New Regional Editor for Tetrahedron: Asymmetry

Professor Robert M. Williams

Elsevier is pleased to announce the appointment of University Distinguished Professor Robert M. Williams, of Colorado State University, Fort Collins, CO, USA, as the new Regional Editor for the Americas of Tetrahedron: Asymmetry commencing as of 1 November 2006.

Professor Williams succeeds Professor Kevin Burgess, who stepped down after 5 years of dedicated service at the end of December 2005.

Authors from the Americas are invited to submit their papers to Professor Williams via the journal's online submission site (<http://ees.elsevier.com/tetasy>).

The Journal Editors and Elsevier are delighted to welcome Professor Williams on board.
