PREFACE

1. This Army Training and Evaluation Program (ARTEP) Mission Training Plan (MTP) provides the primary comprehensive training program for a Finance Command (FINCOM), table of organization and equipment (TOE) 14612L000, to perform its critical wartime mission. The ARTEP MTP is for use by unit leaders, the primary trainers, to prepare for, conduct, and evaluate their training.
2. The cornerstone of this ARTEP MTP is the unit's TOE mission. All ARTEP MTP materials focus on helping the unit train the collective and individual tasks that, when performed together, enable the unit to accomplish its TOE missions. The ARTEP MTP directly links individual tasks and collective tasks to mission accomplishment. In addition to stating what tasks a unit must accomplish to perform its mission, this document also suggests how a unit should train the tasks.
3. All training must be task-based and performed to standard. The standards in this ARTEP MTP describe the minimum level of performance a unit must achieve in order to successfully perform its mission. While these standards may be raised, they should never be reduced.
4. Basic doctrinal guidance for the FINCOM is contained in FM 14-100, Financial Management Operations. How doctrine is trained is addressed in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.
5. Unless otherwise stated, whenever the masculine gender is used, both men and women are included.
6. The proponent for this publication is Headquarters, Training and Doctrine Command (HQ TRADOC). CHAPTER 1

Unit Training

1-1. General. This Army Training and Evaluation Program Mission Training Plan (ARTEP MTP) provides the commander and leaders with guidance on how to train the key missions of the unit. The specific details of the unit's training program will depend on the following factors:

- a. Unit's Mission Essential Task List (METL).
- b. Chain of command training directives and guidance.
- c. Training priorities of the unit.
- d. Availability of training resources and areas.

1-2. Supporting Material. This MTP describes a critical mission-oriented unit-training program. Figure 1-1 illustrates the relationship of the following supporting materials for this unit's training program:

- a. ARTEP 14-612-MTP.
- b. Soldier Training Publications:

(1) Soldier's Manuals (SM) and Soldier's Manual/Trainer's Guide (SM/TG) for the appropriate Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) and skill levels.

(2) Officer Foundation Standards (OFS) Manuals (formerly Military Qualification Standards (MQS)).

1-3. Contents. The MTP is organized into six chapters:

- a. Chapter 1, Unit Training, provides an explanation of the organization of the MTP, and explains how to use this MTP for establishing an effective training program.
- b. Chapter 2, Training Matrix, provides the relationship between missions and collective tasks.
- c. Chapter 3, Mission Outline/Training Plan, provides the mission orientation for training. It is used to determine training activities to be performed to achieve critical wartime proficiency. The mission outline presents a graphic portrayal of the relationship between the critical wartime mission and the subordinate tasks inherent to that mission.
- d. Chapter 4, Training Exercises, consists of a field training exercise (FTX) and its supporting situational training exercises (STX). They provide training information and a pre-constructed scenario. They can also serve as a part of an internal or external evaluation. Commanders can modify these exercises to suit training needs of their units.
- e. Chapter 5, Training and Evaluation Outlines (T&EO), provides the training and evaluation criteria for all the tasks this unit must master to effectively perform its mission. Each task is a T&EO that identifies task steps, performance measures, individual and leader tasks, and opposing force (OPFOR) counter-tasks. Each T&EO is part of a mission and, in various combinations, composes training exercises in Chapter 4.
- f. Chapter 6, External Evaluation, provides instructions and examples for the planning, preparation, and execution of an external evaluation.

1-4. Operational Environment.

- a. Commanders and leaders at all levels must conduct training with respect to a wide variety of missions across the full spectrum of operations. These operations may include combined arms, joint, multinational, and interagency considerations, and span the entire breadth of terrain and environmental possibilities. Commanders must always strive to set the training conditions as closely as possible to those expected for actual operations.
- b. The operational missions of the Army include not only war, but also military operations other than war (MOOTW). Offensive and defensive operations normally dominate military operations in war, along with some small-scale contingencies. Stability operations and support operations normally dominate in MOOTW. Commanders may combine different types of operations simultaneously or sequentially to accomplish missions in war and MOOTW. The wide range of possible missions complicates training, as Army forces cannot train for every possible mission. Army forces train for war and prepare for other specific missions as time and circumstances permit and contingencies direct.
- c. Army forces use a train-alert-deploy sequence. We cannot count on the time or opportunity to correct or make up training deficiencies after alert or deployment. Maintaining forces that are ready now, places increased emphasis on training and the priority of training. This concept is a key link between operational and training doctrine.
- d. Units train to be ready for war based on the requirements of a concise and specific mission; in the process they develop a foundation of combat skills that can be refined based on the requirements of the assigned mission. In the train-alert-deploy process, commanders use whatever time the alert cycle provides to continue refinement of mission-focused training. Training continues during time available between alert notification and deployment, between deployment and employment, and even during employment as units adapt to the specific battlefield environment and assimilate combat replacements.

1-5. Missions and Tasks. This MTP will support the specified mission found in the TOE, and implied missions that this unit must perform in order to accomplish that mission. The commander may supplement these missions with his own. The following is a listing of the missions for this unit:

a. TOE Mission. Provide finance support to the theater Army (TA), joint, and combined commands. Provide policy and technical guidance to finance units within the theater. Provide command and control of finance battalions (FB), when not assigned to a finance group (FG).

b. Implied Missions:

(1) Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations.

(2) Relocate Unit.

(3) Conduct Finance Operations.

(4) Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations.

c. Each of these missions may be trained individually or jointly with other missions. Training is based on the criteria described in the T&EOs. Several T&EOs can be trained as an STX. Various combinations of STXs can be used to develop an FTX for the unit to practice its entire mission responsibility. Several STXs can be used to evaluate the unit's ability to perform multiple missions under stress in a realistic environment.

d. Individual soldier tasks (including those identified in Chapter 5 as "leader" tasks) that support the unit's missions are trained and mastered to appropriate STP (SM, SM/TG, OFS Manual) standards through unit training, battle simulations, and execution of the unit's missions.

1-6. Warrior Ethos.

a. The Warrior Ethos, introduced in initial entry training and emphasized throughout all phases of institutional training, must continue to be developed and emphasized in unit training. It must become a way of life for all soldiers. It must be the foundation of all Army operations and activities. Leaders must assess and refine all unit training, operations, and other activities to assure that they clearly and emphatically support building and maintaining the Warrior Ethos.

b. The Warrior Ethos drives personal commitment to excellence and ethical mission accomplishment. It is a fundamental characteristic of our soldiers, which sets them apart from all others in the world. It exemplifies ethical behavior and Army values. The Warrior Ethos forms the foundation for the American Soldier's spirit and total commitment to victory, in peace and war. Soldiers put the mission first, refuse to accept defeat, never quit, and never leave a fellow soldier behind. Their absolute faith in themselves and their comrades and their unwavering commitment to the nation makes the United States Army invariably persuasive in peace and invincible in war.

1-7. Principles of Training. This MTP is based on the following ten training principles as described in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.

a. Commanders are Responsible for Training.

(1) Commanders are responsible for the training and performance of their soldiers and units. They are the primary training managers and trainers for their organization, are actively engaged in the training process, and adhere to the principles of training. To accomplish their training responsibility, commanders must.

- Be present at training to maximum extent possible
- Base training on mission requirements

- Train to applicable Army standards
- Assess current levels of proficiency
- Provide the required resources
- Develop and execute training plans that result in proficient individuals, leaders, and units

(2) Commanders delegate authority to NCOs within the chain of command as the primary trainers of individuals, crews, and small teams. They hold NCOs responsible for conducting standards-based, performance-oriented, battle-focused training and provide feedback on individual, crew, and team proficiency.

b. NCOs Train Individuals and Small Teams. NCOs continue the soldierization process of newly assigned enlisted soldiers, and begin their professional development. NCOs are responsible for conducting standards-based, performance-oriented, battle-focused training. They identify specific individual and small team tasks that support the unit's collective mission essential tasks. They plan, prepare, rehearse, execute, and evaluate training. They conduct after action reviews (AAR) to provide feedback to the commander on individual and small team proficiency. Senior NCOs coach junior NCOs to master a wide range of individual tasks.

c. Train as a Combined Arms and Joint Team. The Army provides a joint force commander (JFC) with trained and ready forces that expand the command's range of military options in full spectrum operations. Army commanders tailor and train forces to react quickly to any crisis. Army forces provide a JFC the capability to:

- Seize areas previously denied by the enemy
- Dominate land operations
- Provide support to civil authorities

d. Train for Combat Proficiency. The goal of all training is to achieve defined standards. This develops and sustains combat capable warfighting organizations. To achieve this, units must train to standard under realistic conditions. Achieving standards requires hard work by commanders, staff officers, unit leaders, and soldiers. Commanders and leaders must seek realism in training, yet must operate within the confines of safety and common sense. They must also be willing to initially accept less than perfect results.

(1) Realistic Conditions. Tough, realistic, and intellectually and physically challenging training excites and motivates soldiers and leaders. Realistic training builds competence and confidence by developing and honing skills, and inspires excellence by fostering initiative, enthusiasm, and eagerness to learn. Successful completion of each training phase increases the capability and motivation of individuals and units for more sophisticated and challenging achievements. This is the commander's continuous quest.

(2) Performance Oriented. Units become proficient in the performance of critical tasks and missions by actually practicing or doing the tasks and missions. Soldiers learn best by doing, using an experiential, hands-on approach. Commanders and subordinate leaders are responsible to plan and develop training that will provide these opportunities.

e. Train to Standard Using Appropriate Doctrine. Training must be done to the Army standard and conform to Army doctrine. In cases where mission tasks involve emerging doctrine or non-standard tasks, commanders establish the tasks, conditions and standards using mission orders and guidance, lessons learned from similar operations, and their professional judgment. FM 3-0, Operations, provides the doctrinal foundation, and supporting doctrinal manuals describe common tactics, techniques, and procedures that permit commanders and organizations to adjust rapidly to changing situations. In units, new soldiers will have little time to learn non-standard procedures. Therefore, units must train to the Army standard contained in the MTP and soldier training publications, while applying Army doctrine and current regulatory guidance.

f. Train to Adapt. Commanders train and develop adaptive leaders and units, and prepare their subordinates to operate in positions of increased responsibility. Repetitive, standards-based training provides relevant experience. Commanders intensify training experiences by varying training conditions. Training experiences coupled with timely feedback build competence. Leaders build unit, staff, and soldier confidence when they consistently demonstrate competence. Competence, confidence, and discipline promote initiative and enable leaders to adapt to changing situations and conditions. They improvise with the resources at hand, exploit opportunities and accomplish their assigned mission in the absence of orders. Commanders at every echelon integrate training events in their training plans to develop and train imaginative, adaptive leaders and units.

g. Train to Maintain and Sustain. Soldier and equipment maintenance is a vital part of every training program. Soldiers and leaders are responsible for maintaining all assigned equipment and supplies in a high state of readiness to support training or operational missions. Units must be capable of fighting for sustained periods of time with the equipment they are issued. Soldiers must become experts in both the operation and maintenance of their equipment. This link between training and sustainment is vital to mission success.

h. Train Using Multi-echelon Techniques. Multi-echelon training is the most effective and efficient way of sustaining proficiency on mission essential tasks with limited time and resources. Commanders use multi-echelon training to:

- Train leaders, battle staffs, units, and individuals at each echelon of the organization simultaneously.
- Maximize use of allocated resources and available time.
- Reduce the effects of personnel turbulence.

i. Train to Sustain Proficiency. Once individuals and units have trained to a required level of proficiency, leaders must structure individual and collective training plans to retrain critical tasks at the minimum frequency necessary to sustain proficiency. Your unit must be prepared to go to war on short notice. In order to sustain proficiency, you must train-evaluate-train. Sustainment requires practice and repetition. Evaluation of these practices illuminates training weaknesses. Training emphasis must always stay on sustaining skills and correcting identified weaknesses simultaneously. The mission outline and sequentially smaller training components allow you to select tasks and groups of tasks to facilitate this process and reduce planning time.

j. Train and Develop Leaders. Commanders have a duty and execute a vital role in leader training and leader development. They teach subordinates how to fight and how to train. They mentor, guide, listen to, and "think with" subordinates. They train leaders to plan training in detail, prepare for training thoroughly, execute training aggressively, and evaluate short-term training proficiency in terms of desired long-term results. Training and developing leaders are embedded components of every training event. Nothing is more important to the Army than building confident, competent, adaptive leaders for tomorrow.

