PREFACE

1. This Army Training and Evaluation Program (ARTEP) Mission Training Plan (MTP) provides the primary comprehensive training program for a Replacement Battalion/Company (REPL BN/CO) to perform its critical wartime mission. The tables of organization and equipment (TOE) supported by this MTP are Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Replacement Battalion (TOE 12606L000); and Replacement Company (TOE 12407L000). The ARTEP MTP is for use by unit leaders, the primary trainers, to prepare for, conduct, and evaluate their training.

2. The cornerstone of this ARTEP MTP is the unit's TOE mission. All ARTEP MTP materials focus on helping the unit train the collective and individual tasks that, when performed together, enable the unit to accomplish its TOE missions. The ARTEP MTP directly links individual tasks and collective tasks to mission accomplishment. In addition to stating what tasks a unit must accomplish to perform its mission, this document also suggests how a unit should train the tasks.

3. All training must be task-based and performed to standard. The standards in this ARTEP MTP describe the minimum level of performance a unit must achieve in order to successfully perform its mission. While higher headquarters may raise these standards, it should never reduce them.

4. Basic doctrinal guidance for the Replacement Battalion/Company (REPL BN/CO) is contained in Field Manual (FM) 12-6, Personnel Doctrine, and AR 600-8-111, Wartime Replacement Operations. How doctrine is trained is addressed in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.

5. Unless otherwise stated, whenever the masculine gender is used, both men and women are included.

6. The proponent for this publication is Headquarters, Training and Doctrine Command (HQ TRADOC). Submit recommendations for changes to improve this publication on Department of the Army Form (DA Form) 2028, Recommended Changes to Publications and Blank Forms, to COMMANDER, US ARMY SOLDIER SUPPORT INSTITUTE (USASSI), ATTN: ATSG-TD, 10000 HAMPTON PARKWAY, FORT JACKSON, SOUTH CAROLINA 29207-7025.

CHAPTER 1

Unit Training

1-1. General. This Army Training and Evaluation Program Mission Training Plan (ARTEP MTP) provides the commander and leaders with guidance on how to train the key missions of the unit. The specific details of the unit's training program will depend on the following factors:

- a. Unit's Mission Essential Task List (METL).
- b. Chain of command training directives and guidance.
- c. Training priorities of the unit.
- d. Availability of training resources and areas.

1-2. Supporting Material. This MTP describes a critical mission-oriented unit-training program that is part of the next higher echelon's training program. Figure 1-1 illustrates the relationship of the following supporting materials for this unit's training program:

a. ARTEPs 12-602-MTP, Personnel Command, and 12-606-MTP, Replacement Battalion/Company. Both MTPs indicate the relationship of the next higher headquarters training program to the unit's training mission.

b. Soldier Training Publications:

(1) Soldier's Manuals (SM) and Soldier's Manual/Trainer's Guide (SM/TG) for the appropriate Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) and skill levels.

(2) Officer Foundation Standards (OFS) Manuals (formerly Military Qualification Standards (MQS)).

1-3. Contents. The MTP is organized into six chapters:

a. Chapter 1, Unit Training, provides the explanation and organization of the MTP. This chapter explains how to use this MTP for establishing an effective training program.

b. Chapter 2, Training Matrix, provides the relationship between missions and collective tasks.

c. Chapter 3, Mission Outline/Training Plan, provides the mission orientation for training. It is used to determine training activities to be performed to achieve critical wartime proficiency. The mission outline presents a graphic portrayal of the relationship between the critical wartime mission and the subordinate tasks inherent to that mission.

d. Chapter 4, Training Exercises, consists of a field training exercise (FTX) and its supporting situational training exercises (STX). They provide training information and a pre-constructed scenario. They can also serve as a part of an internal or external evaluation. Commanders can modify these exercises to suit their units' training needs.

e. Chapter 5, Training and Evaluation Outlines (T&EO), provides the training and evaluation criteria for all the tasks this unit must master to effectively perform its mission. Each task is a T&EO that identifies task steps, performance measures, individual and leader tasks, and opposing force (OPFOR) counter-tasks. Each T&EO is part of a mission and, in various combinations, composes training exercises in Chapter 4.

f. Chapter 6, External Evaluation, provides instructions and examples for the planning, preparation, and execution of an external evaluation.

1-4. Operational Environment.

a. Commanders and leaders at all levels must conduct training with respect to a wide variety of missions across the full spectrum of operations. These operations may include combined arms, joint, multinational, and interagency considerations, and span the entire breadth of terrain and environmental possibilities. Commanders must always strive to set the training conditions as closely as possible to those expected for actual operations.

b. The operational missions of the Army include not only war, but also military operations other than war (MOOTW). Offensive and defensive operations normally dominate military operations in war, along with some small-scale contingencies. Stability operations and support operations normally dominate in MOOTW. Commanders may combine different types of operations simultaneously or sequentially to accomplish missions in war and MOOTW. The wide range of possible missions complicates training, as Army forces cannot train for every possible mission. Army forces train for war and prepare for other specific missions as time and circumstances permit and contingencies direct.

c. Army forces use a train-alert-deploy sequence. We cannot count on the time or opportunity to correct or make up training deficiencies after alert or deployment. Maintaining forces that are ready now, places increased emphasis on training and the priority of training. This concept is a key link between operational and training doctrine.

d. Units train to be ready for war based on the requirements of a concise and specific mission; in the process they develop a foundation of combat skills that can be refined based on the requirements of the assigned mission. In the train-alert-deploy process, commanders use whatever time the alert cycle provides to continue refinement of mission-focused training. Training continues during time available between alert notification and deployment, between deployment and employment, and even during employment as units adapt to the specific battlefield environment and assimilate combat replacements.

1-5. Missions and Tasks. This MTP will support the specified mission found in the table of organization and equipment (TOE), and implied missions that this unit must perform in order to accomplish that mission. The commander may supplement these missions with his own. The following is a listing of the missions for this unit:

a. TOE Mission. Provide Personnel Replacements. The replacement battalion's mission is to exercise command and control of replacement companies. Replacement companies provide command, control, and processing of individual and small unit military and civilian personnel. The replacement mission consists of receiving, controlling, billeting, feeding, accounting for, processing, assigning, and coordinating movement of personnel.

- b. Implied Missions:
 - (1) Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations.
 - (2) Relocate Unit.
 - (3) Conduct Replacement Operations.
 - (4) Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations.

c. Each of these missions may be trained individually or jointly with other missions. Training is based on the criteria described in the T&EOs. Several T&EOs can be trained as an STX. Various combinations of STXs can be used to develop an FTX for the unit to practice its entire mission responsibility. Several STXs can be used to evaluate the unit's ability to perform multiple missions under stress in a realistic environment.

d. Individual soldier tasks (including those identified in Chapter 5 as "leader" tasks) that support the unit's missions are trained and mastered to appropriate STP (SM, SM/TG, OFS Manual) standards through unit training, battle simulations, and execution of the unit's missions.

1-6. Warrior Ethos.

a. The Warrior Ethos, introduced in initial entry training and emphasized throughout all phases of institutional training, must continue to be developed and emphasized in unit training. It must become a way of life for all soldiers. It must be the foundation of all Army operations and activities. Leaders must assess and refine all unit training, operations, and other activities to assure that they clearly and emphatically support building and maintaining the Warrior Ethos.

b. The Warrior Ethos drives personal commitment to excellence and ethical mission accomplishment. It is a fundamental characteristic of our soldiers, which sets them apart from all others in the world. It exemplifies ethical behavior and Army values. The Warrior Ethos forms the foundation for the American Soldier's spirit and total commitment to victory, in peace and war. Soldiers put the mission first, refuse to accept defeat, never quit, and never leave a fellow soldier behind. Their absolute faith in themselves and their comrades and their unwavering commitment to the nation makes the United States Army invariably persuasive in peace and invincible in war.

1-7. Principles of Training. This MTP is based on the following ten training principles as described in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.

a. Commanders are Responsible for Training.

(1) Commanders are responsible for the training and performance of their soldiers and units. They are the primary training managers and trainers for their organization, are actively engaged in the training process, and adhere to the principles of training. To accomplish their responsibilities, they must:

- -- Be present at training to maximum extent possible
- -- Base training on mission requirements
- -- Train to applicable Army standards
- -- Assess current levels of proficiency
- -- Provide the required resources
- -- Develop and execute training plans that result in proficient individuals, leaders, and units

(2) Commanders delegate authority to NCOs within the chain of command as the primary trainers of individuals, crews, and small teams. They hold NCOs responsible for conducting standards-based, performance-oriented, battle-focused training and provide feedback on individual, crew, and team proficiency.

b. NCOs Train Individuals and Small Teams. NCOs continue the soldierization process of newly assigned enlisted soldiers, and begin their professional development. NCOs are responsible for conducting standards-based, performance-oriented, battle-focused training. They identify specific individual and small team tasks that support the unit's collective mission essential tasks. They plan, prepare, rehearse, execute, and evaluate training. They conduct after action reviews (AARs) to provide feedback to the commander on individual and small team proficiency. Senior NCOs coach junior NCOs to master a wide range of individual tasks.

c. Train as a Combined Arms and Joint Team. The Army provides a Joint Force Commander (JFC) with trained and ready forces that expand the command's range of military options in full spectrum operations. Army commanders tailor and train forces to react quickly to any crisis. Army forces provide a JFC the capability to:

- -- Seize areas previously denied by the enemy
- -- Dominate land operations
- -- Provide support to civil authorities

d. Train for Combat Proficiency. The goal of all training is to achieve defined standards. This develops and sustains combat capable warfighting organizations. To achieve this, units must train to standard under realistic conditions. Achieving standards requires hard work by commanders, staff officers, unit leaders, and soldiers. Commanders and leaders must seek realism in training, yet must operate within the confines of safety and common sense. They must also be willing to initially accept less than perfect results.

(1) Realistic Conditions. Tough, realistic, and intellectually and physically challenging training excites and motivates soldiers and leaders. Realistic training builds competence and confidence by developing and honing skills, and inspires excellence by fostering initiative, enthusiasm, and eagerness to learn. Successful completion of each training phase increases the capability and motivation of individuals and units for more sophisticated and challenging achievements. This is a commander's continuous quest.

(2) Performance Oriented. Units become proficient in the performance of critical tasks and missions by actually practicing or doing the tasks and missions. Soldiers learn best by doing, using an experiential, hands-on approach. Commanders and subordinate leaders are responsible to plan and develop training that will provide these opportunities.

e. Train to Standard Using Appropriate Doctrine. Training must be done to the Army standard and conform to Army doctrine. In cases where mission tasks involve emerging doctrine or non-standard tasks, commanders establish the tasks, conditions and standards using mission orders and guidance, lessons learned from similar operations, and their professional judgment. FM 3-0, Operations, provides the doctrinal foundation, and supporting doctrinal manuals describe common tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTP) that permit commanders and organizations to adjust rapidly to changing situations. In units, new soldiers will have little time to learn non-standard procedures. Therefore, units must train to the Army standard contained in the MTP and soldier training publications, while applying Army doctrine and current regulatory guidance.

f. Train to Adapt. Commanders train and develop adaptive leaders and units, and prepare their subordinates to operate in positions of increased responsibility. Repetitive, standards-based training provides relevant experience. Commanders intensify training experiences by varying training conditions. Training experiences coupled with timely feedback build competence. Leaders build unit, staff and soldier confidence when they consistently demonstrate competence. Competence, confidence, and discipline promote initiative and enable leaders to adapt to changing situations and conditions. They improvise with the resources at hand, exploit opportunities and accomplish their assigned mission in the absence of orders. Commanders at every echelon integrate training events in their training plans to develop and train imaginative, adaptive leaders and units.

g. Train to Maintain and Sustain. Soldier and equipment maintenance is a vital part of every training program. Soldiers and leaders are responsible for maintaining all assigned equipment and supplies in a high state of readiness to support training or operational missions. Units must be capable of fighting for sustained periods of time with the equipment they are issued. Soldiers must become experts in operating and maintaining their equipment. This link between training and sustainment is vital to mission success.

h. Train Using Multi-Echelon Techniques. Multi-echelon training is the most effective and efficient way of sustaining proficiency on mission essential tasks with limited time and resources. Commanders use multi-echelon training to:

- -- Train leaders, battle staffs, units, and individuals at each echelon of the organization simultaneously.
- -- Maximize use of allocated resources and available time.
- -- Reduce the effects of personnel turbulence.

i. Train to Sustain Proficiency. Once individuals and units have trained to a required level of proficiency, leaders must structure individual and collective training plans to retrain critical tasks at the minimum frequency necessary to sustain proficiency. Your unit must be prepared to go to war on short notice. In order to sustain proficiency, you must train-evaluate-train. Sustainment requires practice and repetition. Evaluation of these practices illuminates training weaknesses. Training emphasis must always stay on sustaining skills and correcting identified weaknesses simultaneously. The mission outline and sequentially smaller training components allow you to select tasks and groups of tasks to facilitate this process and reduce planning time.

j. Train and Develop Leaders. Commanders have a duty and execute a vital role in leader training and leader development. They teach subordinates how to fight and how to train. They mentor, guide, listen to, and "think with" subordinates. They train leaders to plan training in detail, prepare for training thoroughly, execute training aggressively, and evaluate short-term training proficiency in terms of desired long-term results. Training and developing leaders are embedded components of every training event. Nothing is more important to the Army than building confident, competent, adaptive leaders for tomorrow.

1-8. Conducting Training. This MTP will facilitate the planning, preparation, and conduct of unit training as explained in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.

a. The commander will assign the missions and tasks for training based on his METL and training guidance from the next higher HQ. Trainers must plan and execute training in support of this guidance.

b. The commander will review the mission outlines in Chapter 3 to determine whether the FTXs and STXs provided will support or can be modified to support your command guidance.

c. The commander will prioritize the tasks that need training. Time is seldom available to train everything. The commander must consider his assessment of the unit's proficiency, the most likely critical missions, and the most difficult sustainment skills.

d. The commander, after approving the task list, will integrate the tasks into the training schedule by:

(1) Listing the tasks in the priority and frequency they need to be trained.

(2) Estimating the training time required and how multi-echelon training can be used for the best results.

(3) Determining where the training can take place.

(4) Establishing training responsibilities. The leaders of the elements being trained must always be involved.

(5) Organizing the training into blocks of time and training vehicles.

e. Commanders must determine the equipment, training aids, devices, simulations and simulators (TADSS), and supplies needed to conduct training.

f. Commanders must keep subordinate leaders informed and oversee their training. Standards must be enforced.

g. Training Execution. All good training, regardless of the specific collective, leader, and individual tasks being executed, must comply with certain common requirements. These include adequate preparation, effective presentation and practice, and thorough evaluation. The execution of training includes preparation for training, conduct of training, and recovery from training.

(1) Preparation for training. Formal near-term planning for training begins with the publication of the unit training schedule. Informal planning, detailed coordination, and preparation for executing the training continue until the training is performed. Commanders and other trainers use training meetings to assign responsibility for preparation of all scheduled training. Preparation for training includes selecting tasks to be trained, planning the conduct of the training, training the trainers, reconnaissance of the site, issuing the training execution plan, and conducting rehearsals and pre-execution checks. Pre-execution checks are preliminary actions commanders and trainers use to identify responsibility for these and other training is conducted to standard. During preparation for training, commanders identify and eliminate potential training distracters that develop within their own organizations. They also assure maximum attendance at training.

(a) Subordinate leaders, as a result of the bottom-up feedback from internal training meetings, identify and select the collective, leader, and individual tasks necessary to support the identified training objectives. Commanders develop the tentative plan to include requirements for preparatory training, concurrent training, and training resources. At a minimum, the training plan should include confirmation of training areas and locations, training ammunition allocations, availability of training simulations and simulators, transportation requirements, soldier support items, a risk management analysis, assignment of responsibility for the training, designation of trainers responsible for approved training, and final coordination. The time and other necessary resources for retraining must also be an integral part of the original training plan.

(b) Leaders, trainers, evaluators, observer controllers (OC), and OPFOR must be identified, trained to standard, and rehearsed prior to the conduct of the training. They must be coached on how to train, given time to prepare, and rehearsed so that training will be challenging and doctrinally correct. Commanders ensure that trainers and evaluators are not only tactically and technically competent on their training tasks, but also understand how the training relates to the organization's METL. Properly prepared trainers, evaluators, and leaders project confidence and enthusiasm to those being trained. Trainer and leader training is a critical event in the preparation phase of training. These individuals must demonstrate proficiency on the selected tasks prior to the conduct of training.

(c) Commanders, with their subordinate leaders and trainers, conduct site reconnaissance, identify additional training support requirements, and refine and issue the training execution plan. The training plan should identify all those elements necessary to ensure the conduct of training to standard. Rehearsals are essential to the execution of good training. Realistic, standards-based, performance-oriented training requires rehearsals for trainers, support personnel, evaluators, OCs and OPFOR. Preparing for training in reserve component (RC) organizations can require complex pre-execution checks. RC trainers must often conduct detailed coordination to obtain equipment, training support system products and ammunition from distant locations.

