

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

Mus 546.3.8(1)

१४

MASTERS OF RUSSIAN SONG

Collected and Edited by
KURT SCHINDLER

The English versions by George Harris, Jr., Deems Taylor, Sigmund Spaeth and Kurt Schindler

Vol. I. Twenty-five songs by Moussórgsky
Vol. II. Twenty-five songs by Balákireff, Tchaïkovsky, Rimsky-Kórsakoff, Borodíne, Gretchanínoff and Rachmáninoff.

Paper edition, $1.25 net each volume
Both volumes bound in one in cloth, gilt, $3.50 net

New York · G. SCHIRMER · Boston

M. 543.3.8 (1)

Copyright, 1917. by G. Schirmer

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

DEC 9 1966

EDA KUHN LOEB MUSIC LIBRARY

PREFACE

This volume of twenty-five songs by Moussórgsky is offered to the public of America and all other English-speaking countries with the earnest hope that it may definitely and lastingly contribute to the appreciation and understanding of this greatest of innovators and prophets in modern music. While the success of his historical opera "Boris Godounoff" has firmly established his name with American opera-goers, and while the serene and lofty strains of his other operatic work, "Khovánshtchina," have found many admirers among those privileged to attend its few performances in Russian at Drury Lane, yet for several reasons Moussórgsky's operas do not permit a complete evaluation of his genius; first of all, because in dealing with subjects that picture to a large extent the life of the Russian people in its manifold aspects, Moussórgsky's fanatical love of veracity, coupled with a purposeful idealism that verged upon self-abnegation, induced him to let the people speak in their own medium, the Russian folk-song, which he knew how to incorporate in his work as no other before or after him (and we must admit that no "composed" substitute would have been as good). Another reason why a critique based solely upon these operas must lack in accuracy, is, that both works have been largely made over by Rimsky-Kórsakoff, not only in orchestration but also in the building of Ensemble-scenes and Finales. That this was done with the fine theatrical sense of a great practitioner as well as with the delicate tact of a friend, no one can deny, nor that Rimsky's brilliant orchestration and climaxes certainly hastened the recognition of these operas; yet for those who know the sum of Rimsky's own operatic work, there is little doubt as to where, in "Boris" and "Khovánshtchina," the original stops and the retouche begins. A certain rectangular, pompous, over-regular style, an unnecessary polyphony, and a taint of conventionality, from which Rimsky was not altogether free, creep in from time to time; and for the most part one can easily distinguish the true from the "edited" Moussórgsky. This task will be especially facilitated by a perusal of his songs, because there one never finds a trace of conventionality, never a line too much, rather a desire to say the most possible with the simplest means—almost sketch-like at times—finally, a meticulous attention to correct declamation down to the reproduction of the minutest inflections of the spoken word.

A contemporary of Wagner, Moussórgsky has solved in his own way—without much theorizing—the problem of musical declamation, being led merely by his desire to be absolutely true to life. The guiding advice of his elder friend, Balákireff (who foresaw this development), a rare gift for acoustical observation, scrupulous studies, and an unerring steadfastness of purpose, thus led Moussórgsky to find his own mode of expression, which is unlike any other's. It is not a style, not a pattern, but is new and reborn with every new problem which he attacks. It is so free, so intangible, so without compromise and convention, that one stands before his creations amazed, as before Nature herself.

The key to Moussórgsky's work is the spiritual personality of the man himself; that is why he cannot be imitated. If certain pages in Debussy's scores have similar melodic contours or harmonies, they are so much amalgamated with this Frenchman's peculiar style, that the idea of imitation is out of the question. The point is that Debussy is essentially a man of style, of patterns, of an individual, hyper-civilized musical vision (I say this in no derogatory sense). This is in direct opposition to the genius of Moussórgsky, who is rugged, frank, untrammelled, and who strikes at the very roots of things, laying open their inmost soul and letting it speak for itself, free of all personal admixture; an "impressionist" of the soul, in fact, if one dare thus freely apply the name of the painter-school of Manet and Monet to a musician, inasmuch as the revolutionizing process, the gradual evolving of a new ideal of expression, is much the same in both cases.

The only one of the younger Russian school who is called a disciple of Moussórgsky, by reason of the freedom and audacity of his conceptions, Igor Stravínsky, is, however, far from the roots and mainsprings of Moussórgsky's art. His extraordinary technique leads him to an external, kaleidoscopic portrayal of life, quite unlike the direct simplicity, the power of divination of the master.

To study Moussórgsky's work is a profound experience in a musician's life, one likely to revolutionize not only accepted musical standards, but also to enlarge his vision of the spiritual and psychic powers of music. It is futile to argue, as many of Moussórgsky's contemporaries did, that he lacked technique, that his artistic equipment was amateurish, that his originality was freakishness. We who are able to envisage the entire field of his life's work, and to gauge the tremendous seriousness and achievement of it, can appreciate the sum of its energy, the unerring logic of it all, the long path of self-development that he travelled.—Moussórgsky was young enough, when he took up music as a career, to assimilate all the classical technique of music, if he had so desired. But his conviction was bent upon finding his own way, free from all convention, to express all the emotions of the human heart as faithfully to nature as possible. And so he began his way, at first stumbling and staggering, often rugged and uncouth in his work, but finally arriving at heights of overpowering directness and lucidity. Thus his life's achievement stands before us completed in a Rembrandtian chiaroscuro, with the high lights always placed where they lay bare the essential life of the soul. This is why his songs are such revelations of psychology, and why the character of Boris Godounoff or of Dosifiéi and Marfa in "Khovánshtchina" affect audiences with the direct power of Shakespearian drama.

Moussórgsky's songs constitute the bulk and mainstay of his artistic bequest. Besides these, and the two completed operas, he wrote only two operatic fragments ("The Fair of Sorótchinsk" and "The Wedding"); a small number of less significant piano-pieces, an orchestral fantasy, and a few choral works (among them the superb biblical cantata "Joshua"). But among the songs there is a wide variety, and here we find the Moussórgsky who uncovers the soul of his art in all its purity. Here he is usually free from the influence of the Russian folk-song, which otherwise so engrossingly preoccupied him as to become almost a part of his own self. The collections comprising the four "Songs and Dances of Death" and the six songs of the cycle "Without Sunlight" show us the quintessence of Moussórgsky. They were written during the darkest period of his life, after his opera "Boris" had, despite its success, been banished from the stage because of political intrigue, and while he was living in poverty and seclusion with his poet-friend, Count Golénishtcheff-Kutóózoff. Here we find a descriptive power uncanny in its visual correctness; melodic lines of undreamt-of boldness; harmonies that none other heard or felt before him; and a masterful handling of technical resources and of declamation.

Probably no layman can imagine the difficulty of translating these strange and powerful musical incarnations into poetic or even adequate English. This, then, being the first time that these song-cycles are given in English versions, no effort was spared by my collaborators and myself to render them as perfectly as possible; many a poem in this volume has been translated four or five times, before one compound version was deemed acceptable.

I was singularly fortunate in having as my collaborators such men of both musical and literary ability as Messrs. George Harris, Jr., and Deems Taylor; while for the correctness of the translation my wife (herself a Russian) and myself stand sponsors. Thus I can vouch for the conscientiousness with which the attempt has been made to render every shade of the literary meaning into English idiom, as well as for the scrupulous care taken to have everything singable and correctly accented. Being myself a hearty believer in the use of the English language for song-recitals—since non-understanding or half-understanding on the part of the audience kills the very sense of such entertainments—I find it especially needed in the case of Moussórgsky's songs, where word and music form the most intimate union, and where the one conveys nothing without the other. Apart from this, the use of French, German, or even Italian translations seems quite inappropriate before an English-speaking audience, as I said, six years ago, in the preface to "A Century of Russian Song." This earlier collection, which has so effectively instilled a love for Russian Song in America, already contained eleven songs by Moussórgsky, which of course have not been included in the present volume. Interested musicians may want to consult these, especially as they will find among them one additional song from each of the afore-mentioned song-cycles, which could not well be included here.

All periods of Moussórgsky's productivity from 1857 to about 1880, are represented in this new collection. The years of the forming of his personality (1865-67), when he lived in the country near Pskoff, and observed and analyzed the melodies and unconscious musical expressions of the peasants all around him, are especially featured; the "Orphan Girl," the "Love-Song of the Idiot," the "Magpie," and the biblical "Song of Solomon" (noted down from the lips of Jewish peasants), are among the first-fruits of this period of observation, during which he was bent upon deeper psychology and expression; written during this same period, songs like "The Bank of the Don" and the "Country Feast" attest to his happy gift of description.

The humorous side of Moussórgsky, which is such an essential and unique feature of his work, is represented by the excruciatingly funny adventures of the young Latin scholar (the Seminarian), by the Doll's Cradle-Song, and finally by the dances of Parásha and Khivria (from the Little-Russian opera-fragment "The Fair of Sorótchinsk"). Little-Russian melodies, so different in kind from the Northern Russian music, attracted Moussórgsky's attention frequently, and his "Dnyéper-Song" is the very embodiment of the proud, fiery music of the Cossacks. The "Revery of the Young Peasant," and the song "Little Star so bright," in their close affinity to the pure Russian folk-song, show how deeply the composer had entered into and comprehended the soul of the Russian peasant. Finally, two battle-songs stand out from all the rest as towering creations of vital import to our war-ridden age. "After the Battle," the ballad of the lonely soldier who dies far from wife and child, is impressive beyond description. With a simple but inexorable rhythm, with harsh and pitilessly logical harmonies, the grim picture is evoked. Moussórgsky was inspired to write it after seeing Verestchágin's painting of the same subject at a picture exhibit. Tsar Alexander II, who visited the same gallery a few days later, was so violently affected by the picture's strong realism, that the painter, out of deference to the Tsar, destroyed his own work. The tone-picture, however, that it inspired in Moussórgsky lives on with us, as one of the most powerful delineations in modern music. And what shall we call the song of "Death the Commander," if not the very incarnation in music of the horror of War?