1-8. Conducting Training. This MTP will facilitate the planning, preparation, and conduct of unit training as explained in FMs 7-0, Training the Force, and 7-1, Battle Focused Training.

a. The commander will assign the missions and tasks for training based on his METL and training guidance from the next higher headquarters. Trainers must plan and execute training in support of this guidance.

b. The commander will review the mission outlines in Chapter 3 to determine whether the FTXs and STXs provided will support or can be modified to support command guidance.

c. The commander will prioritize the tasks that need training. Time is seldom available to train everything. The commander must consider his assessment of the unit's proficiency, the most likely critical missions, and the most difficult sustainment skills.

d. The commander, after approving the list of tasks, will integrate training tasks into the training schedule by:

- (1) Listing the tasks in the priority and frequency they need to be trained.
- (2) Estimating the training time required and how multi-echelon training can be used for the best results.
- (3) Determining where the training can take place.
- (4) Establishing training responsibilities. The leaders of the elements being trained must always be involved.
- (5) Organizing the training into blocks of time and training vehicles.

e. Commanders must determine the equipment, training aids, devices, simulations and simulators (TADSS), and supplies needed to conduct training.

f. Commanders must keep subordinate leaders informed and oversee their training. Standards must be enforced.

g. Training Execution. All good training, regardless of the specific collective, leader, and individual tasks being executed, must comply with certain common requirements. These include adequate preparation, effective presentation and practice, and thorough evaluation. The execution of training includes preparation for training, conduct of training, and recovery from training.

(1) Preparation for Training. Formal near-term planning for training begins with the publication of the unit training schedule. Informal planning, detailed coordination, and preparation for executing the training continue until the training is performed. Commanders and other trainers use training meetings to assign responsibility for preparation of all scheduled training. Preparation for training includes selecting tasks to be trained, planning the conduct of the training, training the trainers, reconnaissance of the site, issuing the training execution plan, and conducting rehearsals and pre-execution checks. Pre-execution checks are preliminary actions commanders and trainers use to identify responsibility for these and other training support tasks. They are used to monitor preparation activities and to follow up to ensure planned training is conducted to standard. During preparation for training, commanders identify and eliminate potential training distracters that develop within their own organizations. They also assure maximum attendance at training.

(a) Subordinate leaders, as a result of the bottom-up feedback from internal training meetings, identify and select the collective, leader, and individual tasks necessary to support the identified training objectives. Commanders develop the tentative plan to include requirements for preparatory training, concurrent training, and training resources. At a minimum, the training plan should include confirmation of training areas and locations, training ammunition allocations, availability of training simulations and simulators, transportation requirements, soldier support items, a risk management analysis, assignment of responsibility for the training, designation of trainers responsible for approved training, and final coordination. The time and other necessary resources for retraining must also be an integral part of the original training plan.

(b) Leaders, trainers, evaluators, observer/controllers (OC), and OPFOR must be identified, trained to standard, and rehearsed prior to the conduct of the training. They must be coached on how to train, given time to prepare, and rehearsed so that training will be challenging and doctrinally correct. Commanders ensure that trainers and evaluators are not only tactically and technically competent on their training tasks, but also understand how the training relates to the organization's METL. Properly prepared trainers, evaluators, and leaders project confidence and enthusiasm to those being trained. Trainer and leader training is a critical event in the preparation phase of training. These individuals must demonstrate proficiency on the selected tasks prior to the conduct of training.

(c) Commanders, with their subordinate leaders and trainers, conduct site reconnaissance, identify additional training support requirements, and refine and issue the training execution plan. The training plan should identify all those elements necessary to ensure the conduct of training to standard. Rehearsals are essential to the execution of good training. Realistic, standards-based, performance-oriented training requires rehearsals for trainers, support personnel, evaluators, OCs and OPFOR. Preparing for training in reserve component (RC) organizations can require complex pre-execution checks. RC trainers must often conduct detailed coordination to obtain equipment, training support system products and ammunition from distant locations.

(2) Conduct of Training. Ideally, training is executed using the crawl-walk-run approach. This allows and promotes an objective, standards-based approach to training. Crawl events are relatively simple to conduct and require minimum support from the unit. After the crawl stage, training becomes incrementally more difficult, requiring more resources from the unit and home station, and increasing the level of realism. At the run stage, the level of difficulty for the training event intensifies. Run stage training requires optimum resources and ideally approaches the level of realism expected in combat. Progression from the walk to the run stage for a particular task may occur during a one-day training exercise or may require a succession of training periods over time. Achievement of the Army standard determines progression between stages.

(a) In crawl-walk-run training, the tasks and the standards remain the same; however, the conditions under which they are trained change. Commanders may change the conditions, for example, by increasing the difficulty of the conditions under which the task is being performed, increasing the tempo of the task training, increasing the number of tasks being trained, or by increasing the number of personnel involved in the training. Whichever approach is used, it is important that all leaders and soldiers involved understand in which stage they are currently training and understand the Army standard.

(b) An example of the crawl-walk-run approach occurs in the unit executing an STX. In the crawl stage, the unit conducts a dismounted rehearsal of the task. In the walk stage, the unit conducts a full rehearsal of the task. In the run stage, the unit executes several iterations of the task against an OPFOR. Some iterations are conducted under nuclear, biological and chemical conditions, and some during periods of limited visibility. During each iteration of the task, the unit strives to achieve the objective to the standard described in the T&EO.

(c) An AAR is immediately conducted and may result in the need for additional training. Any task that was not conducted to standard should be retrained. Retraining should be conducted at the earliest opportunity. Commanders should program time and other resources for retraining as an integral part of their training plan. Training is incomplete until the task is trained to standard. Soldiers remember the standard enforced, not the one discussed.

(3) Recovery from Training. The recovery process is an extension of training, and once completed, it signifies the end of the training event. At a minimum, recovery includes conduct of maintenance training, turn-in of training support items, and the conduct of AARs that review the overall effectiveness of the training just completed.

(a) Maintenance training is the conduct of post-operations preventive maintenance checks and services, accountability of organizational and individual equipment, and final inspections. Support items are maintained, accounted for, and turned-in. Training sites and facilities are closed out.

(b) AARs conducted during recovery focus on collective, leader, and individual task performance, and on the planning, preparation and conduct of the training just completed. Unit AARs focus on individual and collective task performance, and identify shortcomings and the training required to correct deficiencies. AARs with leaders focus on tactical judgment. These AARs contribute to leader learning and provide opportunities for leader development. AARs with trainers, evaluators, OCs, and OPFOR provide additional opportunities for leader development.

1-9. Combined Arms Training Strategy (CATS).

a. Commanders can use CATS when developing unit-training plans. CATS is a guide, a flexible system that provides commanders with a menu of training tasks and events from which they can plan training based on their current assessment of METL proficiency and available resources. CATS assists commanders to optimize allocation of available training resources against training required to attain and sustain METL proficiency. It helps balance training requirements with allocated training resources. CATS outlines a recommended mix of live training and simulations to execute unit training. CATS is not prescriptive, but merely a guide to assist commanders in developing training plans, and frequently resources are not available to execute all the training events recommended in CATS.

b. This unit's training strategy, a document to be published separately on the Reimer Digital Library, is a descriptive training strategy that provides a means for training to standard by listing required training events, critical training gates, training event frequencies, and training resources. The commander selects from this MTP those tasks required to train his METL. The training strategies provided in the MTP provide the means whereby those tasks can be trained through a focused and integrated training plan.

1-10. Feedback. Recommendations for improvement of this MTP are requested. Feedback will help to ensure that this MTP answers the training needs of units in the field. There is a questionnaire at the end of the MTP to make it easier to send recommendations and comments.

CHAPTER 2

Training Matrix

2-1. General. The training matrix assists the commander in planning the training of his unit's personnel.

2-2. Mission-to-Collective-Tasks Matrix. This matrix (Figure 2-2), identifies the missions and their supporting collective tasks. The tasks are listed under the appropriate battlefield operating system (BOS). A specific mission is trained by identifying collective tasks in the vertical column for the mission. Based on the proficiency of the unit, training is focused on operational weaknesses. Figure 2-1 provides mission identification for the unit.

Mission Outline/Training Plan

3-1. General. This chapter describes the use of the MTP for development of Finance Command training plans and provides a mission outline. It will assist commanders and their staffs in preparing training plans for critical wartime missions. FMs 7-0 (Training the Force) and 7-1 (Battle Focused Training) provide detailed information on training management. They should be used with the MTP when developing training plans.

3-2. Long-Range Planning. The long-range plan consists of a calendar covering the planning period and the commander's formal guidance. To develop a long-range plan, the commander must first develop the unit's mission essential task list (METL) and conduct a training assessment.

a. Develop Unit METL. The first step in developing a METL is to analyze the unit's war plan and external directives. From this analysis, develop a list of tasks which the unit must successfully accomplish to complete its wartime mission. Those tasks will become the unit's METL. Chapter 2 contains material that will assist in task development.

b. Establish Training Objectives. Commanders establish their training objectives after the METL is identified. The training objectives are conditions and standards that describe the situation or environment and ultimate outcome criteria the unit must meet to successfully perform the tasks. Training objectives and standards for the unit's METL can be obtained from the MTP, STP, higher headquarters' command guidance, and local standing operating procedures (SOP).

c. Conduct Training Assessment. The training assessment is the commander's continuous comparison of the unit's current proficiency with the proficiency required to fight and win on the battlefield. The FINCOM commander, his staff and subordinate commanders assess the organization's current proficiency on mission essential tasks against required standards. The commander then indicates the current proficiency by rating each task as "T" (trained), "P" (needs practice), or "U" (untrained). The outcome of the training assessment identifies the unit's training requirements.

d. Develop Training Strategy and Commander's Guidance. Develop the training strategy using the outcome from the training assessment. This training strategy will enable the commander and staff to establish priorities by determining the minimum frequency required for each mission essential task that will be trained during the upcoming training period. The training strategy includes the commander's guidance and his training vision. To develop unit goals, the commander must:

(1) Review higher-level commander's goals.

(2) Spell out in real-world terms what the unit will do to comply with goals of higher-level commanders.

(3) List in broad terms his own goals for the unit, i.e., attain and sustain proficiency in all MTP missions and maintain 90 percent operational readiness rate.

e. Establish Training Priorities. Establish priorities for training METL tasks by the criticality of the task and the relative training emphasis it should receive.

f. Prepare Long-Range Planning Calendar. The long-range planning calendar is the coordinating tool for long-range planning. It is structured by long-range training events to identify time available for training mission essential tasks. To prepare a long-range calendar, follow the steps outlined below:

(1) Select training events and activities to train the critical wartime missions. The commander must project events that will enable him to achieve his goals.

(2) Assign time for subordinate units to train. Allow subordinate leaders to develop their training programs in support of the unit's training program.

(3) Examine various training alternatives to make optimum use of the training support available to the unit. Compare available training resources against higher echelon directed training, and internally directed training events.

(4) Obtain approval of long-range plans from higher headquarters.

(5) Issue training guidance and the long-range training calendar to the staff and subordinate units. The guidance supplements the long-range training calendar and generally includes:

- (a) Training policies
- (b) Types of mandatory training
- (c) Training resources guidance
- (d) Quotas for centralized training (schools)
- (e) Training goals

3-3. Short-Range Planning. A short-range plan is prepared to address the immediate future (three months for active component (AC) and one year for reserve component (RC). Short-range planning develops specific training objectives based on goals and guidance prepared during long-range planning. The short-range plan adds more detail and may modify the long-range plan based on current assessments. Prepare the short-range plan by:

a. Reviewing the training program, previous short-range planning calendars, current unit proficiency, resources, and training environment. Specifically review:

(1) The training program described in the long-range planning process, to determine if assessments made during long-range planning are still valid.

(2) Previous short-range planning calendars for training accomplished and lessons learned.

(3) Resources to determine if it is still possible to execute the program described on the long-range planning calendar.

(4) The training environment again in this phase of planning because it takes on added importance as training events and activities approach. Factors that affect the training environment and collectively impact on the training program are:

- (a) Personnel assigned
- (b) Personnel turbulence
- (c) Morale
- (d) Education programs
- (e) Mandatory training
- (f) Visits, inspections, and tests

- (g) Supplies and equipment
- (h) Non-mission-related activities
- (i) Other programs

b. Develop a detailed plan of action for short-range training plans. Prepare the detailed plan of action as described below:

- (1) Transfer valid events to a short-range training planning calendar.
- (2) Determine desired outcomes for scheduled events.
- (3) Analyze missions to determine related individual leader and collective tasks.
- (4) Determine if there are any weaknesses and sustain selected individual, leader and unit strengths, as necessary.
- (5) Select the specific training objectives for those missions and tasks the unit must train. The T&EOs in Chapter 5 provide the commander with the training objectives.
- (6) Review short range plans with higher headquarters.
- (7) Issue guidance. This guidance specifically addresses how training will be accomplished.

c. Prepare a short-range training-planning calendar containing three monthly training schedules. The short-range training-planning calendar provides a detailed plan of action for the specified period.

3-4. Near-Term Planning. The final phase of planning is the execution of training. Prepare weekly training schedules using the short-range plan.

- a. Review the training program, unit proficiency, resources, and training environment. As in long-range and short range planning, this review determines if previous assessments are still valid.
- b. Finalize plans based upon the review of the training program. Determine the best sequence for training tasks, and complete the final coordination of training events and activities.
- c. Prepare trainers, observer controllers (OC), opposing forces (OPFOR), and support personnel to know what is being trained, why it is being trained, and their role in the training.

