1–5. Application of the Modern Army Recordkeeping System (MARKS)

Chapter 2 Management of the U.S. Army Regimental System

2–1. USARS approval

The CSA approved the USARS concept in 1981 to provide each soldier with continuous identification with a single regiment and to support that concept with a personnel system that would increase a soldier's probability of serving recurring assignments with his or her regiment.

2–2. USARS purpose

The purpose of the USARS is to enhance combat effectiveness through a framework that provides the opportunity for affiliation, develops loyalty and commitment, fosters an extended sense of belonging, improves unit esprit, and institutionalizes the war fighting ethos.

2–3. Development of the USARS concept

The USARS was developed to accomplish the following:

a. Include the total Army as reflected below:

(1) Active Army.

(a) All combat arms battalions.

(b) Separate companies, batteries, and troops.

(c) All combat support (CS), combat service support (CSS), and special branches.

(d) Appropriate training base battalions.

(2) Reserve Component.

(a) Army National Guard.

(b) U.S. Army Reserve.

b. Offer the opportunity for long-term identification with a regiment or corps.

c. Provide the potential for recurring assignments within a regiment or corps.

d. Provide the opportunity to further emphasize the history, customs, and traditions of the regiment or corps.

e. Provide regiments that are structured as one of the following:

(1) One or more like type continental United States (CONUS) units linked with one or more like type outside continental United States (OCONUS) units.

(2) One or more like type units located exclusively in either CONUS or OCONUS.

(3) One or more training battalions.

(4) Tactical armored cavalry or ranger regiments.

f. Provide for CS, CSS, and special branches to operate on a "whole branch" concept as a corps or special branch, carrying on the activities and traditions of a regiment (chap 4).

g. Offer regimental affiliation to allow soldiers the opportunity for continuous identification with a combat arms regiment, a corps, or special branch throughout their careers.

h. Provide (through regimental affiliation) different opportunities for soldiers, depending upon which combat arms regiment they choose to be affiliated with or whether they affiliate with a CS or CSS corps or special branch. In addition, the regimental affiliation process does the following:

(1) Allows combat arms soldiers to select the regiment of choice. Soldiers can change their affiliation at any time.

(2) Provides that CS, CSS, and special branch soldiers will automatically be affiliated with their corps or special branch.

(3) Specifies that all soldiers will belong to a regiment or corps.

(4) Permits no limit to the number of soldiers who can be affiliated with a regiment or corps.

i. Provides that DA civilians can automatically be affiliated with a regiment or corps by direction of the regiment or corps commander.

Chapter 3 Combat Arms

3–1. Concept

a. Combat arms will include air defense artillery, armor, aviation, cavalry, field artillery, infantry, and special forces regiments.

b. Combat arms soldiers may affiliate with any of the combat arms regiments consistent with their primary military occupational specialty (PMOS), specialty code, special qualification identifiers (SQI), or additional skill identifiers (ASI).

c. It should be noted that soldiers will have greater opportunities to serve recurring assignments in their regiments if regiments are chosen that have battalions in both CONUS and OCONUS locations.

d. Since there is no ceiling on the number of soldiers who can affiliate with a particular regiment, the potential for recurring assignments to regiments is diminished where the number of affiliated soldiers exceeds the requirements.

3–2. Affiliation policy

a. USARS regiments offered to Active Army and USAR soldiers for affiliation are listed in chapter 7.

(1) All Active Army soldiers are required to affiliate with a regiment. Although affiliation is mandatory, the choice of regiment is left up to the individual. Officers who are single-tracked in a functional area will affiliate with a regiment associated with their basic combat arms branch. Functional area officers who have no basic branch will submit request for regimental affiliation using procedures outlined in Chapter 7. Regimental affiliation is based on the Army branch associated with a soldier's PMOS or specialty. AR 670–1 contains a listing of all PMOS and corresponding branches for each. Army recruiters who have been assigned the SQI "4" will affiliate with a regiment associated with their PMOS. Recruiters or retention noncommissioned officers (NCOs) will be affiliated with The Adjutant General Corps. Regimental affiliation may be changed at any time; however, the regimental selection must be associated with the soldier's PMOS or specialty.

(2) All combat arms officers and soldiers will affiliate with a regiment upon arrival at their first unit of assignment. These soldiers will be affiliated with their regiment of assignment unless they voluntarily select another. Combat arms officers and soldiers whose initial Army assignment is not to a regimental unit may defer selection until they are so assigned.