The last number of this volume—not strictly a song, but a dramatic excerpt of melodies from the opera "Khovánshtchina"—was included to illustrate the ultimate period of the composer's creativeness, and the strains of sublime mysticism which his genius could then evoke. Marfa, a young fanatic belonging to the sect of "Old-Believers," finds herself cut off by the enemy's troops in a dense forest, with her co-sectarians, who choose to die on a funeral pyre rather than surrender. In the supreme moment Prince Khovansky, son of a dethroned Boïar, but dearly beloved by Marfa, joins her in the forest; and she, inspired with the spirit of self-immolation, bids him die with her, and consecrates him with the "Hallelujah of Love," while slowly circling about him with a lighted candle in each upraised hand. This scene belongs to the most sublime that can be seen on the stage, and the music reveals the mystic and divine powers of the soul. Americans have the right to know of it, even though the Metropolitan opera-stage still continues to bar the opera itself. That is why it was chosen to end this book.

I cannot close this introductory note without once more expressing my thanks and indebtedness to Messrs. George Harris, Jr., and Deems Taylor for the unfaltering patience and painstaking labor by which they have made it possible for me to present this volume and its companion (twenty-five songs by Balákireff, Tchaïkovsky, Borodíne, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Gretchanínoff and Rachmáninoff). It was their conviction as well as mine that we were trustees of an important bequest to the American public, and it was in this spirit of earnest devotion that all obstacles were approached.

Stony Brook, L. I., August 26, 1917.

KURT SCHINDLER.

Short Explanatory Notes

- No. 4. The Country Feast. The frequent changes of rhythm need not disturb any singers. The song draws on slowly and easily, with no change of the basic quarter-note. The interpretation has to consist mainly in bringing out the broad humor of the words, observing all the marks for expression and dynamics. In winter-time the Russian peasants wear clumsy furs and boots, and there is much pomp and ceremony in their festivities. Hence the heavy rhythm, which is in reality the rare $\frac{11}{4}$, known only in Russian folk-song (compare the Finale of "Snyegóurotchka," with its pompous Hymn to the Sun).
- No. 5. Love-Song of the Idiot. One day in the country Moussórgsky witnessed a strange scene, which passed directly beneath his window. The village simpleton ("Yuródivui," as he is called in Russia), a poor half-witted wretch, was confronting one of the village belles, pouring out in breathless, pleading accents his long-repressed love for her. There was a touching, imploring chant, a real melody, in his voice, and the fascinated listener jotted down, unheeded, the intonations of the poor boy. From this sketch grew the song, which can be correctly interpreted only when the same tone of pleading, relentless, hopeless despair is employed by the singer. In spite of all their mockery, the Russian peasants have a superstitious reverence for their "Yuródivui," to whom they impute the power of second sight.
- No. 6. The Orphan Girl. This tune was likewise culled from the lips of peasants. Although I never doubted the fact (not chronicled elsewhere by Moussórgsky's biographers), I was able recently to establish it, when perusing a Russian museum-publication on the songs of the "Kalíki perekhózhie," the wandering beggar-groups of Russia. There I found the music of a typical beggar-verse ("Stikh níshtchikh") with the same rhythm and melodic outline as this Orphan Song. It begins, "May the Lord be kind to you, you and all your ancestors!"
- No. 7. The Seminarian. Latin students the world over have to "cram their heads" with the famous list of exceptional masculine nouns "Panis, piscis, crinis, finis"; and it may be taken for granted that a goodly proportion of the public understands the dread that these words evoke in young scholars. One feature of the humor of this song may escape the attention of those who have never attended services of the Russian Orthodox Church. The middle section, describing the holy mass, down to the point where the Seminarian intones a psalm "in the sixth liturgic mode," is actually written in the modal sequences of the so-called sixth tone of the Russian Liturgy. For those unfamiliar with the institutions of the Russian Church, be it explained that "Father Simeon" is a lay priest, a "Pope," and consequently is allowed to marry, and to have a beautiful daughter.

- No. 13. Death's Lullaby. As in Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," it is necessary that the interpreter should use different intonations for the pleading of the mother and for the cold, inexorable answers of Death. Especially important is this change of voice for the icy "No!" which cuts off the heart-cry of the mother (last page but one).
- No. 15. Death the Commander. In the last nine bars Death dances a Trepák, the accentuated Russian peasant-dance.
- No. 17. Silently Floated a Spirit. An early counterpart to Rossetti's "Blessed Damozel," one of the few pure lyrics in Moussórgsky's work.
- No. 18. The Doll's Cradle Song. Moussórgsky took delight in reproducing all the dainty, minute inflections of the child's voice. In singing it, one should try to imitate the melodious drawl of the youngster, almost relapsing into speech at the end.
- No. 19. Night. An early work, and one of the few erotic lyrics from Moussórgsky's pen. It has a particularly fine sweep and much subtle detail; the spirit of Púshkin and Turgéniéff breathes in it. The name of the author of the poem is not given.
- No. 22. Retrospect. Mark the extraordinary movement of triplets in the visionary middle part! This device was adopted by Debussy in "Pelléas."
- No. 23. Resignation. Mark the keen incisiveness of the harmonies and the power of saying much with small means, as if sketching!
- No. 24. Elegy. This song is very difficult to interpret. It needs supreme poise and a great gift for contrast on the part of both singer and pianist. Keep the first page and a half very quiet, the next-following one and a half page fleeting, shadowy, restless; then, after a short episode of sweet reminiscence, a rising whirlwind of shadows sweeps on, finally sinking down into itself like a fire-brand that is extinguished. "The great sad bell of Death" rings, as from an unseen monastery, and all ends in a dim haze of twilight.
- No. 25. Consecration. The first page and a half, and the entire end of this number, are taken from the last (4th) act of the opera. The middle section (which in the last act returns only as a short reminiscence) is given in its full form as found in the 3d act.

Index of Titles

After the Battle. (Baritone)	3
After Years. (Baritone)	98
A Phantasy. (Tenor)	90
Banks of the Don (The). (Mezzo or Baritone)	50
Consecration. (Dram. Mezzo or Contralto)	113
Country Feast (The). (Baritone)	14
Death's Lullaby. (Mezzo or Contralto)	60
Death's Serenade. (Mezzo or Baritone)	66
Death, the Commander. (Tenor)	72
Doll's Cradle-Song (The). (Mezzo or Soprano)	87
Elegy. (Baritone)	107
Hallelujah of Love. (Dram. Mezzo or Contralto)	113
In My Attic. (Baritone)	96
Little Star so Bright. (Soprano)	6
Love-Song of the Idiot. (Baritone)	18
Magpie (The) and the Little Gypsy Dancer. (Mezzo)	9
On the River Dnyéper. (Tenor)	54
Orphan Girl (The). (Mezzo)	22
Parásha's Revery and Dance. (Soprano)	44
Resignation. (Baritone)	104
Retrospect. (Baritone)	100
Revery of the Young Peasant. (Tenor)	40
Seminarian (The). (Baritone)	25
Silently Floated a Spirit. (Any voice)	83
Song of Khívria (The). (Mezzo)	32
Song of Solomon (The). (Tenor or Soprano)	80

Index of First Lines

As the wild rose am I	80
By the Don a flow'ry lane	50
Deep shadows veil the night	107
Dnyéper, ho! Dnyéper, hark!	54
Faintly the child sighs	60
Father! love is my only sin	113
Grieve no longer, my belovèd	44
He met his death in foreign land	3
Just look upon me!	32
Last night, in the crowd, you ignored me	98
Little star so bright	6
Lone in my little room	96
My heart, why weepest thou?	40
Oh, Mister, please be good!	22
O my Sávishna	18
Panis, piscis, crinis, finis	25
Resign! thou art but born to weary	104
Silently floated a spirit	83
Sweet-scented breath of Night	66
The vain and noisy day is done	100
They had opened wide the mighty doors of oak	14
Thro' my garden wicket hopping	9
Thy gracious image spreads upon me its enchantment	90
Tiapa, bye-bye	87
With crash of battle, armor gleaming	72

After the Battle
A BALLAD
(Balláda)

English version* by
Geo. Harris, Jr., and
Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Alla marcia. Sostenuto, ma non troppo

Voice

He met his death in for - eign land, In

Piano

sf p pesante

bit - ter fight - ing, hand to hand; His friends have won the vic - to - ry, And

cresc.

they are shout - ing. On - ly he, For - got - ten un - der - neath the skies, A - lone he lies. And

dim. sf

*Original poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff - Kutóozoff (after the destroyed picture by Vassili V. Vereshchágin).

down there sweeps a greed-y crow To drink his blood that still doth flow, He picks his eyes that still do glow'r With death-ly glance in death's own hour; He drinks his fill, he leaves his prey And flies a - way. A - far at home a - cross the wild

2 Ped.

One lone-ly moth-er rocks her child: "Be still, be still!

ah! shed no tear, For soon your fa - ther will be

cresc. p

here, And then we shall have pies and cake, That I shall dim. dim.

bake?— Be - neath dark skies A - lone he lies.

rall. ppp

Little Star So Bright (Gdye tui zvyózdotchka?)

