MEMORANDUM FOR THE ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

SUBJECT: Proposed Meetings With Chinese Vice-Premier Geng
Biao (U)

(U) In response to my official invitation, Vice-Premier Geng Biao of the People's Republic of China will visit the United States from May 27 to June 4. Vice-Premier Geng is the Secretary General of the Military Commission of the Chinese Communist Party. This commission is charged with formulating and implementing China's national defense policy.

(C) Because of Vice-Premier Geng's responsibilities, the growing importance of Sino-American relations, and the fact that I met with all of China's top leaders to include Hua Guofeng and Deng Xiaoping during my visit to China in January, I believe it would be appropriate for Geng to meet with the President, Vice-President, and yourself. My personal preference would be for separate meetings, since I had separate, substantive discussions with both Hua and Deng.

(C) Vice-Premier Geng will be in Washington on May 27-29. I request that you arrange the appropriate meetings for either the morning of Thursday, May 29th, or alternatively the afternoon of Wednesday, May 28th.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
SUBJECT. Geng Biao Visit - ACTION MEMORANDUM

Vice-Premier Geng's visits to Colorado Springs, San Diego, and Hawaii went very well. The Chinese were clearly impressed by the quality of the U.S. defense establishment. They were also aware that we had shown them much more than they showed you in January. This should help U.S. defense officials gain better access to Chinese facilities during future visits to China. Geng and Admiral Long got along well, and as expected Geng formally invited Bob to visit China at a convenient time.

The Chinese left happy. They also got the messages we sought to deliver. The step-by-step theme was repeated on several occasions. In his final toast in Hawaii, Geng even played back your quotation, "A fat man is not made in one mouthful". He also pledged that China would pursue our converging interests with the third world.

In recognition of the excellent support we received from all concerned, I recommend that you sign the attached thank you letters.

MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: Planning for the Geng Biao Visit. (U) ; INFORMATION
MEMORANDUM

(S) Gerry Dinneen and Nick Piatt have met with General Xu on several occasions to discuss plans for Vice-Premier Geng's visit to the U.S. This is where we stand:

- The Chinese have asked us to receive a 15-man advance party led by Vice Chief of Staff Liu for roughly three weeks beginning April 20. We have tentatively agreed to the advance visit pending official confirmation that Geng Biao accepts the May 27-June 4 dates you have suggested. We do not want the Chinese to hold a final formal commitment on Geng's visit hostage to the results of the advance trip.

- Meanwhile planning for both the advance team and the Geng Biao visits proceeds apace. We have developed an agenda, schedule, and itinerary for both the Advance Team and Geng Biao visits (see attached). The Chinese know that we plan to use your visit as a model for Geng's, with discussions in Washington on global and regional issues, arms control, and bilateral topics including technology transfers, military equipment sales, and the expansion of contacts between the two defense establishments

- On the key issue of military equipment sales, we have divided the list the Chinese gave us into three categories--items we will consider for export licenses, those for which we need more information, and those we will not consider. We have told the Chinese that we want the advance team to focus on the first two categories and only visit installations and commercial firms associated with those items that we will consider for export.

(S) We foresee a number of problems. The gap between Chinese expectations and U.S. inclinations on technology and equipment transfers is still wide. The Chinese have already requested some of the most sophisticated equipment we have. We are trying to limit this effort to probe the limits of our policy by telling them beforehand that we will not at this time consider such requests

They are much more interested in acquiring technology, while we emphasize sale of end-items. While we can try to turn off in advance their requests for very sophisticated equipment, we will not be able to define with any precision the boundaries of our policy until we are confronted with some actual decisions on license applications. My guess is that a mutually satisfactory visit will depend not only on the Chinese lowering their sights, but on our being more forthcoming than currently inclined. Decisions on specific types of equipment may well need to be resolved at the highest levels of the government.

