
Three Genome-wide Association Studies and a Linkage Analysis Identify HERC2 as a Human Iris Color Gene

Manfred Kayser,* Fan Liu, A. Cecile J.W. Janssens, Fernando Rivadeneira, Oscar Lao, Kate van Duijn, Mark Vermeulen, Pascal Arp, Mila M. Jhamai, Wilfred F.J. van IJcken, Johan T. den Dunnen, Simon Heath, Diana Zelenika, Dominiek D.G. Despriet, Caroline C.W. Klaver, Johannes R. Vingerling, Paulus T.V.M. de Jong, Albert Hofman, Yurii S. Aulchenko, Andre G. Uitterlinden, Ben A. Oostra, and Cornelia M. van Duijn

(American Journal of Human Genetics 82, 411–423; February 2008)

In Figure S1, data for chromosomes 9–16 was originally duplicated, and data for chromosomes 1–8 was missing. The error has now been corrected online. The Journal regrets the error.

*Correspondence: m.kayser@erasmusmc.nl

DOI 10.1016/j.ajhg.2008.02.014. ©2008 by The American Society of Human Genetics. All rights reserved.