(2) Conduct of training. Ideally, training is executed using the crawl-walk-run approach. This allows and promotes an objective, standards-based approach to training. Crawl events are relatively simple to conduct and require minimum support from the unit. After the crawl stage, training becomes incrementally more difficult, requiring more resources from the unit and home station, and increasing the level of realism. At the run stage, the level of difficulty for the training event intensifies. Run stage training requires optimum resources and ideally approaches the level of realism expected in combat. Progression from the walk to the run stage for a particular task may occur during a one-day training exercise or may require a succession of training periods over time. Achievement of the Army standard determines progression between stages.

(a) In crawl-walk-run training, the tasks and the standards remain the same; however, the conditions under which they are trained change. Commanders may change the conditions, for example, by increasing the difficulty of the conditions under which the task is being performed, increasing the tempo of the task training, increasing the number of tasks being trained, or by increasing the number of personnel involved in the training. Whichever approach is used, it is important that all leaders and soldiers involved understand in which stage they are currently training and understand the Army standard.

(b) An example of the crawl-walk-run approach occurs in the unit executing an STX. In the crawl stage, the unit conducts a dismounted rehearsal of the task. In the walk stage, the unit conducts a full rehearsal of the task. In the run stage, the unit executes several iterations of the task against an OPFOR. Some iterations are conducted under nuclear, biological and chemical conditions, and some during periods of limited visibility. During each iteration of the task, the unit strives to achieve the objective to the standard described in the T&EO.

(c) An AAR is immediately conducted and may result in the need for additional training. Any task that was not conducted to standard should be retrained. Retraining should be conducted at the earliest opportunity. Commanders should program time and other resources for retraining as an integral part of their training plan. Training is incomplete until the task is trained to standard. Soldiers remember the standard enforced, not the one discussed.

(3) Recovery from training. The recovery process is an extension of training, and once completed, it signifies the end of the training event. At a minimum, recovery includes conduct of maintenance training, turn-in of training support items, and the conduct of AARs that review the overall effectiveness of the training just completed.

(a) Maintenance training is the conduct of post-operations preventive maintenance checks and services, accountability of organizational and individual equipment, and final inspections. Support items are maintained, accounted for, and turned-in. Training sites and facilities are closed out.

(b) AARs conducted during recovery focus on collective, leader, and individual task performance, and on the planning, preparation and conduct of the training just completed. Unit AARs focus on individual and collective task performance, and identify shortcomings and the training required to correct deficiencies. AARs with leaders focus on tactical judgment. These AARs contribute to leader learning and provide opportunities for leader development. AARs with trainers, evaluators, OCs, and OPFOR provide additional opportunities for leader development.

1-9. Combined Arms Training Strategy (CATS).

a. Commanders can use CATS when developing unit-training plans. CATS is a guide, a flexible system that provides commanders with a menu of training tasks and events from which they can plan training based on their current assessment of METL proficiency and available resources. CATS assists commanders to optimize allocation of available training resources against training required to attain and sustain METL proficiency. It helps balance training requirements with allocated training resources. CATS outlines a recommended mix of live training and simulations to execute unit training. CATS is not prescriptive, but merely a guide to assist commanders in developing training plans, and frequently resources are not available to execute all the training events recommended in CATS.

b. This unit's training strategy, a document to be published separately on the Reimer Digital Library, is a descriptive training strategy that provides a means for training to standard by listing required training events, critical training gates, training event frequencies, and training resources. The commander selects from this MTP those tasks required to train his METL. The training strategies provided in the MTP provide the means whereby those tasks can be trained through a focused and integrated training plan.

1-10. Feedback. Recommendations for improvement of this MTP are requested. Feedback will help to ensure that this MTP answers the training needs of units in the field. There is a questionnaire at the end of the MTP to make it easier to send recommendations and comments.

CHAPTER 2

Training Matrix

2-1. General. The training matrix assists the commander in planning the training of his unit's personnel.

2-2. Mission-to-Collective-Tasks Matrix. This matrix (Figure 2-2), identifies the missions and their supporting collective tasks. The tasks are listed under the appropriate battlefield operating system (BOS). A specific mission is trained by identifying collective tasks in the vertical column for the mission. Based on the proficiency of the unit, training is focused on operational weaknesses. Figure 2-1 provides mission identification for the unit.

Mission Outline/Training Plan

3-1. General. This chapter describes the use of the MTP for development of replacement battalion/company (REPL BN/CO) training plans and provides a mission outline (Figure 3-1). It will assist commanders and their staffs in preparing training plans for critical wartime missions. FMs 7-0 (Training the Force) and 7-1 (Battle Focused Training) provide detailed information on training management. Use both publications, along with this MTP, when developing battalion-level training plans.

3-2. Long-Range Planning. The long-range plan consists of a calendar covering the planning period and the commander's formal guidance. To develop a long-range plan, the commander must first develop the unit's mission essential task list (METL) and conduct a training assessment.

a. Develop Unit METL. The first step in developing a METL is to analyze the unit's war plan and external directives. From this analysis, develop a list of tasks, which the unit must successfully accomplish to complete its wartime mission. Chapter 2 contains materials that provide assistance in task development. Tasks that the unit must train to successfully accomplish its wartime mission(s) become the unit's METL.

b. Establish Training Objectives. Commanders establish their training objectives after identifying the METL. Training objectives are conditions and standards, which describe the situation or environment and ultimate outcome criteria the unit, must meet to successfully perform the tasks. Obtain training objectives and standards for the unit's METL from the MTP, STP, higher headquarters command guidance, and local standing operating procedures (SOP).

c. Conduct Training Assessment. The training assessment is the commander's continuous comparison of the unit's current proficiency required to fight and win on the battlefield. The commander, his staff and subordinate commanders assess the organization's current proficiency on mission essential tasks against required standards. The commander then indicates the current proficiency by rating each task as "T" (trained), "P" (needs practice), or "U" (untrained). The outcome of the training assessment identifies the unit's training requirements.

d. Develop Training Strategy and Commander's Guidance. Develop the training strategy using the outcome from the training assessment. This training strategy will enable the commander and staff to establish priorities by determining the minimum frequency each mission essential task, the unit will train during the upcoming training period. The training strategy includes the commander's training vision and guidance. To develop unit goals, the commander must:

(1) Review the goals of your higher HQ.

(2) Spell out in real-world terms what the unit will do to comply with goals of higher commanders.

(3) List in broad terms his own goals for the unit, i.e., attain and sustain proficiency in all MTP missions and maintain 90 percent operational readiness rate.

e. Establish Training Priorities. Establish priorities for training METL tasks by the criticality of the task and the relative training emphasis it should receive.

f. Prepare Long-Range Planning Calendar. The long-range planning calendar is the coordinating tool for long-range planning. It is structured by long-range training events to identify time available for training mission essential tasks. Prepare a long-range calendar as follows:

(1) Select training events and activities to train the critical wartime missions. The REPL BN/CO commander must project events that will enable him to achieve his goals.

(2) Assign time for subordinate units to train. Allow subordinate leaders to develop their training programs in support of the unit's training program.

(3) Examine various training alternatives to make optimum use of the training support available to the unit. Compare available training resources against higher echelon directed training, and internally directed training events.

(4) Obtain approval of long-range plans from higher HQ.

g. Issue Guidance and Long-Range Training Calendar. Issue both training guidance and calendar to the staff and subordinate units. The guidance supplements the calendar and generally includes:

- (1) Training policies
- (2) Types of mandatory training
- (3) Training resources guidance
- (4) Quotas for centralized training (schools)
- (5) Training goals

3-3. Short-Range Planning. A short-range plan is prepared to address the immediate future (three months for active component (AC) and one year for reserve component (RC). Short-range planning develops specific training objectives based on goals and guidance prepared during long-range planning. This plan adds more detail and may modify the long-range plan based on current assessments. Prepare the short-range plan as described below:

a. Review the training program, previous short-range planning calendars, current unit proficiency, resources, and training environment.

(1) Review the training program described in the long-range planning process. This review determines if assessments made during long-range planning are still valid.

(2) Review previous short-range planning calendars for training accomplished and preempted and lessons learned.

(3) Review current unit proficiency to update priorities.

(4) Review resources to determine if it is still possible to execute the program described on the long-range planning calendar.

(5) Review the training environment in this phase of planning because it takes on added importance as training events and activities approach. The following are factors that affect the training environment and collectively impact on training program:

- (a) Personnel assigned
- (b) Personnel turbulence
- (c) Morale
- (d) Education programs

- (e) Mandatory training
- (f) Visits, inspections and tests
- (g) Supplies and equipment
- (h) Non mission-related activities
- (i) Other programs
- b. Develop and prepare a detailed plan of action for short-range training plans as follows:
 - (1) Examine events scheduled on the long-range training plan to determine if they are still valid.
 - (2) Transfer valid events to a short-range training planning calendar.
 - (3) Determine desired outcomes for scheduled events.
 - (4) Analyze missions to determine related individual leader and collective tasks.

(5) Determine if there are any weaknesses and sustain selected individual, leader and unit strengths, as necessary.

(6) Select the specific training objectives for those missions and tasks the unit must train. The T&EOs in chapter 5 provide the commander with the training objectives.

(7) A short-range training planning calendar is prepared containing three monthly training schedules. It provides a detailed plan of action for the specified period.

- (8) Review short-range plans with higher HQ.
- (9) Issue guidance. This guidance must specifically addresses how to accomplish training.

3-4. Near-Term Planning. The final phase of planning is the actual execution of training. Prepare weekly training schedules using the short-range plan.

a. Review the training program, unit proficiency, resources, and training environment. As in longrange and short range planning, this review determines if previous assessments are still valid.

b. Finalize plans based upon the review of the training program. Determine the best sequence for training tasks, and complete the final coordination of training events and activities.

c. Prepare trainers, OCs, OPFORs, and support personnel to know what is being trained, why it is being trained, and their role in the training.

3-5. Training the Command and Headquarters Sections. Planning training for these sections provides the commander with unique challenges. The most severe are those that have to do with time and availability of personnel. The command and HQ sections are involved in day-to-day operations and support of subordinate unit training. It is difficult to find the adequate time to address the training needs of these elements. They must be capable of fulfilling their roles for the unit to perform its wartime missions. The strategy selected by the commander for training these elements must include an effective method of training individuals, staffs, and leaders.

a. Training of the staff presents the greatest challenges within a constrained training environment. This MTP identifies the training objectives for the staff. The staff has numerous tasks to master to be effective. Examples of tasks that any staff must be able to perform are:

(1) Function as an effective team.

- (2) Exchange information.
- (3) Prepare estimates.
- (4) Give appraisals.
- (5) Make recommendations and decisions.
- (6) Prepare plans.
- (7) Issue orders.
- (8) Coordinate and control unit operations.
- (9) Supervise subordinate units.

b. Each unit is different. The strategy used to train staff will vary based on the considerations used in planning training (level of proficiency, training support available, etc.). Only the commander can determine the best method of training his staff. Some methods of staff training include the following exercises:

(1) Tactical exercise without troops (TEWT). A TEWT is a low-cost, low-overhead exercise conducted in the field on actual terrain suitable for training units for specific missions. Commanders use TEWTs to train subordinate leaders and staffs to analyze terrain and plan for unit missions.

(2) Map exercises (MAPEX). MAPEX are low-cost, low-overhead training exercises that allow commanders to train their staffs to perform essential integrating and control functions to support their decisions under wartime conditions. MAPEX are useful in training the staff to exchange information, prepare estimates and plans, give appraisals, make recommendations and decisions, and issue orders.

(3) Command post exercises (CPX). CPX are medium-cost, medium overhead training exercises that commanders may conducting garrison or field locations. CPX normally use a battle simulation to drive staff actions.

(4) Field training exercise (FTX). FTX are high-cost, high-overhead exercises conducted in the field under simulated combat conditions. Unit-conducted FTXs exercise the staff in coordination, control, and supervision of unit operations. They normally require the completion of staff planning tasks before the exercise begins. FTXs conducted by higher-HQ provide the best opportunity for the staff to combine all of its skills and perform as they would in wartime, responding to both higher and lower levels.

c. A method to optimize staff and unit training is to integrate TEWT, MAPEX, and CPX to prepare the orders and plans for upcoming FTXs. This will effectively exercise the entire spectrum of the staff, and make optimum use of the unit's field training time.

3-6. Developing Training Exercises. Chapter 4 provides sample exercises for the unit to use or modify to meet specific training needs. This section provides general procedures for staff to use for FTX preparation, and for the supporting STXs. FTX/STX plans are normally prepared during preparation of the short-range plan. Prepare the exercises as described below:

a. Selection of missions and tasks for training. Accomplish this during the development of the short-range plan.

b. Site selection. Confirm selection of training area.

c. Scenario development. After selecting missions and tasks, prepare a detailed scenario for the exercise.

(1) List the missions, tasks and events in the preferred sequence of occurrence.

(2) Identify events necessary for control of the exercise. These exercises would normally include issuance of orders, after action review (AAR), and any other administrative or logistics actions necessary to conduct the exercise.

(3) Prepare exercise overlays which show the sequence of actions and terrain to be used for each event.

(4) Determine the estimated time for each event using the overlay and scenario. The total time is determined to ensure completion of the scenario within in the time allocated for the exercise.

d. Selection of observer controller (OC) and opposing force (OPFOR) personnel. OC and OPFOR personnel are normally required for every FTX and STX. Ideally, higher HQ should provide OCs and OPFOR. It is difficult for a unit to provide these requirements from its internal resources. When providing OCs and OPFORs from within the unit, select from personnel not essential for attainment of the exercise objectives.

e. Preparation of the control plan. Control plans coordinate actions of training units, OPFOR, and OCs. The scenario is used and a detailed control plan is prepared. The control plan should consist of:

- (1) Detailed schedules of OPFOR actions.
- (2) Detailed instructions for the OPFOR.
- (3) Detailed schedule of activities for units.
- (4) Operational orders (OPORD) and fragmentary orders (FRAGO) for friendly units.

f. Preparation of evaluation plan. Evaluation is continuous and applicable to all training. Evaluation plans identify the tasks to evaluate, by whom, and at what time, and will consist of:

- (1) Specific instructions for OCs.
- (2) A sequential list of T&EOs each OC will evaluate.
- (3) Detailed time schedules for evaluation and AARs.

3-7. Mission Outline. The mission outline provides a graphic portrayal of the collective tasks the unit must train and perform during each STX. Each STX will prepare the unit to combine all of its skills and perform as they would in wartime and during the FTX. The mission outline contains the critical unit wartime missions. Each column list the unit's critical wartime mission along with the collective tasks it must successfully perform during each STX phase.

FTX 12-1-E0006 PROVIDE PERSONNEL REPLACEMENTS

* These T&EOs are optional for this STX. The primary training on these T&EOs occurs in other STXs. OCs and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to the run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

CHAPTER 4

Training Exercises

4-1. General. Training exercises train and evaluate the performance of collective tasks. This MTP contains one field training exercise (FTX) and four situational training exercises (STX) (Table 4-1) that will assist commanders in developing, sustaining, and evaluating their unit's proficiency.

Table 4-1 Training Exercises

FTX 12-1-E0006	Provide Personnel Replacements	4-2
STX 12-1-E0007	Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations	4-9
STX 12-1-E0008	Relocate Unit	4-14
STX 12-1-E0009	Conduct Replacement Operations	4-19
STX 12-1-E0010	Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations	4-24

4-2. Field Training Exercise. The FTX is conducted under simulated combat conditions in the field. It exercises command and control of all echelons in battle functions against actual or simulated opposing forces. It provides a logical sequence for the performance of tasks previously trained in the STXs.

4-3. Situational Training Exercise. The STX is a short, scenario-driven, mission-oriented tactical exercise used to train a group of closely related collective tasks. The commander may modify an STX based on the mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors, mission essential task list (METL), and equipment. The STXs in this chapter provide information for training the supporting missions, which together make up the critical wartime mission. The STXs perform the following functions:

- a. Provide repetitive training on the critical wartime mission.
- b. Allow the unit to practice the supporting missions before the critical wartime mission.

c. Allow trainers and observer controllers (OC) to identify training weaknesses and to provide specialized assistance.

d. Save time by providing a majority of the information needed to develop a vehicle for training.

4-4. Safety. Safety must be a major consideration in all training. All soldiers and leaders must be safetyconscious. OC, trainers, and leaders have the responsibility to ensure all training occurs within the established safety constraints. Prior to beginning each exercise, commanders must complete a risk assessment and brief all personnel on specific safety measures to be observed during execution. Training safety is addressed in Appendix B to this MTP.

REPLACEMENT BATTALION/COMPANY (REPL BN/CO) FTX 12-1-E0006 PROVIDE PERSONNEL REPLACEMENTS

1. Objective. This FTX provides the REPL BN/CO training in its critical wartime mission. This FTX is useful for the conduct of internal and external evaluations. It uses all the Training and Evaluation Outlines (T&EO) shown in Chapter 5, and incorporates all T&EO contained in the STXs in this chapter.

2. Interface.

a. This FTX can be trained in conjunction with the FTX in ARTEPs 12-426-MTP, Personnel Services Battalion (PSB); and 12-602-MTP, Personnel Command (PERSCOM).

b. The REPL BN is dependent upon appropriate external elements for health services, food services, legal, finance, religious, human resources, communications, unit maintenance, and supplemental transportation support. The REPL CO has its own food service section and may coordinate for additional support, as necessary. Early coordination is essential to assure external support is available for use in training activities.