(S) As far as concrete results of Geng's visit are concerned, the Chinese have indirectly raised the subject of a formal agreement on a number of occasions. We are not sure what they have in mind. Some form of Memorandum of Understanding might be useful in formalizing our current policy on technology transfers and equipment sales. We might draft an understanding on exchange visits. We will do some thinking on our own and will know more after we have talked to the Chinese.

(S) In the meantime we see no need for your direct involvement in the advance team's visit. In fact if Chinese expectations do become a problem, it will be better if you are not directly involved. We will keep you informed of our planning and seek your guidance on questions that arise. I would appreciate your views on progress so far and the itineraries that we have worked out.

We believe that it would be appropriate for Geng Biao to meet with the President, Vice-President and Ebigs during his visit to Washington. The attached memorandum asks Ebigs to make the necessary arrangements.

If approved, Geng's substitute itinerary would look like this:

Tuesday, May 27 Meeting with Secretary of Defense

Meeting with Director, Arms Control and Disarmament Agency

Wednesday, May 28 Meeting with Secretary of State

Visit to Congress (tentative)

Thursday, May 29 Meetings at White House

Meeting with Secretary of Defense

DINNEEN PROVIDED A RESPONSE TO THE SPECIFIC ITEMS RAISED BY XU DURING THE MARCH 25 MEETING (REF B). SPECIFICALLY, XU WAS INFORMED THAT THE NETWORK ANALYZER 8507A AND 8409A, THE PDP 11-34M HIGH RELIABILITY COMPUTER, AND THE LN33 AIRBORNE INERTIAL GUIDANCE SYSTEM SHOULD BE PLACED IN CATEGORY A-- ITEMS FOR WHICH WE WILL CONSIDER EXPORT LICENSE APPLICATIONS.

HE ALSO INDICATED THAT THE ADVANCE PARTY PLANNED TO LEAVE ON APRIL 18 FROM TOKYO TO HONOLULU AND STOP IN HAWAII FOR ONE OR TWO DAYS. HOWEVER, THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO TRAVEL DIRECTLY TO WASHINGTON IF WE PREFERRED. (FYI) OUR CURRENT THINKING IS TO FACILITATE A STOP IN HAWAII IF THE CHINESE WANT TO STAY FOR A SHORT PERIOD. THIS WOULD REQUIRE ASSISTANCE THROUGH CUSTOMS, MAKING HOTEL RESERVATIONS, AND PROVIDING GROUND TRANSPORTATION. WE WOULD NOT, HOWEVER, CONSIDER IT AN OFFICIAL STOP AND WE WOULD EXPECT THE CHINESE TO PAY THEIR OWN EXPENSES, AS WELL AS THEIR TRAVEL BETWEEN HAWAII AND D.C. IF YOU HAVE OTHER THOUGHTS, WE WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR VIEWS.

- FIRST, OUR RESPONSE SHOULD NOT BE TAKEN TO MEAN AGREEMENT. AGREEMENT MAY BE POSSIBLE, BUT WE WILL HAVE TO CONSIDER EACH CASE ON ITS SPECIFICS--SPECIFICS WHICH YOU WILL WORK OUT WITH THE INDIVIDUAL COMPANIES CONCERNED, AND WHICH WILL BE CONTAINED IN EACH EXPORT LICENSE APPLICATION.

- SECOND, WHILE WE WILL DO WHAT WE CAN TO EXPEDITE THE CONSIDERATION OF ANY EXPORT LICENSE APPLICATIONS FOR CHINA, WE WILL HAVE TO FOLLOW EXISTING PROCEDURES--PROCEDURES WHICH REQUIRE EACH APPLICATION TO BE REVIEWED BY SEVERAL AGENCIES WITHIN THE U.S. GOVERNMENT. THIS WILL TAKE TIME, ESPECIALLY GIVEN THE TYPE OF EQUIPMENT AND TECHNOLOGY INVOLVED

- WITH THAT BACKGROUND, WE WOULD PLACE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN CATEGORY A--ITEMS WHICH WE ARE PREPARED TO CONSIDER FOR EXPORT LICENSING.

