The 12th International Conference on Fracture (ICF12) will take place in Ottawa, Canada's capital, from July 12 to 17, 2009. This Conference takes place every four years in various cities around the world. It was last held in Canada in 1977. The ICF is the premier international body for promoting cooperation among scientists and engineers dealing with mechanics and mechanisms of fracture, fatigue and strength of solids. In 2009 the focus will be on key issues in structural integrity, strength and fracture of materials and structures for the 21st century, including applications in geophysics, biomedical, integrated modelling and engineering. Some major themes will focus on northern pipelines, forest products, cold-climate materials and aerospace. The aims of the conference are to foster research in mechanics and phenomena of structural and materials degradation and fracture, and for the development of methods and materials to improve resistance to failure and fracture in all areas of industry. A complete list of submission topics can be found at: http://www.icf12.org/e/02\_p\_topics\_e.shtml