(3) Enlisted soldiers may elect the Regiment of Choice Reenlistment Option under AR 601–280.

(4) Soldiers who deliberately terminate airborne status after affiliating with an airborne regiment will change their affiliation to a non-airborne regiment at the time of their termination. Those who are terminated for medical reasons may retain their regimental affiliation with an airborne regiment if they desire; however, such affiliation will be ceremonial and will not affect subsequent assignments.

(5) Regimental affiliation will be a primary assignment consideration for officers and enlisted soldiers. To the maximum extent possible, soldiers who are regimentally affiliated will be assigned to their regimental units. No assignment guarantees will be made, as Army requirements and soldier professional development needs must be met; however, it is incumbent upon commanders and the personnel community to make every effort to ensure that requisitions are submitted for and filled with affiliated regimental soldiers and that soldiers are subsequently assigned within their regiments. (See AR 614–100, and AR 614–185 for officers, and AR 614–200 for enlisted soldiers).

b. Specific procedures for affiliation are in chapter 7. These procedures permit affiliation and change of affiliation to be administered at the local Personnel Service Center (PSC) level.

c. Active Army soldiers who are accessioned into the USAR will retain their regimental affiliation unless they elect to change their affiliation, which may be done at any time.

Chapter 4 Combat Support, Combat Service Support, and Special Branches

4–1. Concept

The CS, CSS, and special branch regimental plans fully integrate the CS, CSS, and special branches into the USARS under the “whole branch” concept. It is the responsibility of all proponents to incorporate within their corps, the intent and spirit of the Regimental System to provide soldiers the opportunity for affiliation.

4–2. Branches within the CS, CSS, and Special Branches Regimental System

The branches within the CS, CSS, and Special Branches Regimental System are as follows:

- a. Adjutant General’s Corps.
- b. Army Medical Department Regiment.
- c. Chaplain’s Corps.
- d. Chemical Corps.
- e. Corps of Engineers.
- f. Finance Corps.
- g. The Judge Advocate General’s Corps.
- h. Military Intelligence Corps.
- i. Military Police Corps.
- j. Ordnance Corps.
- k. Quartermaster Corps.
- l. Signal Corps.
- m. Transportation Corps.
- n. Civil Affairs Corps.

4–3. Corps plans for the Regimental System

Items covered in the Regimental System are as follows:

- a. The location of the corps home.
- b. The Reserve Component.
- c. Corps accouterments (see chap 5).
- d. Corps colors (see chap 5).
- e. A corps marketing plan to educate soldiers about the regimental system and to keep soldiers informed of corps activities and events and the historical significance of the corps.
- f. Honorary positions (see chap 5).
- g. A training base plan to provide regimental colors to training units.

4–4. Affiliation policy

a. All CS, CSS, special branches and engineer officers and enlisted soldiers will be automatically affiliated with their corps or special branch upon graduation from the branch or MOS producing schools, or upon award of a CS, CSS, special branch or engineer PMOS. Regimental affiliation is based on a soldier’s branch as determined by PMOS or specialty. AR 670–1 contains a listing of all authorized MOSs and the corresponding branch of service.

b. CS, CSS, and special branches officers and enlisted soldiers may not change their affiliation unless they change their branch or c. CS, CSS, and special branch officers and enlisted soldiers (with the exception of general officers, colonels, master warrant or chief warrant officer four, and command sergeants major) cannot affiliate with a combat arms regiment even if they have previously served in those regiments in a combat arms branch or MOS.

d. CS, CSS, and special branch officers and enlisted soldiers will be considered for recurring assignments with a particular regiment based on their stated CONUS or OCONUS areas of preference.

e. Army employed civilians, whose regimental or corps commander has opened affiliation to them, may elect to affiliate. Such affiliation will be ceremonial and will not affect assignments or personnel status.

Chapter 5 Regimental and Corps Enhancements

5–1. Concept

The concept and structure of the USARS serves as a backdrop for the formulation of other principles and symbols of heraldry which contribute to a soldier’s identification with his or her regiment or corps.

5–2. Regimental and Corps Adjutants

a. PERSCOM appoints a regimental adjutant for each combat arms regiment. They are combat arms officers assigned to PERSCOM with preference given to previous service in regimental battalions. The homebase unit of each combat arms regiment may appoint its own additional duty regimental adjutant. The combat arms regimental adjutants’ primary duties are to—

(1) Ensure that soldiers are regimentally affiliated consistent with this regulation.

(2) Maintain liaison with regimental units.

(3) Assist in special actions.

