UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

THOMAS HOLMES, OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

DESIGN FOR FANCY CASSIMERES.

Specification forming part of Design No. 9,950, dated May 1, 1877; application filed April 13, 1877.

[Term of Patent $3\frac{1}{2}$ years.]

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, THOMAS HOLMES, designer, of the city of Brooklyn, in the county of Kings and State of New York, have invented certain new and useful Improvements in Designs in Fancy Cassimeres; and I do hereby declare that the following is a full, clear, and exact description thereof, which will enable others skilled in the art to which it appertains to make and use the same, reference being had to the accompanying drawings, and to letters of reference marked thereon, which form a part of this specification.

The design is shown by accompanying photograph, of which the following is a description.

A represents a narrow stripe running warp-wise, and striping the pattern lengthwise. B represents a wider stripe, similar in weave to A, and striping the pattern in the same manner as A. C represents a wide stripe, formed by a double diagonal weave, and showing warp and weft in any colors desired. D represents a narrow stripe, formed in the same manner as C, and showing any colors desired.

I claim as my invention—

The design as above described, and shown by accompanying photograph.

In testimony that I claim the foregoing as my own I affix my signature in presence of two witnesses.

THOMAS HOLMES.