3-5. Training the Command and Headquarters Sections. Planning training for these sections provides the commander with unique challenges. The most severe are those that have to do with time and availability of personnel. The command and headquarters sections are involved in day-to-day operations and support of subordinate unit training. It is difficult to find adequate time to address the training needs of these elements. The elements must be capable of fulfilling their roles for the unit to perform its wartime missions. The strategy selected by the commander for training these elements must include an effective method of training individuals, staffs, leaders, and units.

a. Training of the staff presents the greatest challenges within a constrained training environment. This MTP identifies the training objectives for the staff. The staff has numerous tasks to master to be effective. Examples of actions and capabilities required of any staff are:

- (1) Function as an effective team.
- (2) Exchange information.

- (3) Prepare estimates.
- (4) Give appraisals.
- (5) Make recommendations and decisions.
- (6) Prepare plans.
- (7) Issue orders.
- (8) Coordinate and control unit operations.
- (9) Supervise subordinate units.

b. Each unit is different. The strategy used to train staff will vary based on the considerations used in planning training (level of proficiency, training support available, etc.). Only the commander can determine the best method to train his staff. Some methods of training include the following exercises:

(1) Tactical exercise without troops (TEWT) are low-cost, low-overhead exercises conducted in the field on actual terrain suitable for training units for specific missions. Commanders use TEWTs to train subordinate leaders and staffs to analyze terrain and plan for unit missions.

(2) Map exercises (MAPEX) are low-cost, low-overhead training exercises that allow commanders to train their staffs to perform essential integrating and control functions to support their decisions under wartime conditions. MAPEXs are useful in training the staff to exchange information, prepare plans and estimates, give appraisals, make recommendations and decisions, and issue orders.

(3) Command post exercises (CPX) are medium-cost, medium-overhead training exercises that may be conducted in garrison or field locations. CPXs normally use a battle simulation to drive staff actions.

(4) Field training exercises (FTX) are high-cost, high-overhead exercises conducted in the field under simulated combat conditions. Unit-conducted FTXs exercise the staff in coordination, control, and supervision of unit operations. They normally require the completion of staff planning tasks before the exercise begins. FTXs conducted by higher headquarters provide the best opportunity for the staff to combine all of its skills and perform as they would in wartime, responding to both higher and lower levels.

c. A method to optimize staff and unit training is to integrate TEWTs, MAPEXs, and CPXs to prepare the orders and plans for upcoming FTXs. This will effectively exercise the entire spectrum of the staff and make optimum use of unit's field training time.

3-6. Developing Training Exercises. Chapter 4 provides sample exercises for the unit to use or modify to meet specific training needs. Since only an example FTX is contained in the MTP, it is necessary for the unit to develop exercises for its own use. This section provides general procedures for staff to use for FTX preparation and for the supporting STXs. FTX/STX plans are normally prepared during preparation of the short-range plan. Prepare the exercises as described below:

a. Selection of missions and tasks for training. Accomplish this during the development of the short-range plan.

b. Site selection. Confirm selection of training area.

c. Scenario development. After selecting missions and tasks, prepare a detailed scenario for the exercise.

- (1) List the missions, tasks and events in the preferred sequence of occurrence.

(2) Identify events necessary for control of the exercise. These exercises would normally include issuance of orders, after action reviews (AAR), and any other administrative or logistics actions necessary to conduct the exercise.

(3) Prepare exercise overlays that show the sequence of actions and terrain to be used for each event.

(4) Determine the estimated time for each event using the overlay and scenario. The total time is determined to ensure completion of the scenario within the time allocated for the exercise.

d. Ideally, higher headquarters should provide OCs and OPFOR. It is difficult for a unit to provide these requirements from its internal resources. When OCs and OPFOR must be provided from within the unit, they may be selected from personnel or units not essential for attainment of the exercise objectives.

e. Preparation of the control plan. Control plans are developed to coordinate actions of training units, OPFOR, and OCs. The scenario is used and a detailed control plan is prepared consisting of:

- (1) Detailed schedules of OPFOR actions
- (2) Detailed instructions for the OPFOR
- (3) Detailed schedule of activities for units
- (4) Operation orders and fragmentary orders for friendly units

f. Preparation of evaluation plan. Evaluation is continuous and applicable to all training. The evaluation plan identifies the tasks to evaluate, by whom, and at what time, and will consist of:

- (1) Specific instructions for OCs
- (2) A sequential list of T&EOs each OC will evaluate
- (3) Detailed time schedules for evaluation and AARs

3-7. Mission Outline. The mission outline (Fig 3-1) provides a graphic portrayal of collective tasks that the unit must train and perform during each STX. Each STX will prepare the unit to combine all of its skills and perform as they would in wartime and during the FTX. Each column contains a critical wartime mission, along with collective tasks that the unit must successfully perform during each STX phase. Collective task identification for the task numbers included in the outline is in Chapter 5 of this MTP.

* These T&EOs are optional to this STX. The primary training on these T&EOs occurs in other STX. OCs and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to the run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

CHAPTER 4

Training Exercises

4-1. General. Training exercises are used to train and evaluate the performance of collective tasks. This MTP contains one field training exercise (FTX) and four situational training exercises (STX) (Table 4-1) that will assist the commander in developing, sustaining, and evaluating the unit's proficiency.

Table 4-1

EXERCISE	TITLE	PAGE
FTX 14-7-E0001	Provide Finance Support	4-2
STX 14-7-E0002	Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations	4-10
STX 14-7-E0003	Relocate Unit	4-15
STX 14-7-E0004	Conduct Finance Operations	4-20
STX 14-7-E0005	Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations	4-25

4-2. Field Training Exercise. The FTX is an exercise that is conducted under simulated combat conditions in the field. It exercises command and control of all echelons in battle functions against actual or simulated opposing forces. It provides a logical sequence for the performance of tasks previously trained in the STXs.

4-3. Situational Training Exercises. The STX is a short, scenario-driven, mission-oriented tactical exercise used to train a group of closely related collective tasks. The FINCOM commander may modify an STX based on the mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors, mission essential task list (METL), and equipment. The STXs in this chapter provide information for training the supporting missions, which together make up the critical wartime mission. The STXs perform the following functions:

- a. Provide repetitive training on the critical wartime mission.
- b. Allow the unit to practice the supporting missions before the critical wartime mission.
- c. Allow trainers and observer controllers (OC) to identify weaknesses and provide specialized training assistance.
- d. Save time by providing a majority of the information needed to develop a vehicle for training.

4-4. Safety. Safety must be a major consideration in all training. All soldiers and leaders must be safety-conscious. Trainers/OCs and leaders have the responsibility to ensure the conduct of all training is within the established safety constraints. Prior to beginning each exercise, commanders must complete a risk assessment and brief all personnel on specific safety measures to be observed during execution. Training safety is addressed in Appendix B.

FINANCE COMMAND (FINCOM)
FTX 14-7-E0001
PROVIDE FINANCE SUPPORT

1. Objective. This FTX provides the FINCOM training in its critical wartime mission. Commanders may use this FTX for internal and external evaluations. This FTX uses all T&EO in Chapter 5 of this MTP and incorporates all T&EO contained in the STXs in this chapter.

2. Interface.

a. This FTX may be trained in conjunction with the FTX in ARTEP 14-412-MTP, Finance Group (FG).

b. The FINCOM is dependent upon appropriate external elements for religious, legal, health and food services support, unit maintenance, and human resources services.

c. The following STXs support this FTX:

(1) Conduct Mobilization/Deployment Operations (STX 14-7-E0002).

(2) Relocate Unit (STX 14-7-E0003).

(3) Conduct Finance Operations (STX 14-7-E0004).

(4) Conduct Redeployment/Demobilization Operations (STX 14-7-E0005).

3. Training Enhancers. Pre-FTX training activities that will help the FINCOM receive maximum benefit from the conduct of this FTX include the following:

a. Prior to conducting this FTX, unit personnel should be fully trained on the STXs in this chapter, and on their supporting individual tasks. This FTX combines and integrates the tasks presented initially in the STXs. Once the basics of the FTX are mastered, the FTX should be conducted under increasingly complex and challenging conditions.

b. Leaders should prepare for the FTX by reviewing their operational procedures and the ARTEP MTP collective tasks. This training enhances planning, control, and coordination skills, and builds communication among unit personnel.

c. Map reconnaissance provides an excellent means to train leaders. A map reconnaissance acquaints leaders with the terrain in which they will be operating and provides a wealth of information to assist in planning activities at all levels.

d. Leaders should review the written results of previous FTXs, STXs, other training activities conducted by their unit and sister units, lessons learned publications, after-action reports from recent training, and reports maintained by the Center for Army Lessons Learned (CALL).

e. All key individuals should review pertinent operation plan (OPLAN), doctrinal publications, and the theater Army standing operating procedures (SOP). Cover this material with subordinates in formal or informal training sessions.

f. Leaders should wargame and talk through the major events in the training exercise. By discussing their respective actions in response to these situations, a higher level of understanding and enhanced prior planning are achieved. This understanding and planning subsequently result in prompt, systematic, well integrated, and effective responses to situations whether encountered in training or in combat. This training also helps the commander communicate his intent to key leaders and soldiers.

g. Make maximum effort to include this unit as a participant in the command post and field training activities conducted by its supported units. The participation of less than the full unit or by individual officers and NCOs also provides very valuable training.

4. General Scenario. This exercise begins with the receipt of a mobilization order for reserve component (RC) units and a deployment warning order for active component (AC) units. It continues through a series of suggested training activities that progress through each of the STXs, ending with the final after action review (AAR). These training activities are expanded and annotated with estimated times in Table 4-2. Table 4-4 sequentially lists the collective tasks for training during this FTX. The FTX ends with the unit redeploying to its home station or another location and, if applicable, being demobilized. Figure 4-1 illustrates the general scenario of task performance in this exercise. During all phases of the scenario, the commander, leaders, and soldiers must be alert to the possibility of terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information.

5. General Situation. The RC FINCOM has been alerted for mobilization with subsequent instructions for deployment to an outside the continental United States (OCONUS) theater. The AC FINCOM was directed to deploy to a new theater to conduct finance support operations. Threat forces in the new theater have nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC), ground, and air attack capabilities. While conducting all activities, the unit may encounter terrorist operations.

6. Special Situation. The RC FINCOM has been alerted for mobilization with the follow-on instructions contained below. The AC FINCOM has received the following order:

Commence immediate preparation for deployment to BORLAND. Upon arrival, be prepared to support the _____. Deployment will be from Wickshire AFB during the window DDTTTTZ MMM YY - DDTTTTZ MMM YY. Information on deployment destination and times are not for release to non-unit personnel and families. Further guidance follows.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers and observer controllers (OC). Conduct this FTX under the direction of personnel external to the FINCOM. This makes it possible for all FINCOM personnel to receive full benefit of the training. This FTX requires a minimum of three OCs, thoroughly trained in their duties and responsibilities, and with previous FINCOM or FG experience.

b. OPFOR. A 10-to 15-person OPFOR element is required for this FTX. The OPFOR must be trained to perform the OPFOR tasks contained in this MTP. When employed, they must be supervised to assure they operate in accordance with the standards provided in these tasks. The OPFOR OC must exercise close control over the actions of the OPFOR.

c. Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES). MILES should be used whenever available by OPFOR and individuals participating in the portions of this exercise where direct contact with OPFOR is most likely. OC personnel must also be trained and prepared to assess damage to equipment and identify personnel casualties.

d. Vehicles and communications. Vehicles and communications equipment organic to the FINCOM are used. Communications equipment and vehicles are necessary to support OCs and the OPFOR. Supplemental transportation and communications support, if required, must be requested well in advance of the FTX.

e. Maneuver area. Several training areas are necessary for this FTX. Mobilization and deployment activities are conducted using the FINCOM garrison area, a road network suitable for a non-tactical move, and a port of embarkation (POE), or an area in which a POE can be simulated. Subsequent training takes place in a field or urban setting. The basic requirement is two, one-square-kilometer field training areas approximately ten kilometers apart and connected by a tactical road network through a training area. This arrangement provides for training on tactical movement and relocation to a new site.

f. Master incident list (MIL). Much of this training will be driven by the actions which the FINCOM commander and key leaders take in response to the warning orders and other directives they receive. However, additional event drivers or incidents which will cause the unit to perform the collective tasks included in this FTX are needed. These must be developed prior to the FTX, arranged in a sequential, time-phased manner, entered on the MIL, and injected by the OCs. This MIL will serve as a road map for the FTX and help to assure the appropriate timing, control, and evaluation of all training.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-3 provides the suggested requirements for this FTX. DA Pam 350-38, Standards in Weapons Training, establishes the training ammunition allocation.

FINANCE COMMAND (FINCOM)
STX 14-7-E0002
CONDUCT MOBILIZATION/DEPLOYMENT OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX trains the FINCOMs to conduct a deployment, and trains the reserve component (RC) FINCOM for mobilization. Cost and other factors usually preclude the actual air, sea, or extensive ground convoy movement portion of a deployment. However, the most important parts of this training can be accomplished by completing the steps from initial notification for mobilization and deployment up to the time when the unit actually departs from the port of embarkation (POE).

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter. It is also consistent with and supportive of the STXs and FTX provided in ARTEP 14-412-MTP, Finance Group.

b. The FINCOM supports a wide variety of Army forces to include those serving as part of joint and combined forces. Added training effectiveness and realism are gained when the unit trains in conjunction with collective training conducted by Army elements in these organizations.

c. The FINCOM is dependent upon appropriate external elements for religious, legal, and health services support, unit maintenance, and human resources services. Early coordination is essential to assure this support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Review the deployment sections of the FINCOM and parent theater Army tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP).