- c. The following STXs support this FTX:
 - (1) Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations (STX 12-1-E0007).
 - (2) Relocate Unit (STX 12-1-E0008).
 - (3) Conduct Replacement Operations (STX 12-1-E0009).
 - (4) Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations (STX 12-1-E0010).

3. Training Enhancers. Pre-FTX training activities that will help the REPL BN/CO receive maximum benefit from the conduct of this FTX include the following:

a. Prior to conducting this FTX, unit personnel should be fully trained on the STXs in this chapter, and on their supporting individual tasks. This FTX combines and integrates the tasks presented initially in the STXs. Once the basics of the FTX are mastered, the FTX should be conducted under increasingly complex and challenging conditions.

b. Leaders should prepare for the FTX by reviewing their operational procedures and the ARTEP MTP collective tasks. This training enhances planning, control, and coordination skills, and builds communication among unit personnel.

c. Map reconnaissance provides an excellent means to train leaders. A map reconnaissance acquaints leaders with the terrain in which they will be operating and provides a wealth of information to assist in planning activities at all levels.

d. Leaders should review the written results of previous FTXs, STXs, and other training activities conducted by their unit and sister units, as well as lessons learned publications, after-action reports from recent training, and reports maintained by the Center for Army Lessons Learned (CALL).

e. All key individuals should personally review pertinent operations plans (OPLAN), doctrinal publications, and the tactical standing operating procedure (TSOP) of the unit they are supporting and the unit to which they are assigned. They should cover this material with subordinates in formal or informal training sessions.

f. Leaders should wargame and talk through the major events contained in the training exercise. By discussing their respective actions in response to these situations, a higher level of understanding and enhanced prior planning are achieved. This understanding and planning will subsequently result in prompt, systematic, well integrated and effective responses to situations whether encountered in training or in combat. This training also helps the commander communicate his intent to key leaders and soldiers.

g. Maximum effort should be made to include this unit as a participant in the command post and field training activities conducted by its supported units. The participation of less than the full unit or by individual officers and NCOs also provides very valuable training.

4. General Scenario. This FTX begins with the receipt of a mobilization order for reserve component (RC) units or a deployment warning order for active component (AC) units. It continues through a series of suggested training activities that progress through each STX, ending with the final after action review (AAR). These training activities are expanded and annotated with estimated times in Table 4-2. The collective tasks that this FTX trains are listed sequentially in Table 4-4. The FTX ends with the unit redeploying to its home station or another location and, if applicable, being demobilized. Figure 4-1 illustrates the general scenario of task performance in this exercise. During all phases of the scenario, the commander, leaders, and soldiers must be alert to the possibility of terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information.

5. General Situation. The RC REPL BN/CO has been alerted for mobilization with subsequent instructions for deployment to an OCONUS theater. The AC REPL BN/CO has been directed to deploy to a new theater to conduct replacement operations. Threat forces within the theater have nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC); ground; and air attack capabilities. While conducting all activities, the unit may encounter terrorist operations.

6. Special Situation. The RC REPL BN/CO has received a mobilization order with the following warning order. The AC REPL BN/CO has received the following deployment order:

Commence immediate preparation for deployment to BORLAND. Upon arrival, be prepared for onward movement to support the ______. Deployment will be from Wickshire AFB during the window DDTTTTZ MMM YY - DDTTTTZ MMM YY. Information on deployment destination and times are not for release to non-unit personnel and families. Further guidance follows.

	TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME	45 hr

NOTES:

- Time for conducting the tactical road march includes these events.
- (1)* (2) Events in this group are performed simultaneously. The highest time period was used in establishing the total estimated time.
- Events will be trained to standard, not to time. (3)
- (4) The time required to train an event may vary based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the training proficiency of the unit.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers and observer controllers (OC). Commanders should conduct this FTX under the direction of personnel external to the REPL BN/CO. This makes it possible for all unit personnel to receive full benefit of the training. The FTX requires at least three OCs who are thoroughly trained in their duties and responsibilities, and should have previous experience in a REPL BN/CO, PSB or PERSCOM.

b. Opposing forces (OPFOR).

(1) A light infantry OPFOR squad is required for this FTX. They must be trained to perform the OPFOR tasks contained in this MTP, and when employed, they must be supervised to assure they operate in accordance with the task standards. The OPFOR OC must exercise close control over the actions of the OPFOR.

(2) Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES) should be used whenever available by OPFOR and individuals participating in the portions of this exercise where direct contact with OPFOR is most likely. OC personnel must also be trained and prepared to assess damage to equipment and identify personnel casualties.

c. Vehicles and communications. Vehicles and communications equipment organic to the REPL BN/CO are used. Communications equipment and vehicles are necessary to support OCs and OPFORs. Coordinate with external supporting agencies for supplementary transportation and communications.

d. Maneuver area. This FTX requires several training areas. Mobilization and deployment activities are conducted using the unit's garrison area, a road network suitable for a non-tactical move, and a port of embarkation (POE) or an area in which a POE can be simulated. Subsequent training takes place in a field or urban setting. The basic requirement is two, one-square-kilometer field training areas approximately 10 kilometers apart which are connected by a tactical road network through a training area. This arrangement is necessary to provide for training on tactical movement and relocation to a new site.

e. Master incident list (MIL). Much of this training will be driven by the actions which the unit commander and key leaders take in response to the warning orders and other directives they receive. However, additional event drivers or incidents, which will cause the unit to perform the collective tasks included in this FTX, are needed. They must be developed prior to the FTX, arranged in a sequential, time-phased manner, entered on the MIL, and injected by the OCs. This list will serve as the FTX road map and help to assure the appropriate timing, control, and evaluation of all FTX training.

f. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-3 lists the suggested support requirements for this FTX. DA PAM 350-38, Standards in Weapons Training, establishes the training ammunition allocation.

REPLACEMENT BATTALION/COMPANY (REPL BN/CO) STX 12-1-E0007 CONDUCT MOBILIZATION/DEPLOYMENT OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX trains REPL BN/CO to conduct a deployment. In addition, it trains reserve component (RC) REPL BN/CO for mobilization. Cost and other factors usually preclude the actual air, sea or extensive ground convoy movement portion of a deployment. However, the most important parts of this training can be accomplished by completing the steps from initial notification for mobilization and deployment up to the time when the unit actually departs from the port of embarkation (POE).

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. The REPL BN is dependent upon appropriate external elements for health services, food services, legal, finance, religious, human resources, communications, unit maintenance, and supplemental transportation support. The REPL CO has its own food service section and may coordinate for additional support, as necessary. Early coordination is essential to assure external support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Review the deployment sections of the tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) for the REPL BN, higher HQ, and supporting and supported units.

(2) Visit agencies which support your mobilization and deployment to obtain current information on deployment policies, procedures, and capabilities.

(3) Review the procedures outlined in FM 100-17, Mobilization, Deployment, Redeployment and Demobilization, and other doctrinal materials.

(4) Review all safety and security procedures to include those of sister services that provide your strategic transportation support.

(5) Study equipment packaging and vehicle-blocking and tie-down procedures.

(6) Review your unit's family support plans and soldier readiness processing (SRP) procedures.

(7) If an RC unit, study your mobilization procedures.

(8) Review transportation, specialized equipment and supply requirements, and loading plans.

(9) Study lessons learned by units similar to yours that have mobilized and deployed.

(10) Observe emergency deployment readiness evaluations (EDRE) conducted by another unit.

(11) Review the after-action reports from previous training you conducted using this STX and any other mobilization and deployment training.

- b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:
 - (1) Recall procedures
 - (2) Operational security (OPSEC) procedures
 - (3) Terrorist capabilities and counter-terrorism procedures
 - (4) Duties of subordinate leaders
 - (5) Plans and procedures for 24-hour operations and operations under nonstandard conditions
 - (6) Packaging, loading, blocking, and tie-down procedures
 - (7) Non-tactical movement techniques and procedures
 - (8) SRP requirements and procedures
 - (9) Accuracy and completeness of personnel records and family support plans

(10) Safety in loading vehicles, supplies and equipment; in conducting non-tactical movement; and while on strategic transport vehicles

- (11) Command, control, and communications
- (12) Security during the non-tactical road march and during halts
- (13) Port of embarkation policies and procedures
- c. After attaining STX proficiency, sustains that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.
- 4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel can conduct crawl level training on this STX, the walk and run phases are best conducted using outside observer controllers (OC). This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective training assessments, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. While mobilizing and deploying, the REPL BN/CO may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information about friendly forces. Use appropriately dressed opposing forces (OPFOR) as terrorists, saboteurs, or enemy agents in order to ensure realism and to objectively assess unit security measures.

c. After achieving proficiency loading unit equipment and vehicles on mock-ups, if possible, load them on the actual aircraft, ships, rail cars, or other vehicle transports the unit would use in a deployment.

d. Use transport/movement experts from support agencies such as Air Force loadmasters and personnel from Army transportation units to present training and critique loading activities.

e. Make arrangements for your key personnel to observe or participate in deployment exercises conducted by supported units, higher headquarters, or other units.

f. Prior to beginning this STX, the commander should ensure that all unit and individual soldier equipment is packed and maintained IAW the unit TSOP. The commander should ensure that precombat inspections (PCI) are made and the unit is placed on a two-hour recall readiness posture.

5. General Situation. The RC REPL BN/CO, located at its home station, has been directed to prepare for mobilization. The AC (or mobilized RC) REPL BN/CO, is directed to deploy to another theater where it will resume its support mission. All normal support agencies and individuals required to conduct this deployment are available and tasked to support the REPL BN/CO.

6. Special Situation.

a. The RC REPL BN/CO commander received a mobilization order and, subsequently, the following warning order from his higher HQ:

b. The AC REPL BN/CO commander received the following warning order:

Commence immediate preparation for deployment to ZEELAND. Upon arrival be prepared to conduct replacement operations for the ______. Deployment will be from Wickshire AFB during the window DDTTTTZ MMM YY - DDTTTTZ MMM YY. Information on the deployment destination and times are not for release to non-unit personnel and families. Further guidance follows.

c. The STX ends after the unit has mobilized and moved all deploying personnel, vehicles, equipment and supplies to the POE, and loaded them onto simulated, mockup, or actual transport vehicles, off-loaded them, and is prepared for movement to a new operational site.

- d. Conduct an after action review (AAR) at the training site when the exercise is completed.
- e. Table 4-5 shows the estimated time needed for each part of the exercise.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OCs. Two OCs who are thoroughly familiar with the steps involved in the mobilization and deployment of this unit are required. A less desired alternative is to have the unit commander and other senior leaders serve in these positions.

b. OPFOR. One individual is required to serve as a terrorist/civilian agent attempting to gather information on the unit's mission, destination, personnel, and movement schedule. OPFOR performance must be in accordance with the task, condition, and standards specified in this MTP.

c. Vehicles and communications. Vehicles and communications equipment organic to the REPL BN/CO are used. Also, communications equipment and vehicles are necessary to support OCs and the OPFOR. Coordinate with supporting agencies for any supplementary transportation and communications.

d. Maneuver area.

(1) The majority of this training is conducted in the unit's existing garrison area.

(2) The road network to the actual POE or a comparable road network of about 10 kilometers to a simulated POE is required.

(3) The actual POE or a comparable area which can serve as a simulated POE is required.

(4) Actual or simulated aircraft (or other strategic transport vehicles) are desired to familiarize unit personnel with them and to train loading techniques and procedures.

e. Master incident list (MIL). Most of this training is driven by the deployment order. However, other exercise incidents need to be developed to support the training. Once developed, these incidents should be prepared in a time-phased MIL to assure their proper sequencing, control, and evaluation.

f. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-6 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

NOTE:

*These T&EO are optional to this STX. While part of this ARTEP MTP and situations that could arise during the course of this STX, particularly in light of the current contemporary operating environment (COE), the primary training on them occurs in other STX. OC and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

REPLACEMENT BATTALION/COMPANY (REPL BN/CO) STX 12-1-E0008 RELOCATE UNIT

1. Objective. This STX trains the REPL BN/CO on planning and conducting a tactical unit move under combat conditions to relocate the unit from the port of departure (POD) or an operating area, to a new operating area. It provides training on a range of hostile combat activity to include nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC) operations, hostile sniper and ambush attacks, air attacks, and terrorist activities. It also provides key unit leaders with practice in coordinating and controlling movement and performing advance/quartering party functions.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. The REPL BN is dependent upon appropriate external elements for health services, food services, legal, finance, religious, human resources, communications, unit maintenance, and supplemental transportation support. The REPL CO has its own food service section and may coordinate for additional support, as necessary. Early coordination is essential to assure external support is available for use in training activities.

- 3. Training.
 - a. Leader training:

(1) Thoroughly review the T&EOs used in this STX (Table 4-10), paying particular attention to the leader tasks and the applicable material contained in referenced doctrinal publications.

(2) Assure leaders and soldiers have mastered the leader and individual tasks for each T&EO.

(3) Review your tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) and related portions of TSOP for higher HQ and supporting and supported units.

(4) Conduct map and on-the-ground reconnaissance of the training area. War game unit responses to likely hostile action at vulnerable locations with key unit leaders. Conduct tactical exercise without troops (TEWT) to develop key leader skills.

(5) Review reports from previous similar training conducted by your unit with key unit leaders. Include lessons learned from training or actual combat experience of similar units. Assure pertinent information from these reviews is passed on to all unit personnel.

(6) Arrange for key leaders to observe similar training being conducted by other units.

- (7) Review communications and alarm procedures.
- (8) Coordinate policies, procedures and communications with external support units.
- b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:
 - (1) Threat ambush and sniper tactics and operational procedures
 - (2) Convoy tactics, techniques and operations
 - (3) Terrorist capabilities, tactics, and counter terrorist procedures
 - (4) Counter ambush and counter sniper drills and tactics

- (5) Alarms and communications
- (6) Weapon maintenance and tactical positioning
- (7) NBC defense drills and procedures
- (8) Air defense measures
- (9) Training and operational safety during convoy operations
- c. After attaining STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel can conduct the crawl level of training on this STX, the walk and run phases should be conducted using outside observer controllers (OC). This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective training assessments, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. Increased training challenges in the walk and run phases of training should be provided by conducting convoy movement under nighttime conditions, by increasing the sophistication of the threat and terrorist element, and by adding optional T&EO provided in Table 4-10.

5. General Situation. The REPL BN/CO, after conducting a strategic deployment, has arrived at the POD in a combat theater and completed all debarkation processing activities. The unit has been alerted to prepare to conduct a tactical road march and relocate to a site where it will commence performing replacement operations. Intelligence reports indicate the unit can expect both threat and terrorist activities to include ambush, sniper, air, and NBC attacks and suicide bombings. Threat forces have used NBC weapons at various locations between the port and the new operational site. A variety of weather and road conditions can be expected. Some nighttime convoy movement may be necessary.

- 6. Special Situation.
 - a. The unit has received the following warning order:

Prepare REPL BN/CO for movement to (coordinates) to join and support the ______. REPL BN/CO crosses SP (coordinates) at DDTTTTZMMMYY and RP (coordinates) at DDTTTTZMMMYY. Route of march is per attached overlay. Report times of last vehicle crossing SP, RP, and overlay checkpoints. NBC contamination along route of march is anticipated.

b. Table 4-8 provides a suggested scenario. An after action review (AAR) occurs after REPL BN/CO reaches its operating area.

NOTES:
(1)* The time indicated for conducting the tactical road march includes these events.
(2) All events will be trained to standard, not to time.
(3) The time required to train this STX will vary based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the training proficiency of the unit.
available a	and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the	e training proficiency of the unit.

Table 4-8
Replacement Battalion/Company	y STX 12-1-E0008 Scenario

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OCs. Walk and run iterations of this STX must be conducted using two or three OCs. OCs with NBC, terrorist and threat ambush tactics skills are particularly important. Crawl iterations of this STX can be conducted with unit leaders fulfilling OC responsibilities.

b. Opposing forces (OPFOR). A light infantry OPFOR squad with at least one machine gun is needed for all iterations of this STX. OPFOR personnel must be trained in threat ambush, sniper, and terrorist tactics and follow the OPFOR tasks referenced in each T&EO of this publication. A threat OC is desirable.

c. Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES). Make every effort to obtain MILES equipment for unit and OPFOR personnel for every STX iteration.

d. Vehicles and communications. The unit must be 100 percent mobile.

e. Maneuver area. The unit requires two training areas connected by a road network of approximately 10 kilometers for this STX. Part of the road network should pass through an urban terrain training area. The initial training area can be a simulated POD at the unit's garrison location. The destination site requires approximately one square kilometer of urban or open terrain.

f. Master incident list (MIL). While most actions will be driven by the movement order and OPFOR actions, a MIL should be developed with specific orders and other event drivers that can be inserted into the STX by OCs to initiate unit actions.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-9 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

*These T&EOs are optional to this STX. While part of this ARTEP MTP and situations that could arise during the course of this STX, particularly with the current contemporary operating environment, the primary training on these T&EO occurs in other STX. OCs and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to the run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

REPLACEMENT BATTALION/COMPANY (REPL BN/REPL CO) STX 12-1-E0009 CONDUCT REPLACEMENT OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX trains the REPL BN/CO to conduct replacement operations from a field-operating site under combat conditions. All phases of operations commencing with the establishment of a field site to conducting force protection activities and responding to hostile conventional and terrorist attacks and nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC) situations are included. The STX provides the commander and key leaders with training in planning, establishing, and supervising replacement operations while operating in a field setting, and dealing with the concurrent challenge of responding to hostile actions.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. The REPL BN/CO can be assigned to support a wide variety of Army forces to include those serving as part of joint and combined forces. Added training effectiveness and realism is gained when the REPL BN/CO trains in conjunction with collective training conducted by these elements.

c. The REPL BN is dependent upon appropriate external elements for health services, food services, legal, finance, religious, human resources, communications, unit maintenance, and supplemental transportation support. The REPL CO has its own food service section and may coordinate for additional support, as necessary. Early coordination is essential to assure external support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Make an in-depth study of the T&EOs for this STX. Review referenced doctrinal materials. Assess leader proficiency on leader tasks listed in the T&EO. Train as necessary to enhance your skills and those of other leaders meet the established standards.