English version by Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

Words and Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1857)
Posthumous work, revised by
V. G. Karatuigin

Adagio

Voice

Piano

mf

Lit - tle

f mf

star so ³ bright, Where dost thou hide thy light? Has a mp mf p

storm - cloud black o - ver - cast thy ray, O - ver - cast thy ray in the

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

black of night?

p

p

p

Where art thou, maid-en fair, With thy locks of gold-en hair? Hast for -

pp

p

mf

f

p

sak - en thy love, hast thou left him in de-spair, Him, so true and so brave, true be -

mf

sf

f

p

yond com - pare? Now the star is hid by the black cloud deep; In her lone-ly grave lies the maid, a - - perdendosi sleep.

The Magpie and the Little Gypsy Dancer
A HUMORESQUE
(Soróka)

English version by
Kurt Schindler
After the poem by Pushkin

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1867)

Allegretto non troppo

Voice p staccato

Thro' my gar-den wick-et hop-ping,

Piano mf sf p pp p sf p

Who comes chat-tring bright and gay? 'Tis the mag-pie, she's a pro-phet, She an-nounc-es guests to-day— In the morn-ing air a-tink-ling Sound a my-riad crys-tal bells;

sf p pp

2^{da}

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of three systems of music. The first system shows the beginning of the piece with the tempo marking 'Allegretto non troppo'. The voice part starts with a rest, followed by the lyrics 'Thro' my gar-den wick-et hop-ping,'. The piano accompaniment features dynamic markings of mf, sf, p, and pp. The second system continues the voice part with the lyrics 'Who comes chat-tring bright and gay? 'Tis the mag-pie, she's a pro-phet, She an-nounc-es'. The piano accompaniment includes dynamic markings of sf, p, and sf. The third system shows the voice part with the lyrics 'guests to-day— In the morn-ing air a-tink-ling Sound a my-riad crys-tal bells;'. The piano accompaniment features dynamic markings of sf, p, and pp. The score concludes with a '2^{da}' marking, indicating a second ending.

mf

Pur - ple slants the sun - light, sil - ver Lies on snow - clad

p Allegro

hills and dells. Chimes are float - ing thro' the air:— Lo, I see a

mf f

mar - ket - square, Lads and maid - ens, young and old, — Come to see the vil - lage fair.

p

In their midst a Gyp - sy danc - es, Cast - ing round co - quet - tish glanc - es,

sf mf

Beats her tam-bou - rine so spright - ly, Waves her ker-chief to the throng,

The first system of music features a vocal line on a treble clef staff and a piano accompaniment on a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The vocal line begins with a dynamic marking of sf (sforzando) followed by mf (mezzo-forte). The piano accompaniment includes dynamic markings of sf and p (piano).

sf p cresc. mf cresc.

Skip-ping, trip-ping, smil - ing bright - ly; Then in - tones her lit - tle song:

The second system continues the musical piece. The vocal line has dynamic markings of sf, p, cresc. (crescendo), mf, and cresc.. The piano accompaniment includes markings of sf, p, and cresc..

sf f

"Hark, good peo-ple, to my songs, and lis - ten well, By my

The third system shows the vocal line with dynamic markings of sf and f (forte). The piano accompaniment also features sf and f markings.

cards your for-tunes let me tell!"

The fourth system concludes the page with the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano accompaniment includes dynamic markings of sf and mf.

Tempo I°

p staccato

And the mag-pie still is hop-ping, Chat-t'ring, bab-bling, bright and gay,—

pp

mf

She's an - oth - er lit - tle Gyp - sy, She's a pro - phet in her way.—

sf p sf p sf sf sf

p

In the morn - ing air a - tink - ling Sound a my - riad

pp

2^{da}

mf

crys - tal bells, And the sun - light sheds its

p

pp
sil - ver O - ver snow - clad hills and dells.

Allegro
p cresc. mf cresc.

While the lit - tle Gyp - sy danc - es, Cast - ing round co - quet - tish glanc - es:

f
"Hark, good peo - ple, to my songs, and lis - ten well, -

By my cards your for - tunes let me tell!"

The Country Feast

(Peerōōshka)

Poem by Koltzōff
English version by
Geo. Harris, Jr.

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1867)

Tranquillo

Voice

They had o-pened wide the might-y doors of oak;

Piano

p

Some on horse and some in sleds the guests ar-rived. In sa-lute the host and

f f

host-ess bowed to them; From the court they led them to the light-ed hall,

p mf p

f mf p

Where they knelt be - fore the sa - cred im - a - ges,

pp

Then as - sem - bled round the ta - bles rich - ly decked, -

mf sf sf

And up - on the oak - en bench - es sat them down.

mf p sf

In a hand-some dress of mus-lin trimm'd with fringe, The young wife, en-dear-ing with her soft black eyes, Moved a - mong the guests with kiss-es for them all, Of - fring them the bowl of hos-pi - tal - i - ty;

While the host him - self dippl'd out the foam - ing beer

With a spoon em-boss'd with legends of his house, And the mas-ter's daugh-ter, pass-ing mead to them, Went a-mong the guests with her sweet, child-like smile.

Thus the guests did eat and drink and laugh and talk. From the close of day un - til the mid - night hour.

Love-Song of the Idiot
(Svyétik Sávishna [Yuródivu])

English version by
Geo. Harris, Jr., and
Kurt Schindler

Words and Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1865)

Allegro

Voice

Piano

O my Sá - vish - na,

Bright-eyed fal - con mine, Give thy love to me, Though a fool I be!

See how poor I am, Long for thy ca - ress! O my love - ly bird,

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of three systems of music. The first system shows the beginning of the piece with the tempo marking 'Allegro'. The voice part starts with the lyrics 'O my Sá - vish - na,'. The piano accompaniment features a right-hand part with a melodic line and a left-hand part with a steady rhythmic accompaniment. Dynamics include mf and sf. The second system continues the vocal line with 'Bright-eyed fal - con mine, Give thy love to me, Though a fool I be!'. The piano accompaniment continues with similar dynamics. The third system concludes the phrase with 'See how poor I am, Long for thy ca - ress! O my love - ly bird,'. The piano accompaniment ends with a f dynamic. The score includes various musical notations such as treble and bass clefs, time signatures, and dynamic markings.

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

p

Bright-eyed fal-con mine, Love-ly Sá-vish-na, My I - vá - nov - na!

f mf mf sf sf

Scorn me not for my Na - ked mis - er - y, Scorn me not for my

p p p

Fate un - for - tu - nate! See, the peo - ple laugh At my ug - ly shape, p f f

See how curst I am By their mock - er - y! And the pass - ers - by mf ff

Call me weak of mind, And they bow and laugh At God's ho - ly fool;

Love - ly Sá - vish - na, My I - vá - nov - na! With their feet they kick Me, the ho - ly fool,

With their fists they rain Blows up - on my head. But on hol - i - days, When the peo - ple feast,

And a - dorn them - selves With red rib - bons gay, Then they kind - ly throw Bits of bread to me,

They do not for-get God's own ho-ly fool. Love-ly Sá-vish-na, Bright-eyed fal-con minel

Love me, e-ven though I'm not beau-ti-ful, Love me, com-fort me In my lone-li-ness!

How I long for thee I could nev-er tell! Love-ly Sá-vish-na, Trust, or trust me not,

My I - vá - nov - nal

The Orphan-Girl

(Sirótka)

English version by
Geo. Harris, Jr., and
Kurt Schindler

Words and Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1868)

Andante (alla breve)

Voice: f..... mf..... f..... f.....
Oh, Mis-ter, please be good! Dear Mis-ter, please be kind!

Piano: i. h. sf f p f p

Voice: p cresc. pp
Please let me tell to you, I am an or - phan, a home - less child!

Piano: p pp

Voice: f..... dim. p mf cresc. mf
Hear what I say! Hun-ger and cold have been sup-ber and bed for me,

Piano: sf p sfp sf p

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

f Night was my shel - ter and snow was my cov - er - let; mf All the peo - ple

The first system of music features a vocal line in treble clef and a piano accompaniment in grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The vocal line begins with a forte (f) dynamic and ends with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic. The piano accompaniment includes dynamics such as mf, sf, p, and p.

mf scold - ed me and sent me a - way in tears, — f Scorn was the p one re - ply —

The second system continues the musical piece. The vocal line starts with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic, reaches a forte (f) dynamic, and ends with a piano (p) dynamic. The piano accompaniment includes dynamics such as p and cresc. (crescendo).

That I re - ceiv'd in my mis - er - y. f Oft in the p for - est I

The third system shows the vocal line with dynamics f and p. The piano accompaniment includes dynamics cresc., sf, and pp. There are also markings for 2^a and 2^{da} in the bass line.

hide my - self, mf sad and lone - ly, Then hun - ger p calls me and makes me re - turn a - gain... My strength is gone, I must eat, I must drink once more!

The fourth system features the vocal line with dynamics mf and p. The piano accompaniment includes dynamics pp and sf. There are also markings for 2^a and 2^{da} in the bass line.

f

f sf f sf f dim.

2 And

Oh, Mis-ter, please help me! Dear Mis-ter, have pit - y! Let me not

p mf poco agitato

p pp mf

die of hun - ger! Let me not freeze to death! — Dear Mis-ter, please help me!

poco accel.

f

cresc.

Please let me tell to you, I am an or - phan, a home-less child!

a tempo

p

sf pp ppp

And And

The Seminarian (Seminarist)

English version by
Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

A HUMORESQUE

Words and Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1866)

Allegro moderato

Voice

p f

Pa-nis, pis-cis, cri-nis, fi-nis; ig-nis, la-pis, pul-vis, oi-nis... Oh, these

Piano

p f

mf p

Lat-in words! they drive me mad! Or-bis, am-nis et ca-na-lis, or-bis, am-nis et ca-na-lis.

dim. p

f mf f

Such grim bless-ing from the priest I've had! How he cuff'd and

f mf f sf

kick'd me, gave me— man-ya-bruise and scrape, With his ho - ly—

hand he near-ly— knock'd me out of shape!