(4) Implement and sustain the Honorary Colonel, Honorary Warrant Officer, Honorary Sergeant Major of the Regiment, Distinguished Member and Honorary Member of the Regiment or Corps programs consistent with guidance provided by the respective proponent.

(5) Submit Honorary Colonel, Warrant Officer, and Sergeant Major of the Regiment or Corps nominations to the respective installation commander for approval.

b. Corps adjutants for CS, CSS, and special branches will be appointed by the branch proponents and approved by the Chief of the Corps. Duties and responsibilities of the Corp adjutant will be defined by each branch proponent and approved by the Chief of the Corps.

5–3. Honorary positions

a. Special appointees. The Honorary Colonels, Honorary Warrant Officers, Honorary Sergeants Major, and Distinguished Members of the Regiment or Corps provide a link with history for today’s soldiers. The primary mission of these special appointees is to perpetuate the history and traditions of the regiment or corps, thereby enhancing unit morale and esprit. The Honorary Member of the Regiment position is designed to recognize nonregimental or corps members for their service to the regiment or corps.

(1) Honorary Colonel of the Regiment or Corps (HCOR or HCOC).

(a) The HCOR or HCOC is a distinguished retired commissioned officer in the rank of colonel or above, with former service in a unit of the regiment or corps. The appointment will be for 3 years. A second 3-year tour may be granted by the appointing authority. Each tour may be terminated earlier by either the appointing authority or incumbent following 30 days advance notice.

(b) Each regiment or corps will have an HCOR or HCOC, but only one HCOR or HCOC will serve in the regiment or corps at any given time. Additionally, no one officer can serve as HCOR or HCOC for more than one regiment or corps simultaneously. The HCOR or HCOC oversees other honorary position programs and their maintenance. The HCOR or HCOC may also act as a liaison between his or her regiment or corps and a regimental or corps association (private organization) if one exists.

(c) The duties of a HCOR or HCOC are ceremonial and do not conflict with the chain of command. Attendance at regimental or corps functions is by invitation and participation is encouraged.

(d) The position offers to the regiment or corps the prestige, stature, and experience of the officer appointed as HCOR or HCOC. The HCOR or HCOC assists in fostering regimental or corps esprit, traditions, and perpetuation of the history of the regiment or corps.

(e) HCOR or HCOC appointees will be appointed as Distinguished Members of the regiment or corps simultaneously with their appointment as HCOR or HCOC.

(2) Honorary Warrant Officer of the Regiment or Corps (HWOOR or HWOOC).

(a) The HWOOR or HWOOC is a distinguished retired warrant officer with prior service in a unit of the regiment or corps. The appointment will be for 3 years. A second 3-year tour may be granted by the appointing authority. Each tour may be terminated earlier by either the appointing authority or incumbent following 30 days advance notice.

(b) Where applicable, each regiment or corps will have an HWOOR or HWOOC, but only one HWOOR or HWOOC can serve in the regiment or corps at any given time. Additionally, no one warrant officer can serve for more than one regiment or corps simultaneously.

(c) The duties of a HWOOR or HWOOC within the regiment or corps are ceremonial and do not conflict with the chain of command. Attendance at regimental or corps functions is by invitation and participation is encouraged.

(d) The position offers to the regiment or corps the prestige, stature, and experience of the officer appointed as HWOOR or HWOOC. The HWOOR or HWOOC assists the HCOR or HCOC in perpetuating the history of the regiment or corps.

(e) HWOOR or HWOOC appointees will be appointed as Distinguished Members of the Regiment or Corps simultaneously with their appointment as HWOOR or HWOOC.

(3) Honorary Sergeant Major of the Regiment or Corps (HSGMOR or HSGMOC).

(a) The HSGMOR or HSGMOC is a distinguished retired NCO in the rank of sergeant first class (SFC) or above with prior service in a unit of the regiment or corps. The appointment will be for 3 years. A second 3-year tour may be granted by the appointing authority. Each tour may be terminated earlier by either the appointing authority or incumbent following 30 days advance notice.

(b) Where applicable, each regiment or corps will have an HSGMOR or HSGMOC, but only one will serve in the regiment or corps at any given time. No one HSGMOR or HSGMOC can serve for more than one regiment or corps simultaneously.

(c) The duties of the HSGMOR or HSGMOC within the regiment or corps are ceremonial and do not conflict with the chain of command. Attendance at regimental or corps functions is by invitation, and participation is encouraged.