(2) Assess the level of proficiency of your soldiers on the supporting individual tasks listed for each T&EO. Assure soldiers are proficient on individual tasks prior to training this STX.

(3) Review applicable portions of the tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) for REPL BN/CO, and higher HQ, and your supported unit. Assure similar action by your key leaders and soldiers.

(4) Develop a list of lessons learned from records of previous training, field exercises, and actual combat experience of this type of unit and similar units. Share this information with all unit personnel.

(5) Review threat and terrorist tactics and techniques and actions taken to counter them.

(6) With key leaders conduct an on-the-ground reconnaissance of the training areas.

b. Tips for Training. Emphasize the following in pre-STX training.

(1) Safety procedures and training realism

(2) Threat and terrorist tactics and techniques as well as drills and other actions taken to counter them.

- (3) Human resource support operations, policies, and procedures
- (4) Local defense policies and procedures

- (5) MOPP levels and equipment care
- (6) Small unit tactics
- (7) Positioning and construction of defensive positions

(8) Air attack, local defense, and NBC alarms and procedures to include fratricide prevention considerations

- (9) Communication equipment, procedures, and techniques
- (10) Soldier fieldcraft
- c. After attaining STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. Greater complexity and challenges can be added to this training by conducting the training in an urban environment, intensifying the NBC conditions, conducting the training during darkness, and integrating optional T&EOs. However, these actions should not be attempted until the REPL BN/CO personnel demonstrate solid proficiency in the individual and leader tasks for each T&EO in Table 4-13 and have performed the complete STX at a crawl level.

b. Conventional and terrorist opposing forces (OPFOR) should be used on all training iterations of the STX. While the OPFOR observer controllers (OC) must exercise close control over the actions of the OPFOR, the OPFOR must perform in a way that provides a realistic challenge to the BN/CO. The OPFOR must be trained to perform the OPFOR tasks contained in this MTP.

c. Whenever possible, conduct this STX in conjunction with similar collective training being conducted by the habitually associated supported unit. Emphasize information exchange and the command, control, coordination and synchronization of supporting and supported units.

d. This STX begins at the completion of a tactical road march and upon arrival at a new field site. The REPL BN/CO is charged with commencing and conducting a personnel replacement mission. The STX ends after the unit has successfully performed a period of replacement operations support and countered a number of hostile conventional and terrorist actions. Table 4-11 shows suggested sequencing, the estimated time for each part of this STX, and proposed time for after action reviews (AAR).

- (1)* Events performed concurrently. The larger of the est estimated time.
- (2) All events will be trained to standard, not to time.
- (3) The time required to train an event will vary based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the training proficiency of the unit.

5. General Situation. The REPL BN/CO is deployed OCONUS with a mission to conduct replacement operations. Threat light infantry elements and irregular forces are operating in the area and are capable of conducting squad-sized conventional ground attacks. Threat is capable of air attacks with conventional and NBC weapons. Terrorists, saboteurs, and threat sympathizers are also operating in the area.

6. Special Situation. The REPL BN/CO has concluded a tactical road march, crossed the release point (RP), and entered into the support area. The advance party arrived earlier and established tentative unit positions. Responsibilities for the REPL BN/CO support have been established. The base defense commander has implemented a defense plan. The REPL BN/CO is assigned responsibility for a sector of the defensive perimeter. Requests for personnel replacements have been received.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OCs. This STX should be conducted under the direction of a three-person OC team with expertise in replacement operations, small unit tactics, fieldcraft, NBC and threat operations. Key unit leaders should only be used in crawl iterations of this STX.

b. OPFOR. A light OPFOR infantry squad is necessary for this STX. One OPFOR member is required to serve as a local national/civilian terrorist who attempts to gather information on unit personnel and operations; challenge security; probe defenses; and carry out appropriate attacks. OPFOR personnel must be trained in threat tactics, have specific missions, and follow the OPFOR tasks in this MTP.

c. Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES) should be used for walk and run training on this STX. If MILES are not available, OCs must assess damage to equipment and personnel casualties.

d. Vehicles and communications. Organic vehicles and communications equipment will be used.

e. Maneuver area. This STX requires an urban or field training area of 500 X 500 meters suitable for the establishment of a support site.

f. Master incident list (MIL). Event drivers need to be prepared to drive the exercise. OPFOR actions and unit TSOP procedures will drive other actions. A MIL must be developed to schedule and synchronize all event drivers used in the STX.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-12 shows the suggested STX requirements.

NOTE: The consolidated support requirements outlined above are suggested for this STX. DA Pam 350-38 establishes this unit's maximum annual allocation of training ammunition and pyrotechnics. Commanders and trainers should review these recommendations and allocate ammunition as necessary to suit their situation and training needs.

REPLACEMENT BATTALION/COMPANY (REPL BN/CO) STX 12-1-E0010 CONDUCT REDEPLOYMENT/DEMOBILIZATION OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX trains the REPL BN/CO to redeploy from a theater of operations. In addition, it trains reserve component (RC) units on demobilization tasks. Cost and other factors will usually preclude the actual air, sea, or extensive ground convoy movement portion of redeployment training. However, the most important parts of this redeployment training can be accomplished by completing the steps from notification for redeployment up to the time when the unit actually leaves the port of embarkation (POE). Likewise home station redeployment and demobilization training can occur without completing air, ship, or convoy movement.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. The REPL BN is dependent upon appropriate external elements for health services, food services, legal, finance, religious, human resources, communications, unit maintenance, and supplemental transportation support. The REPL CO has its own food service section and may coordinate for additional support, as necessary. Early coordination is essential to assure external support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Review the redeployment sections of the tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) for REPL BN, higher HQ and supporting and supported units.

(2) Visit agencies that support your redeployment and demobilization activities to obtain current information on redeployment policies, procedures, and capabilities.

(3) Review redeployment and demobilization doctrine and related procedures.

(4) Review all safety and security procedures to include those of sister services that provide your strategic transport support.

(5) Study equipment packaging and vehicle-blocking and tie-down procedures.

(6) If a RC unit, study demobilization policies and procedures.

(7) Review transportation, specialized equipment and supply requirements, and loading plans.

(8) Study lessons learned by units similar that have recently redeployed and demobilized.

(9) Review the after-action and lessons learned reports from previous training you conducted using this STX and any previous redeployment and demobilization exercises.

b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:

(1) Operational security (OPSEC) procedures

- (2) Terrorist capabilities and counter-terrorism tactics
- (3) Duties of subordinate leaders

- (4) Plans and procedures for 24-hour operations under nonstandard conditions
- (5) Packaging, loading, blocking, and tie-down procedures
- (6) Non-tactical movement techniques and procedures
- (7) Soldier readiness processing (SRP) requirements and procedures
- (8) Accuracy and completeness of personnel records

(9) Safety in loading vehicles, supplies, and equipment; in conducting non-tactical movement; and while on transport vehicles

- (10) Command, control, and communications
- (11) Security during the non-tactical road march and during halts
- (12) POE policies and procedures
- (13) Demobilization policies and procedures
- c. After attaining STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel may conduct crawl level training on this STX, the walk and run phases are best conducted using outside observer controllers (OC). This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective training assessments, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. While redeploying and demobilizing the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information. Appropriately dressed opposing forces (OPFOR) should be used as terrorists, saboteurs, or enemy agents attempting to gather information in order to ensure realism and to objectively assess security measures.

c. After achieving proficiency loading unit equipment and vehicles on mock-ups, load them on the actual aircraft, ships, rail cars, or other vehicle transports the unit would use in a redeployment, if available.

d. Use transport/movement experts from support agencies such as Air Force loadmasters and personnel from Army transportation units to present training and critique loading activities.

e. Increased training challenges in the walk and run phases of training by increasing the sophistication of the threat and terrorist element, and adding optional T&EO from Table 4-16.

f. Make arrangements for your key personnel to observe or participate in redeployment and demobilization exercises conducted by supported units, higher HQ, or other units.

5. General Situation. The REPL BN/CO, located in an OCONUS combat theater conducting replacement operations has been directed to redeploy to CONUS or another theater where it will resume its support mission. The BN/CO has been relieved of its support mission and relocated to a redeployment assembly area (RAA) with all personnel and equipment. While hostilities have concluded a terrorist threat of unconventional attack to include nuclear, biological, and chemical operations remains. (RC REPL BN/CO has been alerted to plan for demobilization upon arrival in CONUS). All normal support agencies and individuals required to conduct redeployment are available and tasked to support the BN/CO.

6. Special Situation.

a. The following order is received:

Commence immediate preparation for redeployment to home station and resumption of support mission. Complete preparation of personnel, vehicles and equipment, to include Customs and Department of Agriculture inspections by DDHHHHZ MMMYY. On order, conduct administrative movement of all vehicles, personnel and equipment from RAA to POE, Grossard Airport, for onward air movement to CONUS POD, Wrightstown AFB on or about DDMMMYY. (RC: Demobilization station will be at Fort Murphy.)

b. This STX ends after the unit has moved all redeploying personnel, vehicles, equipment, and supplies to the POE, simulated their transport, conducted POD redeployment activities, and are prepared to return to their home station. (RC: Has completed demobilization activities and is prepared to return to their reserve station).

- c. Conduct an after action review (AAR) when the exercise is completed.
- d. Table 4-14 shows the estimated time needed for each part of the exercise.

Table 4-14

SEQUENCE	EVENT	ESTIMATED TIME
1	Prepare for redeployment	1 hr
2	Conduct an a non-tactical movement	1 hr
3	Conduct redeployment processing	2 hr
4	Conduct demobilization activities	2 hr
5	AAR	1 hr
	TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME	7 hr
NOTES:
	dditional time when conducting the exercise at nig g must be to standard, not to time.	ht or under limited visibility.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OCs. Two OCs thoroughly familiar with the redeployment and demobilization policies and procedures are required. A less desired alternative is to have the unit commander and other senior leaders serve in these positions.

b. OPFOR. One individual is required to serve as a local national civilian/terrorist who attempts to gather information on unit personnel, operations, and plans, challenge security, and probe defenses. OPFOR performance must be in accordance with the task, condition, and standards specified for OPFOR in this MTP.

c. Vehicles and communications. Use vehicles and communications equipment organic to the unit. Coordinate with external supporting agencies for supplementary transportation and communications.

d. Maneuver area. Training sites and facilities capable of accommodating the BN/CO are necessary to provide for:

(1) A redeployment assembly area (RAA)

(2) A road network of about 10 kilometers from the RAA to the OCONUS POE or simulated POE

(3) An actual POE or a comparable area which can serve as a simulated POE

(4) A CONUS POD where the unit can prepare for onward movement to their home station or demobilization station

(5) A demobilization site (RC unit only)

e. Actual or simulated aircraft (or other strategic transport vehicles) are desired to familiarize unit personnel with them and to train loading techniques and procedures.

f. Master incident list (MIL). Much of this training is driven by the warning order and the subsequent redeployment instructions. However, other exercise incidents need to be developed to support the training. Once developed, these incidents should be prepared in a time-phased master incident list to assure their proper sequencing, control, and evaluation.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-15 lists the suggested requirements for this STX.

NOTE:

*These T&EOs are optional to this STX. While part of this ARTEP MTP and situations that could arise during the course of this STX, particularly with the current contemporary operating environment, the primary training on these T&EO occurs in other STX in this MTP. OCs and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to the run training phases with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

CHAPTER 5

Training and Evaluation Outlines

5-1. Introduction. This chapter contains the training and evaluation outlines for the Replacement Company/Battalion. T&EOs are the foundation of the MTP and the collective training of the units. T&EOs are training objectives (task, conditions, and standards) that the unit must master to perform its critical wartime operations. T&EOs may be trained separately, in an STX, in an FTX, or in a live-fire exercise..

5-2. Structure. The T&EOs in this chapter are listed in Table 5-1. The Mission-to-Collective Task Matrix in Chapter 2 lists the T&EOs required to train the critical wartime missions according to their specific battlefield operating system (BOS).

5-3. Format. The T&EOs are prepared for every collective task that supports critical wartime operation accomplishment. Each T&EO contains the following items:

a. Element. This identifies the unit or unit element(s) that performs the task.

b. Task. This is a description and task number of the action to be performed by the unit.

c. References. These are listed following the task number. The reference which contains the most information (primary reference) about the task is underlined.

d. Iteration. This is for evaluation purposes. It is used to identify how many times the task is performed and evaluated during training.

e. Commander/Leader Assessment. This is used by the unit leadership to assess the proficiency of the unit in performing the task to standard. Assessments are subjective in nature and use all available evaluation data and leader input to assess the organization's overall capability to accomplish the task. The following ratings are used:

(1) T - Trained. The unit is trained and has demonstrated its proficiency in accomplishing the task to wartime standards.

(2) P - Needs practice. The unit needs to practice the task. Performance has demonstrated that the unit does not achieve standard without some difficulty or has failed to perform some task steps to standard.

(3) U - Untrained. The unit can not demonstrate an ability to achieve wartime proficiency.

f. Condition. This describes the situation or environment under which the task is to be performed. The conditions also contain the initiating cue for the task.

g. Task Standards. This is a statement that describes the overall task criteria that must be met to receive credit for successful execution of the task. The trainer or evaluator determines the unit's training status using performance observation measurements (where applicable) and his judgment. The unit must be evaluated in the context of the mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) conditions. These conditions should be as similar as possible for all evaluated elements to establish a common baseline for unit performance.

h. Task Steps and Performance Measures. This is a listing of actions that are required to complete the task. These actions are stated in terms of observable performance for evaluating training proficiency. Leader tasks within each T&EO are indicated by an asterisk (*). Performance measures that must be accomplished to correctly perform the task step are listed under each task step.

i. GO/NO-GO columns. These columns are used to record results achieved in executing the task step. Each performance measure for a task step is evaluated with an "X" placed in the appropriate column. The ratings are:

(1) GO--the unit successfully accomplished the task or performance measure to standard.

(2) NO GO--the unit did not successfully accomplish the task or performance measure to standard.

j. Task Performance/Evaluation Summary Block. This block provides the trainer a means of recording the total number of task steps evaluated, the number rated as "GO", and the training status (GO or NO GO). This block will provide the leader with a historical record for up to five training iterations. The leader may use this as a management indicator, e.g., a trend showing the increased or decreased unit proficiency. The iteration line under the task performance summary block must match the primary iteration line under the task title. An "M" identifies when the task is performed in MOPP4.

k. Supporting Individual Tasks. This is a listing of all supporting individual tasks required to correctly perform the task. Listed are the reference, task number, and task title.

I. OPFOR Tasks and Standards. These standards specify overall OPFOR performance for each collective task requiring opposing forces. These standards ensure that OPFOR soldiers accomplish meaningful training and force the training unit to perform its task to standard or "lose" to the OPFOR. The OPFOR standards specify what must be accomplished -- not how it must be accomplished. The OPFOR must always attain its task standards, using tactics consistent with the type of enemy they are portraying.

5-4. Use. The T&EO may be used individually to train a single task. It may also be used in sequence with other T&EOs to train and/or evaluate groups of tasks (STX), the unit's entire mission (FTX), or a series of missions (higher echelon exercises).

