush of western ballads. "Saddle Your Blues to a Wild Mustang" was the second of the series, which Bing first sang on KMH early in February of 1936. Close on its heels came "When It's Twilight On the Trail," "I'm Just an Old Cowhand," "My Little Buckaroo," and "Silver On the Sage," right up to the present cowboy song rage by Cole Porter. "Don't Fence Me In."

On New Year's Eve of 1936, a daffy tune called "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round" was practically the national anthem, an overnight smash. Juke boxes roared from every barroom, inn and cafe, radios in private homes and public places gave it a whirl and Bing scheduled it for his KMH show the following Thursday. From then on, it became more or less a headache to listeners all over the country, until it died a natural death.

Click Writers

In October of 1936, Bing Crosby's song-writing pals, Johnny Burke and Jimmy Van Heusen turned out a song called "Pennies From Heaven," for a Crosby picture. It hit—big—and Bing put the two young tunesmiths under personal contract. Since that time, they have given him such outstanding national favorites as "I've Got a Pocketful of Dreams," "I Haven't Time To Be a Millionaire," "Sunday, Monday and Always," "Going My Way," "Swinging On a Star," (an Academy Award song), "The Day After Forever," "Sleighride in July," "If You Please," "Imagination," "It's Always You," and for Crosby's first venture in producing a motion picture, "A Friend of Yours," from his "The Great John L." "It's Always You" became a hit one year after it was written and came as a surprise to Burke and Van Heusen, who had scratched it off their lists.

On Christmas Eve of 1936, Bing sang "Adeste Fidelis" and "Silent Night" on KMH for the first time. By popular demand, he recorded the pair of Christmas favorites for Decca, and has sung the two on KMH on every pre-Christmas show since.

On Christmas Day of 1941, Bing added Irving Berlin's "White Christmas," from the Crosby film "Holiday Inn," and this has become known as "Bing's song." He has had more requests for "White Christmas" from men overseas than for any other song he has ever sung.

Mercer Songs

Back in 1938, Bing heard a young southerner named Johnny Mercer sing, in a sort of gravel-throated sort of way, "Small Fry." He invited

Wedding Bells

Dick Powell, long looking for a break in his NBC radio and picture activities for time out to have June Allyson, young screen actress, become his bride, immediately took advantage of NBC's cancellation of the "Rogues Gallery" program for a special broadcast, to stage the affair.

The ceremony took place Sunday, August 19, at the home of his long-time friend, Johnny Green, well-known composer, with only their most intimate friends in attendance.

Powell and his bride spent a few days in seclusion sailing on his boat at Balboa. Last Sunday found the actor hard at work again portraying a "tough guy."

Benny Returns

"They loved me in Berlin . . . Ingrid, too, and Larry . . ." said Jack Benny recently on his return to the United States after his eight-week entertainment tour of the European war theater.

Benny toured with screen star Ingrid

Bergman, harmonica virtuoso Larry Adler and singer Martha Tilton. Most of the tour, Jack said, was in Germany with appearances in Hitler's once-proud Nuremberg and Berlin. Several shows also were given in Czechoslovakia.

"You cannot believe what Berlin is like these days. What the allied armies did to it before the surrender is fantastic," Benny said. "The tour was gratefully received by America's G.I.'s who still need entertainment, and if they still want us next summer, we're on call."

Benny also said he's in top form and rarin' to go . . . wait until he challenges Fred Allen who's returning to the same network and will be heard on Sunday nights shortly after Benny.

Reunion

Good news evolving from historic V-J Day was singer Pat Friday's happy announcement of her interne husband's honorable discharge from the Army. Pat has been patiently waiting for David's return from England for over two long years and it unexpectedly came last week.

She received a phone call from Washington and heard her husband telling her he'd be home in a day or two! Wild with joy, the little singer hustled about preparing herself, her family and her two-year-old son (whom his father has never seen) for a happy reunion.

"You can't imagine the shock," she explained, "after waiting to hear about his release, to learn that he's in this country and will be home in a couple of days! Here I'd planned on finishing a laboratory I was building in the garage for him. I wanted to surprise him! Looks like the tables were turned—and I'm darned glad!"