(d) The position offers to the regiment or corps the prestige, stature, and experience of the noncommissioned officer appointed as HSGMOR or HSGMOC. The HSGMOR or HSGMOC will assist the HCOR or HCOC in perpetuating the history of the regiment or corps.

(e) HSGMOR or HSGMOC appointees will be appointed as Distinguished Members of the Regiment or Corps simultaneously with their appointment as HSGMOR or HSGMOC.

(4) Distinguished Members of the Regiment and Corps (DMOR or DMOC).

(a) DMOR or DMOC are individuals of the same distinguished stature as the HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, and HSGMOR or HSGMOC, but may include Active Army, USAR, retired officers, warrant officers, enlisted soldiers, and civilians.

(b) An example of a DMOR or DMOC would be a prior enlisted soldier of the regiment or corps recognized for his or her accomplishments, or a distinguished member of the civilian community with former service in the regiment or corps. All DMOR or DMOC must have served in the regiment or corps.

(c) DMOR or DMOC are appointed to supplement and assist the efforts of the HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, and HSGMOR or HSGMOC. Their tenure is indefinite. Unlike the solitary appointment of other honorary positions, there are no limitations on the number of personnel who may be appointed as DMOR or DMOC.

(d) The duties of DMOR or DMOC are ceremonial and do not conflict with those of the chain of command. Attendance at regimental or corps functions is by invitation and participation is encouraged.

(e) The position offers the prestige, stature, and experience of the individual appointed as DMOR or DMOC.

(f) Posthumous awards of the DMOR or DMOC are permissible and are at the discretion of the regiment or corps.

(5) Honorary Members of the Regiment or Corps (HMOR or HMOC).

(a) HMOR or HMOC are soldiers, their spouses, and individuals who have made a contribution or provided a service to a regiment or corps, but who are not members of the regiment or corps making the presentation. Recognition of Active Army, USAR, or retired soldiers and civilians is appropriate.

(b) HMOR or HMOC are appointed for an indefinite period of time in recognition of their contributions and service to the regiment or corps. There are no limitations on the number of personnel who may be appointed as HMOR or HMOC.

(c) There are no duties associated with the HMOR or HMOC appointments. Their attendance at regimental or corps functions is by invitation and participation is encouraged.

b. Nomination, selection, and appointment to honorary or distinguished positions.

(1) The responsibility of consolidating nominations of individuals for the HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, HSGMOR or HSGMOC, DMOR or DMOC, and HMOR or HMOC, rests with the Active Army commander charged with the regimental responsibilities. Nominations will be forwarded through the homebase installation commander to the branch chief or Chief of Corps as appropriate.

(2) The ultimate decision for selection and responsibility for appointment of an individual to serve as an HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, HSGMOR or HSGMOC, DMOR or DMOC, and HMOR or HMOC rests with the combat arms branch chief or the chief of the corps.

(3) Nominations may be solicited from several sources (regimental associations, Active Army commanders, incumbent Honorary Colonels or Sergeants Major, Distinguished Members of the Regiment, and others).

(4) The chief of the corps will provide signed appointment certificates which will provide visibility and allow tracking of the Honorary Colonels or Sergeants Major and Warrant Officers.

a. Travel and attendance to CONUS regimental or corps functions for HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, HSGMOR or HSGMOC, and DMOR or DMOC are accomplished by invitational travel orders funded by the installation or activity requesting their presence.

b. In the event of overseas travel, funding is provided by the OCONUS command or activity requesting the presence of the member.

c. Reimbursement of incidental costs such as telephone bills, publication costs, supplies, and other administrative costs associated with the duties of the HCOR or HCOC, HWOOR or HWOOC, HSGMOR or HSGMOC is not authorized.

d. Regimental or corps associations may be established to support the honorary positions. (See AR 1-210 and AR 210-1 for guidelines.)

5-5. Regimental headquarters, dining facilities and museums

a. It is not the intent of HQDA to change the tactical organizations of the brigades, battalions, squadrons, or armored cavalry and ranger regiments. Regiments (with the exception of armored cavalry and ranger) are nontactical organizations intended to perpetuate the history and traditions of regiments for soldiers.

b. When battalions are all in CONUS or split between CONUS and OCONUS, the lowest numbered CONUS battalion assumes the regimental responsibilities and maintains the regimental colors. If all battalions are OCONUS, the lowest numbered OCONUS battalion assumes regimental responsibilities.

c. The physical creation of regimental headquarters, dining facilities, and museums is not authorized.