CONDITIONS: The unit is at a normal state of readiness and receives an order to recall all personnel in preparation for mobilization (RC) and deployment. Unit leaders have notified the commander. The unit movement, recall, and security plans, access rosters, and current maps are available. The unit commander has been briefed on status of deployment. Alert notification activities are performed day or night, under all environmental conditions. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit personnel were recalled in accordance with the recall plan. All personnel were present or accounted for and briefings were conducted for unit personnel and deployment teams IAW movement plan. Security was established IAW security plan.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Commander activates the recall program. a. Confirms alert notification. b. Directs leaders to implement the recall plan. c. Directs personnel accounting in accordance with SOP and alert plan. d. Coordinates with higher headquarters for guidance concerning deployment requirements. e. Briefs unit leaders on deployment and mission requirements. f. Briefs higher headquarters commander and staff on status of deployment alert activities.
 * 2. The NCOIC and designated leaders supervise alert notification activities. (03-3711.12-0001, 158-300-0030A, 805C-PAD-1245) a. CONDITIONS: The displacement plan is complete and section leaders brief soldiers on the plan. Movement can occur in a field environment. The supporting headquarters has selected tentative routes of march and has tasked the unit for a reconnaissance party to reconnoiter a tentative route. Area reconnaissance has been accomplished by supporting headquarters staff personnel. The supporting headquarters designates the route for the unit move. The supporting headquarters and unit tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) are available. The operations order (OPORD) and movement order are available. The reconnaissance team is briefed by the supporting HQ and unit commander. The unit movement commander has been designated. The unit displacement plan has been disseminated. Strip maps are provided by the supporting headquarters. Load plans are available. Advance/quartering party is dispatched prior to completion of this task. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit was ready to cross start point (SP) NLT time prescribed in movement order. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase preparation time.

CONDITIONS: The advance/quartering party is prepared to depart the assembly area. MOPP2 has been designated. The movement control team (MCT) has provided all essential information: route, order of march, and estimated arrival time of main body. The advance/quartering party leader has been issued tentative unit layout, hasty defense, and traffic plans. MCT's movement order and tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) are available. The advance/quartering party has sufficient guides, markers, and all other required equipment. The advance/quartering party and serial commander will assign specific unit areas on arrival at new site. During operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The advance/quartering party arrived at new site as specified in movement order. All preparatory tasks for occupation of the site as directed by the quartering party were initiated as directed by the unit commander. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase setup time of element(s).

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 Advance/quartering party moves to new operating site. (01-7200.75-0100) Wears uniform as prescribed by the movement order. Crosses start point (SP), checkpoints, and release point (RP) as prescribed by movement order. Follows prescribed route from old to new area. Reports route changes and/or information to main body by messenger, route guides, route markers, or other non-electronic means. Account for all personnel.
 Advance/quartering party assists in securing the entire unit area. (031-503-1015, 031-503-3008) a. Assumes designated MOPP level before entering new area. b. Provides personnel for initial security teams. c. Designates personnel and equipment to conduct NBC surveys of assigned area.
 3. Advance/quartering party secures the unit's new area of operations. (031-503-1014, 031-503-1020, 031-503-2020, 031-503-3013, 04-1910.11-1001, 04-1910.11-1002, 071-326-5705) a. Places observation posts (OP) on probable avenues of approach consistent with the available personnel. b. Parks vehicles and trailers in concealed positions with hoods up and mirrors turned toward the ground.

 c. Conducts NBC survey of the entire assigned unit area. d. Conducts sweep of unit area to locate all mines, booby traps, and other signs of threat presence.
 * 4. Advance/quartering party leader supervises area preparation tasks. (01-1940.00-1001, 03-3711.12-0001, 04-3306.01-0008) a. Conducts unit area site reconnaissance with sub-element leaders, pointing out assigned areas and traffic circulation IAW layout and traffic plans. b. Verifies movement of sub-elements into their respective areas to ensure compliance with layout plan. c. Establishes internal communications system using runner until wire communications have been established. d. Enforces operations security (OPSEC) measures during area preparation. e. Establishes unit area entrance and exit with unit personnel as guards. f. Assigns to sub-elements the task of blocking all other possible entrance and exit points into and out of the unit area.
 5. Advance/quartering party performs area preparation tasks in a non-urban area. (04-3306.01-0007, 052-191-1361, 052-191-1362, 052-191-1363, 071-331-0815) a. Marks location of command post (CP) IAW the unit layout plan. b. Marks location of bivouac and administrative areas IAW the layout plan. c. Lays communications wire from CP to all sections. d. Marks unit area traffic direction IAW the traffic plan. e. Erects required tentage at locations IAW the layout plan. f. Sets up radio antennas in locations as required by the layout plan. g. Marks vehicle positions allowing maximum dispersion consistent with size of area and tactical situation. h. Marks section's defensive boundaries IAW the security plan. i. Erects barriers to block all unauthorized entrances and exits into and out of the CP area. j. Employs camouflage and concealment measures consistent with tactical situation. k. Employs noise and light discipline measures.
 6. Advance/quartering party performs area preparation tasks in an urban area. (071-331-0815) a. Selects buildings within assigned area that provide maximum cover, concealment, and protection. b. Selects building for CP that provides a line of sight for antennas. c. Clears all assigned buildings of booby traps and any unnecessary items. d. Erects barriers to close off or channel personnel and vehicles into designated areas. e. Establishes OPs and defensive positions in upper stories of buildings. f. Lays communications wire from CP to all sections. g. Marks unit area traffic direction IAW the traffic plan. h. Erects required tentage at locations as required by the layout plan. i. Sets up radio antennas in locations as required by the layout plan. j. Marks vehicle positions allowing maximum dispersion consistent with size of area and tactical situation. k. Marks section's defensive boundaries IAW the security plan. l. Erects barriers to block all unauthorized entrances and exits into and out of the CP area.
 * 7. Advance/quartering party leader supervises reception of main body. (01- 5767.02-0001, 158-300-0030A)

a. Identifies guide pick-up points.
 Briefs ground guides on moving main body into their respective areas with emphasis on OPSEC.
 Monitors sub-element guides' activities to ensure compliance with guidance by party leader and TSOP.
d. Enforces counter-surveillance measures.
 Advance/quartering party performs guide functions. (01-5767.02-0001, 04- 3306.01-0007)
 Guides elements into assigned positions without having vehicles stop in exposed areas.
 Employs prearranged signals IAW the TSOP.
c. Parks one vehicle at a time during darkness or reduced visibility.
 Employs filtered flashlights during darkness or reduced visibility.
 Employs counter-surveillance measures during reception activities.

CONDITIONS: Threat forces attack the march column. Unit personnel are conducting a tactical road march. The threat is capable of launching ground, air, and indirect fire attacks. The march column has radio communications with higher headquarters. Close air support (CAS) sorties and indirect fire support have been allocated, but with low priority. Pyrotechnics are available for signaling and marking locations. Unit tactical standing operating procedure (TSOP) is available. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Attacks were repelled by proper immediate action techniques and march was resumed IAW movement order and TSOP. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors reduce firing effectiveness.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Commander supervises reaction to sniper fire. (551-721-3352) a. Locates approximate location of sniper incident on map from march element reports. b. Directs march elements under attack to employ correct actions as prescribed in the TSOP and movement order. c. Provides instructions to follow-on march elements. d. Forwards incident report to higher HQ.
 2. Soldiers take action against sniper fire. (071-311-2007, 071-312-3031, 071-331-0803) a. Report sniper fire to commander immediately upon contact. b. Return fire immediately that kills snipers or suppresses their fire (designated personnel only). c. Increase column rate of march to clear the area.
 * 3. Commander supervises defense against ambush, road blocked or road not blocked. (03-2830.00-6003, 04-3303.01-0019, 061-283-6003, 551-721-3352) a. Identifies location of ambush site on map with map overlay. b. Provides instructions on halt points and security requirements to all march elements. c. Forwards initial incident report to higher HQ. d. Directs concentrated fire at threat positions. e. Directs the march element ahead and march element following to organize security teams to attack flanks of threat ambush party. f. Maintains constant communications with all march elements engaging threat to immediately make adjustments to tactical situation. g. Forwards subsequent situation reports (SITREP) to operations as situation changes.

OPFOR TASKS AND STANDARDS

TASK: Conduct Deliberate Convoy Ambush (12-OPFOR-1004)

CONDITION: OPFOR element is operating along a primary enemy convoy route. OPFOR intelligence reports an enemy element will conduct a road march along the route, arriving at an ambush site in approximately 30 minutes. OPFOR capabilities include automatic weapons, anti-armor weapons, mines, and non-conventional weapons to include car bombs and suicide bombers. Complete destruction of the march element has been ordered.

STANDARD: 1. Prepare ambush site before arrival of the enemy element. 2. Surprise enemy element. 3. Force the element to halt in the kill zone. 4. Initiate ambush. 5. Kill, wound, or capture enemy personnel and destroy all vehicles and equipment. 6. Engage all enemy reinforcements and security elements. 7. Sustain minor casualties. 8. Consolidate and withdraw from the area, on order. 9. Report all specified priority intelligence requirement (PIR) and other intelligence requirements.

TASK: Conduct Hasty Ambush (12-OPFOR-1003)

CONDITION: A conventional or non-conventional OPFOR element spots an enemy convoy moving on a nearby route, and is directed to engage it.

STANDARD: 1. Prepare ambush site before arrival of enemy element. 2. Conduct conventional or nonconventional surprise ambush. 3. Inflict modest casualties within designated kill zone. 4. Inflict heavy damage to vehicles and equipment within the designated kill zone. 5. Delay enemy march element(s) from reaching its specified destination for a specified period. 6. Withdraw, on order. 7. Sustain minimum casualties. 8. Report actions to superiors. TASK: Conduct Sniper Operations (12-OPFOR-1005)

CONDITION: OPFOR regular, irregular, sympathizer, and terrorist snipers are operating in the area. They are properly equipped and have freedom to operate around friendly areas and along primary road networks. They have been ordered to engage specific enemy targets.

STANDARD: 1. Set up well-concealed location(s). 2. Engage vehicle drivers, personnel, and other directed targets. 3. Kill or wound selected target(s). 4. Prevent position from being discovered by enemy forces. 5. Evacuate the area without being spotted. 6. Report results to appropriate chain of command.

CONDITIONS: Unit is enroute to a new location in support of forces engaged in military operations. A general route is established and bypassing cannot occur without mission degradation. The unit has received directions to cross the contaminated area. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit crossed the chemically contaminated area using the best route possible based on contamination avoidance principles. The unit implemented all measures required by standing operating procedures (SOP) to minimize personnel and equipment contamination. Conducted needed decontamination of personnel and equipment after crossing.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Leaders select a route. (031-503-3004, 071-329-1005) a. Use NBC 5 report (chemical) and/or recon reports to select a route. b. Select route that minimizes exposure consistent with the mission. c. Obtain route clearance and approval, if applicable.
 Leaders and soldiers prepare for crossing the area. Ensure all drivers, vehicle commanders, and leaders know route of march and/or have strip maps. Place externally stored equipment inside or cover with available material. Attach M9 detector paper to personnel and vehicles to provide warning of contamination.
 3. Soldiers cross the area. (031-503-1008, 031-503-1012, 031-503-1031, 04-3306.01-0003) a. Avoid low ground, overhanging branches, and brush to the extent allowed by the tactical situation. b. Conduct dismounted movement, if necessary, as rapidly as possible. c. Notify higher HQ when the crossing was completed.
 4. Soldiers exit the contaminated area. (081-831-1054, 081-833-0083, 081-833-0084, 081-833-0085, 081-833-0086, 805C-PAD-2060) a. Check for casualties. b. Report casualties (if applicable). c. Conduct necessary decontamination. d. Transport casualties, if necessary. e. Continue the mission.
* 5. Leaders request additional decontamination support, if applicable.

TASK: Take Active Air Defense Measures Against Hostile Aerial Platforms (44-1-C221.12-C221)(FM 44-8)(FM 44-8)

ITERATION:	1	2	3	4	5	М	(Circle)
COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSM	IENT:		Т	Р	U		(Circle)

CONDITIONS: Unit personnel receive early warning of aerial platforms (rot ary-wing, fixed-wing, unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs)) in the area. Unit personnel detect unknown or hostile aerial platforms. Unit personnel are in a tactical position. Weapon control system (WCS) is "WEAPONS TIGHT". Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit personnel destroyed or forced the attacking aerial platforms away from friendly positions. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors decrease firing accuracy.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Leaders direct air defense measures against hostile aerial platforms. (441-091-1101, 441-091-1102, 878-920-1002) a. Give air attack alarm. b. Identify and report presence of aerial platforms in the area and sends priority intelligence requirement (PIR) to higher headquarters. c. Make engagement decisions. Note: When making the decision of whether or not to fire at non-attacking hostile aerial platforms with small arms, take into consideration the assigned mission and tactical situation. Unit must positively and visually identify aerial platforms prior to engaging with small arms, unless the aircraft is committing a hostile act. DANGER: Munitions cannot distinguish between friend or foe. Review all airspace control measures and rules of engagement. You must perform all precautionary measures to ensure that the munitions fired do not cause injury or death to friendly forces or damage to allied equipment. Even computerized systems require close observation. d. Ensure unit engages the aerial platforms with all available small arms (rifles and machine guns). Note: Aim points for propeller-driven aircraft are the same as for helicopters. Select aim points in football field lengths (one football field equals approximately 90 meters). Once the lead distance is estimated, the riflemen and machine gunners aim and fire their weapons at the aim point until the aircraft has flown past that point. Maintain the aim point, not the lead distance. The weapons should not move once the firing cycle starts. Establish pre-selected aim points when the unit is in a static position. Accuracy in relation to target hits is not necessary. Accuracy in relation to aim point is necessary. Volume fire, a coordinated high-volume of fire that the aircraft has to fly through, will achieve the desired results. e. Evaluate situation and move unit position as directed by unit commander.
 * 2. Leaders direct air defense measures against hostile aerial platforms not attacking a moving target. (04-8955.00-0001, 441-091-1040) a. Give air attack alarm. b. Report all aerial platform actions to higher HQ.

COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT: T P U (Circle)

CONDITIONS: The unit is providing support to units engaged in combat. It has just relocated to an urban or field support area and has been assigned responsibility for an unmanned sector of the base defense's perimeter. The base defense operations center (BDOC) is operational. Reinforced threat infantry squads and terrorist elements are operating in the area. Threat elements have used chemical weapons. Unit and base defense tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) are available. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Initial security for the assigned perimeter sector was immediately established and planning of the defense was initiated. A defensive plan was developed and approved within three hours or as specified in the TSOP. Actions to implement the defensive plan were expeditiously initiated and completed within the time specified by the base defense commander. MOPP4 conditions increase the time it takes to establish the defense.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
NOTE: In many cases, unit personnel will be assigned to provisional platoons of a base defense force and conduct rear area defense operations under the base defense command and control. This T&EO is written to allow the unit to train and evaluate the same basic defense tasks under the command and control of unit leaders. Commanders should adjust this T&EO to accommodate their local situations.
 * 1. Commander and key leaders establish local security. (01-5700.01-0001, 03-9001.12-0003, 071-326-5705) a. Assign areas of responsibility to subordinate elements. b. CONDITIONS: The unit is providing support to units engaged in combat. It is positioned in an urban or field support area as part of a base defense. The unit has been assigned to defend part of the perimeter, has established its defense, and has prepared a defense plan. Observation posts (OP) are established and manned. Perimeter security positions are prepared and manned by approximately 25 percent of unit personnel. A unit command post (CP) is established with communications to the base defense operations center (BDOC) and to subordinate elements. Supporting fires and close air support are planned and available. Squad sized threat forces are operating in the area and have used chemical agents. OPs report a threat infantry squad approaching in the unit's sector. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit implemented its defense plan, engaged the enemy at maximum range, and continued the defense until the enemy force was repulsed, destroyed or until the unit was relieved. Minimum casualties and loss of equipment were sustained. The unit reorganized its defense and was prepared to resume its support mission. MOPP conditions slow response times and degrade accuracy of fires.

TASK: Gather Intelligence (12-OPFOR-1008)

CONDITION: Small OPFOR, irregular, or terrorist elements are operational and planning attacks and other hostile actions against the enemy. Information is needed to facilitate planning and operational activities.

STANDARD: 1. Identify all PIR and other intelligence requirements. 2. Move undetected through enemy security points and within the enemy area to gather PIR and other intelligence information. 3. As required, establish and man an OP that offers cover and concealment and is close enough to gather information. 4. Gather all PIR and other intelligence requirements without being detected. 5. Withdraw from the area undetected. 6. Report all information to established chain of command.

TASK: Conduct Electronic Warfare (12-OPFOR-1012)

CONDITION: OPFOR and other hostile elements, to include terrorists, monitor enemy communications means to identify communications being used and their locations; to collect operational information; and when directed, disrupt or destroy enemy communications capabilities.

STANDARD: 1. Identify enemy conventional communications capabilities including radio, wire, and automation systems/internet sites and linkages. 2. Determine the location of primary equipment. 3. Monitor transmissions. 4. Collect and record information. 5. Jam, hack or employ other means to disrupt or destroy enemy communications on order and to the level of intensity directed. 6. CONDITIONS: The unit is operational with all assigned and attached personnel and equipment and operating in a field, garrison, or transit environment. There is a continuing imprecise terrorist threat to disrupt operations that could take many different undetermined forms and intensities ranging from direct attacks and bombings to infiltrations, communications security attacks, and information gathering actions. Rules of engagement, counter terrorist defense plans, and other documentation have been developed. Counter-terrorism activities are continuous and are performed simultaneously with all operational tasks. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit maintained continuing threat awareness and implemented security measures as directed by higher headquarters, local friendly forces, appropriate civilian agencies, and local conditions. When conducted, terrorist actions were detected and expeditious, appropriate responses were taken to preclude terrorist success and assure continued capability to perform assigned missions. At MOPP4, reaction time is increased.