24-Hour Job

Radio knows no hours. Not only do the newsmen work the clock around but the dramatists and scripters, too. For example, news of the atomic bomb was first released on a Monday afternoon. That night Sherman Dryer, producer of "The Human Adventure" on MBS, and the University of Chicago research workers huddled around the clock and completed a script about it. Then came casting headaches and finally Army clearance had to be obtained from Washington. It is a credit to Dryer and his staff that they were able to bring the first dramatized program based on material from men who worked on the devastating weapon to the air by the next Wednesday night.

Happy Vacations

Now that wartime restrictions have lifted, Don Prindle, co-star with Wendell Niles, can't get his fill of vacations. Even if it means sitting at home in his own front yard.

Taking his family to Arrowhead for two weeks, he had barely returned before he joined Wendell and the Niles family for two more weeks on a fishing trip. As if that weren't enough, he's now off with Wendell's brother, Ken, on a hunting trip. "We just put a light in the window each night for him," smiles Mrs. Prindle, "and hope he'll return soon."

"Ah," grins Wendell, "he'll be back—and too soon. You know the story about the proverbial bad penny!"

Wendell had a strange series of coincidences in his home. Son, Wendell, Jr., celebrated his twelfth birthday on the day war was declared and son, Denny, not to be out-done, was twelve on the day the war unofficially ended.

NEXT WEEK

Newest competitor in the crooning field seriously to challenge "The Voice" and "The Groaner" is dark-haired David Street, whom we appropriately tag "The Threat." For the joy of you Street-swooners, his likeness is on the cover of our next edition and there's an interesting yarn about him on the inside. But that isn't all! Radio's most famous dramatic show, the "Lux Radio Theater" is back on the air, and we roll out the carpet for its return with a swell spread about Lux's "Green Room" where the stars gather preparatory to going on the air. Billie Burke and her mementoes of a glamorous era are spotlighted in still another top-notch feature story. Busy Constance Bennett, who has recently added radio commentating to her long list of diverse activities, is talked about in an intimate word-profile. There is also an informative article on newscaster Frank Hemingway, plus a page of pictures of still more of your airplane favorites. Get your Radio Life early; they don't last long!

KECA mike memos

Friday night's the night! Yes sir, that's the night when you'll get the boxing matches direct from Madison Square Garden in New York, courtesy of the Gillette people! Starting Friday, Sept. 7th, at 7 p. m., KECA-ABC will make Friday nights "fight night"!

This weekly airing of fisticuffs between headline pugilists will be handled by two oldtimers in the field of sports broadcasting. The blow-by-blow picture of the top boxing bout of the week will be given by Don Dunphy, veteran ringside announcer. Bill Corum, sports editor of the New York Journal-American, will air the between-rounds and pre-and-post broadcast color.

... 790 ... It's the Spot ...

And while we are talking about your Friday night entertainment on KECA, let's start at six o'clock. Now we're not throwing orchids at ourselves, but if you've heard "Famous Jury Trials," which is aired at that time, you'll agree there's a half-hour really packed with tense drama, mystery and action galore. On "Famous Jury Trials," you can sit home in your easy chair and decide just what kind of a juror you'd make, for you hear the evidence, the cross-examination, the judge's instruction ... all just as if you were actually in the jury box. That's Friday nights at 6 on KECA; then at 6:30 there's "The Sheriff" show, in which Mark Chase, ex-Marine, finds being Sheriff of Canyon County has its moments, as he, with the aid of "Cousin Cassie," keeps its citizens and passers-by "in line." With that five-minute highlight, "Coronet Story Teller" which follows at 6:55, KECA gives you a full hour which we guarantee will become habitual, once you lend an ear.

... 790 ... It's the Spot ...

MORE FRIDAY SPECIALS! ... "Are you busy tonight?", a sailor contestant on "Blind Date" show, felled by Arlene Francis at 8 on Friday nights over KECA-ABC, asked the strawberry blonde on the other end of the phone connection. Quick as a flash the blonde retorted, "That depends on whom I go out with!" There's a laugh a minute and a tug at your heart strings, too, on Arlene's famous "wit and woo" session, which is currently back at its old stand in N. Y. ... Did you know that the stories dramatized on "This is Your FBI" on KECA every Friday night at 8:30, are direct from the official files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation? J. Edgar Hoover, director of that famous bureau, said: "The FBI was created to protect the people from enemies within, and they are entitled to know of its work. We believe that Jerry Devine in his production of "This is Your FBI" is rendering an important public service." ... Flash! Spade Cooley, who heads the Rancho Roundup show on Friday nights at 9, sold his war plant the day before the war ended! Spade, not only heads one of the outstanding western music aggregations in the land, but he's a good business man as well!