5-6. Regimental and corps accouterments

a. Accouterments. Regimental or corps affiliation is further enhanced by accouterments for permanent wear with the uniform. (See AR 670-1.)

b. Wear of regimental or corps distinctive insignia (DI).

(1) The wear of the regimental or corps DI crest on the Army uniform is a visible sign of commitment to a regiment or corps.

(2) The regimental or corps DI crest will be worn per AR 670-1 as a means of further enhancing the regimental system.

(3) The regimental or corps DI crest may be worn by former members of the regiment or corps on civilian clothing per AR 670-1.

c. Regimental collar insignia. Regimental collar insignia will be worn as prescribed in AR 670-1.

d. Official photographs. The regimental or corps DI and the regimental collar insignia will be worn for official photographs.

e. DI development.

(1) The DI will be designed by The Institute of Heraldry for the combat arms, combat support, combat service support, and special branches in conjunction with the branch proponents.

(2) No regimental or corps will be authorized for wear without the approval of The Institute of Heraldry.

(3) Once development of the DI has been completed by the Institute of Heraldry, a drawing of the DI, a list of certified manufacturers, and a fact sheet containing complete procurement instructions will be sent to the branch proponents for use in procurement of the insignia.

5-7. Regimental and corps colors

Regimental or corps colors will be maintained by the commander of the regimental homebase unit for combat arms regiments and by the Chief of the Corps for CS, CSS, and special branches.

5-8. Wear of the Army uniform by HCOR, HWOOR, HSGMOR, and DMOR

AR 670-1 contains the regulatory guidance for wear of the Army uniform by retired personnel and former members of the Army.

Chapter 6 U.S. Army Reserve Participation in the U.S. Army Regimental System

6-1. Regimental affiliation

a. This chapter provides guidance and lists formal procedures that U.S. Army Reserve personnel (including combat arms, CS, CSS, and special branch units) may use to become affiliated with a single regimental unit. Affiliation procedures are broken into two main categories, one category for IRR, Individual Mobilization Augmentation (IMA), and Active Guard Reserve (AGR)soldiers; and another category for TPU combat soldiers. Civil Affairs affiliation procedures are described in paragraph 6-5.

b. The mission of the U.S. Army Reserve in the USARS parallels that of the Active Army. It enhances combat effectiveness through a framework that provides the opportunity for regimental affiliation, develops loyalty and commitment, fosters an extended sense of belonging, improves unit esprit, and institutionalizes the war fighting ethos.

c. While USAR CS, CSS, and special branches are automatically affiliated based on their primary MOS, branch or area of concentration, combat arms soldiers must request affiliation with an activated combat arms regiment.

d. USAR soldiers who have been properly affiliated with a regiment or corps are authorized to wear the regimental DI crest on the Army uniforms. Wear of the DI is prescribed in AR 670-1.

e. Regimental affiliation in the USAR is optional and will be left to the discretion of the individual soldier.

f. Temporary affiliation with a unit to which a USAR soldier is attached is also authorized during the period of that attachment.

6-2. Affiliation procedures for TPU soldiers

a. TPU soldiers who wish to be affiliated with a regimental unit will submit their request on a DA Form 4187. The request will be forwarded through the chain of command to the appropriate Army Reserve Command (ARCOM).

b. The ARCOM S-1 will review the DA Form 4187 and document it for approval.

c. Once approved, the S-1 will return the DA Form 4187 to the soldier's unit of assignment. An information copy of the form will be sent to the regiment concerned. The third copy will be sent to Commander, USARPERCEN, for inclusion in the soldier's permanent file. No orders or other documents will be published.

d. When the approved DA Form 4187 is received at the unit, the unit administrator will return the original copy of the form to the soldier. A copy will be placed on the right side of the military personnel record jacket.

6-3. Affiliation procedures for IRR, IMA, and AGR soldiers

a. IRR and IMA soldiers will submit their request for affiliation on DA Form 4187. IRR soldiers will route the DA Form 4187 directly to the Commander, U.S. Army Reserve Personnel Center, ATTN: DARP-EP (enlisted) or ATTN: DARP-OP(officers), 9700 Page Blvd, St. Louis, MO 63132-5200. IMA soldiers will route requests through their IMA proponent agency. Appropriate documentation must accompany the DA Form 4187 to establish eligibility for the affiliation.

(1) If the soldier is requesting affiliation to a regiment based on a previous assignment to that regiment, he or she will attach a copy of assignment orders to the DA Form 4187.