OPFOR TASKS AND STANDARDS

TASK: Conduct Terrorist and Saboteur Operations (12-OPFOR-1013)

CONDITION: Terrorist elements have been assigned to prepare for and conduct operations against an enemy force or operational area. Information gathering activities as well as terrorist infrastructure development continue on an ongoing basis. The element conducts other actions on order.

STANDARD: 1. Terrorist element initiates a comprehensive information-gathering program. 2. Infiltrate the enemy area and organization. 3. Identify enemy vulnerabilities. 4. Photograph enemy sites and activities. 5. Develop support area and enlist collaborators and sympathizers from the local population. 6. Build resentment against the enemy force. 7. Seek anti-enemy press coverage. 8. Conduct other tactical operations, including direct attacks and bombings, on order and as directed.

TASK: Gather Intelligence (12-OPFOR-1008)

CONDITION: Small OPFOR, irregular, or terrorist elements are operational and planning attacks and other hostile actions against the enemy. Information is needed to facilitate planning and operational activities.

STANDARD: 1. Identify all PIR and other intelligence requirements. 2. Move undetected through enemy security points and within the enemy area to gather PIR and other intelligence information. 3. As required, establish and man an OP that offers cover and concealment and is close enough to gather information. 4. Gather all PIR and other intelligence requirements without being detected. 5. Withdraw from the area undetected. 6. Report all information to established chain of command.

CONDITIONS: Threat military forces and terrorist elements have a chemical biological (CB) warfare capability that has recently been used. The unit is located in a tactical or garrison area. A security plan has been established and implemented. A standing operating procedure (SOP) has been developed and is present. Communications have been established with higher headquarters, supported units, adjacent units, and the base defense operations center (BDOC) or the installation emergency operations center (EOC). Personnel have been issued protective masks and clothing. A warning order has been received advising very high probability of a chemical or biological attack within the next 72 hours and directing increased security readiness. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit took immediate action to increase security and inform soldiers of the pending situation. An appropriate MOPP level was established and implemented. Detection equipment and materials were emplaced and/or inspected. Provisions for protecting personnel were rehearsed and inspected. Provisions for protecting equipment, food, supplies, and munitions were expeditiously and fully implemented and inspected.

CONDITIONS: Automatic alarms sound or color changes in chemical detector paper to indicate presence of contaminants. The unit is tactically deployed at MOPP2. Intelligence reports from the supporting headquarters (HQ) indicate that the threat is capable of attacking with chemical weapons. Supporting HQ operations orders (OPORDs) are available. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Soldiers sounded the alarm (vocal/non-vocal), went immediately to MOPP4, and utilized available shelter immediately to prevent further exposure to contamination. The element reacted to the chemical alarm within 15 seconds. Testing and unmasking procedures were performed until unit was reorganized and reduced MOPP level functions were reinstated.

COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT:	Т	Р	U	(Circle)

CONDITIONS: Threat forces and terrorist elements have biological weapons and it is suspected that some have recently been used. The unit is located in a tactical or garrison area. A security plan has been established and implemented. A standing operating procedure has been developed and is present. Communications have been established with higher headquarters (HQ), supported units, adjacent units, and the base defense operations center (BDOC) or the installation emergency operations center (EOC). Personnel have been issued protective masks and clothing and are at MOPP2. A warning order has been received indicating high probability of a biological attack within the next 24 hours and directing increased readiness. A low flying OPFOR aircraft has flown over the area dispensing bomblet munitions that explode in the air with a "pop" dispensing a liquid substance. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The alarm was sounded and all personnel took immediate action to assume MOPP4. Reports were rendered, casualties were isolated and treated, action was taken to identify the agent, security was reestablished, and essential critical missions resumed. The MOPP level is lowered when approved by appropriate authorities on the advice of technical experts and generally at no time prior to four hours after the attack.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 All personnel take immediate protective actions. (031-503-1015, 031-503-1019, 031-503-1025, 031-503-1026, 031-503-3008, 805C-PAD-2060) a. Assume MOPP4. b. Sound the alarm. c. Repulse or eliminate the delivery vehicle or weapons. d. Remove toxic agent from exposed skin. e. Reduce MOPP level when directed. f. Treat casualties. NOTE: See task 08-2-0003.12-0003 for casualty treatment procedures. g. Report casualties. h. Transport casualties. NOTE: See task 08-2-C316.12-C316 for procedures for transporting casualties. i. Observe other soldiers for symptoms of toxic exposure. j. Decontaminate essential supplies and equipment. k. Resume security duties. l. CONDITIONS: The unit receives notice that a nuclear attack is probable and actions must be initiated to minimize casualties and damage. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit personnel hardened positions and equipment, and conducted continuous monitoring.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 Leaders and soldiers perform defensive preparation for a nuclear attack. (031- 503-1018, 031-503-3007, 04-5030.00-2017) Place vehicles and equipment for best terrain shielding (hill masses, slopes, culverts, depressions). Turn off and disconnect nonessential electronic equipment IAW unit standing operating procedure (SOP). Tie down essential antennas. Take down nonessential antenna leads IAW unit SOP or other guidance. Improve shelters with consideration for blast, thermal, and radiation effects. Zero dosimeters. Secure loose, flammable, explosive items, and food or water containers, to protect them from nuclear weapons effects. Take cover in hardened shelters, if available. Use field expedient shelters.
 * 2. Leaders take additional actions consistent with the tactical situation. (031-503-1018, 031-503-3007) a. Continue periodic monitoring. b. Report all dose rate and dosimeter readings to higher headquarters.

CONDITIONS: A brilliant flash of light and a mushroom-shaped cloud have been observed. The unit may or may not have received a warning. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Personnel took immediate actions to minimize their exposure to the initial effects of a nuclear detonation. The unit conducted damage control actions, reorganized, reestablished security and continued operations.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 All personnel take immediate protective actions in response to a nuclear attack without warning. (01-5030.00-1003, 031-503-1018) Close eyes immediately. Drop to the ground in a prone position, with head toward blast, if possible. (If in the hatch of an armored vehicle, immediately drop down inside the track.) Keep head and face down and helmet on. Remain down until the blast wave passes and all debris stops falling.
 2. All personnel take immediate protective actions in response to a nuclear attack with warning. (01-5030.00-1003, 031-503-1018, 031-503-4003) a. Identify the best available shelter (foxholes/inside shelters). b. Move to the shelter. c. Take actions to protect themselves from the blast and radiation. d. Keep clothing loosely fitted with headgear on at all times. e. Protect eyes and minimize exposed skin areas.
 * 3. Leaders reorganize the unit. (031-503-3006, 031-503-4003, 031-506-1051, 081-831-1005, 081-831-1007, 081-831-1016, 081-831-1017, 081-831-1025, 081-831-1033, 081-831-1034, 805C-PAD-2060) a. CONDITIONS: Unit is located within a predicted fallout area. The mission does not allow movement from the predicted fallout area. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit responds to the residual effects of a nuclear attack by taking actions to minimize personnel exposure to residual radiation; protecting equipment, material, and supplies; and monitoring the radiation exposure of personnel. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase preparation time.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Commander and key leaders develop a contingency plan. (031-503-3006, 04-5030.00-2007) a. Use guidance from higher HQ based on the mission and previous radiation exposure. b. Plan for rotation of individuals to minimize exposure. c. Designate personnel to monitor fallout.
 * 2. OIC/NCOIC prepares unit for fallout. (01-5030.00-1003, 01-5050.02-0019, 031-503-1018, 031-503-3006, 04-5030.00-2007, 04-5030.00-2020) a. Ensures individuals cover their nose and mouth with clean cloth; roll sleeves down; and wear gloves. NOTE: Personnel may don protective mask or cover nose and mouth with clean cloth to reduce inhalation hazard. Personnel may don MOPP4 to reduce contamination from fallout. b. Covers equipment, munitions, petroleum-oils-lubricants (POL), food, and water containers or places them inside shelters or vehicles. c. Uses shelters, closed vehicles, or available shielding to protect personnel from fallout. d. Ensures continuous monitoring is maintained using available NBC detection and identification equipment.
 3. Designated personnel monitor fallout. (01-5030.00-1003, 01-5050.02-0019, 031-503-1018, 031-503-3006, 031-506-1051, 031-506-2010, 031-506-2015, 04-5030.00-2007, 04-5030.00-2020) a. Maintain total dose information using available total dose instruments. b. Ensure exposure is minimized while commander determines if relocation to a clean area is necessary or possible. c. Calculate optimum time of exit. d. Send NBC 4 reports to higher HQ as required, using secure means when possible. e. Treat casualties. NOTE: See task 08-2-0003.12-0003 for casualty treatment procedures. f. Report casualties.

 Conduct Operational Decontamination (03-3-C224.12-C224) (FM 3-11-5)
 (FM 3-11-4)

ITERATION:	1M	2M	3M	4M	5M	(Circle)
COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSM	ENT:		Т	Р	U	(Circle)

CONDITIONS: The unit is in a nuclear, biological, or chemical (NBC) contaminated area. Personnel are experiencing degraded combat effectiveness. Time and the tactical situation permit the unit to conduct military oriented protective posture (MOPP) gear exchange and vehicle wash down. Site security is established. Replacement MOPP gear for each soldier; all organic equipment (such as NBC detection, decon, and marking materials; pioneer tools; communications equipment; vehicles and supplies); and applicable field manuals are on hand or available. Decon unit support, decon site and link-up point locations are established. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit personnel decontaminated individual gear and conducted MOPP gear exchange without sustaining additional casualties from NBC contamination. Personnel limited the contamination transfer hazard by removing gross chemical contamination on equipment, and minimized contamination on soldiers IAW FM 3-11-5. Radiological contamination was reduced to negligible risk levels. Chemical and biological contamination was reduced until it was safe to unmask.

 * 1. Commander establishes decontamination priorities. (031-503-1014, 031-503-3006, 031-503-3010) a. Determines extent of contamination. b. Receives input from leaders/higher HQ. c. Establishes priorities of decontamination.
 * 2. Commander and key leaders coordinate with higher HQ. (031-506-3001) a. Obtain permission to conduct decontamination and obtain necessary support. b. Select link-up point to meet supporting units (supporting supply activity, power driven decon equipment crew, etc). c. Coordinate with supporting elements. d. Request replacement MOPP gear. e. Coordinate with supporting units to determine if they would also conduct a MOPP gear exchange.
 * 3. Unit leaders and NBC personnel select a site to conduct the operation. (031-507-2038) a. Establish area security. b. Ensure adequate overhead concealment. c. Ensure good drainage. d. Ensure easy access and exit (off the main routes). e. Ensure a nearby water source large enough to support the vehicle wash down and large enough to accommodate elements involved in the operational decontamination (100 square meters for both vehicle wash down and MOPP gear exchange sites).

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 4. Selected personnel coordinate for operational decon support. (01-5030.00-1007, 031-506-3001) a. Request operational decon support. b. Notify higher HQ of the area for the operational decon. c. Establish communications with the decon element. d. Ensure that the decon element knows the locations of the link up and the selected decon site. e. Provide necessary information to the supporting unit, including: (1) Designation of the contaminated unit. (2) Location of the contaminated unit. (3) Frequency and call sign of the contaminated unit. (4) Time that the unit became contaminated. (5) Number of personnel for a MOPP gear exchange. (6) Number of vehicles and equipment, by type, that were contaminated. (7) Type of contamination.
 5. Unit personnel and personnel of supporting units move to decon site. (01-5030.00-1007) a. Meet at link up point as coordinated. b. Ensure contaminated unit provides security at both link up point and decon site.
 6. Designated personnel and personnel of supporting unit prepare for operational decontamination. (01-5030.00-1007, 031-506-3001) a. Set up the decon site. (1) Supporting power-driven decontamination equipment (PDDE) crew sets up vehicle wash down site. (2) Contaminated unit personnel set up MOPP gear exchange site, no less than 50 meters upwind of the vehicle wash down site. (3) The remainder of the unit's personnel prepare their equipment for decon. b. Accomplish actions in pre-decon area.
 Vehicle crews (except for operators) dismount. Dismounted crews remove mud and camouflage from vehicles. Separate vehicles and dismounted crews. (a) Ensure vehicle operators are briefed (include use of overhead cover and concealment and the proper interval). (b) Ensure vehicles are buttoned up (all doors and other openings are closed or covered. Move vehicles, with operators, to the vehicle wash down site. Move dismounted crews and all other soldiers in the contaminated unit to the MOPP gear exchange site.
 * 7. The decon unit NCOIC supervises operation of the vehicle wash down site (selected organizational personnel accomplish the wash down actions). (031-506-3001, 031-507-2038) a. Ensures vehicle operators maintain the proper interval between vehicles while processing through the wash down station. b. Ensures vehicles are washed properly. (1) Start at top and work down. (2) Spray hot soapy water for two to three minutes per vehicle. (3) Monitor water consumption. c. Ensures vehicles move to assembly area after vehicle wash down.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 8. Contaminated soldiers conduct MOPP gear exchange. (031-503-1007, 031-503-1023, 031-503-3009, 031-507-2038) NOTE: Ensure supporting units have the opportunity to use the MOPP gear exchange site before proceeding. NOTE: Ensure the supporting decontamination unit cleans and marks the site and reports the area of contamination (using an NBC 5 report) to higher HQ. a. Prepare equipment decontamination station. b. Brief MOPP gear exchange participants on procedures to be followed. c. Place decontaminated individual equipment on a clear surface (plastics, poncho, or other similar material). d. Exchange MOPP gear. e. Move soldiers to the assembly area after completion of MOPP gear exchange. f. Ensure all personnel and equipment are accounted for after completion of the operational decontamination.
 * 9. Commander reports to higher HQ. (031-503-3006, 031-503-3010, 031-506-3001) a. Reports the completion and the location of the vehicle wash down and MOPP gear exchange. b. Requests permission to perform unmasking procedures if, through testing, the determination has been made that no agent is present. c. Determines the adequacy of decontamination and adjusts MOPP level as required.

CONDITIONS: Hostile operations, natural disaster (severe weather, earthquakes, and floods) or an accident in the unit area has caused moderate to heavy casualties and major damage and destruction of unit supplies, equipment, and facilities. The unit mission in support of forces engaged in full spectrum operations has ceased. The base defense plan and unit standing operating procedures are present. Unit personnel are trained on individual area damage control (ADC) tasks. Small hostile forces, terrorists, and hostile force sympathizers are operating in the area. The unit, while operating as part of an operational base defense, has been directed by the base defense operations center (BDOC) to perform area damage control functions in its area. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Prompt action was taken to minimize casualties and the adverse effects of the hostile action/disaster. Mission support was expeditiously restored in keeping with the commander's priorities and guidance from supporting and supported units. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase time required to conduct area damage control.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
NOTE: In many cases, unit personnel will be assigned to provisional ADC teams of a base defense force and will conduct ADC functions under base defense command and control. This T&EO is written to allow the unit to train and evaluate the same basic area damage control tasks under the command and control of unit leaders. Commanders should adjust this T&EO to accommodate their local situations.
 * 1. Commander, staff, and leaders direct ADC operations. (04-8310.00-3007, 081-831-0101, 850-001-3001) a. Establish a temporary ADC operations center. b. Assess casualties and damage. c. CONDITIONS: The unit, with all its personnel, equipment, ammunition, and supplies has arrived in an established support area from which it will provide support to units engaged in the full spectrum of operations. A base defense operations center (BDOC) is operational. The unit has been assigned responsibility for defense of a sector of the perimeter. The unit's quartering party arrived earlier, established preliminary contact with the BDOC, and designated tentative locations for the unit. Threat reinforced infantry squads and terrorists are operating in the area. BDOC, unit, and its higher headquarters (HQ) tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) are present. Requests for support are being received from supported units. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The support facility, with its associated administrative and logistics areas, was emplaced IAW the TSOPs, within six hours or as prescribed, and commenced support activities.

