UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

GEORGE HARTZELL, OF PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, ASSIGNOR TO
JOHN P. REIFSNEIDER, ALFRED D. REIFSNEIDER, WILLIAM H. GOSNELL,
AND GEORGE HARTZELL, OF SAME PLACE.

DESIGN FOR BACKS OF LOUNGES.

Specification forming part of Design No. S.352, dated May 25, 1875; application filed April 2, 1875.
[Term of patent 3½ years.]

CASE A.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, GEORGE HARTZELL, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, have invented a Design for the Back of a Lounge, of which the following is a specification:

My design for the back of a lounge is fully shown in the accompanying illustration, the two views in which differ slightly in minor particulars without departing from the general character of the design, which comprises the two ornamented portions, a and b, between which intervenes the straight edging d, merging into the curved edging e. The portions a and b are scroll ornaments, of a character too clearly shown in the drawing to require detailed description.

I claim—

The design for the back of a lounge, comprising the ornamented portions a and b, straight edging d, and curved edging e, all substantially as described, and as illustrated in and by the accompanying photographic illustrations.

In testimony whereof I have signed my name to this specification in the presence of two subscribing witnesses.

GEO. HARTZELL.