(U) The final countdown for the Advance Delegation visit is proceeding smoothly.

(C) Nick Platt called me on Wednesday April 30, to inform him that the U.S. will credit the Chinese Air and Naval Attaches.

(C) To lower Chinese expectations on the outcome of the Geng Biao visit, he also provided Au with a primer on U.S. export controls which lays out once again the procedures for dual-use technology transfers and sales of military equipment. We have arranged for State to send the primer to Beijing in advance of the delegation departure and asked the Embassy to advise the Chinese so that we do not envisage any government-to-government agreement on such sales.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: Geng Biao's Schedule (U) - ACTION MEMORANDUM

(U) In early April, we sent you a proposed itinerary for the Geng Biao visit and have since coordinated it with the White House and State. The attached schedule is the result.

(S) In addition to your comments and approval of the schedule, we would like your views on who you would like to participate in the meetings here at Defense.

(CARL SMITH)

The first meeting covers global and regional security issues. For it, we recommend including Leonard Woodcock (who's here on home leave), Bob Komer, Dave McGriffert, Gerry Dinneen, Dick Holbrooke, Nick Platt, Thor Hanson, Roger Sullivan (Mike Oksenberg's replacement on the NSC staff), Col Bill Webb (the Defense Attache designee), LTC Ken Richeson (note taker), and Jim Brown (the interpreter).

(10115)

For the second meeting on technology transfers, equipment sales, and future contacts between the two defense establishments we would add RADM Sam Hubbard (from Gerry Dinneen's shop).

The White House and State have not yet indicated who they wish to invite to their meetings.

(U) LTC Dick Tiplady is working the invitation list for the welcoming dinner separately. For the lunch you are hosting on Tuesday, we will suggest including those attending that morning's meeting (less Webb and Richeson) plus General Jones, Reg Bartholemew (State PM), Mike Armacost, and LTC Gene Tighe

After the initial courtesies, Vice Premier Geng opened the conversation by noting this was his first trip to the United States. He said he was impressed with this great country and its people, noting that the United States stands in the front rank of advanced countries in its achievements in industry, agriculture, and economic construction. He added that this view was shared by all Chinese groups that he had visited in the United States.

Expressing appreciation for the great honor of having the opportunity to meet with the Vice President, Geng offered the appreciation of his country, government and people for the Vice President's assistance during his visit to China and in helping to arrange for "loans to China". Geng noted (incorrectly) that during the Vice President's visit, we had signed two water conservancy agreements. (Actually one hydropower and one cultural agreement.) He also noted that China had taken its seat in the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund.

The Vice President welcomed Geng and said he hoped that his visit was proving useful in serving to broaden and deepen our relationship. Commenting on Geng's praise of the great qualities of the American people, the Vice President observed that no group contributes more to the strength and vitality of the nation than the Chinese-American community. He then described the visit to a commune in Guangdong, where out of 2500 family units 2100 had relatives in the United States. (The Chinese interpreter mis-translated this as "200 families and relatives in the US.")

The President entered at this point. The press was admitted for a photo of the President with Geng.

The President greeted Geng and asked him to convey his best wishes to Premier and Goddess and Vice Premier Geng (Yaoping), noting that their contribution to our relationship is valued by all Americans. He said that Geng's visit following that of the Secretary of Defense was another step in what he was convinced would be steady progress to improve relations between our two countries. He noted we had a lot to learn from each other and share many interests in common in our search for peace and stability in Asia. The President added that he looked forward to receiving a complete report of Geng's conversations with the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of State, and Dr. Brzezinski. He emphasized that they speak accurately for him concerning our common interests involving the Soviet Union, Kampuchea, and other sensitive international issues. He said that there are some allies and friends -- and, of course, adversaries who looked with concern on our growing friendship. It was our common responsibility to convince them that the improvement of our relations would enhance world peace and stability, and advance the carrying out of our shared purposes.

our shared purposes

Geng agreed that our two countries share the same views. He then said he had been directed by Premier Hua to convey on his behalf his best regards; It had been Hua's intention, he said, to visit the United States in the latter half of this year, but that would not now be possible owing to a tight schedule. He still hoped, however, to visit the United States later.

