UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

AUGUSTUS CONRADT, OF MIDDLETOWN, CONNECTICUT, ASSIGNOR TO THE MIDDLETOWN PLATE COMPANY, OF SAME PLACE.

DESIGN FOR SALVERS.

Specification forming part of Design No. 9,214, dated April 11, 1876; application filed January 25, 1876.
[Term of Patent 7 years]

To all whom it may concern :

Be it known that I, AUGUSTUS CONRADT, of Middletown, county of Middlesex, State of Connecticut, have originated a new Design for Salvers, of which the following is a full, clear, and exact description, reference being had to the accompanying photographic illustration making part of this specification.

The nature of my design is fully represented in the accompanying photographic illustration, to which reference is made.

The salver is given the general form of a heart shape, as shown.

To this end the edge of the salver is composed of the segments of four circles. The edge at a is in the form of one segment, the curve being outward, and being broken at b to form an angle, as shown. The edge at c is in the form of an inwardly-curved segment, and the edge at d d is in the form of outwardly-curved segments of small circles, these latter curves joining the ends of the segment forming the edge at a to the ends of the segment forming the edge at c.

The salver may be engraved or ornamented with a relief-border, as shown in the illustration, or may be ornamented in any other desired manner. It is also preferably provided with handles, as shown. But I do not consider the pattern or engraving employed in the ornamentation, nor the handles, to be essential elements of my design.

What I claim as my invention is—

A salver having the form shown, viz: the sides a a curved out from the handles, the point b, the rounded corners d d, and concave edge c, substantially as set forth.

AUGUSTUS CONRADT.
