The Royal Society of Chemistry is again organising a Workshop in Liquid Scintillation Counting from Monday 15th July to Friday 19th July.

The Workshop will be residential at Loughborough University of Technology, and will include lectures, practical work and discussion periods.

The fee for the course will be £325 and includes accommodation in the University together with all meals.

Application forms are available from Dr. P. Warwick or Dr. J.R. Thornback and should be returned by 30th April 1985.