Fas-cis, a-xis, fu-nis, en-sis; fus-tis, ves-tis, ver-mis, men-sis.

Fa - ther Sim - eon has a daugh - ter, such a sweet, de - mure one!

p

She has cheeks as red as pop-pies, lan - guid eyes that lure_ one;

p cresc.

mf p

Crim-son is the smock that hides her waist so slen-der, Snow-y white her bos - om,

mf p

f

swel-ling smooth and ten-der. Fas-cis, a-xis, fu-nis, en-sis; fus-tis, ves-tis, ver-mis, men-sis...

f

ff

Ah, my Stio-sha, lit - tle dar - ling! How I'd dear-ly_ love to hold you, To

ff

dim.

kiss you mad-ly, in my lov-ing arms to en-fold you!

dim. mf dim. p

p pp p

Pos-tis, fol-lis, cu-cu-mis, at-que pol-lis, at-que pol-lis... cu-cu-mis,

pp

cu-cu-mis. Late-ly at the cel-e-cele-bration of a

cresc.

spe-cial mass in hon-or of the Ho-ly Mi-thro-do-

cresc.

ra, I in-toned a psalm in the sixth li-tur-gic

The first system of music features a vocal line in treble clef and a piano accompaniment in grand staff. The key signature is three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and the time signature is 2/4. The vocal line begins with a rest followed by the lyrics 'ra, I in-toned a psalm in the sixth li-tur-gic'. The piano accompaniment starts with a piano (p) dynamic and includes a mezzo-forte (mf) section. The system concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

mode. All the while my left eye wan-der'd, could not keep from

The second system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line lyrics are 'mode. All the while my left eye wan-der'd, could not keep from'. The piano accompaniment features a piano (p) section followed by a pianissimo (pp) section. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

stray-ing, Steal-ing glanc-es at my Stio-sha, who stood close at hand, de-

The third system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line lyrics are 'stray-ing, Steal-ing glanc-es at my Stio-sha, who stood close at hand, de-'. The piano accompaniment includes a pianissimo (pp) section. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

vout-ly pray-ing.

The fourth system concludes the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line lyrics are 'vout-ly pray-ing.'. The piano accompaniment features a piano (p) section followed by a fortissimo (sf) section. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

f mf cresc. f

Dear me! Fa-ther Sim-eon saw it all, Af-ter mass

mf cresc. mf cresc.

call'd me out in - to the hall; Then up-on my pate his Rev-rence served a three-fold

f

ben - e - dic-tion! Then with might and main he made me cram my head with ff cresc. ff

Lat - in gram-mar: Or-bis, am-nis et ca-na-lis, et ca-na-lis, san-guis, un-guis et an-na-lis,

cresc.
et an-na-lis.

sf mf dim. p dim.

p
 Thus by Sa - tan I was tempt-ed Right with - in the ho - ly

tem - ple of our Lord! mf cresc.
Am-nis et an-na-lis,

r. h.

f cresc. ff
 san-guis, un-guis et ca-na-lis, et ca-na-lis, et ca-na-lis.

mf

The Song of Khívria

The Buxom Matron

COMIC DANCE-SONG

English version by Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

(Little-Russian)

Music* by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1877)
Edited by A. Lyádoff

Allegretto scherzando Rather broadly

Voice

Just look up - on me! None can de - ny my charm! Who would not love me, such a charm - ing love - bird? Who would not glad - ly seek me, when the night is fall - ing? Who would not run to meet me when the night is fall - ing?

Piano

The musical score consists of three systems. Each system has a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The first system is marked 'Allegretto scherzando' and 'Rather broadly'. The piano part features a triplet in the first measure and dynamic markings of f, p, and f. The lyrics are: 'Just look up - on me! None can de - ny my charm! Who would not love me, such a charm - ing love - bird? Who would not glad - ly seek me, when the night is fall - ing? Who would not run to meet me when the night is fall - ing?'.

* From the opera "The Fair of Sorótchinsk" (1877), the text adapted from the like-named tale by Gógol in his novels "Evenings at Dikánka." Khívria, the stepmother of Parásha (the heroine of Gógol's story), is a buxom matron, still far from averse to an occasional flirtation. She sings this song during the absence of her husband, the peasant Tcherevik, while she is awaiting the arrival of her lover Afanásius Ivánovitch, the pope's son, for whom she has prepared a delicious repast.

Andantino rall. A tempo. Andantino cantabile

When the night is fall - ing? — Why does my be-lov-ed not ap - pear?_ All the dump-lings ru-ined! All the love-ly pan-cakes grow-ing cold!

pp

pppp rall. Andante

Ah_ mel Oft I wan-der'd through the_ fields, through the wood, through the wood,

p

Through the val-leys, o - ver_ moun-tains off to the fair, off to the fair!

Easter-buns I used to sell there, three a-piece, two for five. All the Cossacks used to buy them

p

Lento

just from me, on-ly me. Where's my la-zy lover? Still I'm wait-ing.

Moderato più calmando e dim.

The dev-il take the ras-cal! Nev-er mind, I'll stop my fret-ting,

mf p

'Tis no time for griev-ing, Ra-ther let me sing! Ah!

pp mf f

Allegretto scherzando

Since the time when first I met my Bru-de-us, Bru-de-us, I have ru-ined man-ya hand-some pair of shoes, pair of shoes. Ho, wretch-ed Bru-de-us!

Woe, ras-cal Bru-de-us! I am filled with in-dig-na-tion, That he had my ad-mi-ra-tion; I de-clare,with deep de-jec-tion, I have wast-ed my af-fec-tion!

poco rall.

pp

poco rall.

Bru - de - us is such a dan - dy,

a tempo

Look at him! look at him! And his shin - y boots are al - ways

Neat and trim, neat and trim. Ho, fop - pish Bru - de - us!

8.....

Woe, pre - cious Bru - de - us! How I blush to 8.....

think I kissed him, That I nev-er could re-sist him! I am filled with

poco rall.
in - dig - na - tion At our for - mer os - cu - la - tion! a tempo

a tempo
Bru-de - us is called to bat-tle, But he says he will not fight,

For he can't en - dure the rat - tle And he can-not stand the sight.

Ho, tim - id Bru - de - us! Woe, cow - ard Bru - de - us!

Would I had from thee de - part - ed, Such a lov - er chick - en - heart - ed!

poco rall.
I am filled with in - dig - na - tion At such hor - rid tre - pi - da - tion!

poco rall.

Meno mosso
I am told, when eve - ning falls, On some oth - er girl he calls,

poco a poco

Hold-ing hands and -mak-ing eyes, Boast-ing, strut-ting, tell-ing lies. Ho, fick-le

Tempo di allegretto

Bru-de-us! Woe, faith-less Bru-de-us! Where are words of in-dig-na-tion

For such sheer a - bom-i - na-tion! I am through with you, my friend! Pa - tience now is at an end! Ah! No more love for me! Ha ha!

Meno mosso

Revery of the Young Peasant

(Dōómka Párobka)

English version by
Sigmund Spaeth and Deems Taylor

Music* by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1877)

Larghetto, quasi largo

Voice

Piano

p

My heart,— why weep-est thou?

Why art— thou— pin - ing? What can I do to com-fort thy sor - row,

*From the opera "The Fair of Sorótschinsk," the text adapted from the like-named tale by Gógol (in his novels "Evenings at Dikánka"). The opera was edited, after Moussorgsky's death, by A. K. Lyádoff.—Gógol's Little-Russian story of the Sorótschinsk Fair describes the wooing of the beautiful peasant-girl Parásha by a young peasant-lad. Khivria, the girl's stepmother, plots against the suitor, and in this song he voices the apparent hopelessness of his love.— The melody of this song was also used by Moussorgsky (to describe the breaking of dawn) as the closing theme of his orchestral Fantasy "A Night on the Bald Mountain".

poor_ heart of mine?

p

Detailed description: This system contains the first two staves of music. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and a 3/4 time signature. It begins with a triplet of eighth notes. The lyrics "poor_ heart of mine?" are written below the first two measures. The bottom staff is a piano accompaniment in grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with the same key signature and time signature. It features a piano (p) dynamic and a melodic line in the right hand with a triplet of eighth notes.

Is it that like me thou griev-est that fate no long-er_

Detailed description: This system contains the next two staves of music. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with the same key signature and time signature. The lyrics "Is it that like me thou griev-est that fate no long-er_" are written below the first two measures. The bottom staff is a piano accompaniment in grand staff with the same key signature and time signature. It continues the piano accompaniment with a melodic line in the right hand.

smil - eth, And the road to hap-pi-ness is_ barr'd? Be

p

Detailed description: This system contains the next two staves of music. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with the same key signature and time signature. The lyrics "smil - eth, And the road to hap-pi-ness is_ barr'd? Be" are written below the first two measures. The bottom staff is a piano accompaniment in grand staff with the same key signature and time signature. It features a piano (p) dynamic and a melodic line in the right hand with a triplet of eighth notes.

si - lent now, my heart! weep - ing heart_ of mine!_

rall.

p

Detailed description: This system contains the final two staves of music on the page. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with the same key signature and time signature. The lyrics "si - lent now, my heart! weep - ing heart_ of mine!_" are written below the first two measures. The bottom staff is a piano accompaniment in grand staff with the same key signature and time signature. It features a piano (p) dynamic and a melodic line in the right hand with a triplet of eighth notes. The word "rall." is written above the second measure of the piano accompaniment.

