

PREFACE

It is with great pleasure that Thermochimica Acta publishes the Proceedings of the North American Thermal Analysis Society (NATAS) Symposium which was held in Waco, Texas, Feb. 7-8, 1972. The Symposium was under the direction of Dr. W. R. Bandi of the U. S. Steel Corporation and he is to be complimented on the excellent job that he did in his organization. Dr. J. L. McAtee, Jr. of Baylor University was in charge of the local arrangements. We hope that the readers of this journal will find the contents of this Symposium interesting reading.