CONDITIONS: Unit personnel are wounded and some may be chemically contaminated. The unit has no organic medical treatment personnel. Threat force contact has been broken. Unit defenses have been reorganized. Casualties are transported from defensive positions to designated casualty collection points. All methods of transport are employed. Some wounded enemy prisoners of war (EPW) casualties may require transport. This task is performed simultaneously with other reorganization tasks. The tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) and higher HQ operations order (OPORD) are available. Simplified collective protection equipment (SCPE) is on hand and/or field-expedient and natural shelters are available. While transporting casualties, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. MOPP4 would only be worn when transporting chemically contaminated casualties. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Casualties were transported as soon as the tactical situation permitted IAW TSOP, OPORD, and FM 8-10-6. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase time required to transport casualties.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 * 1. Commander and leaders supervise transport of casualties. (113-571-1022, 113-600-2001, 113-637-2001, 805C-PAD-2060) a. Designate organizational personnel to participate in preparation for transport. e. Supervise preparation of casualties for transport. f. Coordinate transport of casualties for the pickup site with higher HQ. g. Coordinate security requirements for the pickup site with sub-elements and higher HQ. h. Disseminate transport information to unit personnel. i. Forward casualty feeder reports and witness statements to higher HQ. j. Enforce safety procedures. k. Enforce environmental protection procedures.
 2. Designated personnel prepare casualties for transport. (113-571-1022, 113-600-2001, 113-637-2001, 805C-PAD-2060) a. Provide first aid treatment to casualties. b. Report casualties, as required.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
 c. Collect classified documents such as signal operation instructions (SOI), maps, overlays, and key lists. d. Secure custody of organizational equipment. e. Forward casualty feeder reports to HQ section.
 Designated personnel transport casualties to collection points using manual carries. (081-831-1046, 081-831-1054) a. Select type of movement appropriate to situation and injury. b. Transport casualty without causing further injury.
 4. Designated personnel transport casualties to casualty collection points using litter carries. (081-831-1046, 081-831-1054) a. Identify litter team(s). b. Construct improvised litter from available material, as required. c. Secure casualty on litter. d. Transport casualty without causing further injury.
 Designated personnel transport casualties to a medical treatment facility (MTF) using available vehicles. (081-831-1046, 081-831-1054) a. Load maximum number of casualties with the most seriously injured last. b. Secure casualties in vehicle. c. Transport casualties without causing further injury.
 * 6. Commander and leaders request aeromedical evacuation. (081-831-0101, 113-571-1022, 113-600-2001, 113-637-2001) a. Transmit request. b. Select landing site which provides sufficient space for helicopter hover, landing, and takeoff. c. Direct the removal of all dangerous objects likely to be blown about prior to aircraft arrival. d. Establish security of landing site. e. Ensure landing zone is appropriately marked (light sets, smoke, etc.), if required.
 7. Soldiers assist in loading ambulance. (081-831-1046, 081-831-1054) a. Employ proper carrying and loading techniques. b. Load casualties in the sequence directed by crew. c. Load casualties without causing unnecessary discomfort or further injury. d. Employ safety procedures. e. Employ environmental protection procedures.
 8. Designated personnel transport chemically contaminated casualties. (031-503-1015, 031-503-1023, 031-503-1035, 031-503-3008, 081-831-1046, 081-831-1054) a. Assume MOPP4. b. CONDITIONS: The unit is operating independently or as part of a higher HQ supporting forces engaged in full spectrum operations. The unit has communications with higher, supported, supporting, and subordinate units. Staff sections and leaders have comprehensive situational understanding. Staff elements have up-to-date planning data, maps, intelligence reports, tools, and other planning materials and information. An operations order (OPORD), warning order (WARNO) or fragmentary order (FRAGO) has been received. Command and staff elements have been alerted to prepare to commence planning. This task should not be trained in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit employs the military decision-making process (MDMP) to develop OPORDs and operational plans (OPLANs) that are in accordance with the SOP; support the higher commander's intent; meet times specified by higher HQ; and provide subordinate units two-thirds of the available time to complete their planning process.

CHAPTER 6

External Evaluation

6-1. General. Evaluations are conducted to determine the unit's ability to perform its missions. This chapter is a guide for preparing evaluations. Using units may modify this evaluation, based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) and other considerations as deemed appropriate by the commander. Selected T&EOs in Chapter 5 are used for evaluation. At the end of the evaluation, the commander can identify the units' strengths and weaknesses. These strengths and weaknesses are the basis for future training and resource allocations.

6-2. Preparing the Evaluation. The commander must standardize evaluation procedures to accurately measure the unit's capabilities.

a. Preparing the Evaluation Instrument. The sample evaluation scenario in Table 6-1 contains the missions as well as the appropriate tasks necessary to develop the scenario and execute the mission. A graphic representation of the scenario is provided in Chapter 4, Figure 4-1. Selective tailoring is required because it is not possible to evaluate every task. The following procedures are suggested for developing the evaluation.

(1) Identify the missions for evaluating each echelon or element, using Table 2-1 in Chapter 2. Record the selected missions using DA Form 7506, Unit Proficiency/Evaluation Worksheet. A blank copy of this form is provided in Figure 6-1 for your information.

(2) List each mission on DA Form 7502, Task Summary Sheet. A blank copy of this form is provided in Figure 6-2 for your information.

(3) Select the tasks for the evaluation of every mission. List the selected tasks on the Task Summary Sheets which are used for recording the results of the evaluation.

(4) Compile the selected missions and tasks in the order they logically occur in the detailed scenario. Group the selected missions and tasks into parts, as in Table 6-1, for continuous operations. Assess multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES) casualties and conduct in-process after action reviews (AAR) by interrupting parts at logical points.

b. Forecasting and Requisitioning Resources. Adequate training ammunition, equipment and supplies must be forecasted and requisitioned. Table 6-2 is a consolidated list of support requirements for this evaluation. It is based on experiences with the scenario in Table 6-1. The evaluating headquarters will prepare its own consolidated support requirements.

c. Selecting and Preparing the Field Evaluation Site. Required size, type of terrain, opposing forces (OPFOR) requirements, and administrative requirements are the basis for site selection. OPFOR positioning is according to threat doctrine. The site must provide space for the administrative area required to support the evaluation.

6-3. Selecting Observer Controllers (OC). OCs must know the unit's missions, organization, equipment, and employment. The senior OC should be at least equal in rank to the unit commander and have successfully performed in that specific or similar command position.

6-4. Training the OCs.

a. Evaluation Design. Each part of an evaluation is designed to evaluate specific missions or tasks within the overall scenario. OCs must thoroughly understand and correctly implement the evaluation.

b. MILES. Each OC must have full knowledge of the unit's weapons as well as the MILES system the unit will use.

c. Evaluation Control System. This system ensures that the evaluation is administered in a consistent and standardized manner, and that correct data is collected for the final evaluation. It includes the following elements:

- (1) Rules of engagement
- (2) OC duties and responsibilities
- (3) Communication systems
- (4) Evaluation data collection plan

6-5. Recording External Evaluation Information.

a. The evaluating headquarters uses the following data recording instruments for the OCs:

(1) DA Form 7505, Unit Data Sheet, is used to document demographic information which may reflect on a unit's performance. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-3.

(2) DA Form 7503, Environmental Data Sheet, documents weather information in order to compare missions under differing environmental conditions. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-4.

(3) DA Form 7504, Personnel and Equipment Loss Report, documents information that may affect the unit's degree of success during engagements with the OPFOR. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-5.

b. The senior OC has the overall responsibility for preparation of the external evaluation report. This evaluation is based on his own findings and input by subordinate OCs. Subordinate OCs use the task evaluation criteria (T&EO from Chapter 5 and Task Summary Sheets) to determine overall proficiency in their particular areas. The senior OC compiles the external evaluation results as prescribed by the evaluating commander. Deviations from the task standard assessed by the subordinate OCs may be addressed in the senior OC comments portion of the Unit Proficiency Worksheet.

6-6. Selecting and Training the OPFOR. The selection and training of the OPFOR are crucial to the success of a standardized evaluation. The OPFOR provides one of the control measures that influences the conditions under which the evaluation is administered. The unit should face an opponent that realistically resembles the threat in strength, weapons, and skill.

a. Selection. Any qualified Skill Level 1 or 2 soldier can serve as OPFOR. Ideally, the OPFORs should be a small cohesive unit under the control of their leader or commander.

- b. Training. The OPFOR must understand the following six major areas:
 - (1) Installation and operation of the MILES devices
 - (2) Rules of engagement
 - (3) Threat/terrorist small unit tactics
 - (4) Training scenarios

- (5) OPFOR weapons and equipment, if available
- (6) Safety

c. OPFOR Strength. The OPFOR should be strong enough to offer the unit a realistic challenge, but one that the unit can defeat when proper tactics are employed. The OPFOR should be allowed to plan their own attack for each mission and not be forced into a "canned" attack that the unit will quickly defeat. When attacking a fixed defensive location, the OPFOR generally should have a 3-to-1 ratio of superiority.

6-7. Conducting the Evaluation. Evaluations are divided into three distinct phases: pre-evaluation, evaluation, and post-evaluation. Each phase requires a different degree of preparation and coordination.

a. Pre-evaluation.

(1) All OCs must recon the evaluation area to know the unit's boundaries, disposition of the OPFOR, and to gain a general appreciation of the field evaluation site's area of operation.

(2) OCs must prepare an operations orders (OPORD) and fragmentary orders (FRAGO) to control the exercise. An order is prepared for each mission in the evaluation scenario. These can be prepared by using the skeleton orders contained in the STXs in Chapter 4.

(3) Unit preparatory activities include installation and troubleshooting of MILES equipment, loading vehicles, conducting inspections, and performing other logistics and administrative actions, as required.

(4) The OPFOR is placed in position and briefed while the unit is conducting its preparatory activities.

b. Evaluation.

(1) The evaluation team controls the evaluation in two ways. First, it uses measures established in the movement order and the OPORD or FRAGO. Second, the team controls the evaluation through the team commander (simulated by the senior OC for this evaluation) on the team net. The team does not control in the traditional sense; instead, it accompanies the unit as observers.

(2) OCs are neutral throughout the evaluation. Only the senior OC has direct verbal contact with the unit commander. Other OCs do not speak to, aid, advise, point out positions, or in any way influence the unit's performance, except for a possible or actual safety issue or emergency.

(3) Once the senior OC issues the OPORD and movement order, the unit commander executes the events and actions prescribed in the first part of the evaluation scenario within the estimated time. From this point on, all successive parts begin with a FRAGO.

(4) The senior OC terminates a part when the unit has completed all the events and actions in a particular area or has suffered so many casualties or so much damage that the part cannot be completed. He must record the reasons for the termination in the margin of the OC's Task Summary Sheets and report his action to the senior evaluator. During this period, the senior OC will direct the unit to remain in position while "replacements" for personnel and equipment designated as killed or destroyed are sent forward to reconstitute the unit. At this time, OC must perform the following actions:

(a) Inspect all MILES equipment, record "kill" codes and reset equipment. Replace any damaged or inoperative MILES equipment.

(b) Resolve all casualty data to determine the time, place, number, and cause of casualties.

(c) Debrief the unit to resolve questions. Afterwards, the senior OC directs the unit to continue its mission after it receives a FRAGO or OPORD for the next part.

(5) These guidelines should be followed by the OCs:

(a) Enforce rules of engagement.

(b) Observe critical tactical events of time. OCs must spot and record any action that might have an effect on later performance or mission outcome.

(c) Record travel routes and unit's location.

(d) Inform OPFOR controllers of the unit's location, direction, and intent. This is necessary to enable control of OPFOR action in accordance with the desired sequence of events.

(e) Enforce safety.

(f) Terminate mission.

c. Post-evaluation. After the evaluation is terminated, the unit moves to an appropriate area and performs the following actions:

(1) The unit OC debriefs subordinate OCs and compiles all data (evaluator packets) for the evaluation.

(2) The unit OC completes the task summary sheets.

(3) The unit OC turns in all completed OC packets (with the OC scoring system) to control headquarters for recording and analysis.

(4) The unit OC must conduct an after action review (AAR) of the unit's performance.

(5) Each element OC should conduct an AAR of his element's performance.

6-8. Conducting the AAR.

a. General. At the completion of each evaluation phase, the AAR leader provides feedback to the unit in order to increase and reinforce learning.

b. Feedback. Because all members of the unit participate in an AAR, each member becomes a source of feedback. This provides a richer database for key points. The AAR leader will draw information from each member, which becomes an important part of the discussion. This information is the basis for discussing alternate courses of action.

c. Preparing the AAR. AAR preparation involves five steps:

(1) Review training orders and objectives. Training objectives are the focus of the discussion of the exercise results. The FRAGOs and OPORDs included in the exercise design implement these objectives. OCs should be familiar with the objectives, FRAGOs and OPORDs so they can note orders given by leaders of the evaluated unit and its subordinate elements that either implement these objectives or deviate from them.

(2) Observe the exercise. This is an active process. The emphasis is on noting those actions that make the difference between the unit's success or failure. Because unit orders identify important activities and checkpoints, the OC must be present when the commander issues the order. The OC should position himself where he can best observe anticipated critical events.

(3) Select the AAR site. After the exercise, select a site for the AAR. If possible, hold the AAR where the majority of action occurred or where most of the critical events took place.

(4) Debrief the OCs. While the units are moving to the selected site, the OCs should be debriefed. The senior OC must have a complete understanding of what happened during the exercise. The fourth step in AAR preparation is to obtain a detailed description of the exercise's events in the order in which they occurred.

(5) Review the events. After the senior OC has a sound understanding of what happened during the exercise, he reviews the events that are ranked in terms of their relevance to the training objectives and their contributions to the exercise outcome. He selects as many events as can be covered in detail during the time allocated for the AAR and places them in chronological order.

d. Conducting the AAR. Conducting the AAR involves five steps:

(1) Organize the participants. The OC and AAR leader should group the participants according to their organization in the exercise. Each subordinate element's OC is with the element for which he is responsible.

(2) State the training objectives. The AAR leader makes a brief statement of the training objectives for the exercise. These are described as specifically as possible. He states any additional teaching points that he intends to cover during the AAR. These should be limited to three or four key points in order to keep the AAR focused and prevent it from becoming excessively long.

(3) Lead the discussion. The AAR leader guides the discussion of the events in their order of occurrence. Diagrams help players visualize the exercise development. Each event is discussed in detail to make teaching points about the unit's performance during the event. In an effective AAR, the AAR leader should:

- (a) Avoid giving a critique or lecture.
- (b) Guide the discussion by asking leading questions.
- (c) Suggest the players describe what occurred in their own terms.

(d) Suggest the players discuss not only what happened, but how it happened and how it could be done better.

(e) Focus the discussion to ensure that important tactical lessons are made explicit.

- (f) Relate events to subsequent results.
- (g) Avoid detailed examination of events not directly related to major training objectives.
- (h) Encourage the participants to use diagrams to illustrate teaching points.
- (i) Prohibit players from offering self-serving excuses for inappropriate tactical actions.

(4) Review the sequence of the events associated with the hazards of the risk assessment made prior to the exercise. Discuss each incident of fratricide or near-fratricide and how it can be avoided in the future. In addition, the AAR leader should address the following:

- (a) Were effective controls put into place to avoid accidents?
- (b) Was training realism reduced through artificial control measures?

(c) Were all participants aware of hazards down to the lowest level?

(d) Did any hazard that was not identified present itself, and, if so, what was done to overcome it?

(5) Summarize key points. The AAR leader briefly summarizes teaching points in terms of training objectives covered in the AAR. After the summary, he can have a private conversation with the unit commander regarding his unit's strengths and weaknesses, and what he can do to improve his performance and that of his unit. A good AAR leader:

(a) Maintains order and discipline.

(b) Reviews the training objectives.

(c) Addresses important events as they occurred and how the unit could have done them better. During the discussion, the leader avoids a detailed examination of events not directly related to the training objective.

(d) Traces the chain of events so all participants understand the results of mistakes. One mistake is often the partial cause of another.

- (e) Clearly relates tactical events to teaching points.
- (f) Involves participants in the discussion.
- (g) Clearly and concisely gives summary and new training objectives.
- (h) Reinforces points by using sketches, diagrams, or terrain models in the AAR.

APPENDIX A - THREAT ASSESSMENT

A-1. The Contemporary Operational Environment (COE).

a. The COE is a composite of the conditions, circumstances, and influences that are expected to effect the employment of military forces and bear on the decisions of unit commanders both now and in the near future. The range of threats during this period extend from smaller, low technology opponents using more adaptive, asymmetric methods (methods that avoid attacking a US strength while using advantages against US weaknesses) to larger modernized forces that engage US forces in more conventional ways. In some possible conflicts (or in multiple, concurrent conflicts) a combination of these types of threats is possible.

b. It is particularly important that commanders, leaders, and soldiers develop a mindset shaped and influenced by a solid understanding of the COE and assure that all training is consistent with the COE. While every effort has been made to comprehensively integrate the COE into this training publication commanders, leaders, trainers, observer controllers (OC) and all personnel participating in training must work to assure the complete integration of COE considerations. The materials in this appendix will assist in this process.

A-2. The Threat (See FM 3.0, Operations).

a. The potential for armed conflict between nation-states, non-state actors, and transnational entities is expected to remain a serious challenge for the foreseeable future. Disparities in wealth, technology, and information will create unstable conditions. The influence of nonstate actors will have increasing regional and worldwide implications. Conflict between multinational groups is expected to increase while conflict involving only two elements is expected to decrease.

b. Multiple threats to US interests exist. Some are direct, such as a cross-border attack; others are indirect, such as coercion. Some regional powers aspire to dominate their neighbors and have the conventional force capabilities required to do so. Such situations may threaten US vital interests, US allies, or regional stability. Many transnational groups are capable of conducting a range of activities that threaten US interests and citizens at home and abroad. Such activities include terrorism, illegal drug trading, illicit arms and strategic material trafficking, international organized crime, piracy, and deliberate environmental damage. Additionally, extremism, ethnic disputes, religious rivalries, and human disasters contribute to huge refugee migrations and often cause instability.

c. In the foreseeable future, most nations will modernize and maintain military capabilities for countering regional threats or seeking opportunities. Military change will incorporate advances in information technology, ballistic and cruise missile capabilities, and weapons of mass destruction (WMD). Potential threats vary from heavy conventional units to adaptive, asymmetric forces structured for local and regional use. Adversaries will seek and obtain technologies that challenge US strengths in information technology, navigation, night vision systems, and precision targeting and strike capabilities. The proliferation of WMD and long-range delivery systems will enable adversaries to threaten the US at greater ranges with increased lethality and precision.

d. Adversaries will develop warfighting doctrine that takes perceived US strengths and vulnerabilities into account. They will try to prevent the projection of US forces and control the nature and tempo of US actions through asymmetric operations and adaptive forces. They will try to counter US air operations and neutralize US technological advantages, such as precision strike capabilities. Further, they will adapt to more nonlinear, simultaneous operations conducted throughout the area of operations. They will use conventional and unconventional means to destroy US national will and the capability to wage war.