(2) Visit agencies which support your mobilization and deployment to obtain current information on deployment policies, procedures, and capabilities.

(3) Review the procedures outlined in FM 100-17, Mobilization, Deployment, Redeployment, and Demobilization, and other doctrinal materials.

(4) Review all safety and security procedures to include those of sister services that provide strategic transportation support.

(5) Study equipment packaging and vehicle-blocking and tie-down procedures.

(6) Review your unit's family support plans and soldier readiness processing (SRP) procedures.

(7) If an RC unit, study your mobilization procedures.

(8) Review transportation, specialized equipment and supply requirements, and loading plans.

(9) Study lessons learned by units similar to yours that have mobilized and deployed.

(10) Observe an emergency deployment readiness evaluation executed by another unit.

(11) Review the after-action reports (AAR) from previous training you conducted using this STX and any other mobilization and deployment training.

b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:

- (1) Recall procedures
- (2) Operational security procedures
- (3) Terrorist capabilities and counter-terrorism procedures
- (4) Duties of subordinate leaders
- (5) Plans and procedures for 24-hour operations and operations under nonstandard conditions
- (6) Packaging, loading, blocking, and tie-down procedures
- (7) Non-tactical movement techniques and procedures
- (8) SRP requirements and procedures
- (9) Accuracy and completeness of personnel records and family support plans
- (10) Safety in loading vehicles, supplies, and equipment; in conducting non-tactical movement; and while on strategic transport vehicles
- (11) Command, control, and communications
- (12) Security during the non-tactical road march and during halts
- (13) POE policies and procedures

c. After reaching STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel may conduct crawl level training on this STX, the walk and run phases are best conducted using outside observer controllers (OC). This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective assessments of the training, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. While mobilizing and deploying, the FINCOM may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information about friendly forces. Use appropriately dressed opposing forces (OPFOR) as terrorists, saboteurs, or enemy agents in order to ensure realism and to objectively assess unit security measures.

c. After achieving proficiency loading unit equipment and vehicles on mock-ups, if possible, load them on the actual aircraft, ships, rail cars, or other vehicle transports the unit would use in a deployment.

d. Use transport/movement experts from support agencies such as Air Force loadmasters and personnel from Army transportation units to present training and critique loading activities.

e. Make arrangements for your key personnel to observe or participate in deployment exercises conducted by supported units, higher headquarters, or other units.

f. Prior to beginning this STX, the commander should ensure that all unit and individual soldier equipment are packed and maintained IAW unit TSOP. Also, the commander should ensure that pre-combat inspections are made and the unit is placed on a two-hour recall readiness posture.

5. General Situation. The RC FINCOM, located at its home station, has been directed to prepare for mobilization. The active component (AC) (and mobilized RC) FINCOM, is directed to deploy to another theater where it will resume its support mission. All normal support agencies and individuals required to conduct this deployment are available and tasked to support the FINCOM.

6. Special Situation.

a. The RC FINCOM commander has received an alert order for mobilization/deployment. Subsequently, he receives the order provided below.

b. The AC FINCOM commander receives the following order:

Commence immediate preparation for deployment to ZEELAND. Upon arrival, be prepared to provide finance support to the _____. Deployment will be from Wickshire AFB during the window DDTTTTZ MMM YY - DDTTTTZ MMM YY. Information on the deployment destination and times is not for release to non-unit personnel and families. Further guidance follows.

c. The exercise ends after the unit has mobilized and moved all deploying personnel, vehicles, equipment, and supplies to the POE; loaded them onto simulated, mockup, or actual transport vehicles; off-loaded them; and is prepared for movement to a new operational site.

d. Conduct an AAR at the training site when the exercise is completed.

e. Table 4-5 shows the estimated time needed for each part of the exercise.

Table 4-5
Finance Command STX 14-7-E0002 Scenario

SEQUENCE	EVENT	ESTIMATED TIME
1	Conduct mobilization activities	3 hr
2	Conduct predeployment activities	4 hr
3	Conduct a non-tactical movement	*1 hr
4	Conduct embarkation functions	2 hr
5	Conduct debarkation functions	2 hr
6	AAR	1 hr
TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME		13 hr

NOTES:
 (1)* Time will vary depending on roads and distance to the POE, or simulated POE.
 (2) Training must be to standard, not to time.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OC. This STX requires three OCs who are thoroughly familiar with the steps involved in the mobilization and deployment of this unit. A less desired alternative is to have the unit leaders serve in these positions.

b. OPFOR. One individual is required to serve as a terrorist/civilian agent attempting to gather information on the unit's mission, destination, personnel, and movement schedule. OPFOR performance must be IAW the task, condition, and standards specified in this MTP.

c. Vehicles and communications. Use vehicles and communications equipment organic to the FINCOM. Communications equipment and vehicles are also needed to support OCs and the OPFOR. Supplementary transportation and communications support may also be needed.

d. Maneuver area.

(1) The majority of this training is conducted in the unit's existing garrison area.

(2) The road network to the actual POE or a comparable road network of about 10 kilometers to a simulated POE is required.

(3) The actual POE or a comparable area which can serve as a simulated POE is required.

(4) Actual or simulated aircraft (or other strategic transport vehicles) are desired to familiarize unit personnel with them and to train loading techniques and procedures.

e. Master incident list (MIL). Most of this training is driven by the deployment order. However, other exercise incidents need to be developed to support the training. Once developed, these incidents should be prepared in a time-phased MIL to assure their proper sequencing, control, and evaluation.

f. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-6 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

NOTE: * These T&EO are optional to this STX. While part of this ARTEP MTP and situations that could arise during the course of this STX, particularly in light of the current contemporary operating environment (COE), the primary training on them occurs in other STX in this MTP. OC and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

FINANCE COMMAND (FINCOM)
STX 14-7-E0003
RELOCATE UNIT

1. Objective. This STX provides training for the FINCOM on planning and conducting a tactical unit move under combat conditions to relocate the unit from the port of debarkation (POD) or an operating area, to a new operating area. It provides training on a range of hostile combat activity to include nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC) operations, hostile sniper and ambush attacks, air attacks, and terrorist activities. It also provides key unit leaders with practice in coordinating and controlling movement and performing advance/quartermaster party functions.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. Training effectiveness and realism are gained when the unit trains in conjunction with the organizations it supports.

c. The FINCOM is dependent upon appropriate external elements for religious, legal, and health services support, unit maintenance, and human resources services. Early coordination is essential to assure this support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training:

(1) Thoroughly review the T&EOs in this STX (Table 4-10), paying particular attention to the leader tasks and the applicable material contained in referenced doctrinal publications.

(2) Assure leaders and soldiers have mastered the leader and individual tasks for each T&EO.

(3) Review your tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) and related portions of theater Army and supported unit TSOPs.

(4) Conduct map and on-the-ground reconnaissance of the training area. Wargame unit responses to likely hostile action at vulnerable locations with key unit leaders. Conduct tactical exercise without troops (TEWT) to develop key leader skills.

(5) Review reports from previous similar training conducted by your unit with key unit leaders. Include lessons learned from training or actual combat experience of similar units. Assure pertinent information from these reviews is passed on to all unit personnel.

(6) Arrange for key leaders to observe similar training being conducted by other units.

(7) Review communications and alarm procedures.

(8) Coordinate policies, procedures, and communications with external support units

b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:

(1) Threat ambush and sniper tactics and operational procedures

(2) Convoy tactics, techniques, and operations

(3) Terrorist capabilities, tactics, and counter-terrorist procedures

- (4) Counter-ambush and counter-sniper drills and tactics
- (5) Alarms and communications
- (6) Weapons maintenance and tactical positioning
- (7) NBC defense drills and procedures
- (8) Air defense measures
- (9) Training and operational safety during convoy operations

c. After reaching STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel can conduct the crawl level of training on this STX, consider using outside observer controllers (OC) to conduct the walk and run phase. This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective assessments of the training, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. Increased training challenges in the walk and run phases of training should be provided by conducting convoy movement under nighttime conditions, by increasing the sophistication of the threat and terrorist element, and by adding optional T&EO provided in Table 4-10.

5. General Situation. The FINCOM, after conducting a strategic deployment, has arrived at the POD in a combat theater and completed all debarkation processing activities. The unit has been alerted to prepare to conduct a tactical road march and relocate to a site where it will commence performing finance support operations. Intelligence reports indicate the unit can expect both threat and terrorist activities to include ambush, sniper, air, and NBC attacks and suicide bombings. Threat forces have used NBC weapons at various locations between the port and the new operational site. Expect a variety of weather and road conditions. Some nighttime convoy movement may be necessary.

6. Special Situation.

a. The unit has received the following warning order:

Prepare for movement to the _____ (coordinates). Upon arrival, provide finance support operations for _____ elements. FINCOM crosses SP (coordinates) at DDTTTTZMMYY and RP (coordinates) at DDTTTTZMMYY. Route of march is per attached overlay. Report times of last vehicle crossing SP, RP, and overlay checkpoints. NBC contamination along route of march is anticipated.

b. Table 4-8 is a suggested scenario. Conduct an after action review (AAR) after FINCOM reaches its operating area.

Table 4-8
Finance Command STX 14-7-E0003 Scenario

SEQUENCE	EVENT	ESTIMATED TIME
1	Conduct tactical road march	5 hr
2	Cross contaminated areas	* 1 hr
3	React to hostile air attack	* 1 hr
4	React to ground ambush	* 2 hr
5	Conduct intermediate AAR	1 hr
TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME		6 hr
NOTE:
(1)* The time indicated for conducting the tactical road march includes these times.
(2) All events will be trained to standard, not time limitations.
(3) The time required to train this STX will vary based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the training proficiency of the unit.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OCs. Use three OCs to conduct walk and run iterations of this STX. OCs with NBC, terrorist, and threat ambush tactics skills are particularly important. "Crawl" iterations of this STX may be conducted with unit leaders fulfilling OC responsibilities.

b. Opposing forces (OPFOR). A 10- to 15-person OPFOR team with at least one machine gun is necessary for all iterations of this STX. OPFOR personnel must be trained in threat ambush, sniper, and terrorist tactics and follow the OPFOR tasks referenced in T&EOs of this publication. A threat OC is desirable.

c. Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES). Make every effort to obtain MILES equipment for unit and OPFOR personnel.

d. Vehicles and communications. The unit must be 100 percent mobile. Vehicle and communications augmentation may be necessary to meet this standard.

e. Maneuver area. The unit requires two training areas connected by a road network of approximately ten kilometers for this exercise. Part of the road network should pass through an urban terrain training area. The initial training area can be a simulated POD at the unit's garrison location. The destination site requires approximately one to two square kilometers of urban or open terrain.

f. Master incident list (MIL). While movement orders and OPFOR activities will drive most actions, a MIL should be developed with specific orders and other event drivers that can be inserted into the STX by OCs to initiate unit actions.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-9 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

FINANCE COMMAND (FINCOM)
STX 14-7-E0004
CONDUCT FINANCE OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX provides training for the FINCOM in conducting finance operational support from a field-operating site under combat conditions. All phases of operations commencing with the establishment of a field site to conducting force protection activities and responding to hostile conventional and terrorist attacks and nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC) situations are included. The STX provides the commander and key leaders with training in planning, establishing, and supervising financial support while operating in a field setting, and dealing with the concurrent challenge of providing appropriate responses to hostile actions.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. Added training effectiveness and realism are gained when the unit trains in conjunction with supported, supporting, and subordinate units.

c. The FINCOM is dependent upon appropriate external elements for religious, legal, and health services support, unit maintenance, and human resources services. Early coordination is essential to assure this support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Make an in-depth study of the T&EOs for this STX. Review referenced doctrinal materials. Assess leader proficiency on leader tasks listed in the T&EO. Train as necessary to enhance your skills and those of other leaders meet the established standards.

(2) Assess the level of proficiency of your soldiers on the supporting individual tasks listed for each T&EO. Assure soldiers are proficient on individual tasks prior to training this STX.

(3) Review applicable portions of the FINCOM and theater Army tactical standing operating procedures (TSOP) as well as the TSOP of your supported unit. Assure similar action by your key leaders and soldiers.

(4) Read and develop a list of lessons learned from records of previous training, field exercises, and actual combat experience of this type and similar units. Share this information with all unit personnel.

(5) Review threat and terrorist tactics and techniques and actions taken to counter them.

(6) With key leaders conduct an on-the-ground reconnaissance of the training areas.

b. Tips for training. Emphasize the following in pre-STX training.