... 790 ... It's the Spot ...

THIS AND THAT ... "Glamour Manor," that mythical hotel managed by Cliff Arquette, is back at its old stand in Hollywood, heard on KECA-ABC every Monday through Friday morning at 9. So if you want to see the show, write to KECA for tickets! ... Also back after a month's holiday is ace-commentator Walter Winchell, on his old spot Sunday evenings at 6 ... Another Sunday night vacation returnee is Jimmie Fidler, with his Hollywood gossip, at 6:45 ... Lum and Abner, first citizens of Pine Ridge, return to the airplanes on Monday night, Sept. 3, KECA at 8 ... And there's a new time and new day for that exciting adventure series, "The Green Hornet" ... now Saturday nights at 9:30 ... Remember, if you want to attend "America's Town Meeting" at Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium on Thursday, Sept. 6, write to KECA for your free tickets!

... 790 ... It's the Spot ...

We started this column with a sports story, so let's end it by reminding you sports fans if you're not dialing KECA Monday through Thursday evenings at 6:30 for American Sports Roundup, you're missing something. Remingtoned by Ray Johnson and pitched by Dal Williams of the announcing staff, the Sports Roundup hits the air at a particularly appropriate time ... shortly after the final tallies are in from sports events all over the nation!

rector, "though a lot of us in the business and many listeners are unaware of the fact."

Billy points out that music undergoes two definite changes in costume each year, changing from winter to summer and vice versa. Can you imagine "June Bustin' Out All Over" in the middle of January?

When the heat of summer thaws the ice of winter, people have a tendency to eat lighter foods, wear lighter clothes and even think in a lighter vein. Summer is for frivolity, carefreeness and fun-making. Even compositions are affected. Strauss takes the place of Wagner, Herbert replaces Verdi, while Cole Porter takes the place of jive and boogie woogie.

Fish Story

Can you imagine dainty Ann Sothern, Columbia's popular heroine of "Maisie" as one of California's leading "big catch" fishermen? Well, she is. She even has had to be strapped to her seat on a boat to keep from being dragged overboard by an immense swordfish she landed. But her courage stops there, Ann admits. In all her sport on the briny, she has never been able to bring herself to take her catch off the hook.

Pennies From Hecklers

When bystanders wondered what all the commotion was about during the rehearsal of Columbia's "Summer Electric Hour," they were surprised, indeed, to glimpse soprano Francis

Radio Roundup from KFI

Aside from being a top-flight news analyst, Graeme Fletcher, who comes to listeners over KFI at 7:00 a. m. Monday thru Saturday, is a man with an exciting past. He's been a professional basketball player, a boxer, has flown in nearly every type of military plane produced in the U. S., and at one time in his life enlisted in the Marine Corp for a China assignment, but ended up in Nicaragua where he chased bandits through the jungles. Fletcher was born on March 23, 1908, in a town in North Carolina that was founded by his family and bears its name. He attended William & Mary College and from there entered newspaper work, specializing in political assignments. Graeme has been in radio for the past twelve years with more than sixteen thousand broadcasts to his credit. He is married and has an adopted son who is serving with the Army Air Forces.

Graeme Fletcher

If you've missed the Light Opera Series now broadcast over KFI on Mondays at 9:30 p. m., we must tell you that this program series is well worth a regular listening. The soloists for the most part are young vocalists who appeared on the Hollywood Bowl Auditions and have returned to KFI for a professional engagement. Claude Sweeten and the KFI Symphony Orchestra provide the musical accompaniment. A studio audience is invited and tickets may be obtained by writing or calling the Information Desk at the station.

Bill Burton who manages Dick Haymes and Helen Forrest heard on EVERYTHING FOR THE BOYS (KFI Tues., 9:00 p. m.) is one of the best story tellers in Hollywood and a favorite of his is about an actor revealing his life story to an interviewer. "Yes," said the actor, "when I first came to Hollywood, I had just one dollar on which to make a start." "And how did you invest that dollar?" asked the interviewer. "Used it to pay for a telegram home for more money," was the actor's reply.

