ADMINISTRATION

GENERAL: Cadets report by 1600 the day before training is acquaint themselves with the ship, get bunk and lockers, and stow their gear. Upon reporting they deliver their service records to the OOD for arrival endorsement and present a valid (current) NSCC ID Card. Records are marked "U.S. NAVAL SEA CADET CORPS" in red on the front and back covers, and contain from top to bottom:

- a. Training Authorization (NSCTNG 024 - original)
- b. Record Of Cadet Advancement (NSC-19A)
- c. Cadet Application, Agreement, and Releases (NSCADM 001)
- d. Record of Medical History (NSC-5A)
- e. Record of Medical Examination (NSC-5B)
- f. Administrative Remarks (NSC-19B)
- g. Other Pertinent Documentation

Documents "a" through "e" are on the right side of the record, "g" and "h" are located on the left side.

NSCC Escort Officer will maintain cadet records, if none are embarked, however, ship's administrative personnel may do so, entering pertinent data on the Administrative Remarks (NSC-19B) and other appropriate pages. Upon completion of training, the OOD endorses the Training Authorization (NSCTNG 024) for departure.

MEDICAL: Navy and Coast Guard medical personnel may treat minor illnesses and injuries, which may occur during training. Additionally, the NSCC Accident Protection Plan (Cigna Plan PM-14790D-97) covers costs for treatment in civilian facilities up to $5,000.00 with a $50.00 deductible. Should transfer to a civilian facility be necessary, please notify Naval Sea Cadet Headquarters (NHQ) as quickly as possible, describing the problem and providing the name, address, and telephone number of the facility.

MEALS: NSCC personnel not on active duty must pay for meals. In accordance with NAVSUPINST 4061.9Z, charges are equal to current non-surcharged rates. If convenient to the command, NSCC personnel may, at the command's discretion, pay mess bills upon reporting aboard or upon completion of training. Rebates due. If any, may be reimbursed upon completion of training.

EXCHANGES: NSCC Personnel may purchase uniform and health/comfort items, but not tax-free tobacco, alcoholic beverages, or luxury items (cameras, personal stereos, etc.) from Navy Exchanges and Ship's Stores during training, unless they are military dependents or active duty personnel, and then only with the proper identification.

LIBERTY: The command may limit Cadet liberty to the base unless recreation facilities are inadequate. Cadets authorized off-base liberty must go with an Escort Officer or a reliable crewmember (female Cadets must be accompanied by a female). Except for organized tours, group activities, and visits with relatives, Cadet liberty expires at Taps.

DISCIPLINE: Cadets other than military dependents are not governed by the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) (but must observe ship's regulations). Should they present attitude or disciplinary problems, the command may terminate training and send them home at their own expense. However, they should not debark without firm travel arrangements made known to all concerned. In such cases, please notify NHQ and the NSCC Unit Commanding Officer (included in the Training Authorization (NSCTNG 024)) so they may take appropriate action.

NHQ Contacts: For assistance in situations not covered above, please contact NHQ at (703) 243-6910.

NSCC SHIPBOARD ORIENTATION

This orientation check-off list provides an overview of shipboard organization for Cadets and suggests opportunities for on-the-job training in several areas. It contains six modules, organized by departments, and provides for certain briefings prior to training. Because departmental organization varies according to ship types, Cadets cannot cover all areas in a single training cruise; therefore, this list serves for more than one cruise in all types of Navy/Coast Guard vessels. NSCC unit COs should encourage Cadets to train in different ship types for each successive cruise, i/e destroyer, cruiser, carrier, amphibious, etc. The orientation modules are:

- I. Deck / Weapons
- II. Navigation / Operations / Communications
- III. Engineering (Conventional)
- IV. Engineering (Gas Turbine)
- V. Air Department / Aviation Intermediate Maintenance Department (AIMD)
- VI. Supply / Administration / Medical

Departmental/division petty officers may sign and date the training objectives that the Cadets accomplish. To gain the maximum experience possible, Cadets should train in at least two departments during training. At NSCC unit level the CO retains the list in the Cadet's training record, recording completed objectives in the Administrative Remarks (NSC-19B).