(1) Safety procedures and training realism

(2) Threat and terrorist tactics, techniques and drills and other actions taken to counter them

(3) Finance support operations, policies, and procedures

(4) Local defense policies and procedures

(5) MOPP levels and equipment care

- (6) Small unit tactics
 - (7) Positioning and construction of defensive positions
 - (8) Air attack, local defense, NBC alarms, and procedures to include fratricide prevention considerations
 - (9) Communications equipment, procedures, and techniques
 - (10) Soldier fieldcraft
- c. After reaching STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

- a. Greater complexity and challenges can be added to this training by conducting the training in an urban environment, by intensifying the NBC conditions, by conducting the training during darkness and by integrating optional T&EOs. However, these actions should not be attempted until FINCOM personnel demonstrate solid proficiency in the individual and leader tasks for each T&EO in Table 4-13 and have performed the complete STX at a crawl level.
- b. Conventional and terrorist opposing forces (OPFOR) should be used on all STX iterations. The OPFOR observer controllers (OC) must exercise close control over the actions of the OPFOR. The OPFOR must perform in a way that provides a realistic challenge to the FINCOM, and must be trained to perform the OPFOR tasks within this MTP.
- c. Whenever possible, conduct the training of this STX in conjunction with similar collective training being conducted by the habitually associated units. Emphasize information exchange and the command, control, coordination, and synchronization of supporting and supported units.
- d. This STX begins at the completion of a tactical road march and upon arrival at a new field site. The FINCOM is responsible for commencing and conducting finance support. The STX ends after the FINCOM has successfully performed a period of finance support and countered a number of hostile conventional and terrorist actions. Table 4-11 shows suggested sequencing, the estimated time for each part of this exercise, and proposed time for after action reviews (AAR).

3	Conduct finance operations	10 hr
4	Conduct intermediate AAR	1 hr
5	React to attack	2 hr
6	Conduct post-battle activities	1 hr
7	Conduct intermediate AAR	1 hr
TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME		19 hr

NOTES:

(1)* Events performed concurrently. The larger of the estimated times is used in determining total estimated time.

(2) All events will be trained to standard and not to time.

(3) The time required to train an event will vary based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) factors and the training proficiency of the unit.

5. General Situation. The FINCOM is deployed outside the continental United States (OCONUS) with a mission to provide finance support to Army elements conducting full spectrum combat operations. The FINCOM provides command and control and technical support for subordinate elements. Threat light infantry elements and irregular forces are operating in the area and are capable of conducting squad-sized ground attacks. Threat is capable of air attacks with conventional and NBC weapons. Terrorists, saboteurs, and threat sympathizers are also operating in the area.

6. Special Situation. The FINCOM has concluded a tactical road march, crossed the release point, and entered into a base defense. The advance party arrived earlier and established tentative unit positions. Responsibilities for FINCOM support have been established. The base defense commander has implemented a defense plan. The FINCOM is assigned responsibility for a sector of the defensive perimeter. Requests for finance support and assistance have been received.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OC. Conduct this STX under the direction of a three-person OC team. OC team expertise in finance support, small unit tactics, fieldcraft, NBC, and threat operations are desirable. Use key unit leaders as OCs only in crawl iterations of this STX.

b. OPFOR. A light OPFOR infantry squad is necessary for this STX. One OPFOR member is required to serve as a local national/civilian terrorist who attempts to gather information on unit personnel and operations, to challenge security, to probe defenses, and to carry out appropriate attacks. OPFOR personnel must be trained in threat tactics, have specific missions, and follow the OPFOR tasks in this publication.

c. Multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES). Use MILES for walk and run training on this STX. If not available, OCs must assess damage to equipment and personnel casualties.

d. Vehicles and communications. Use organic vehicles and communications equipment.

e. Maneuver area. An urban or field training area of one square kilometer is suitable for the establishment of a support site for this STX.

f. Master incident list (MIL). Event drivers need to be prepared to drive the performance of finance tasks. OPFOR actions and unit TSOP procedures drive most other actions. Develop a MIL to schedule and synchronize all event drivers used in the STX.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-12 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

 NOTE:
The consolidated support requirements outlined above are suggested for this STX. DA Pam 350-38 establishes this unit's maximum annual allocation of training ammunition and pyrotechnics. Commanders and trainers should review these recommendations and allocate ammunition as necessary to suit their situation and training needs.

8. T&EO Sequence. Table 4-13 lists T&EOs in Chapter 5 that are for use in conducting and evaluating this STX. T&EO page numbers are in Chapter 5.

FINANCE COMMAND (FINCOM)
STX 14-7-E0005
CONDUCT REDEPLOYMENT/DEMobilIZATION OPERATIONS

1. Objective. This STX provides training for active and reserve component FINCOMs in redeploying from a theater of operations. In addition, it trains reserve component (RC) FINCOMs on demobilization tasks. Cost and other factors will usually preclude the actual air, sea, or extensive ground convoy movement portion of redeployment training. However, FINCOMs may accomplish the most important parts of this redeployment training by completing the steps from redeployment notification up to the time when the unit actually leaves the port of embarkation (POE). Likewise, home station training for redeployment and demobilization may occur without completing air, ship or convoy movement.

2. Interface.

a. This STX is a component of the FTX contained in this chapter.

b. Added training effectiveness and realism are gained when the unit trains in conjunction with supporting, supported, and subordinate units.

c. The FINCOM is dependent upon appropriate external elements for religious, legal, and health services support, unit maintenance, and human resources services. Early coordination is essential to assure this support is available for use in training activities.

3. Training.

a. Leader training.

(1) Review the redeployment sections of the tactical standing operating procedures for FINCOM and theater Army, and those of the supporting and supported units.

(2) Visit agencies that support your redeployment and demobilization activities to obtain current information on redeployment policies, procedures, and capabilities.

(3) Review redeployment and demobilization doctrine and related procedures.

(4) Review all safety and security procedures to include those of sister services that provide your strategic transport support.

(5) Study equipment packaging and vehicle-blocking and tie-down procedures.

(6) If an RC unit, study demobilization policies and procedures.

(7) Review transportation, specialized equipment and supply requirements, and loading plans.

(8) Study lessons learned by similar units that have recently redeployed and demobilized.

(9) Review the after-action and lessons learned reports from previous training you conducted using this STX and any previous redeployment and demobilization exercises.

b. Tips for training. During training, emphasize the following:

(1) Operational security procedures

(2) Terrorist capabilities and counter-terrorism tactics

(3) Redeployment and demobilization doctrine, FM 100-17-5 (Redeployment), and related procedures.

(4) Duties of subordinate leaders

(5) Plans and procedures for 24-hour operations under nonstandard conditions

(6) Packaging, loading, blocking, and tie-down procedures

(7) Non-tactical movement techniques and procedures

(8) Soldier readiness processing (SRP) requirements and procedures

(9) Accuracy and completeness of personnel records

(10) Safety in loading vehicles, supplies, and equipment; in conducting non-tactical movement; and while on transport vehicles

(11) Command, control, and communications

(12) Security during the non-tactical road march and during halts

(13) POE policies and procedures

(14) Demobilization policies and procedures

c. After attaining STX proficiency, sustain that proficiency by executing this STX as part of an FTX.

4. Training Enhancers.

a. While unit personnel can conduct crawl level training on this STX, the walk and run phases are best conducted using outside observer controllers (OC). This allows for the training of all unit leaders, results in more objective assessments of the training, and enables outside experts to share their insights and expertise.

b. While redeploying and demobilizing, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to obtain information. To ensure realism and objectively assess security measures, use appropriately dressed opposing forces (OPFOR) as terrorists, saboteurs, or enemy agents attempting to gather information.

c. After achieving proficiency loading unit equipment and vehicles on mock-ups, load them onto the actual aircraft, ships, rail cars, or other vehicle transports FINCOM would use in a redeployment, if available.

d. Use transport/movement experts from support agencies such as Air Force loadmasters and personnel from Army transportation units to present training and critique loading activities.

e. Provide increased training challenges in the walk and run phases of training by increasing the sophistication of the threat and terrorist element, and adding optional T&EOs in Table 4-10.

f. Make arrangements for your key personnel to observe or participate in redeployment and demobilization exercises conducted by supported units, higher HQ, or other units.

5. General Situation. The FINCOM has been providing finance support to the theater Army. Hostilities have ceased and selected forces are being redeployed to their home stations. The FINCOM has been directed to redeploy to CONUS home station or demobilization site for demobilization, if applicable. The FINCOM has been relieved of its finance support mission and has relocated to a redeployment assembly area (RAA) with all personnel and equipment. While hostilities have concluded, a terrorist threat remains. All normal support agencies and individuals required to conduct redeployment are available and tasked to support the FINCOM.

6. Special Situation.

a. The following order is received:

Commence immediate preparation for redeployment to Fort _____, __ (and for demobilization, if applicable). Complete preparation of personnel, vehicles and equipment to include Customs and Department of Agriculture inspections by DDHHHHZ MMMYY. On order, conduct administrative movement of all vehicles, personnel, and equipment from RAA to POE, Grossard Airport, for onward air movement to CONUS POD, Wrightstown AFB on or about DDMMYY.

b. This STX ends after the FINCOM has moved all redeploying personnel, vehicles, equipment, and supplies to the POE, simulated their transport, conducted port of debarkation (POD) redeployment activities, and has completed demobilization activities, if applicable.

c. Conduct an after action review (AAR) at the training site when the exercise is completed.

d. Table 4-14 shows the estimated time needed for each part of the exercise.

Table 4-14
Finance Command STX 14-7-E0005 Scenario

SEQUENCE	EVENT	ESTIMATED TIME
1	Prepare for redeployment	1 hr
2	Conduct a non-tactical movement	1 hr
3	Conduct redeployment processing	2 hr
4	Conduct demobilization activities	2 hr
5	AAR	2 hr
TOTAL ESTIMATED TIME		8 hr
NOTES:
(1) Allow additional time when conducting the exercise at night or under limited visibility.
(2) Training must be to standard, not to time.

7. Support Requirements.

a. Minimum trainers/OC. Three OCs thoroughly familiar with the redeployment and demobilization policies and procedures are required. A less desired alternative is to have unit leaders fill these positions.

b. OPFOR. One individual is required to serve as a local national civilian/terrorist who attempts to gather information on unit personnel, operations and plans, challenge security, and to probe defenses. OPFOR performance must be in accordance with the task, condition, and standards specified for OPFOR in this MTP.

c. Vehicles and communications. Vehicles and communications equipment organic to the FINCOM are used. Supplementary transportation and communications support may be necessary.

d. Maneuver area. Training sites and facilities capable of accommodating the FINCOM are necessary to provide for:

- (1) A redeployment assembly area
- (2) A road network of about 10 kilometers from the RAA to the POE or simulated POE
- (3) An actual POE or a comparable area which can serve as a simulated POE
- (4) A POD where the unit can prepare for onward movement to its demobilization site/new duty station
- (5) A demobilization site (RC)

e. Actual or simulated aircraft (or other strategic transport vehicles) are desired to familiarize unit personnel with them and to train loading techniques and procedures.

f. Master incident list (MIL). Much of this training is driven by the warning order and the subsequent redeployment instructions. However, other exercise incidents need to be developed to support the training. Once developed, these incidents should be prepared in a time-phased MIL to assure their proper sequencing, control, and evaluation.

g. Consolidated support requirements. Table 4-15 shows the suggested requirements for this STX.

NOTE:
* These T&EOs are optional to this STX. While part of this ARTEP MTP and situations that could arise during the course of this STX, particularly with the current contemporary operating environment (COE), the primary training on these T&EO occurs in other STX in this MTP. OCs and other trainers may develop and implement situations that inject these tasks into the STX. In most cases, their use should be limited to the run phases of training with units that have mastered the basic T&EOs.

CHAPTER 5

Training and Evaluation Outlines

5-1. Introduction. This chapter contains the training and evaluation outlines for the FINCOM. T&EOs are the foundation of the MTP and the collective training of the units. T&EOs are training objectives (task, conditions, and standards) that the unit must master to perform its critical wartime operations. T&EOs may be trained separately, in an STX, in an FTX, or in a live-fire exercise.

5-2. Structure. The T&EOs in this chapter are listed in Table 5-1. The Mission-to-Collective Task Matrix in Chapter 2 lists the T&EOs required to train the critical wartime missions according to their specific battlefield operating system (BOS).

5-3. Format. The T&EOs are prepared for every collective task that supports critical wartime operation accomplishment. Each T&EO contains the following items:

- a. Element. This identifies the unit or unit element(s) that performs the task.
- b. Task. This is a description and task number of the action to be performed by the unit.
- c. References. These are listed following the task number. The reference which contains the most information (primary reference) about the task is underlined.
- d. Iteration. This is for evaluation purposes. It is used to identify how many times the task is performed and evaluated during training.
- e. Commander/Leader Assessment. This is used by the unit leadership to assess the proficiency of the unit in performing the task to standard. Assessments are subjective in nature and use all available evaluation data and leader input to assess the organization's overall capability to accomplish the task. The following ratings are used:
 - (1) T - Trained. The unit is trained and has demonstrated its proficiency in accomplishing the task to wartime standards.
 - (2) P - Needs practice. The unit needs to practice the task. Performance has demonstrated that the unit does not achieve standard without some difficulty or has failed to perform some task steps to standard.
 - (3) U - Untrained. The unit can not demonstrate an ability to achieve wartime proficiency.
- f. Condition. This describes the situation or environment under which the task is to be performed. The conditions also contain the initiating cue for the task.
- g. Task Standards. This is a statement that describes the overall task criteria that must be met to receive credit for successful execution of the task. The trainer or evaluator determines the unit's training status using performance observation measurements (where applicable) and his judgment. The unit must be evaluated in the context of the mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) conditions. These conditions should be as similar as possible for all evaluated elements to establish a common baseline for unit performance.
- h. Task Steps and Performance Measures. This is a listing of actions that are required to complete the task. These actions are stated in terms of observable performance for evaluating training proficiency. Leader tasks within each T&EO are indicated by an asterisk (*). Performance measures that must be accomplished to correctly perform the task step are listed under each task step.

i. GO/NO-GO columns. These columns are used to record results achieved in executing the task step. Each performance measure for a task step is evaluated with an "X" placed in the appropriate column. The ratings are:

(1) GO--the unit successfully accomplished the task or performance measure to standard.