Cantabile

Sor - row, for - sake thou me!_ De-spair, I bid thee go! All that I

pp

long for, all my heart's de - sire, is the love of the fair Pa - rá - sha!

p cresc.

Ah, Pa - rá - sha, my_ Pa - rá - sha! Thou_ my lit - tle dove, thou

p cresc.

fair-est lit-tle queen of mine! None but thy wick-ed fos-ter-moth-er tries to harm us. Still all my long-ing, all my heart's de-sire, is the love of the fair Pa-rá-sha! Heart, why weep-est thou?

Why art thou pin-ing? What can I do to com-fort thy sor-row? Heart, O my heart!

allargando

Parásha's Revery and Dance

(Dóómka Parássi)

Little-Russian

English version by Deems Taylor and Kurt SchindlerMusic* by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1877)

Andantino

Piano p allarg.

a tempo allarg.

Grieve no long-er, my be - lov - ed, Griev-ing nev - er ban-ish'd sor - row;

pp

There are oth-er love-ly maid - ens Fair-er far than thy Pa - rá - sha.

* From the opera "The Fair of Sorótschinsk," the text adapted from the like-named tale by Gógol (in his novels "Evenings at Dikánka"). The opera was edited, after Moussorgsky's death, by A. K. Lyádoff- In this song Parásha, the heroine of this Little-Russian tale, contemplates the many obstacles placed between her and her lover by the intrigues of her stepmother, Khívria. Her natural gayety finally asserts itself and finds expression in a merry dance-tune, which calls up memories of the lively times on market-days.

Ah, how I love to hear thee say: Pa-rá - sha, my lit-tle dove, —

espressivo

This system contains the first two staves of music. The top staff is the vocal line, featuring a melodic line with a triplet of eighth notes. The bottom two staves are the piano accompaniment, with the left hand playing a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes and the right hand playing chords and single notes. The word "espressivo" is written in the piano part.

fair-est lit-tle queen of mine? Ah how I dear-ly love to see thy ten-derglance,

This system contains the next two staves of music. The vocal line continues with a melodic line and a triplet. The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns and chords.

When be-neath thy ra - ven browsthine eyes gleam so fal - con - like!

mf f

This system contains the third and fourth staves of music. The vocal line concludes with a melodic line and a triplet. The piano accompaniment features dynamic markings of mf and f.

This system contains the final two staves of music, which are the piano accompaniment. It features a complex rhythmic pattern with many triplets and chords, primarily in the right hand, with a simpler bass line in the left hand.

Nay, — sor-row I must ban-ish; For de-spair I've no rea-son:

I'm not old and hid-e-ous, Nay, for-sooth, I'm youth-ful and pret-ty,

Allegretto grazioso
pp

Havenot lost all my charm yet! Let's dance! Hi! my young and blackeyed lov-er,

Standing up so straightand tall, Come and tread a dain-ty mea-sure With thysweet-heart slim and small! Pit, pat, go the lit-tle slip-pers Of the maid-en slim and small; Click, clack, un poco cresc.

go the heav-y top-boots Of the lov-er straight and tall. Don't be gloom-y, don't be sad,

p

Come a-gain to - night, my lad! To - be coy would be a sin, - Just be bold and step right in. Pit, pat, go the lit-tle slip-pers, Don't be gloom-y, don't be sad!

cresc. poco a poco

Click, clack, go the heav-y top-boots: Come a-gain to - night, my lad!

The first system of music features a vocal line in the upper staff and a piano accompaniment in the lower staff. The vocal line begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The lyrics are "Click, clack, go the heav-y top-boots: Come a-gain to - night, my lad!". The piano accompaniment starts with a bass clef and includes a dynamic marking of f (forte) in the right hand.

Hop! hop! Ho - pak-dance!

The second system continues the musical piece. The vocal line has a dynamic marking of f at the beginning. The lyrics are "Hop! hop! Ho - pak-dance!". The piano accompaniment features a dynamic marking of mf (mezzo-forte) in the left hand and f in the right hand.

Hop! hop! Gay - ly prance! Pit, pat, go the lit - tle slip - pers, Let us dance the

The third system contains the lyrics "Hop! hop! Gay - ly prance! Pit, pat, go the lit - tle slip - pers, Let us dance the". The vocal line starts with a dynamic marking of f and includes the instruction mf sempre cresc. (mezzo-forte, sempre crescendo). The piano accompaniment also includes mf sempre cresc. and a fermata over a chord in the right hand.

Ho - pak gay! Pit, pat, go the lit - tle slip - pers, This is mer - ry

The fourth system concludes the page with the lyrics "Ho - pak gay! Pit, pat, go the lit - tle slip - pers, This is mer - ry". The vocal line begins with a dynamic marking of f. The piano accompaniment features a dynamic marking of f and includes a fermata over a chord in the right hand.

Più mosso

mf

mar-ket-day! Hop! hop! Ho-pak - dance! Hi! ho! mar-ket-day!

mp

f

Pit, pat, lit-tle slip-pers! Hop! hop! Ho-pak gay! Pit-ter-pat!

mp

sempre cresc.

f

go the lit-tle slip-pers! Greet-ings to my lov - er gay! Hop! hop! Let's be mer-ry!

cresc.

Let us dance till break of day! Hi!

sfz

ff

sfz

The Banks of the Don

(Po nad Dónem sad tzvyetyót)

Poem by Koltzóff
English version by
Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1867)

Andantino

Voice

Piano

p — sf pp poco sf

By the Don a flow'r - y lane — Pass - es thro' my

pp p

gar - den green; Oft - en, from my — lat - tice win - dow,

p poco cresc.

* The Don is one of the largest rivers of Southern Russia; it empties at Rostóv into the Sea of Azóv.

Scherzando

Have mine eyes be-held the scene. There at eve fair

The first system of the musical score features a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of one flat and a 4/4 time signature. The lyrics are "Have mine eyes be-held the scene. There at eve fair". The piano accompaniment is in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with a key signature of one flat and a 4/4 time signature. It includes dynamic markings of pp, sf, and p, and a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand.

Ma - sha pass'd me, From the well re - turn - ing,

The second system of the musical score continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line lyrics are "Ma - sha pass'd me, From the well re - turn - ing,". The piano accompaniment features a complex texture with many chords and a melodic line in the right hand.

Smil - ing up with bash - ful glanc - es,

The third system of the musical score continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line lyrics are "Smil - ing up with bash - ful glanc - es,". The piano accompaniment includes dynamic markings of pp and sf, and features a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a melodic line in the left hand.

Cheeks with blush - es burn - - ing.

pp l.h. sf

Detailed description: This system contains the first musical phrase. The vocal line is on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The lyrics are "Cheeks with blush - es burn - - ing." The piano accompaniment consists of two staves (treble and bass clefs) with a grand staff brace. The right hand plays chords, and the left hand plays a simple bass line. Dynamics include pp (pianissimo), l.h. (left hand), and sf (sforzando).

Shy - ly she'd re - turn my greet - ing

pp

Detailed description: This system contains the second musical phrase. The vocal line continues with the lyrics "Shy - ly she'd re - turn my greet - ing". The piano accompaniment continues with chords and a bass line. The dynamic is pp (pianissimo).

In the sun - set's glow - ing.

pp poco rit.

poco rit.

Detailed description: This system contains the final musical phrase. The vocal line concludes with the lyrics "In the sun - set's glow - ing." The piano accompaniment concludes with chords and a bass line. Dynamics include pp (pianissimo) and poco rit. (poco ritardando).

p a tempo, tranquillo

Once she ab - sent - ly tipp'd her wa - ter - jar,

a tempo, tranquillo

Spilt it— o - ver - flow - ing.— p By the Don a—pp sf p sf

flow'r - y lane— pp Pass - es— thro' my gar - den....

pp poco sf ppp

On the River Dnyéper

(Na Dnyepryé)

From the Little-Russian poem*
 "The Haidamaks," by T. G. Shevtchéno
 English version by Geo. Harris, Jr.

Music by
 Modest P. Moussorgsky
 Composed 1866, revised in 1880

Largamente

Voice

Piano

Dnye - per, ho! — Dnye - per, hark! — Dnye - per, my broad riv - er! —

Dnye - per, my deep riv - er! — You've borne the red blood of Cos - - saks

* The Dnyéper is — after the Volga — the largest river of Russia. It rises near Smolénsk, flows through Kieff and Yekaterinoslav, and empties into the Black Sea. The Poles have been the traditional enemies of the Cossacks through many centuries.

On your long, wind - ing course to the far dis - tant sea.

On - ly was the sea nev - er sat - is - fied, ne'er sat - is - fied. To -

Allegro risoluto
day you are wait - ing, to - day you are wait - ing, — My Dnye - per so broad. To - day God pre - pares for U - kraï - na its feast - ing, Its

cresc.

feast - ing so fright - ful, For flow - ing, flow - ing is cresc. f

blood in great - tor - rents, The Cos - sack re - lives; The

Het - man a - ris - es in gar - ments re - splen - dent, Once more comes the day when U - kraï - na shall live. And far o'er the steppe on the graves* of our broth - ers The foe - men shall fall 'neath the gleam of our blades. A - new shall the Cos - sack sing his song free - ly, Un - fet - ter'd and bold-ly in praise of U - kraï - na: "Our land shall be free to the sea of

* Literally translated, the original poem refers to the "Kurgáni," the tumulus-shaped burial-mounds of the Cossacks.

Pol - ish and Jew - ish blood! Down the riv - er float now bones of our en - e - mies, Blood of Pol - ish vic - tims, blood of Jew - ish vic - tims, Now flows down the riv - er feed - ing the sea!