(2) If the soldier is requesting affiliation to a regiment based on a PMOS or AOC, the soldier will attach one or more of the following documents to the DA Form 4187:

- (a.) A branch basic course completion certificate.
- (b.) An advanced course completion certificate.
- (c.) A verification of completion of advanced individual training.
- (d.) Orders awarding a PMOS, AOC, secondary MOS, additional skill identifier, or special qualification identifier.

b. Upon receipt of the DA Form 4187, the career adviser or personnel management officer at USARPERCEN will take the following actions:

(1) Review the form and document it for approval. If regimental affiliation is approved, it will be noted in the soldier's career management individual file (CMIF) on either the enlisted record brief or the officer record brief as appropriate.

(2) Return the original copy of the DA Form 4187 to the soldier with notification that the affiliation has been approved or disapproved.

(3) Retain one copy of the form in the soldier's OMPF.

(4) Forward one copy of the DA Form 4187 to the regiment or corps concerned for information. (This will provide the regiment or corps with the data necessary to maintain an accurate listing of Reserve Component personnel affiliated with that regiment or corps.)

c. AGR soldiers will follow the procedures for completing DA Form 4187 as listed above. The DA Form 4187 will be sent directly to the career adviser or personnel management officer at the U.S. Army Reserve Personnel Center, ATTN:Full-time Manning Support Center DARP-AR, 1850 Craigshire Place, St. Louis MO 63132-5200.

6-4. Instructions for completing DA Form 4187

The DA Form 4187 is the primary means of requesting regimental affiliation for all USAR personnel using the following format:

a. The "FROM" block will contain the TPU or AGR unit of assignment, IMA proponent agency, or will be left blank by IRR soldiers.

b. The "THRU" block will contain the next higher headquarters for TPU soldiers, and left blank for IMA, AGR, and IRR soldiers.

c. The "TO" block will show the appropriate ARCOM commander for TPU soldiers and Commander, USARPERCEN, ATTN: DARP-OP (Officers) and DARP-AG(Enlisted) for all IMA and IRR soldiers. AGR soldiers will show Commander, ARPERCEN, ATTN: DARP-AG in this block.

d. Place a checkmark in the "OTHER" block in section III. Add the remark "Regimental Affiliation" within that block.

6-5. Regimental affiliation with civil affairs units

a. Except for one active civil affairs battalion, all civil affairs units are found in the USAR. The Active Army civil affairs specialty is not a branch, but a functional area. Since this creates a unique situation with respect to regimental affiliation, it is necessary to provide detailed guidance for active and reserve civil affairs soldiers.

b. Soldiers assigned to the reserve civil affairs TPU will follow the instructions in paragraph 6-3.

c. Soldiers assigned to IRR, IMA, and AGR programs which designate their branch or military occupational specialty as civil affairs will follow the instructions in paragraph 6-3.

d. Soldiers assigned to the Active Army civil affairs unit will normally affiliate with the regiment authorized for their branch or MOS.

e. Reserve soldiers who wish to affiliate with the Civil Affairs Corps may do so if they meet the requirements outlined in paragraph 6-3.

f. Enlisted soldiers who desire to affiliate with the Civil Affairs Corps may do so based on MOS suffix "D" until the civil affairs enlisted career management field is approved. If requesting affiliation based on suffix "D," one of the following must be attached to the DA Form 4187:

- (1) Civil Affairs Enlisted Course completion certificate.
- (2) Orders awarding the suffix "D".

Chapter 7 Processing Individual Requests for Regimental Affiliation

7-1. Regimental affiliation procedures

This chapter provides procedures for processing individual requests for regimental affiliation. Policy and procedures outlined in this chapter apply to all Active Army soldiers who are required to request regimental affiliation or who are authorized to request a change to their regimental unit.

7-2. Submission of the DA Form 4187

a. All regimental affiliation requests will be submitted through the chain of command using DA Form 4187 (fig 7-1).

b. Tables 7-1 through 7-8 must be reviewed to ensure that the regiment selected is compatible with the soldier's PMOS or specialty including additional skills and special qualifications.

c. Table 7-9 provides the SIDPERS codes for the various regiments and the locations of units which may be designated as the soldier's homebase.

d. The servicing Personnel Service Company or Military Personnel Division (MPD) will submit the appropriate SIDPERS transactions unless prevented from doing so as noted in table 7-9.

e. Soldiers must be advised that any transactions which are top-loaded at PERSCOM will not be reflected on the DA Form 2A or the DA Form 4037 (Officer Record Brief) but will appear on the officer and enlisted master files which are used to make assignment decisions.
