

ANNOUNCEMENT

MAILING OF MANUSCRIPTS

The scientific communications irrespective of the language used (English, French or German) should be sent in duplicate directly to the Honorary Regional Editor for the particular areas as outlined below. Extra delay will be involved if papers are sent to other Regional Editors as they will be forwarded for refereeing to the Editor of the particular region involved (1-6). The address given for the author (who should be indicated by an asterisk) of the paper shall determine the appropriate Regional Editor. In order to facilitate the refereeing of papers, authors who have submitted manuscripts in French or German may be asked by the Regional Editors to provide a full text in English. In any case manuscripts in English are more easily edited and printed than in other languages.