Largamente

f Dnye - per, halt! p Dnye - per, hark!

fp pp

Detailed description: This system contains the first two lines of music. The vocal line starts with a whole rest, followed by a half note 'Dnye' (marked f), a quarter note 'per,' (marked f), a quarter note 'halt!' (marked f), a whole rest, a half note 'Dnye' (marked p), a quarter note 'per,' (marked p), and a quarter note 'hark!' (marked p). The piano accompaniment consists of two staves with chords and moving lines. Dynamics include fp and pp.

mf Soon will be thy vic - to - ry, — soon wilt thou be — qui - et - ed! —

p

Detailed description: This system contains the third and fourth lines of music. The vocal line begins with a half note 'Soon' (marked mf), followed by a quarter note 'will' (marked mf), a quarter note 'be' (marked mf), a quarter note 'thy' (marked mf), a quarter note 'vic -' (marked mf), a quarter note 'to -' (marked mf), a quarter note 'ry,' (marked mf), a whole rest, a quarter note 'soon' (marked mf), a quarter note 'wilt' (marked mf), a quarter note 'thou' (marked mf), a quarter note 'be' (marked mf), a quarter note 'qui -' (marked mf), a quarter note 'et -' (marked mf), and a quarter note 'ed!' (marked mf). The piano accompaniment continues with chords and moving lines, marked with p.

p Dnye - per, halt! — O my — riv - er

pp

Detailed description: This system contains the fifth and sixth lines of music. The vocal line starts with a half note 'Dnye' (marked p), a quarter note 'per,' (marked p), a quarter note 'halt!' (marked p), a whole rest, a half note 'O' (marked p), a quarter note 'my' (marked p), a quarter note 'riv -' (marked p), and a quarter note 'er' (marked p). The piano accompaniment continues with chords and moving lines, marked with pp.

deep!

pp

Detailed description: This system contains the seventh and eighth lines of music. The vocal line has a whole rest followed by a whole note 'deep!' (marked pp). The piano accompaniment continues with chords and moving lines, marked with pp.

Death's Lullaby (Koluibélnaya)

English version* by
Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1875)

Lento doloroso

Voice

Piano

pp

mf

p

Faint-ly the child sighs. The

sf

p

pp

poco rit.

lamp dim-ly flick-ers, Sheds but a phan-tom of light;

poco rit.

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutoózoff (No.2 of "Songs and Dances of Death").
No.1 of this cycle, "Trepak", is to be found in "A Century of Russian Song", collected and edited by Kurt Schindler, published by G. Schirmer, New York, 1911.

27749

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

a tempo

Rock - ing the cra - die, the pale, wear - y moth - er Waits thro' the

a tempo

poco rit. long, sleep-less night.

Moderato tranquillo Ear - ly at break of day

pp

poco rit. dim. pp

a mezza voce

comes, soft - ly knock - ing, Death, all - com - pas - sion - ate:

f agitato "Hark!" Trem - bling, she starts, gaz - ing anx - ious - ly round her...

dim.

sf cresc. poco dim.

Lento funesto

"Fear not, O moth-er, the dark! See, now the pale morn looks in at thy win-dow;

The first system of the musical score features a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The vocal line begins with a triplet of eighth notes. The piano accompaniment starts with a piano (p) dynamic and includes a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand. The key signature has one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4.

Man - y the tears thou hast shed, Wear - y thy vi - gils. So

The second system continues the vocal and piano parts. The vocal line includes a triplet of eighth notes. The piano accompaniment features a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a dynamic marking of sf (sforzando). The tempo marking accel. (accelerando) is placed above the vocal line. The time signature changes to 3/4.

rest now, I pray thee, I will keep watch in thy stead.

The third system shows the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has a triplet of eighth notes. The piano accompaniment consists of a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand. The time signature is 3/4.

Vain - ly thou seek - est the dear one to qui - et;

The fourth system concludes the page with the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line features a triplet of eighth notes. The piano accompaniment has a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand. The time signature is 3/4.

cantab. rall. pp Agitato patetico

Soft - er and sweet - er sing I! - "Si - lence! In fe - ver my lit - tle one toss - es, Torn - is my heart with his

Lento funesto allargando

cry!" "Nay, but with me he will soon cease to suf-fer. Lul-la-by, lul-la-by-bye."-

Agitato

"Wax - white his cheeks now, his breast faint - ly fal - - ters -

Lento tranquillo

Be still, and stand not so nigh!"- "Good is the to-ken; his strug-gles are

allargando

Agitato

end-ing. Lul-la-by, lul-la-by-bye."- "Go, thou ac-curs-ed one! Foul thy ca-

Lento tranquillo

ress-es! Touch not my child, lest he die!"- "No! 'Tis a comfort-ing dream I shall allargando Agitato, con dolore

waft him; Lul-la-by, lul-la-by-bye."- "Cease now thy ter-ri-ble song!

allargando cresc.

Lento tranquillo

grant— me mer-cy! Canst thou my plead-ing de-ny?" "Look ye!

dim.

rall.

My singing has lull'd him to slum-ber. Lul-la-by, lul-la-by-bye."

p pp

Death's Serenade

English version* by Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

(Serenáda)

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1875)

Larghetto

Voice

Piano

p pp

Sweet - scent - ed breath of Night, soft and ca - ress - ing, Trem - bling blue twi - light of June....

cresc.

Bow - ing her head on her bo - som, the

dim.

maid - en Hark - - ens to Night's gen - tle croon.

dim.

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutóózoff (No.3 of "Songs and Dances of Death").

27749

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

cresc.
Sleep will not come to her eyes, bright with fe - ver;

dim.
Life calls in vain to the

p
maid; Un - der her win - dow, in si - lence of cresc. dim. e rall.

mid - night, Death sings a grim ser - e - nade:

sf rall.

Andantino

"Lone - ly and fet - ter'd, in dark - ness of bond - age,

mf sf sf sf

Youth now is fad - ing from thee; Roam - ing as er - rant

f sf dim. mf

knight vest - ed with ma - gic pow'r, I come thy young soul to free.

Raise — thee and look in thy glass: Ah, what

p p sf sf

cresc. beau - ty Lim - pid - ly glows in thy face! dim. Ros - y thy cheeks are; thy cresc.

shim - mer - ing tress - es, Cloud - like, thy bod - y em - brace. dim.

p poco capriccioso Clear — is the gleam of thine eyes blue and lam - bent,

Bright — as the glow of the sky; —

Sweet wafts thy fragrant breath, warm as the

mf sf pp

poco accel. a tempo, tranquillo

noon - tide, Ma - gic thy charm draws me night. Soon must thou ppp poco accel. a tempo p sf

yield to the spell of my sing - ing,

sf

Now thy true gal - lant is near; Heed - ing thy call he is

f mf

com - ing to claim — thee. Lo! the su - preme hour is here!

Dain - ty thy form, — so enchant - ing thy trembling!

Oh! thou shalt swoon and de - cline Under my kisses! — Dost hear what I whis - per? Lis - ten!... Lie still!... Thou art mine!"

Death, the Commander (Polkovódyetz)

English version* by
Geo. Harris, Jr.

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1877)

Vivo, alla guerra

Voice

With crash of

Piano

ff

bat - tle, ar - - - mor

mf

gleam - - ing, The can - - nons bel - low forth their

sf

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutóozoff (No. 4 of "Songs and Dances of Death")

27749

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

fire, And men take flight, their hors - es

sf mf

This system contains the first two measures of the piece. The vocal line is in treble clef with a key signature of three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and a 2/4 time signature. The piano accompaniment consists of two staves: the upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. Dynamics include sf and mf.

steam - - ing And stum - bling thro' the blood - y

sf

This system contains the next two measures. The vocal line continues in the same clef and key signature. The piano accompaniment features a more active bass line in the lower staff, with some notes marked with an 'x'. A dynamic of sf is present.

mire. With glare of mid - day

sf f

This system contains the next two measures. The vocal line has a fermata over the word 'mire'. The piano accompaniment is highly rhythmic and complex, with many notes marked with an 'x'. Dynamics include sf and f.

bat - - tle rag - - es; The

f

This system contains the final two measures. The vocal line is simple, with notes marked with an accent (^). The piano accompaniment features a prominent bass line with triplets and a dynamic of f.

sun is sink - - - ing, still they fight;

The twi - - - light dark - ens, but en - ga - ges The foe to mer - - - - ci - less new spite. rall. pesante But night has

dim. p

risoluto pp

fall'n, and all is end - ed, The hosts a - sun - der have been driv'n. Then silence,- pp f

rit

mf

from the un - be - friend - ed Unheed - ed groanings rise to heav'n. Then pp cresc. dim.

Grave, marziale

by the moon il - lu - mi - nat - ed, His bones all glit - t'ring white and stark, As

p f fp

cap - tain of the hosts in - stat - ed, There rides forth Death.-

p Lo! in the dark He heeds the sob - bing and the

pp

pray - - ing, Un-til his pride is sat - is - fied, risoluto

Then, on the spot of cru - el slay - ing, He walks a - bout with sol - emn

pp

stride. Then on a hil - lock, light - ed dim - ly, He looks a - round him, fp p

smil-ing grim - ly, Then o'er the bat-tle's si-lent ground He sends his pp ppoo cresc.

voice with fate-ful sound: "Mine is the bat-tle! All wrongs are right-ed,

f f

Foe-man and friend shall to me bow the head! Those who were en-e-mies, dolce p

I have u-nit-ed: Rise now, to pass the re-view of the dead!

cresc. pooo f

March by me sol - emnly, greet your command - er! I shall account for you all, friends and foes; Cool is the ground, and the dark beckons yon - der,

Soft - ly from life you shall sink to re - pose. Years shall in - vi - si - bly change in - to a - ges, Soon will be gone the re - mem - brance of you;

a tempo, pomposo

I shall re-call you, when war no more rag - es, Bid you at mid - night to

a tempo

f

meno mosso

sol - emn re-view. Danc-ing with heav - y step, till I grow wear - y,

meno mosso

p marcato

poco rall.