BRIEFS: Hoagy Carmichael (Mon., 6:00 p. m.) has an offer to write the music for a show that June Greenwall will produce on Broadway in November. Anne Seymour who, plays Prudence Dane in the serial "Woman of America" (3:45 to 4:00 Mon. thru Fri.) is a member of the seventh successive generation of her family to adopt acting as a profession. —Advertisement.

RADIO WEST

White waving her teacup through the air as she went through one of her musical numbers. Laughs were provided by studio hecklers who attempted to pitch pennies into the cup, street-organ style.

Ah, the Movie Life!

All of the time that poor Tom Breneman has been broadcasting his "Breakfast in Hollywood," he's been getting along without a private office of his own. He provides individual offices for a staff of seven but does his own office routine out of the top drawer of his receptionist's desk.

Good things come to those who wait —or something. Because in the film now being produced on the program Breneman fares much better. Producer Robert S. Golden has had a swanky $5,000 office built for Tom on the movie set.

Last Straw

Charlotte Greenwood tells this story on herself. During the time of strict gas rationing, she was ever so careful and ever so patriotic. And she was mighty proud that she never missed nor was late for an appointment, rehearsal or broadcast. But the day after gas rationing was lifted—it happened. She ran out of gas and was a half-hour late for her own radio rehearsal!

Dept. of Coincidence

History repeats itself . . . and an event during rehearsal session for Columbia's "I Was There" proves the truth of this oft-repeated observation. With Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo as guest witness, the cast was running over a dramatization of the false peace excitement just prior to the end of World War I. At that particular moment, Producer Ray Buffum stopped the proceedings to announce the end of World War II . . . and that announcement, too, turned out to be a false report.

Are You Kiddin'

A tall, lanky sailor newly returned from the icy cold Alaskan waters pulled Perry Ward's leg for several minutes the other day on "What's Doin' Ladies?" with a series of tall

Diggin' Discs

With JACK LAWSON

JOHNNY MERCER wrote the song (with Harry Warren), but just about everybody's doing "On the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe." Johnny recorded it for Capitol; Bing Crosby for Decca and Kate Smith for Columbia. The Santa Fe apparently prefers Kate's version and has plastered the moon gal's picture in every station from Chicago to L. A.

In the hillbilly field, the master minds picked Tex Ritter's latest, "You Two Timed Me One Time Too Often," as a potential bell ringer and didn't pay much attention to its companion, "Green Grow the Lilacs." But on KRLD in Dallas, Texas, heart of the folk music belt, "Green Grow" jumped to Number One place the week it was introduced on Hal Horton's Western Hit Parade.

Bobbysoxers, attention! We hear Frankie's slated for an appearance at Hollywood Bowl. Now's your chance to make the bowl flow over.

Enroute East, Tony ("Jose Gonzales") Pastor and his boys took a terrific beating flying over the Rocky Mountains in an army bomber. Bands can only travel these days by playing camp shows. Tony's one guy who really plays 'em.

Both Dinah Shore and Charlie Spivak have completed George Gershwin albums for Victor.

The King Sisters, who have just waxed four new tunes for Victor, will be featured on the Harriet and Ozzie air show starting Aug. 24.

Xavier Cugat plays a musician by day and a bandit by night in "Holiday in Mexico" at Metro.

Miguelito Valdez' latest Decca record, "Good, Good, Good," is scoring a big hit with Latin American music fans.

Benny Carter's "I Surrender, Dear," recorded in March, 1944, is proving the greatest hunk of wax the maestro has put out. How come did Capitol wait so long to release it?

Ginny Simms says the G.I.s like "miss you" tunes like "Star Dust" and "Night and Day." They conjure up happy memories of the past.

Danny Kaye did not pass the medicos' examinations, so it looks like his overseas hop is off.

Spade Cooley, whose first record, "Shame On You," was an outstanding hit, has signed a long time contract with Columbia.

Benny Goodman's got a new one called "Clarinate," written by his former pianist, Mel Powell, now in the army.