(2) NO GO--the unit did not successfully accomplish the task or performance measure to standard.

j. Task Performance/Evaluation Summary Block. This block provides the trainer a means of recording the total number of task steps evaluated, the number rated as "GO", and the training status (GO or NO GO). This block will provide the leader with a historical record for up to five training iterations. The leader may use this as a management indicator, e.g., a trend showing the increased or decreased unit proficiency. The iteration line under the task performance summary block must match the primary iteration line under the task title. An "M" identifies when the task is performed in MOPP4.

k. Supporting Individual Tasks. This is a listing of all supporting individual tasks required to correctly perform the task. Listed are the reference, task number, and task title.

l. OPFOR Tasks and Standards. These standards specify overall OPFOR performance for each collective task requiring opposing forces. These standards ensure that OPFOR soldiers accomplish meaningful training and force the training unit to perform its task to standard or "lose" to the OPFOR. The OPFOR standards specify what must be accomplished -- not how it must be accomplished. The OPFOR must always attain its task standards, using tactics consistent with the type of enemy they are portraying.

5-4. Use. The T&EO may be used individually to train a single task. It may also be used in sequence with other T&EOs to train and/or evaluate groups of tasks (STX), the unit's entire mission (FTX), or a series of missions (higher echelon exercises).

ITERATION: 1 2 3 4 5 M (Circle)

COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT: T P U (Circle)

CONDITIONS: Time specified in movement order to cross the start point (SP) has arrived. All equipment is uploaded and vehicles are positioned for departure. The route of march is identified. Unit operations may be performed during daylight or darkness, including blackout conditions. The convoy may go through an urban area. Radio and visual signals are used for march column control. Higher headquarters (HQ) tactical standing operating procedure (TSOP) and operations order (OPORD) with movement order are available. Map and overlays with checkpoints, release point (RP), and critical points are available. Column may conduct halts during movement. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: SP, checkpoints, and RP were crossed at times specified in the movement order or times adjusted on the road movement table by the supporting HQ. At MOPP4 performance degradation factors reduce convoy speed and may require adjustment of SP, checkpoint, and RP crossing times.

TASK: Take Active Air Defense Measures Against Hostile Aerial Platforms (44-1-C221.14-C221)

ITERATION: 1 2 3 4 5 M (Circle)

CONDITIONS: Unit receives early warning of aerial platforms (rotary-wing, fixed-wing, UAVs) in the area. Unit personnel detect unknown or hostile aerial platforms. Unit is in a tactical position. TASK STANDARDS: Initial security for the assigned perimeter sector was immediately established and planning of the defense was initiated. A defensive plan was developed and approved within three hours or as specified in the TSOP. TASK: Defend Unit Area (07-3-4130.14-4130)

 (FM 7-20)

ITERATION: 1 2 3 4 5 M (Circle)
COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT: T P U (Circle)

CONDITIONS: The unit is providing support to units engaged in combat. It is positioned in an urban or field support area as part of a base defense. The unit has been assigned to defend part of the perimeter, has established its defense, and has prepared a defense plan. Observation posts are established and manned. Perimeter security positions are prepared and manned by approximately 25 percent of unit personnel. A unit CP is established with communications to the base defense operations center (BDOC) and to subordinate elements. Supporting fires and close air support are planned and available. Squad sized threat forces are operating in the area and have used chemical agents. OP soldiers report a threat infantry squad approaching in the unit's sector. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The unit implemented its defense plan, engaged the enemy at maximum range, and continued the defense until the enemy force was repulsed, destroyed or until the unit was relieved. Minimum casualties and loss of equipment were sustained. The unit reorganized its defense and was prepared to resume its support mission. MOPP conditions slow response times and degrade accuracy of fires.

COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT: T P U (Circle)

CONDITIONS: Threat forces and terrorist elements have biological weapons and it is suspected that some have recently been used. The unit is located in a tactical or garrison area. A security plan has been established and implemented. An SOP has been developed and is present. Communications have been established with higher headquarters, supported units, adjacent units, and the base defense operations center (BDOC) or the installation emergency operations center (EOC). Personnel have been issued protective masks and clothing and are at MOPP2. A warning order has been received indicating high probability of a biological attack within the next 24 hours and directing increased readiness. A low flying OPFOR aircraft has flown over the area dispensing bomblet munitions that explode in the air with a "pop" dispensing a liquid substance. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: The alarm was sounded and all personnel took immediate action to assume MOPP4. Reports were rendered, casualties were isolated and treated, action was taken to identify the agent, security was reestablished, and essential critical missions resumed. The MOPP level is lowered when approved by appropriate authorities on the advice of technical experts and generally at no time prior to 4 hours after the attack.

CONDITIONS: The unit is in a nuclear, biological, or chemical (NBC) contaminated area. Personnel are experiencing degraded combat effectiveness. Time and the tactical situation permit the unit to conduct military oriented protective posture (MOPP) gear exchange and vehicle wash down. Site security is established. Replacement MOPP gear for each soldier; all organic equipment (such as NBC detection, decon, and marking materials; pioneer tools; communications equipment; vehicles and supplies); and applicable field manuals (FM) are on hand or available. While conducting operations, the unit may encounter terrorist operations and hostile attempts to gain information about friendly forces. This task is always performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Unit personnel decontaminated individual gear and conducted MOPP gear exchange without sustaining additional casualties from NBC contamination. Personnel limited the contamination transfer hazard by removing gross chemical contamination on equipment, and minimized contamination on soldiers IAW FM 3-5.  (FM 3-90) (FM 101-5) (FM 5-104)

ITERATION: 1 2 3 4 5 M (Circle)

COMMANDER/LEADER ASSESSMENT: T P U (Circle)

CONDITIONS: Hostile operations, natural disaster (severe weather, earthquakes, and floods) or an accident in the unit area has caused moderate to heavy casualties and major damage and destruction of unit supplies, equipment, and facilities. The unit mission in support of forces engaged in full spectrum operations has ceased. The base defense plan and unit standing operation procedures are present. Unit personnel are trained on individual area damage control tasks. Small hostile forces, terrorists, and hostile force sympathizers are operating in the area. The unit, while operating as part of an operational base defense, has been directed by the base defense operations center to perform area damage control functions in its area. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP4.

TASK STANDARDS: Prompt action is taken to minimize casualties and the adverse effects of the hostile action/disaster. Mission support is expeditiously restored in keeping with the commander's priorities and guidance from supporting and supported units. At MOPP4, performance degradation factors increase time required to conduct area damage control.

TASK STEPS AND PERFORMANCE MEASURES	GO	NO-GO
NOTE: In many cases, unit personnel will be assigned to provisional area damage control (ADC) teams of a base defense force and will conduct area damage control functions under base defense command and control. This T&EO is written to allow the unit to train and evaluate the same basic area damage control tasks under the command and control of unit leaders. Commanders should adjust this T&EO to accommodate their local situations. * 1. Commander, staff, and leaders direct ADC operations. CONDITIONS: Unit personnel are wounded and some may be chemically contaminated. The unit has no organic medical treatment personnel. Threat force contact has been broken. Unit defenses have been reorganized. Casualties are transported from defensive positions to designated casualty collection points. All methods of transport are employed. Some wounded enemy prisoners of war (EPW) casualties may require transport. This task is performed simultaneously with other reorganization tasks. CHAPTER 6

External Evaluation

6-1. General. Evaluations are conducted to determine the unit's ability to perform its missions. This chapter is a guide for preparing evaluations. Using units may modify this evaluation, based on mission, enemy, terrain, troops, time available, and civil considerations (METT-TC) and other considerations as deemed appropriate by the commander. Selected T&EOs in Chapter 5 are used for evaluation. At the end of the evaluation, the commander can identify strengths and weaknesses of his unit. These strengths and weaknesses are the basis for future training and resource allocations.

6-2. Preparing the Evaluation. The commander must standardize evaluation procedures to accurately measure the unit's capabilities.

a. Preparing the Evaluation Instrument. The sample evaluation scenario in Table 6-1 contains the missions as well as the appropriate tasks necessary to develop the scenario and execute the mission. A graphic representation of the scenario is provided in Chapter 4, Figure 4-1. Selective tailoring is required because it is not possible to evaluate every task. The following procedures are suggested for developing the evaluation.

(1) Identify the missions for evaluating each echelon or element, using Table 2-1 in Chapter 2. Record the selected missions using DA Form 7506, Unit Proficiency/Evaluation Worksheet. A blank copy of this form is provided in Figure 6-1 for your information.

(2) List each mission on DA Form 7502, Task Summary Sheet. A blank copy of this form is provided in Figure 6-2 for your information.

(3) Select the tasks for the evaluation of every mission. List the selected tasks on the Task Summary Sheets which are used for recording the results of the evaluation.

(4) Compile the selected missions and tasks in the order they logically occur in the detailed scenario. Group the selected missions and tasks into parts, as in Table 6-1, for continuous operations. Assess multiple integrated laser engagement system (MILES) casualties and conduct in-process after action reviews (AAR) by interrupting parts at logical points.

b. Forecasting and Requisitioning Resources. Adequate training ammunition, equipment and supplies must be forecasted and requisitioned. Table 6-2 is a consolidated list of support requirements for this evaluation. It is based on experiences with the scenario in Table 6-1. The evaluating headquarters will prepare its own consolidated support requirements.

c. Selecting and Preparing the Field Evaluation Site. Required size, type of terrain, opposing force (OPFOR) requirements, and administrative requirements are the basis for site selection. OPFOR positioning is according to threat doctrine. The site must provide space for the administrative area required to support the evaluation.

6-3. Selecting Observer Controllers (OC). OCs must know the unit's missions, organization, equipment, and employment. The senior OC should be at least equal in rank to the unit commander and have successfully performed in that specific or similar command position.

6-4. Training the OCs.

a. Evaluation Design. Each part of an evaluation is designed to evaluate specific missions or tasks within the overall scenario. OCs must thoroughly understand and correctly implement the evaluation.

b. MILES. Each OC must have full knowledge of the unit's weapons as well as the MILES system the unit will use.

c. Evaluation Control System. This system ensures that the evaluation is administered in a consistent and standardized manner, and that correct data is collected for the final evaluation. It includes the following elements:

- (1) Rules of engagement
- (2) OC duties and responsibilities
- (3) Communications systems
- (4) Evaluation data collection plan

6-5. Recording External Evaluation Information.

a. The evaluating headquarters uses the following data recording instruments for the OCs:

(1) DA Form 7505, Unit Data Sheet, is used to document demographic information which may reflect on a unit's performance. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-3.

(2) DA Form 7503, Environmental Data Sheet, documents weather information in order to compare missions under differing environmental conditions. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-4.

(3) DA Form 7504, Personnel and Equipment Loss Report, documents information that may affect the unit's degree of success during engagements with the OPFOR. A blank copy of this form is provided for your information at Figure 6-5.

b. The senior OC has the overall responsibility for preparation of the external evaluation report. This evaluation is based on his own findings and input by subordinate OCs. Subordinate OCs use the task evaluation criteria (T&EO from Chapter 5 and Task Summary Sheets) to determine overall proficiency in their particular areas. The senior OC compiles the external evaluation results as prescribed by the evaluating commander. Deviations from the task standard assessed by the subordinate OCs may be addressed in the senior OC comments portion of the Unit Proficiency Worksheet.

6-6. Selecting and Training the OPFOR. The selection and training of the OPFOR are crucial to the success of a standardized evaluation. The OPFOR provides one of the control measures that influences the conditions under which the evaluation is administered. The unit should face an opponent that realistically resembles the threat in strength, weapons, and skill.

a. Selection. Any qualified skill level 1 or 2 soldier can serve as OPFOR. Ideally, the OPFORs should be a small cohesive unit under the control of their leader or commander.

b. Training. The OPFOR must understand the following six major areas:

- (1) Installation and operation of the MILES devices
- (2) Rules of engagement
- (3) Threat/terrorist small unit tactics
- (4) Training scenarios
- (5) OPFOR weapons and equipment, if available
- (6) Safety

c. OPFOR Strength. The OPFOR should be strong enough to offer the unit a realistic challenge, but one that the unit can defeat when proper tactics are employed. The OPFOR should be allowed to plan their own attack for each mission and not be forced into a "canned" attack that the unit will quickly defeat. When attacking a fixed defensive location, the OPFOR generally should have a 3 :1 ratio of superiority.

