Workshop on “Histopathology of Mycoses”

We are pleased to announce a one-day workshop on “Histopathology of Mycoses” to be held on 7 June 1997 in Salsomaggiore Terme as part of the programme of the 13th International ISHAM Congress in Parma/Italy. This is the fourth workshop of this kind given at international congresses of our society. Members of ISHAM and nonmembers of our society, i.e. pathologists, microbiologists, clinicians and technicians are cordially invited to attend.

About 60 slides will be discussed with projections. Some tutors will help focusing on the important structural details in these reference preparations which will become property of the participants. They might be studied again later at home with a handout. The latter is also distributed to the participants and contains clinical history of the cases, description of the slides, comments on the diseases and bibliographic data. Some colleagues of other countries will contribute cases in addition to the histologic material from Mérida/Venezuela.

This time special interest will be focused on lesions in cases of extra-European mycoses, cases of rare fungal infections, preparations with a difficult histologic diagnosis and cases of mixed infections.