ARTEP 12-606-MTP

e. Adversaries will seek to shape conditions to their advantage. They will try to change the nature of the conflict or use capabilities they believe are difficult for US forces to counter. They will use complex terrain, urban environments, and force dispersal methods to offset US advantages. These methods will increase targeting difficulties and may result in US forces wasting precision weapons on relatively unimportant assets.

f. Generally, adversaries will seek to operate against US forces according to the following concepts:

- Conduct force-oriented operations. Inflict unacceptable casualties.
- Attempt to control the tempo. Create conditions to defeat US forcible entry operations.

• Transition to a defensive framework that avoids decisive battle, preserves capability, and prolongs the conflict. If US forces deploy, use terrorist tactics and other attacks to erode public support, alliance or coalition cohesion, and the will to fight.

• Use modernized intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR) assets and WMD to conduct sophisticated ambushes. Destroy key operating systems or inflict mass casualties within and outside the theater of operations.

• Use terrain and urban areas to disperse mechanized and armored units. Concentrate and disperse them as opportunities allow. Maneuver forces during periods of reduced exposure to US technology. Use upgraded camouflage and deception capabilities.

• Form coalitions against the US.

• Acquire or modify advanced technological systems to create surprise and limited duration overmatch in specific areas.

g. Adversaries will continue to seek every opportunity for advantage over US and multinational forces. When countered, they will adapt to the changing conditions and pursue all available options to avoid destruction or defeat. This environment and the wide array of threats present significant challenges. Army forces must simultaneously defeat an adversary while protecting noncombatants and the infrastructure on which they depend.

A-3. Threat Implications for Human Resource and Financial Management Units.

a. Human resource and financial management units must be fully capable of performing their mission through the full spectrum of operations in war and in military operations other than war (MOOTW). Often, they will be supporting Army forces operating as part of a joint force within a multinational and interagency environment. Supported forces can be conducting offensive, defensive, stability, and support operations singly or in combination, often simultaneously.

b. Insights on how human resource and financial management units must operate can be developed by applying contemporary threat considerations to the full spectrum of operations. Commanders and leaders must develop further guidance based on lessons learned materials and current intelligence information. General considerations include the following:

• Units must be fully prepared to operate effectively in the full spectrum of operations in war, conflict and peace.

• Units must maintain a high state of deployability regardless of their locations. They must be prepared to quickly respond to worldwide contingencies and varying threats.

• Units must have the capability to support designated forces by accompanying them or by supporting them from a distant location.

• Units must consistently provide timely and highly responsive support. They must ensure high unit readiness and a similar level of personnel readiness in the forces they support regardless of the location of that element.

• Units must adapt to new requirements and be fully prepared to support joint and combined forces, multi-national forces, intergovernmental agencies, forces under other non-US command and control and, in some cases, non-governmental organizations.

• Commanders and leaders must place special emphasis on counter terrorist activities and force protection for unit personnel, replacements, and supported soldiers.

• Units must maintain a capability to respond to mass casualty situations caused by conventional weapons as well as weapons of mass destruction.

• Leaders need to train and condition soldiers to offset the adverse morale impacts of high-tech combat, terrorism, and weapons of mass destruction. Information, training, force protection, strong leadership, and an effective MWR program help counter these situations.

• Units must respond quickly to special requirements that arise from non-traditional missions such as drug interdiction and humanitarian relief.

• Units must be fully prepared to perform their branch-specific missions in a NBC environment. They must address the challenges of NBC casualties, and contaminated remains and materiel.

• Leaders must be trained and prepared to deal with the complexity of new technologies, diverse new missions, and the uncertainty and ambiguity that characterize many current situations.

• Personnel must be prepared to provide necessary life-saving measures to soldiers attacked by NBC weapons.

• Units must be fully capable of using their technical skills to support domestic civilian and governmental agencies and comparable agencies in foreign governments.

• Commanders and leaders must develop and maintain an updated threat/terrorism assessment for their units. They must take prompt action to correct problems identified in this assessment.

• Organizations must be aware of the fact that almost any threat force can possess modern sophisticated weaponry and equipment. This includes directed energy, communications, intercept, and electronics.

• Units must be well trained on threat capabilities and the ability to counter them. Hands-on training and rehearsals are key to assuring unit personnel can respond to threat actions.

• Unit personnel must understand asymmetric warfare concepts and consistently probe their operational posture to identify and correct areas of weakness and vulnerability that might become hostile targets.

APPENDIX B - TRAINING SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

B-1. Safety. In a training environment, leaders have a threefold safety mission. First, leaders must assure safe training. Second, they must continue to develop and enforce the concept that safety is a way of life for all members of their unit and in every situation to include everyday tasks. Finally, leaders must work to develop soldier and leader skills in the use and application of safety techniques and procedures such as the risk management process that will subsequently be applied to all military operations conducted by the unit. A comprehensive training safety program built around these focuses serves to build and conserve combat power through accident prevention while at the same time providing for a force that is well prepared, through realistic training, for all types of operations. Guidelines for an effective training safety program include:

a. Train to standard on all individual and collective tasks. Ensure all personnel understand and apply the safety precautions contained in appropriate TMs, FMs, training materials, operation plans (OPLAN), operation orders (OPORD), and other pertinent publications.

b. Genuinely integrate safety considerations into all planning, preparation, execution, and evaluation phases of training.

c. Collect and integrate safety lessons learned into all unit training and operational activities. Emphasize unique safety implications for your type of unit and its equipment. Periodically brief personnel on these matters and spot check to assure the information is relayed to all soldiers.

d. Continuously work to build a positive safety environment and awareness so safety becomes a way of life for all soldiers in all situations.

e. Integrate the risk management and decision-making processes for use in training activities and the operational missions. Balance training realism and unnecessary risk. Train and require leaders at all levels to use the risk management process. Check to ensure they are correctly using this process. Accept risks only if benefits outweigh potential costs or losses. Always make informed, conscious decisions to accept risks at acceptable levels.

B-2. Risk Management. Risk management is a tool that is used to analyze situations to determine hazards and to establish and implement accident prevention steps and measures. It applies to all phases of training to include planning, execution, and assessment as well as to all operational environments. Proper use of risk management procedures enables commanders and leaders to provide maximum possible realism in training while properly safeguarding personnel and equipment. A Risk Assessment Matrix for assessing safety hazards is at Figure B-1. At Figure B-2 is a Risk Management Worksheet, with instructions, that may be used as a tool for assessing both safety and environmental hazards.

a. Army missions are inherently dangerous. To effectively prepare their personnel to accomplish assigned mission, commanders must train their units to standard under the most realistic conditions possible. Application of the risk management process does not detract from training, but enhances effective, realistic training and serves to conserve combat power. Risk management is a continuous process that must be incorporated into all training plans and supporting events. It must be an integral part of all training decisions, operations, and related activities.

b. Risk management is a five-step cyclic process that identifies, assesses, and controls risks arising from operational situations, and ensures decisions are made that balance risk with training benefits. In this process, leaders and staffs continuously work to identify hazards and assess both accident and tactical risks. They then develop, coordinate and implement control measures to mitigate or eliminate hazards. (See FM 101-5, Appendix J for further information.) The five steps are:

(1) Identify Hazards. Identify the most probable hazards for the missions.

(2) Assess Hazards. Analyze each hazard to determine the probability of its causing an accident and the probable effect of the accident. Identify control options to eliminate or reduce the hazard.

(3) Make Risk Decisions. Weigh the risk against the benefits of performing the operations. Accept no unnecessary risks and make any residual risk decisions at the proper level of command.

(4) Implement Controls. Integrate specific controls into training plans, OPLANs, OPORDs, standing operating procedures (SOP), and rehearsals. Communicate controls to the individual soldier.

(5) Supervise. Determine the effectiveness of controls in reducing the probability and effect of identified hazards to include follow up and after action reviews (AAR). Develop the lessons learned.

B-3. Fratricide. Fratricide is friendly force weapon employment in a manner that results in unforeseen and unintentional death or injury of friendly personnel. Fratricide is classified as an accident, as it is an individual or unit error that produces friendly casualties. Fratricide prevention is built around soldiers and units who are trained to standard and aware of factors contributing to fratricide.

a. Fratricide results in unacceptable losses and increases the risk of mission failure. Fratricide undermines the unit's ability to survive and function. Units experiencing fratricide tend to exhibit the following behaviors:

- (1) Loss of confidence in unit leadership
- (2) Increasing self-doubt among leaders
- (3) Hesitation to use supporting combat systems
- (4) Over-supervision of units
- (5) Hesitation to conduct night operations
- (6) Loss of aggressiveness during fire and maneuver
- (7) Loss of initiative
- (8) Disrupted operations
- (9) General degradation of cohesiveness, morale, and combat power

b. The primary causes of fratricide are a lack of positive target identification and the inability to maintain situational awareness. Specific problems contributing to fratricide include one, or a combination of several of the following:

(1) Direct Fire Control Plan Failures. They occur when units fail to develop defensive and, particularly, offensive fire control plans.

(2) Land Navigation Failures. They result when units stray out of sector, report wrong locations, and become disoriented.

(3) Combat Identification Failures. These failures include gunners or pilots being unable to distinguish thermal and optical signatures near the maximum range of their sighting systems and units in proximity mistaking each other for the enemy under limited visibility conditions.

(4) Inadequate Control Measures. Units fail to disseminate the minimum maneuver and fire support control measures necessary to tie control measures to recognizable terrain or events.

(5) Reporting Communication Failures. Units at all levels face problems in generating timely, accurate, and complete reports as locations and tactical situations change.

(6) Weapons Error. Lapses in individual discipline lead to charge errors, accidental discharges, mistakes with explosives and hand grenades, and similar incidents.

(7) Battlefield Hazards. Unexploded ordnance, unmarked or unrecorded minefields, family of scatterable mines (FASCAM), and booby traps litter the battlefield. Failure to mark, remove, record or anticipate these hazards increases the risk of friendly casualties.

c. Fratricide awareness and prevention measures must be incorporated into all training activities at every level. Training exercises must incorporate provisions that increase fratricide awareness of soldiers, and cause them to exercise fratricide prevention measures. Fratricide considerations need to be incorporated into all after action reviews. Live fire exercises must incorporate extra fratricide precautions. Leaders need special training on the use of the risk assessment and management tool as a means to reduce the incidence of fratricide.

B-4. Protecting the Environment. Protection of the environment, its natural resources such as air and water, its threatened or endangered species, and its archeological and historical sites must be a key factor in the preparation and conduct of all training. As embodied in the concept "train as we fight,, environmental awareness and sound environmental practices built in training also provide the foundation for incorporating environmental protection considerations into the full spectrum of military operations. Detailed information on environmental protection is contained in FM 3-100.4, Environmental Considerations in Military Operations.

a. Environmental protection measures that must be addressed as part of the preparation for collective training include the following:

(1) Coordinate training plans and activities with the installation environmental compliance officer and his staff.

(2) Assure basic environmental awareness training is provided all personnel.

(3) Conduct an environmental risk assessment of the training area.

(4) Inform all soldiers of the environmentally sensitive areas, constraints, and preventive practices and procedures related to the training area.

(5) Brief commanders and leaders on the environmental risk assessment and its control measures to include identified sensitive areas, constraints, and other issues.

(6) Incorporate environmental protection provisions into SOPs, training plans, and OPORDS

b. During training, the following environmental protection considerations should be made:

(1) Monitor training for compliance with environmental protection provisions in SOPs, training plans, and OPORDS.

(2) Assure control measures contained in the environmental protection risk assessment are followed.

(3) Reassess hazards as situations change.

(4) Spot check all training activities.

(5) Incorporate environmental considerations into AARs.

B-5. The Risk Management Worksheet. Figure B-2 is provided as a tool for use in tracking and documenting all risks to include environmental risks. Key considerations that should be incorporated into environmental protection assessment include air pollution, archeological and historical sites, hazardous material/waste, noise pollution, threatened/endangered species, water pollution and wetland protection.

- Block 5 Hazard identify hazards by reviewing METT-TC factors for the mission or task. Additional factors include historical lessons learned, experience, judgment, equipment characteristics and warnings, and environmental considerations.
- Block 6 Initial Risk Level assessment includes historical lessons learned, intuitive analyses, experience, judgment, equipment characteristics and warnings, and environmental considerations. Determine initial risk for each hazard by applying the risk assessment matrix. Enter the risk level (L M H E) for each hazard.
- Block 7 Controls develop one or more controls for each hazard to either eliminate the hazard or reduce the risk (probability and/or severity) associated with a hazardous incident. Specify who, what, when, where, and how for each control. Enter controls.
- Block 8 Residual Risk Level determine the residual risk for each hazard by applying the risk assessment matrix. Enter the residual risk level (L M H E) for each hazard.
- Block 9 How To Implement decide how each control will be put into effect or communicated to the personnel who will make it happen (written or verbal instruction; tactical, safety, garrison SOPs; rehearsals).
- Block 10 How To Supervise determine the best method for ensuring controls are in place and effective (such as random sampling, constant supervision, checklist, etc.).
- Block 11 Controls Effective during AAR, determine whether new controls need to be developed, present controls are adequate, or controls are so constraining that the training is ineffective.
- Block 12 Determine Overall Mission/Task Risk select the highest residual risk level and circle it. This level becomes the overall mission or task risk level.
- Block 13 Signature of Risk Decision Authority the commander decides whether the controls are sufficient to accept the risk. If the risk is too great to continue the mission or task, the commander directs development of additional controls or modifies, changes, or rejects the COA.

DEFINITIONS

After-action review

A professional discussion of an event, focused on performance standards, that enables soldiers to discover for themselves what happened, why it happened, and how to sustain strengths and improve on weaknesses. It is a tool leaders, trainers, and units can use to get maximum benefit from every mission or task.

Army Training and Evaluation Program (ARTEP)

The cornerstone of unit training. It is the umbrella program used by the trainer and training manager in the training and evaluation of units. The ARTEP is a complete program enabling commanders to evaluate and develop collective training based on unit weaknesses, train the unit to overcome those weaknesses, and reevaluate. Success on the battlefield depends on the coordinated performance of collective and individual skills that are taught through the ARTEP MTP.

Combined Arms Training Strategy (CATS)

The Army's overarching strategy for the current and future training of the force. Its basis is a series of branch proponent unit and institutional strategies describing training events, frequencies, and resources required to train to standard. These strategies describe how the Army will train the total force to standard in the institutions and units and through self-development. CATS also documents the quantity and justification for all training resources required to execute the training.

Military Qualification Standards (MQS) Manual (Will be replaced by OFS products)

MQS manuals list all common, shared, and branch-specific critical individual tasks for officers. The MQS manuals establish critical tasks, professional knowledges, and special emphasis areas required for officers to successfully perform their jobs. These manuals also provide reference courses and job aids to assist in task performance and self-development. They include --MQS I Manual of Common Tasks (Precommissioning Requirements); MQS II Manual of Common Tasks for Lieutenants and Captains; MQS II branch manuals (Lieutenants and Captains); MQS III Leader Development Manual (Majors and Lieutenant Colonels).

Mission essential task list (METL)

A compilation of collective mission essential tasks which must be successfully performed if an organization is to accomplish its wartime mission(s).

Serial

A serial can be a group of people, vehicles, equipment, or supplies and is used in airborne, air assault, amphibious operations, and convoys.

Soldier Manual of Common Tasks (SMCT)

A document which contains the critical tasks which every soldier must be able to perform in order to fight and win on the battlefield. It provides the conditions, standards, and performance measures for each common soldier critical task.

Soldier Training Publication (STP)

Publications that contain critical individual tasks and other training information used to train soldiers in a specified MOS/SL. They standardize individual training; provide information and guidance in conducting individual training in the unit; and aid in training critical individual tasks. They consist of Soldier's Manuals, Trainer's Guides, Military Qualification Standards Manuals, and Officer Foundations Standards System Manuals.

Soldier's manual (SM)

List critical task summaries for a specific MOS and skill level (SL); provide conditions, standards, and performance measures for each critical task.; and are the base documents for all MOS-specific individual task training and evaluation.

Warrior Ethos

The Warrior Ethos forms the foundation for the American Soldier's spirit and total commitment to victory, in peace and war, always exemplifying ethical behavior and Army Values. Soldiers put the mission first, refuse to accept defeat, never quit, and never leave behind a fellow American. Their absolute faith in themselves and their comrades makes the United States Army invariably persuasive in peace and invincible in war.
