

DESIGN.

P. C. MASI.
JEWELRY-PENDANT.

No. 9,244.

Patented April 25, 1876.

WITNESSES

A. J. Gellasi
Villette Anderson

INVENTOR

Philip C. Masi
E. W. Anderson

ATTORNEY

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

PHILIP C. MASI, OF WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

DESIGN FOR A JEWELRY-PENDANT.

Specification forming part of Design No. 9,244, dated April 25, 1876; application filed April 8, 1876.
[Term of Patent 3½ years.]

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, PHILIP C. MASI, of Washington, in the county of Washington and District of Columbia, have originated and designed a Pattern for a Charm; and I do hereby declare that the following is a full, clear, and exact description of the construction and operation of the same, reference being had to the annexed drawings and photographic illustrations, making a part of this specification.

The nature of my design is fully represented in the accompanying drawings, to which reference is made.

The object of the design is to produce a pendant for jewelry, which will, by assembling a number of small articles usually associated with the Declaration of American Independence, commemorate this eventful occurrence, and serve as a memorial of the Centennial Anniversary thereof. It consists of a representation of the celebrated "Liberty Bell" in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, with the inscriptions thereon, and the line of fracture, clearly showing, suspended within a circular or oval opening in a star having thirteen points, each point indicative of one of the States represented in the Declaration of Independence.

This design may be suspended from a watch-guard or chatelaine, or from ear-rings; and the bell may be provided with a tongue or clapper.

These elements of my design may be made of any of the precious metals, or of an assemblage thereof, the bell being of silver, and the star of gold, or the converse; or I may employ any of the baser metals, or even wood.

What I claim as my invention is—

The design for a jewelry-pendant composed of the Liberty Bell, suspended within an aperture in a star having thirteen points, substantially as described, and shown in the accompanying drawing.

In testimony that I claim the above I have hereunto subscribed my name in the presence of two witnesses.

PHILIP C. MASI.

Witnesses:

F. J. MASI,
HOWARD ZEVELY.