6-7. Conducting the Evaluation. Evaluations are divided into three distinct phases: pre-evaluation, evaluation, and post-evaluation. Each phase requires a different degree of preparation and coordination.

a. Pre-evaluation.

(1) All OCs must recon the evaluation area to know the unit's boundaries, disposition of the OPFOR, and to gain a general appreciation of the field evaluation site's area of operation.

(2) OCs must prepare operations orders (OPORD) and fragmentary orders (FRAGO) to control the exercise. These can be prepared by using the skeleton orders contained in the STXs in Chapter 4.

(3) Unit preparatory activities include installation and troubleshooting of MILES equipment, loading vehicles, conducting inspections, and performing other logistics and administrative actions, as required.

(4) The OPFOR is placed into position and briefed while the unit is conducting its preparatory activities.

b. Evaluation.

(1) The evaluation team controls the evaluation in two ways. First, it uses measures established in the movement order and the OPORD or FRAGO. Second, the team controls the evaluation through the team commander (simulated by the senior OC for this evaluation) on the team net. The team does not control in the traditional sense; instead, it accompanies the unit as observers.

(2) OCs are neutral throughout the evaluation. Only the senior OC has direct verbal contact with the unit commander. Other OCs do not speak to, aid, advise, point out positions, or in any way influence the unit's performance, except for a possible or actual safety issue or emergency.

(3) Once the senior OC issues the OPORD and movement order, the unit commander executes the events and actions prescribed in the first part of the evaluation scenario within the estimated time. From this point on, all successive parts begin with a FRAGO.

(4) The senior OC terminates a part when the unit has completed all the events and actions in a particular area or has suffered so many casualties or so much damage that the part cannot be completed. He must record the reasons for the termination in the margin of the OC's Task Summary Sheets and report his action to the senior evaluator. During this period, the senior OC will direct the unit to remain in position while "replacements" for personnel and equipment designated as killed or destroyed are sent forward to reconstitute the unit. At this time, OC must perform the following actions:

(a) Inspect all MILES equipment, record "kill" codes and reset equipment. Replace any damaged or inoperative MILES equipment.

(b) Resolve all casualty data to determine the time, place, number, and cause of casualties.

(c) Debrief the unit to resolve questions. Afterwards, the senior OC directs the unit to continue its mission after it receives a FRAGO or OPORD for the next part.

(5) These guidelines should be followed by the OCs:

(a) Enforce rules of engagement.

(b) Observe critical tactical events of time. OCs must spot and record any action that might have an effect on later performance or mission outcome.

(c) Record travel routes and unit's location.

(d) Inform OPFOR controllers of the unit's location, direction, and intent. This is necessary to enable control of OPFOR action in accordance with the desired sequence of events.

(e) Enforce safety.

(f) Terminate mission.

c. Post-evaluation. After the evaluation is terminated, the unit moves to an appropriate area and performs the following actions:

(1) The unit OC debriefs subordinate OCs and compiles all data (evaluator packets) for the evaluation.

(2) The unit OC completes the task summary sheets.

(3) The unit OC turns in all completed OC packets (with the OC scoring system) to control headquarters for recording and analysis.

(4) The unit OC must conduct an after action review (AAR) of the unit's performance.

(5) Each element OC should conduct an AAR of his element's performance.

6-8. Conducting the AAR.

a. General. At the completion of each evaluation phase, the AAR leader provides feedback to the unit in order to increase and reinforce learning.

b. Feedback. Because all members of the unit participate in an AAR, each member becomes a source of feedback. This provides a richer database for key points. The AAR leader will draw information from each member, which becomes an important part of the discussion. This information is the basis for discussing alternate courses of action.

c. Preparing the AAR. AAR preparation involves five steps:

(1) Review training orders and objectives. Training objectives are the focus of the discussion of the exercise results. The FRAGOs and OPORDs included in the exercise design implement these objectives. OCs should be familiar with the objectives, FRAGOs and OPORDs so they can note orders given by leaders of the evaluated unit and its subordinate elements that either implement these objectives or deviate from them.

(2) Observe the exercise. This is an active process. The emphasis is on noting those actions that make the difference between the unit's success or failure. Because unit orders identify important activities and checkpoints, the OC must be present when the commander issues the order. The OC should position himself where he can best observe anticipated critical events.

(3) Select the AAR site. After the exercise, select a site for the AAR. If possible, hold the AAR where the majority of action occurred or where most of the critical events took place.

(4) Debrief the OCs. While the units are moving to the selected site, the OCs should be debriefed. The senior OC must have a complete understanding of what happened during the exercise. The fourth step in AAR preparation is to obtain a detailed description of the exercise's events in the order in which they occurred.

(5) Review the events. After the senior OC has a sound understanding of what happened during the exercise, he reviews the events that are ranked in terms of their relevance to the training objectives and their contributions to the exercise outcome. He selects as many events as can be covered in detail during the time allocated for the AAR and places them in chronological order.

d. Conducting the AAR. Conducting the AAR involves five steps:

(1) Organize the participants. The OC and AAR leader should group the participants according to their organization in the exercise. Each subordinate element's OC is with the element for which he is responsible.

(2) State the training objectives. The AAR leader makes a brief statement of the training objectives for the exercise. These are described as specifically as possible. He states any additional teaching points that he intends to cover during the AAR. These should be limited to three or four key points in order to keep the AAR focused and prevent it from becoming excessively long.

(3) Lead the discussion. The AAR leader guides the discussion of the events in their order of occurrence. Diagrams help players visualize the exercise development. Each event is discussed in detail to make teaching points about the unit's performance during the event. In an effective AAR, the AAR leader should:

- (a) Avoid giving a critique or lecture.
- (b) Guide the discussion by asking leading questions.
- (c) Suggest the players describe what occurred in their own terms.
- (d) Suggest the players discuss not only what happened, but how it happened and how it could be done better.
- (e) Focus the discussion to ensure that important tactical lessons are made explicit.
- (f) Relate events to subsequent results.
- (g) Avoid detailed examination of events not directly related to major training objectives.
- (h) Encourage the participants to use diagrams to illustrate teaching points.
- (i) Prohibit players from offering self-serving excuses for inappropriate tactical actions.

(4) Review the sequence of the events associated with the hazards of the risk assessment made prior to the exercise. Discuss each incident of fratricide or near-fratricide and how it can be avoided in the future. In addition, the AAR leader should address the following:

- (a) Were effective controls put into place to avoid accidents?
- (b) Was training realism reduced through artificial control measures?
- (c) Were all participants aware of hazards down to the lowest level?

(d) Did any hazard that was not identified present itself, and, if so, what was done to overcome it?

(5) Summarize key points. The AAR leader briefly summarizes teaching points in terms of training objectives covered in the AAR. After the summary, he can have a private conversation with the unit commander regarding his unit's strengths and weaknesses, and what he can do to improve his performance and that of his unit. A good AAR leader:

(a) Maintains order and discipline.

(b) Reviews the training objectives.

(c) Addresses important events as they occurred and how the unit could have done them better. During the discussion, the leader avoids a detailed examination of events not directly related to the training objective.

(d) Traces the chain of events so all participants understand the results of mistakes. One mistake is often the partial cause of another.

(e) Clearly relates tactical events to teaching points.

(f) Involves participants in the discussion.

(g) Clearly and concisely gives summary and new training objectives.

(h) Reinforces points by using sketches, diagrams, or terrain models in the AAR.

APPENDIX A - THREAT ASSESSMENT

1. The Contemporary Operational Environment (COE):

a. The COE is a composite of the conditions, circumstances, and influences that are expected to effect the employment of military forces and bear on the decisions of unit commanders both now and in the near future. The range of threats during this period extend from smaller, low technology opponents using more adaptive, asymmetric methods (methods that avoid attacking a US strength while using advantages against US weaknesses) to larger modernized forces that engage US forces in more conventional ways. In some possible conflicts (or in multiple, concurrent conflicts) a combination of these types of threats is possible.

b. It is particularly important that commanders, leaders, and soldiers develop a mindset shaped and influenced by a solid understanding of the COE and assure that all training is consistent with the contemporary operational environment. While every effort has been made to comprehensively integrate the COE into this training publication commanders, leaders, trainers, observer controllers (OC) and all personnel participating in training must work to assure the complete integration of COE considerations. The materials in this appendix are designed to assist in this process.

2. The Threat (See FM 3.0, Operations):

a. The potential for armed conflict between nation-states, non-state actors, and transnational entities is expected to remain a serious challenge for the foreseeable future. Disparities in wealth, technology, and information will create unstable conditions. The influence of nonstate actors will have increasing regional and worldwide implications. Conflict between multinational groups is expected to increase while conflict involving only two elements is expected to decrease.

b. Multiple threats to US interests exist. Some are direct, such as a cross-border attack; others are indirect, such as coercion. Some regional powers aspire to dominate their neighbors and have the conventional force capabilities required to do so. Such situations may threaten US vital interests, US allies, or regional stability. Many transnational groups are capable of conducting a range of activities that threaten US interests and citizens at home and abroad. Such activities include terrorism, illegal drug trading, illicit arms and strategic material trafficking, international organized crime, piracy, and deliberate environmental damage. Additionally, extremism, ethnic disputes, religious rivalries, and human disasters contribute to huge refugee migrations and often cause instability.

c. In the foreseeable future, most nations will modernize and maintain military capabilities for countering regional threats or seeking opportunities. Military change will incorporate advances in information technology, ballistic and cruise missile capabilities, and weapons of mass destruction (WMD). Potential threats vary from heavy conventional units to adaptive, asymmetric forces structured for local and regional use. Adversaries will seek and obtain technologies that challenge US strengths in information technology, navigation, night vision systems, and precision targeting and strike capabilities. The proliferation of WMD and long-range delivery systems will enable adversaries to threaten the US at greater ranges with increased lethality and precision.

d. Adversaries will develop warfighting doctrine that takes perceived US strengths and vulnerabilities into account. They will try to prevent the projection of US forces and control the nature and tempo of US actions through asymmetric operations and adaptive forces. They will try to counter US air operations and neutralize US technological advantages, such as precision strike capabilities. Further, they will adapt to more nonlinear, simultaneous operations conducted throughout the area of operations. They will use conventional and unconventional means to destroy US national will and the capability to wage war.

e. Adversaries will seek to shape conditions to their advantage. They will try to change the nature of the conflict or use capabilities they believe are difficult for US forces to counter. They will use complex terrain, urban environments, and force dispersal methods to offset US advantages. These methods will increase targeting difficulties and may result in US forces wasting precision weapons on relatively unimportant assets.

f. Generally, adversaries will seek to operate against US forces according to the following concepts:

- Conduct force-oriented operations. Inflict unacceptable casualties.
- Attempt to control the tempo. Create conditions to defeat US forcible entry operations.
- Transition to a defensive framework that avoids decisive battle, preserves capability, and prolongs the conflict. If US forces deploy, use terrorist tactics and other attacks to erode public support, alliance or coalition cohesion, and the will to fight.
- Use modernized intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR) assets and WMD to conduct sophisticated ambushes. Destroy key operating systems or inflict mass casualties within and outside the theater of operations.
- Use terrain and urban areas to disperse mechanized and armored units. Concentrate and disperse them as opportunities allow. Maneuver forces during periods of reduced exposure to US technology. Use upgraded camouflage and deception capabilities.
- Form coalitions against the US.
- Acquire or modify advanced technological systems to create surprise and limited duration overmatch in specific areas.

g. Adversaries will continue to seek every opportunity for advantage over US and multinational forces. When countered, they will adapt to the changing conditions and pursue all available options to avoid destruction or defeat. This environment and the wide array of threats present significant challenges. Army forces must simultaneously defeat an adversary while protecting noncombatants and the infrastructure on which they depend.

3. Threat Implications for Human Resource and Financial Management Units:

a. Human resource and financial management units must be fully capable of performing their mission through the full spectrum of operations in war and in military operations other than war (MOOTW). Often, they will be supporting Army forces operating as part of a joint force within a multinational and interagency environment. Supported forces can be conducting offensive, defensive, stability, and support operations singly or in combination, often simultaneously.

b. Insights on how human resource and financial management units must operate can be developed by applying contemporary threat considerations to the full spectrum of operations. Commanders and leaders must develop further guidance based on lessons learned materials and current intelligence information. General considerations include the following:

- Units must be fully prepared to operate effectively in the full spectrum of operations in war, conflict and peace.