Kay Kyser's latest novelty is "Horses Don't Bet On People."

Woody Herman's Canadian tour was so successful he plans to return there next winter for a stay . . . B-R-R-R!

Anita O'Day has rejoined Gene Krupa's band in New York. She's very fine.

Hear tell Glen Gray and the Casa Loma orchestra will be headin' out

Radio On A Fighting Flat-Top

By
Sgt. Bernie Milligan

Former Hollywood Radio Man, Now a Marine Combat Correspondent, Sends Us an Exclusive, First-Hand Dispatch

ABOARD AN Aircraft Carrier in the Pacific (Delayed) — Where once the blood ran red, where Marines indelibly stamped their mark upon world history, there now flows music.

Battlegrounds of yesterday are peaceful pastures of entertainment today.

Wherever we go in the Pacific, carrying our Marine fighter and torpedo-bomber planes and pilots to action against the enemy, we are reminded, subtly, that many lives were sacrificed in making it possible for us to enjoy the morale-lifting benefits afforded by radio.

Kwajalein and Eniwetok, in the Marshall Islands, once meant death and still stand for destruction. But today they bring us Bing Crosby, singing his Thursday night repertoire, by transcription.

From Saipan and Guam, conquered only after the bitterest of fighting, comes Dinah Shore. Ulithi brings Kay Kyser, Palau gives us Frank Sinatra.

This is what yesterday's battlefield means to the warrior of today.

It was not long ago, not yet three years, that the Marines made their first offensive move at Guadalcanal, yet, in the intervening months much has happened. And all of it for the better.

Radio at Fingertips

There isn't a spot in the Pacific where the American fighting man is out of touch with the entertainment he values so highly. Whether in muddy foxholes or speedy plane, upon rolling destroyer or smoothly cruising aircraft carrier, the Hit Parade is at his finger tips.

Armed Forces Radio Service, with its Colonel Tom Lewis and his assistants, has done a remarkable job in the Pacific.

There once was a perennial argument about which came first to battle, the Marines or the Seabees. It now has a different slant, because some insist AFRS heads every invasion.

At any rate, Armed Forces Radio Service is on the scene as soon as the shooting stops and, in some instances, even before the battle has ended.

We have been told that Iwo Jima soon will be beaming programs our way; that Okinawa likewise is getting ready to operate a station.

There is a series of networks out here, extending from Australia through Guadalcanal, New Guinea, the Marshalls, the Gilberts, the Philippines and on up to the Aleutians. Eventually, perhaps, the network will include Japanese home islands.

Music Invaluable

The folks back home cannot imagine what these programs mean to the men. Our Marine pilots particularly are susceptible to the charm of music. The common procedure, upon returning from a combat mission, is for a flyer to sprawl in an upholstered ready-room chair close to the radio, light a cigarette or pipe, and increase the volume on the radio set.

After Crosby or Dinah Shore has calmed him down, he is relaxed and ready to relate details of his experiences.

Radio has an added importance aboard an aircraft carrier where there is no extensive airfield or barracks area for a long walk.

The close confines of carrier life, where daily routine means bombing or being bombed, naturally limit the “C.P.” MacGREGOR, emcee of “Skippy Hollywood Theater,” entertains guest star Marie (The Body) McDonald at Perino’s before transcription session.

Impresario of Packaged Radio

C. P. MacGregor Celebrates His 200th Week as “Hollywood Theater” Emcee

Wednesday, 9:30 p.m.
KFI

This week, “C. P.” MacGregor celebrates his 200th consecutive week as impresario of “Skippy Hollywood Theater.”

JUST as “C. B.” DeMille used to preside over a broadcast bringing the best in dramatic effort, “C. P.” presides over a half-hour program presenting the best in transcribed radio fare. It was MacGregor who felt that transcriptions were the ideal tool for turning out flawless productions . . . if a star fell short of his or her best effort, “retakes” could be made. Records could be cut at a time convenient to the star desired for each presentation. Rehearsals could be held until actors felt adequately familiar with their parts. To him, this all spelled more stars able to do better dramatic shows, which, in turn, meant top listening.