I'll stamp the earth, that hence - forth in this drear-y Grave-yard your bones shall for-

poco rall.

ff allargando molto rit.

ev - er be bound, That you shall nev - er rise up from the ground!²

f allargando molto rit. f

The Song of Solomon (Yevréiskaya Pyésnya)

Poem by L. Mey
English version by
Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1867)
(after an original Jewish melody)

Andante appassionato

Voice

Piano

The musical score consists of three systems. The first system shows the beginning of the piano accompaniment with dynamics p, p, and pp. The second system contains the first vocal line with the lyrics: "As the wild rose am I, as the lil - y of the_ field;". The piano accompaniment for this system includes a mf dynamic and a 2 2da marking. The third system contains the second vocal line with the lyrics: "She, my snow-y-breast-ed dove, lit - tle dove of mine, Shin-eth". The piano accompaniment for this system includes dynamics sf, cresc., f, p, and pp.

fair— midst— her sis-ters as a - mong thorns the lil - y. Oh my cresc.

p

f Meno mosso p a tempo

white-breast-ed dove, lit - tle dove_ of mine! As the fair myr - tle - tree,

f l.h.

2 Ped. 2 Ped.

sweet with fra - grant spice, 'Mongst the bar - ren trees that

f cresc. f p

f cresc. f

2 Ped.

with-er in the for-est, Shin-eth my well-be-lov-ed 'midst the host of

p pp p

less-er men, the youth of Is-ra-el. Wherefore hid-est thou, my—

Meno mosso

f cresc. p f

2 And.

beau-ti-ful?—

a tempo

pp ppp

2 And.

Silently Floated a Spirit

(Górnimee tikho letyéla dooshá nyebesámi)

Poem by Count Alexis K. Tolstói
English version by Geo. Harris, Jr.

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1877)

Sostenuto, Lamentoso, Mistico

Voice

Si - lent - ly float - ed a

Piano

spir - it a - cross the high heav - ens, Low - er - ing earth-ward her eye-lids in sor-row - ful dreaming; From them there fell to the earth the pure tear-drops of sor - row, Like to a chain of bright stars were they end - less and gleam-ing. Meet - ing her, soft - ly the oth - er stars ask'd of their sis - ter:

"For what de - spair from thine eyes flow the tear - drops so burn - ing?" Then did she

The first system of the musical score. It consists of a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The vocal line has lyrics: "tear - drops so burn - ing?" Then did she". The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand.

con espress.
an - swer and say: "Lo, my thought turn - eth earth - ward;

The second system of the musical score. It includes a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The tempo/mood is marked con espress.. The lyrics are "an - swer and say: "Lo, my thought turn - eth earth - ward;". The piano accompaniment has a more active right hand with chords and a steady bass line.

poco rit.
Might I for - get what I've left there of suf - fring and yearn - ing!

The third system of the musical score. It includes a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The tempo is marked poco rit.. The lyrics are "Might I for - get what I've left there of suf - fring and yearn - ing!". The piano accompaniment features a melodic line in the right hand and a steady bass line.

p a tempo
Here is no light but the light of the joy of the right - eous,
a tempo

The fourth system of the musical score. It includes a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The tempo is marked p a tempo. The lyrics are "Here is no light but the light of the joy of the right - eous,". The piano accompaniment features a rhythmic pattern of chords in the right hand and a steady bass line.

Here is no an-ger nor grief in the heav-en - ly cit - y.

8.

Detailed description: This system contains a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a 4/4 time signature. The lyrics are "Here is no an-ger nor grief in the heav-en - ly cit - y." The piano accompaniment consists of two staves, with the right hand playing chords and the left hand playing a bass line. A first ending bracket labeled "8." spans the first two measures of the piano part.

Oh, send me down a-gain earth-ward, Cre-a-tor, I pray Thee,

f sf p

Detailed description: This system contains a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a 4/4 time signature. The lyrics are "Oh, send me down a-gain earth-ward, Cre-a-tor, I pray Thee,". The piano accompaniment consists of two staves. The right hand has a dynamic marking of f at the start, sf in the middle, and p at the end. The left hand has a dynamic marking of p at the end.

That I may find there some soul that needs com-fort and pit - y!"

poco rit. pp ppp

Detailed description: This system contains a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in a treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a 4/4 time signature. The lyrics are "That I may find there some soul that needs com-fort and pit - y!". The piano accompaniment consists of two staves. The right hand has a dynamic marking of pp and a poco rit. marking. The left hand has a dynamic marking of ppp.

The Doll's Cradle-Song

(S' Kóokloi)

Dedicated to my children, Tániushka and Góga

No. 4 of the cycle
"The Child's Nursery"*

English version by
Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Words and Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky

Andante

Voice

Tia-pa, bye - bye, — Tia-pa, sleep and dream,

Piano

p

Sand-man soon is com-ing round. Tia-pa, sleep, dol-ly! Tia-pa, sleep and dream!

Boo-gie-man will catch you, Moth-er witch will scratch you, Brother wolf will snatch you!

un poco sf

* Another song from this same cycle, "The Beetle" is to be found in "A Century of Russian song", collected and edited by Kurt Schindler, published by G. Schirmer, N. Y. 1911.

Tia - pa, go to sleep!

p

2^{da} 6 6 6

Detailed description: This system contains the first musical phrase. The vocal line is on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The lyrics "Tia - pa, go to sleep!" are written below the notes. The piano accompaniment consists of two staves (treble and bass clefs) with a grand staff brace. The right hand plays chords and moving lines, while the left hand plays a rhythmic accompaniment with sixteenth notes. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is placed at the beginning of the piano part. The system ends with a fermata over the final note of the vocal line.

Then to - mor - row tell me What you have been dream - ing:

Detailed description: This system contains the second musical phrase. The vocal line continues with the lyrics "Then to - mor - row tell me What you have been dream - ing:". The piano accompaniment continues with similar textures. The system ends with a fermata over the final note of the vocal line.

Of won - drous is - lands Free from work and wor - ry,

cresc.

Detailed description: This system contains the third musical phrase. The vocal line continues with the lyrics "Of won - drous is - lands Free from work and wor - ry,". The piano accompaniment continues with similar textures. A dynamic marking of cresc. (crescendo) is placed at the beginning of the piano part. The system ends with a fermata over the final note of the vocal line.

Where the trees are glow - ing Filled with pears of am - ber,

mf

This system contains the first two lines of music. The vocal line is in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 4/4 time signature. The piano accompaniment is in grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The piano part features a steady eighth-note bass line and a more melodic treble line with some slurs and ties.

Where in nests of sil - ver Gold - en birds are sing - ing.

dim. p dim.

This system contains the next two lines of music. The vocal line continues with a dotted line indicating a breath or a long note. The piano accompaniment includes dynamic markings: dim. (diminuendo), p (piano), and dim. again. A fingering '5' is shown in the bass line.

Bye - bye, lul-la-by!_ Bye-bye, Ti-pai

p pp

This system contains the final two lines of music. The vocal line ends with a long note and a fermata. The piano accompaniment features dynamic markings p (piano) and pp (pianissimo). The piano part concludes with a sustained chord in the right hand and a descending bass line.

Night A PHANTASY (Notch. Fantásia)

English version by
Geo. Harris, Jr., and
Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1864)

Adagio

Voice

Piano

pp sf p

Thy

gra - cious im - ages spread up - on me its enchantment, A fleet - ing mys - ter - y, a won - drous vi - sion That haunts my lone - ly slum - ber,

When falls the hour of si - lence.

dim. ppp

I hear the whis - per - ing; Thy mur - mur'd words that flow up - on - mine ear, Like crys - tal fountains, in the si - lence of night are float - ing o'er me, All full of hope, all full of com - fort,

All full of strength, and

ma - gic - al ful - fil - ment

and ob - liv - ion.

dim. ppp

This system contains the first line of music. The vocal line is on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The lyrics "and ob - liv - ion." are written below the notes. The piano accompaniment is on a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with the same key signature. It begins with a dim. marking and a ppp marking. The piano part features a dense texture with many sixteenth notes in the bass line and chords in the treble line.

p

When night is dark, —

This system contains the second line of music. The vocal line starts with a p (piano) dynamic marking. The lyrics "When night is dark, —" are written below the notes. The piano accompaniment continues with a similar texture to the first system, featuring a steady bass line and arpeggiated chords in the treble line.

when mid - night sounds, —

This system contains the third line of music. The vocal line continues with the lyrics "when mid - night sounds, —". The piano accompaniment maintains the same musical style, with a consistent bass line and arpeggiated chords in the treble line.

thine eyes are shin - ing close be - fore my gaze; —

cresc. dimin.

The first system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 3/4 time signature. The lyrics are "thine eyes are shin - ing close be - fore my gaze; —". The middle and bottom staves are piano accompaniment, with the middle staff in treble clef and the bottom staff in bass clef. The piano part includes dynamic markings "cresc." and "dimin.".