- Units must maintain a high state of deployability regardless of their locations. They must be prepared to quickly respond to worldwide contingencies and varying threats.
- Units must have the capability to support designated forces by accompanying them or by supporting them from a distant location.
- Units must consistently provide timely and highly responsive support. They must ensure high unit readiness and a similar level of personnel readiness in the forces they support regardless of the location of that element.
- Units must adapt to new requirements and be fully prepared to support joint and combined forces, multi-national forces, intergovernmental agencies, forces under other non-US command and control and, in some cases, non-governmental organizations.
- Commanders and leaders must place special emphasis on counter terrorist activities and force protection for unit personnel, replacements, and supported soldiers.
- Units must maintain a capability to respond to mass casualty situations caused by conventional weapons as well as weapons of mass destruction.
- Leaders need to train and condition soldiers to offset the adverse morale impacts of high-tech combat, terrorism, and weapons of mass destruction. Information, training, force protection, strong leadership, and an effective morale, welfare, and recreation (MWR) program help counter these situations.
- Units must respond quickly to special requirements that arise from non-traditional missions such as drug interdiction and humanitarian relief.
- Units must be fully prepared to perform their branch-specific missions in a nuclear, chemical, and biological (NBC) environment. In addition, they must address the challenges of NBC casualties, and contaminated remains and materiel.
- Leaders must be trained and prepared to deal with the complexity of new technologies, with diverse new missions, and with the uncertainty and ambiguity that characterize many current situations.
- Personnel must be prepared to provide necessary life-saving measures to soldiers attacked by NBC weapons.
- Units must be fully capable of using their technical skills to support domestic civilian and governmental agencies and comparable agencies in foreign governments.
- Commanders and leaders must develop and maintain an updated threat/terrorism assessment for their units. They must take prompt action to correct problems identified in this assessment.
- Organizations must be aware of the fact that almost any threat force can possess modern sophisticated weaponry and equipment. This includes directed energy, communications, intercept, and electronics.
- Units must be well trained on threat capabilities and the ability to counter them. Hands-on training and rehearsals are key to assuring unit personnel can respond to threat actions.

- Unit personnel must understand asymmetric warfare concepts and consistently probe their operational posture to identify and correct areas of weakness and vulnerability that might become hostile targets.

APPENDIX B - TRAINING SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

B-1. Safety. In a training environment, leaders have a threefold safety mission. First, leaders must assure safe training. Second, they must continue to develop and enforce the concept that safety is a way of life for all members of their unit and in every situation to include everyday tasks. Finally, leaders must work to develop soldier and leader skills in the use and application of safety techniques and procedures such as the risk management process that will subsequently be applied to all military operations conducted by the unit. A comprehensive training safety program built around these focuses serves to build and conserve combat power through accident prevention while at the same time providing for a force that is well prepared, through realistic training, for all types of operations. Guidelines for an effective training safety program include:

a. Train to standard on all individual and collective tasks. Ensure all personnel understand and apply the safety precautions contained in appropriate technical manuals, field manuals, training materials, operations plans (OPLAN), operations orders (OPORD), and other pertinent publications.

b. Genuinely integrate safety considerations into all planning, preparation, execution, and evaluation phases of training.

c. Collect and integrate safety lessons learned into all unit training and operational activities. Emphasize unique safety implications for your type of unit and its equipment. Periodically brief personnel on these matters and spot check to assure the information is relayed to all soldiers.

d. Continuously work to build a positive safety environment and awareness so safety becomes a way of life for all soldiers in all situations.

e. Integrate the risk management and decision-making processes for use in training activities and the operational missions. Balance training realism and unnecessary risk. Train and require leaders at all levels to use the risk management process. Check to ensure they are correctly using this process. Accept risks only if benefits outweigh potential costs or losses. Always make informed, conscious decisions to accept risks at acceptable levels.

B-2. Risk Management. Risk management is a tool that is used to analyze situations to determine hazards and to establish and implement accident prevention steps and measures. It applies to all phases of training to include planning, execution, and assessment as well as to all operational environments. Proper use of risk management procedures enables commanders and leaders to provide maximum possible realism in training while properly safeguarding personnel and equipment. A Risk Assessment Matrix for assessing safety hazards is at Figure B-1. At Figure B-2 is a Risk Management Worksheet, with instructions, that may be used as a tool for assessing both safety and environmental hazards.

a. Army missions are inherently dangerous. To effectively prepare their personnel to accomplish assigned mission, commanders must train their units to standard under the most realistic conditions possible. Application of the risk management process does not detract from training, but enhances effective, realistic training and serves to conserve combat power. Risk management is a continuous process that must be incorporated into all training plans and supporting events. It must be an integral part of all training decisions, operations, and related activities.

b. Risk management is a five-step cyclic process that identifies, assesses, and controls risks arising from operational situations, and ensures decisions are made that balance risk with training benefits. In this process, leaders and staffs continuously work to identify hazards and assess both accident and tactical risks. They then develop, coordinate and implement control measures to mitigate or eliminate hazards. (See FM 101-5, Appendix J for further information.) The five steps are:

(1) Identify Hazards. Identify the most probable hazards for the missions.

(2) Assess Hazards. Analyze each hazard to determine the probability of its causing an accident and the probable effect of the accident. Identify control options to eliminate or reduce the hazard.

(3) Make Risk Decisions. Weigh the risk against the benefits of performing the operations. Accept no unnecessary risks and make any residual risk decisions at the proper level of command.

(4) Implement Controls. Integrate specific controls into training plans, OPLANs, OPORDs, standing operating procedures (SOP) and rehearsals. Communicate controls to the individual soldier.

(5) Supervise. Determine the effectiveness of controls in reducing the probability and effect of identified hazards to include follow up and after action reviews (AAR). Develop the lessons learned.

B-3. Fratricide. Fratricide is friendly force weapon employment in a manner that results in unforeseen and unintentional death or injury of friendly personnel. Fratricide is classified as an accident, as it is an individual or unit error that produces friendly casualties. Fratricide prevention is built around soldiers and units who are trained to standard and aware of factors contributing to fratricide.

a. Fratricide results in unacceptable losses and increases the risk of mission failure. Fratricide undermines the unit's ability to survive and function. Units experiencing fratricide tend to exhibit the following behaviors:

- (1) Loss of confidence in unit leadership
- (2) Increasing self-doubt among leaders
- (3) Hesitation to use supporting combat systems
- (4) Over-supervision of units
- (5) Hesitation to conduct night operations
- (6) Loss of aggressiveness during fire and maneuver
- (7) Loss of initiative
- (8) Disrupted operations
- (9) General degradation of cohesiveness, morale, and combat power

b. The primary causes of fratricide are a lack of positive target identification and the inability to maintain situational awareness. Specific problems contributing to fratricide include one, or a combination of several of the following:

(1) Direct fire control plan failures. They occur when units fail to develop defensive and, particularly, offensive fire control plans.

(2) Land navigation failures. They result when units stray out of sector, report wrong locations, and become disoriented.

(3) Combat identification failures. These failures include gunners or pilots being unable to distinguish thermal and optical signatures near the maximum range of their sighting systems and units in proximity mistaking each other for the enemy under limited visibility conditions.

(4) Inadequate control measures. Units fail to disseminate the minimum maneuver and fire support control measures necessary to tie control measures to recognizable terrain or events.

(5) Reporting communications failures. Units at all levels face problems in generating timely, accurate, and complete reports as locations and tactical situations change.

(6) Weapons error. Lapses in individual discipline lead to charge errors, accidental discharges, mistakes with explosives and hand grenades, and similar incidents.

(7) Battlefield hazards. Unexploded ordnance, unmarked or unrecorded minefields, family of scatterable mines (FASCAM), and booby traps litter the battlefield. Failure to mark, remove, record or anticipate these hazards increases the risk of friendly casualties.

c. Fratricide awareness and prevention measures must be incorporated into all training activities at every level. Training exercises must incorporate provisions that increase fratricide awareness of soldiers, and cause them to exercise fratricide prevention measures. Fratricide considerations need to be incorporated into all after action reviews. Live fire exercises must incorporate extra fratricide precautions. Leaders need special training on the use of the risk assessment and management tool as a means to reduce the incidence of fratricide.

B-4. Protecting the Environment. Protection of the environment, its natural resources such as air and water, its threatened or endangered species, and its archeological and historical sites must be a key factor in the preparation and conduct of all training. As embodied in the concept „train as we fight,“ environmental awareness and sound environmental practices built in training also provide the foundation for incorporating environmental protection considerations into the full spectrum of military operations. Detailed information on environmental protection is contained in FM 3-100.4, Environmental Considerations in Military Operations.

a. Environmental protection measures that must be addressed as part of the preparation for collective training include the following:

(1) Coordinate training plans and activities with the installation environmental compliance officer and his staff.

(2) Assure basic environmental awareness training is provided all personnel.

(3) Conduct an environmental risk assessment of the training area.

(4) Inform all soldiers of the environmentally sensitive areas, constraints, and preventive practices and procedures related to the training area.

(5) Brief commanders and leaders on the environmental risk assessment and its control measures to include identified sensitive areas, constraints, and other issues.

(6) Incorporate environmental protection provisions into SOPs, training plans, and OPORDS

b. During training, the following environmental protection considerations should be made:

(1) Monitor training for compliance with environmental protection provisions in SOPs, training plans, and OPORDS.

(2) Assure control measures contained in the environmental protection risk assessment are followed.

(3) Reassess hazards as situations change.

(4) Spot check all training activities.

(5) Incorporate environmental considerations into AARs.

5. The Risk Management Worksheet (Figure B-2). It is provided as a tool for use in tracking and documenting all risks to include environmental risks. Key considerations that should be incorporated into environmental protection assessment include air pollution, archeological and historical sites, hazardous material/waste, noise pollution, threatened/endangered species, water pollution and wetland protection.

Determine initial risk for each hazard by applying the risk assessment matrix. Enter the risk level (L - M - H - E) for each hazard.
- Block 7 Controls – develop one or more controls for each hazard to either eliminate the hazard or reduce the risk (probability and/or severity) associated with a hazardous incident. Specify who, what, when, where, and how for each control. Enter controls.
- Block 8 Residual Risk Level – determine the residual risk for each hazard by applying the risk assessment matrix. Enter the residual risk level (L - M - H - E) for each hazard.
- Block 9 How To Implement - decide how each control will be put into effect or communicated to the personnel who will make it happen (written or verbal instruction; tactical, safety, garrison SOPs; rehearsals).
- Block 10 How To Supervise - determine the best method for ensuring controls are in place and effective (such as random sampling, constant supervision, checklist, etc.).
- Block 11 Controls Effective - during AAR, determine whether new controls need to be developed, present controls are adequate, or controls are so constraining that the training is ineffective.
- Block 12 Determine Overall Mission/Task Risk - select the highest residual risk level and circle it. This level becomes the overall mission or task risk level.
- Block 13 Signature of Risk Decision Authority - the commander decides whether the controls are sufficient to accept the risk. If the risk is too great to continue the mission or task, the commander directs development of additional controls or modifies, changes, or rejects the COA.

DEFINITIONS

After-action review

A professional discussion of an event, focused on performance standards, that enables soldiers to discover for themselves what happened, why it happened, and how to sustain strengths and improve on weaknesses. It is a tool leaders, trainers, and units can use to get maximum benefit from every mission or task.

Army Training and Evaluation Program (ARTEP)

The cornerstone of unit training. It is the umbrella program used by the trainer and training manager in the training and evaluation of units. The ARTEP is a complete program enabling commanders to evaluate and develop collective training based on unit weaknesses, train the unit to overcome those weaknesses, and reevaluate. Success on the battlefield depends on the coordinated performance of collective and individual skills that are taught through the ARTEP MTP.

Combined Arms Training Strategy (CATS)

The Army's overarching strategy for the current and future training of the force. Its basis is a series of branch proponent unit and institutional strategies describing training events, frequencies, and resources required to train to standard. These strategies describe how the Army will train the total force to standard in the institutions and units and through self-development. CATS also documents the quantity and justification for all training resources required to execute the training.

Military Qualification Standards (MQS) Manual (Will be replaced by OFS products)

MQS manuals list all common, shared, and branch-specific critical individual tasks for officers. The MQS manuals establish critical tasks, professional knowledges, and special emphasis areas required for officers to successfully perform their jobs. These manuals also provide reference courses and job aids to assist in task performance and self-development. They include --MQS I Manual of Common Tasks (Precommissioning Requirements); MQS II Manual of Common Tasks for Lieutenants and Captains; MQS II branch manuals (Lieutenants and Captains); MQS III Leader Development Manual (Majors and Lieutenant Colonels).

Mission essential task list (METL)

A compilation of collective mission essential tasks which must be successfully performed if an organization is to accomplish its wartime mission(s).

Serial

A serial can be a group of people, vehicles, equipment, or supplies and is used in airborne, air assault, amphibious operations, and convoys.

Soldier Manual of Common Tasks (SMCT)

A document which contains the critical tasks which every soldier must be able to perform in order to fight and win on the battlefield. It provides the conditions, standards, and performance measures for each common soldier critical task.

Soldier Training Publication (STP)

Publications that contain critical individual tasks and other training information used to train soldiers in a specified MOS/SL. They standardize individual training; provide information and guidance in conducting individual training in the unit; and aid in training critical individual tasks. They consist of Soldier's Manuals, Trainer's Guides, Military Qualification Standards Manuals, and Officer Foundations Standards System Manuals.

Soldier's manual (SM)

List critical task summaries for a specific MOS and skill level (SL); provide conditions, standards, and performance measures for each critical task.; and are the base documents for all MOS-specific individual task training and evaluation.

Warrior Ethos

The Warrior Ethos forms the foundation for the American Soldier's spirit and total commitment to victory, in peace and war, always exemplifying ethical behavior and Army Values. Soldiers put the mission first, refuse to accept defeat, never quit, and never leave behind a fellow American. Their absolute faith in themselves and their comrades makes the United States Army invariably persuasive in peace and invincible in war.