Prove Theory

Proof is the fact that from thirty-five to forty-five per cent of all radios in use when Skippy time is on the air are dialed to MacGregor’s program. Also proof is the fact that “Skippy Hollywood Theater” is the only means of advertising used by the program sponsor, the Rosefield Packing Company of Alameda, California, which had only a small factory with western distribution four years ago, but which now has grown into a company with nation-wide coverage.

The Skippy program is transcribed weekly at the MacGregor Studio, 729 South Western Avenue, Los Angeles. Only original stories are used, and one top Hollywood personality is starred on each show . . . personalities like Herbert Marshall, Miriam Hopkins, Lorraine Day, Dana Andrews, Vincent Price, Ruth Chatterton, and Joan Bennett. Mahlon Merrick and a sixteen-piece orchestra provide the music, with all music expressly scored for each production.

Behind the Skippy story are sixteen years of recording experience for MacGregor, who first started making electrical transcriptions in San Francisco in 1929. Now he claims the largest transcribed musical and dramatic library in the world. “Hollywood Theater” is the only one of his productions being presented in play form. His other outputs feature exclusive recording artists like Stan Kenton, King Cole Trio, Jan Garber, Henry King.

Post-War Plans

MacGregor is now planning for post-war, world-wide distribution of “canned” music and shows, both dramatic and musical, and deals are now pending for distribution of such shows in all European countries, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, and South America.

Personally, MacGregor, who has the reputation of being a generous Scotsman, is a calm, friendly sort of man. He likes to fling an atmosphere of relaxed luxury around all those working with and for him and also entertains at dinner preceding a cutting session with a star along with Mrs. MacGregor, who is always at the studio on show night to act as hostess. Perino’s is a favorite eating place for these get-togethers.

Star’s Whims

In line with his idea of providing surroundings conducive to a worker’s best efforts, “C. P.” caters to the whims of his Skippy stars. Recently when Turhan Bey recorded, he brought along Miss Lana Turner. Background voices were used during the program and in response to Miss Turner’s request, MacGregor allowed her to be one of the voices. Bill Williams was humored—he didn't want to wear a tie but he definitely wanted Barbara Hale, RKO eyeful, to be in the control booth while he was recording. Virginia Mayo insisted on entertaining a series of servicemen for tea between acts. Ruth Warrick, who has appeared twice on the show, expressed a yearning to kick off her high-heeled pumps and don bedroom slippers. Now, "C. P." has laid in a stock of various colored and sized "comfies" so that Miss Warrick or any other star so inclined may take their choice.

▼ MAHLON MERRICK conducts the music for the program, directing a sixteen-piece orchestra which uses numbers expressly scored for each production.

Bing's Own Hit Parade

Mercer to guest on KMH and sing the new song. Bing sang with him and the public reaction to the duet was so clamorous, the two made a phonograph record of it. Later, Johnny came up with another smoothie called "Mr. Meadowlark," which he wrote, with Bing giving it a ride on the air. When Mercer penned "Blues in the Night," and "The Waiter and the Porter and the Upstairs Maid," Der Bingle was johnny-on-the-spot to sing them. Latest brain-wave of the clever Mercer is the currently popular novelty, "Accent-chuate the Positive," which Bing sang in "Here Come the Waves."

Also in 1940, Bing warbled "When the Swallows Come Back to Canistrano" and it was "made." Ditto "Basin Street Blues," "Frenesi," "The Hut Sut Song," "Chattanooga Choo Choo," "Tis Autumn" and "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

After the Pearl Harbor tragedy, Bing—war-conscious and eager to help Mr. and Mrs. America remember to buy war bonds, to continue their home front work and to keep faith while the boys were overseas, scheduled a constant stream of wartime songs, which began with "Any Bonds Today," "Anchors Aweigh," "The White Cliffs of Dover," "Field Artillery March," "The Army Air Corps Song." (Off we go into the wide, blue yonder . . .), "Marine Hymn," "The Bombardier Song" and "Johnny Doughboy Found a Rose in Ireland," continuing through "Cranky Old Yank," and Private Frank Loesser's sensational four, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," "In My Arms," "The Road to Victory" and "What Do You Do in the Infantry?"

Bing didn't miss a trick. He sang Guitarist Perry Botkin's song, "I'm Ridin' Herd On a Cloud," followed with "Comin' in On a Wing" and a "I've Got Sixpence," "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Town of Berlin," "Bless 'em All," and last, but actually one of the first, "I'll Be Home for Christmas."

