

Erratum

In the June 2001 issue of the Journal, in the report “Evidence for a Susceptibility Gene for Autism on Chromosome 2 and for Genetic Heterogeneity,” by Buxbaum et al. (68:1514–1520), there was an error in the Acknowledgments: the second sentence should read “We gratefully acknowledge the resources provided by the AGRE Consortium and the participating AGRE families.” In addition, a list of the consortium members should have been provided. The members of the AGRE Scientific Advisory Board are Daniel H. Geschwind (chairman), UCLA, Los Angeles; Maya Bucan, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; W. Ted Brown, Institute for Research in Developmental Disabilities, Long Island, NY; Joseph D. Buxbaum, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, New York; T. Conrad Gilliam, Columbia Genome Center, New York; David A. Greenberg, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, New York; David H. Ledbetter, University of Chicago, Chicago; Bruce Miller, UCSF, San Francisco; Stanley F. Nelson, UCLA School of Medicine, Los Angeles; Jonathan Pevsner, Kennedy Krieger Institute, Baltimore; Jerome I. Rotter, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles; Gerald D. Schellenberg, University of Washington, Seattle; Carole Samango-Sprouse, George Washington University and Children’s National Medical Center, Washington, D.C.; Rudolph E. Tanzi, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston; Kirk C. Wilhelmsen, UCSF, San Francisco; and Jeremy M. Silverman (AGRE Collaborator), Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, New York.