The President said he looked forward to welcoming Hua here and hoped that he would be able to visit China as President of this country. Geng assured that he could receive a rousing welcome. He wished also to convey the best regards of Vice Premier Deng Xiaoping to the President, the Vice President, and the new Secretary of State, whom he congratulated on his appointment.

The President then asked Secretary Brown how the discussions were going. Secretary Brown reported that they had already discussed the world military situation extensively, but had not yet gone into detail on bilateral matters, including technology transfers and sales of military support equipment. There had been an advance team here discussing these matters in a preliminary way, Secretary Brown continued, and he thought it was clear that it be possible to decide on the grant of some licenses before the end of the visit. He added that there was a formal meeting on this scheduled for the next day and that he was sure both sides would be satisfied with the outcome.

Turning back to discussion of our common interests, the President emphasized that our unchanging opposition to Vietnam's invasion of Kampuchea and the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan were very important factors in our cooperation. Geng agreed and said that he looked forward to having in-depth discussions with the President's representatives on these issues. He added that it was his hope that when we take identical views on such issues, the United States would work on its allies while China worked on Third World countries, in effect taking parallel action toward common ends. The President then commented that he had read about Vice Premier Geng's background and experience and looked forward to getting his advice which, the President said, would be very valuable to us. The President concluded that we share so many common interests and so many common concerns, it is important that we look for ways to support each other in the United Nations, ASEAN and Africa, as we had already begun to do. The President then left the meeting after speaking hands with the members of Geng's party.

The Vice President continued the conversation by observing that when he visited China 10 months ago, the two sides had laid out an agenda to give substance to normalization. Since that time, he said, progress had been phenomenal. There has been the approval by Congress of the Trade Agreement and extension of Most Favored Nation treatment to China. The PFC had also taken the China seat in the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, as Geng had noted. He added that we were also broadening our military relationship, first with Secretary Brown's visit and now with Vice Premier Geng's. We have developed flourishing cultural and scientific exchanges and signed agreements on hydropower. It was hard to overestimate the degree to which we had made progress. There were, however, four matters on which progress was needed, the Vice President said: a textile agreement, which we want and believe is also in China's interest; a maritime agreement; a civil air agreement; a consular agreement; and further progress on our housing problem in Beijing. With those, the Vice President concluded, we would have made a tremendous amount of progress. Geng agreed that we had moved ahead very rapidly.

The Vice President ended the conversation by recalling how much he enjoyed his visit to China and particularly his meetings with Premier Hua and Vice Premier Deng, the warm reception people had given him in Xi'an, and the opportunity to open our new Consulate in Guangzhou. He asked Geng to convey to Hua and Deng how much he appreciated their kindnesses.

(C) After consulting with State and the NSC I propose that we schedule the Geng Biao visit for June 4-11 rather than May 27 - June 4. As of now Vice Premier Yu Ciuli, the top PRC economic official, is due in Washington late May after a visit to Canada. To heighten the impact of both Vice Premiers' Washington visits we need to put some space between them.

(C) Geng has proposed coming to Washington in April, to be preceded by an advance team in March. This is too early for us to staff properly and too soon after your trip to project the image of careful forward progress that you want. June, on the other hand, is responsive to the original Chinese request for a visit before July, and puts Geng in the roughly same time slot originally set aside for Party Chairman Hua Guofeng. We would propose to the Chinese that they send an advance team in late April, by which time we will be ready for them.

(U) Recommendation. That you approve adjustment of dates described above.