Elusive, Casual

Bing Crosby never talks for effect. Completely uninhibited and naturally a shrinker from wild applause or loud acclaim he goes his successful way attired in beaten-up clothes of assorted and heterogeneous combinations, chews gum, smokes a pipe and is as slippery as an eel, when approached for interviews or unnecessary conversations.

For a survey of Bing Crosby's characteristics, check with any song plugger who wears down the sidewalks along Hollywood's Tin Pan Alley (North Vine Street, across from NBC studios). Any one of them will tell you that Bing really knows how to drop the curtain and back away from you.

Meaning that Bing never varies from his rule of singing his own picture tunes and waiting until a song is launched before he sings it. "I'm broadcasting a show to entertain people," says Bing, "so why should I force 'em to listen to some song that I like? I am to please."

Yet for all his modest disclaimers, a song sung by Bing Crosby on Kraft Music Hall seldom fails to become a smash hit. "Home On the Range," "Ave Maria," "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fidelis," sung by him for Auroratone (music in color), one of his many projects, is being used in hospitals all over the country to quiet the boys from theaters of war, whose nerves are jangled from their terrific experiences in combat zones.

entertainment and relaxation which a ship can provide.

Early-morning strikes mean all-night work details for plane mechanics and ordnancemen. Thus, a hangar deck cannot easily be transformed into a movie theater, as is customary when safe and peaceful waters surround us.

So the job of keeping in touch with the world falls to radio.

And, thanks to this vast system of stations, radio comes through.

"I like these programs," one Marine fighter pilot mused the other evening. "I couldn't do without them, but what I wouldn't give for just one short, sweet commercial announcement."

Out here we'd never know whether Bob Hope was peddling soap or soy beans.

Ear Inspires the Pen

Carrington writes "Rosemary," "Pepper Young's Family" and "When a Girl Marries," all of which I listen to, and on which I seldom hear any weeping. So, reader, will you please get your programs straight, before complaining and spoiling them for others?

Mrs. G. Mendenhall, 612 East Commonwealth, Alhambra, Calif.

Sirs: I have bought your magazine ever since it was a "pup", and read it from cover to cover every week, and most always find a picture in it for my radio scrapbook.

As I am a shut-in, and also alone practically all the time, I am a very ardent radio fan. Just before my son went into the army, he bought me a very fine radio with F.M. and short wave. Now, what I want to know, after reading your article on the G. I. Journal broadcast in Radio Life of July 8, is why you don't log anything for short wave? I would also like to hear "Armed Forces Radio Services" if I knew where to look for it. I have gotten it several times by accident and enjoyed it very much.

The government forbids the printing of short-wave radio schedules during wartime. Also, our space is so limited, our logs must be made very brief.

Vera Smith, Montrose, Calif.

Sirs: Could you tell me if Dick Haymes has his own radio program? He should. Also does Cass Daley have a program? She is a really funny person.

Why do so many people gripe about Margaret on "One Man's Family"? She is the one who makes the program. Her scenes with Grandfather Barbour are very real and human.

Why can't we have Jerry Wayne instead of Lawrence Tibbett on "Hit Parade"? Even if the program has gone up seven points, Tibbett sings popular songs badly.

Dick Haymes is heard weekly—NBC-KFI, Tuesday, 9:00 p.m. Cass Daley recently completed her air series. Dick Todd has now replaced Lawrence Tibbett on the "Hit Parade."

B. F. D. Babcock, 524 Echo Park Avenue, Los Angeles 26, Calif.

Sirs: Thanks to your very comprehensive listing, I have discovered Rene Bozarth's fine program "Of Words and Verse" at 8 o'clock each week night on station KGfJ.

His perfect rendition of the finest poetry of all ages and the beautiful musical background, so wisely chosen and so artistically handled, give to radio something choice and lovely.

I hope other listeners will find it because of this letter.

Robert Riley Crutcher, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Sirs: I am deeply appreciative and grateful for the award which you have sent me. Thank you. Thank you very much. Your excellent and completely informative magazine is a valuable asset to the world of radio, and it is doubly gratifying to be honored by a staff for whom radio has such high regard and respect. Again I thank you.
