As you are well aware, we are currently experiencing difficulties with the application which handles online ordering and e-Publishing account. Up to now, the majority of the problems and bugs have been limited to the online ordering and e-Publishing account features; however, we have recently discovered that once a publishing product has been obsoleted or rescinded, we are not able to remove the record from the Master Catalog listing of the web site.

We are working to resolve; however, in the meantime, if an item appears both in the obsolete section as well as the Master Catalog, remember that the obsolete section is correct. To cut down on as much confusion as possible, please continue to use the Product Announcement as your primary means of keeping abreast of the status of publishing items.

As you are well aware, we are currently experiencing difficulties with the application which handles online ordering and e-Publishing account. Up to now, the majority of the problems and bugs have been limited to the online ordering and e-Publishing account features; however, we have recently discovered that once a publishing product has been obsoleted or rescinded, we are not able to remove the record from the Master Catalog listing of the web site.

*We are working to resolve; however, in the meantime, if an item appears both in the obsolete section as well as the Master Catalog, remember that the obsolete section is correct. To cut down on as much confusion as possible, please continue to use the Product Announcement as your primary means of keeping abreast of the status of publishing items.