Ah! — they seem to smile at me,

The second system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 3/4 time signature. The lyrics are "Ah! — they seem to smile at me,". The middle and bottom staves are piano accompaniment, with the middle staff in treble clef and the bottom staff in bass clef.

and, lo! I hear thee soft - ly

The third system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 3/4 time signature. The lyrics are "and, lo! I hear thee soft - ly". The middle and bottom staves are piano accompaniment, with the middle staff in treble clef and the bottom staff in bass clef.

p
say: My love! my heart's own friend! I love thee so! My

pp

rit.
heart is thine!

a tempo

rit. pp ppp dim.

In My Attic

(V'tchetuiryókh styenákh)

English version* by Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Andante tranquillo

Voice

Lone is my lit - tle room, si - lent and dear to me,
Deep shad - ows hov - er there, grey and im - mov - a - ble -
Scene of my rev - er - ies, home of my thren - o - dies,

Piano

pp

cresc. dim.

cresc. dim.

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff - Kutóózoff, in his cycle "Without Sunlight" (No. 1)

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

37749

High as - pi - ra - tions, and hopes of my in - most heart.

Moments of rap-ture that flick-er and die a-gain; Brief, fleet-ing glanc-es of far-dis-tant hap-pi-ness; Doubt and un-cer-tain-ty, sor-row and suf-fer-ing:

Meno mosso e tranquillo

Such are my lone - ly nights there, in my lit - tle room.

After Years

(Menyá tui v'tolpyé nye ðoznála)

English version* by Deems Taylor and Kurt SchindlerMusic by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Andante con moto

Voice p

Last night, in the crowd, you ig -

Piano sfpp

nored me; Your eyes gave no sign that they saw; But once more en - snares by your glanc - es, I trem - bled with ter - ror and awe. It

*After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutóozoff, in his cycle "Without Sunlight" (No. 2)

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

27749 was but one flash of re-mem-brance, But in it came back thro' the years

cresc.

pp cresc.

Detailed description: This system contains the first two lines of music. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). It features three triplet markings over the first, second, and fourth measures. The lyrics are "was but one flash of re-mem-brance, But in it came back thro' the years". The piano accompaniment is in grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The right hand starts with a piano (pp) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) line. The left hand has a bb marking in the second measure.

All mad - ness of pas - sion long van - ish'd, All

f f

l.h.

Detailed description: This system contains the second two lines of music. The vocal line continues with the lyrics "All mad - ness of pas - sion long van - ish'd, All". It features two triplet markings. The piano accompaniment includes a forte (f) dynamic and a marking for the left hand (l.h.). The right hand has a f dynamic and a triplet marking. The left hand has a f dynamic and a triplet marking. A slur is present over the piano accompaniment in the second measure.

sor - row of part - ing and tears!

dim. dim. pp

Detailed description: This system contains the final two lines of music. The vocal line concludes with the lyrics "sor - row of part - ing and tears!". It features a decrescendo (dim.) marking. The piano accompaniment includes a piano (p) dynamic, a decrescendo (dim.) marking, and a piano-pianissimo (pp) dynamic. A fermata is placed over the final note of the vocal line and the final chord of the piano accompaniment.

Retrospect

(Okóntchen prázdnoi, shóomnoi dyen)

English version* by
Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Moderato assai

Voice

The vain and nois - y day is done; Un - eas - y toil now ends in dream - ing. Deep si - lence. - Shad - ows of the night Per - vade the cit - y wrapt in slum - ber. But sleep comes not to soothe mine eyes. Now breaks a

Piano

f p pp mf

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutózoff, in his cycle "Without Sunlight" (No. 3)

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

mys - tic dawn with - in me; Im - a - gi - na - tion glanc - es back To scan the book of years long van - ish'd. As if a - new my soul were filled — With pa - gan Spring's en - rap - tured vi - sions, Be - fore my spir - it floats a train Of hopes, of yearnings, fleet - ing fol - lies... A -

poco rit.

pp poco rit.

a tempo

las! what phan-tom-world is this? I wear - y 'mid the host that haunts me, And

a tempo

p

what their fu - tile voic - es tell Has lost the magic that en-thralld me. Of Andante cantabile

all the shad - ows on - ly one, By faith il - lum - in'd, stands be - fore me, And

l.h.

pp

poco rit.

she who loved me long a-go Now softly bends above my pillow. And

poco rit.

a tempo

once again my spirit stirs, And once again my soul surrenders.

a tempo

f p dim.

pp

My tears are falling, tears of rapture, Unheeded tears of mystic joy.—

pp f rit.

pp p rit. pp

Resignation

(Skootcháï)

English version* by Deems Taylor and Kurt SchindlerMusic by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Andantino comodo assai e poco lamentoso

Voice

Re-sign! Thou art but born to

Piano

p

wear - y. He knows not joy, whose heart is dead; Re - turn but glad - dens af - ter part - ing; Who would pre - vail, must ban - ish dread.

sf cresc. f

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutóozoff, in his cycle "Without Sunlight" (No.4)

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

27749

Meno mosso

Re-sign, re - sign! But faint - ly—sound_ with - in thee The call of love, the_ voice of truth; With

poco rall.

ly - ing greet - ing dost thou an - swer The vir - gin dreams_ of ea - ger youth.

poco rall. pp

a tempo senza espressione

Re - sign! With - in pre - des - tined cir - cles From

a tempo
mf p

Detailed description: This system contains the first two staves of music. The top staff is a vocal line in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature. It begins with a whole rest, followed by a series of eighth and quarter notes. The lyrics are "Re - sign! With - in pre - des - tined cir - cles From". The bottom staff is a piano accompaniment in bass clef, starting with a half note chord, followed by a series of chords and moving lines. Dynamics include mf and p. The tempo is marked a tempo and the expression is senza espressione.

birth to death, thou art not free, While drop by drop thy for - ces van - ish,

pp

Detailed description: This system contains the third and fourth staves of music. The top staff continues the vocal line with lyrics "birth to death, thou art not free, While drop by drop thy for - ces van - ish,". The bottom staff continues the piano accompaniment with chords and moving lines. A dynamic marking of pp is present. The tempo remains a tempo.

Till thou shalt die... God's peace to thee! God's peace to thee!

p poco rall. a tempo

Detailed description: This system contains the fifth and sixth staves of music. The top staff concludes the vocal line with lyrics "Till thou shalt die... God's peace to thee! God's peace to thee!". The bottom staff concludes the piano accompaniment with chords and moving lines. Dynamics include p, poco rall., and a tempo. The tempo is marked a tempo.

Elegy

(Elégia)

English version* by Deems Taylor and Kurt Schindler

Music by
Modest P. Moussorgsky (1874)

Andantino mosso

Voice

Deep shad - ows veil the night. Be - yond the cloud - y haze A pale and si - lent star is gleam - ing, dim and lone - ly; And

Piano

pp

pp

* After the poem by Count A. Golénishtcheff-Kutóózoff, in his cycle "Without Sunlight" (No. 5)

Copyright, 1917, by G. Schirmer

27749 faint and far I hear the mourn - ful tink - ling on - ly. Of Red. Red. Red. Red.

bells, where dis - tant hors - es graze. Like rall. f

dim. e rall.

Allegro agitato

storm - y clouds of night my in - most thoughts are surg - ing; In

mf

fleet - ing forms they drift, my trou - bled soul sub - mer - ging With

vi - sions from the past, with ghost - ly hopes and fears Once

real_ to me, but long since van - ish'd with the years.

They speak of wear - i-ness and weep - ing.... Un- p

Andantino mosso

poco meno mosso e cantabile

bid - den fan - cies rise with nev - er aim or end: Some - times their form re - calls a

p poco meno mosso e cantabile

well - be - lov - ed friend, E - vok - ing from the past the thoughts that long lay sleep - ing - A

f

Allegro non troppo

mys - tic world of shades and fears up - on me creep - ing. My

mf

tim - id spir - it shrinks from thoughts of fu - ture strife. Me - thinks I hear a - far the clash - ing

f

din of life; The heart - less world that mocks, vile trea - sons that op - press me; The irk - some pet - ti - ness of tri - fles that ob - sess me, The

f p rall.

dim. e rit.

great sad bell of Death.... The

mf sf sf dim. e rit. poco a poco fp sfpp

(con 2 Pedali)

Andantino mosso

morn-ing-star's white flame Grows faint-er, o-ver-come with shame. She hides her vir-gin face in

pp

joy-less mists of morn-ing, A sym-bol of my fate, a dumb and sol-lemn warn-ing.

The sixth and last song, belonging to this cycle, "Without Sunlight", is to be found in "A Century of Russian Song", collected and edited by Kurt Schindler, published by G. Schirmer, New York, 1911 (page 102-107)
 27749

CONSECRATION

The Hallelujah of Love

(Allelúia Lubvée)

English version by
Deems Taylor and
Kurt Schindler

Music by Modest P. Moussorgsky
From the opera "Khovanshtchina"
Arranged for concert-performance by
Kurt Schindler

Molto moderato

Voice

Piano

f p

p pp p espress.

Fa-ther! love is my on - ly sin. Fain would I bring his - pp sosten. p

soul sal - va - tion ere he dies. With him I do not fear to meet my des - ti - ny.

cresc. p

The musical score is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of three flats (B-flat major or D-flat minor). The tempo is marked 'Molto moderato'. The piano accompaniment begins with a forte (f) dynamic, then softens to piano (p). The vocal line starts with a piano (p) dynamic, followed by pianissimo (pp), and then p espress. (piano, expressive). The piano accompaniment includes markings for pp sosten. (pianissimo, sostenuto) and p. The score concludes with a cresc. (crescendo) marking in the piano part and a final p (piano) dynamic.

For - give me, Lord! Bless me with Thy mer - cy_ and strengthen me!

Largo (♩ = 48)

Now_ my heart re-calls the first bright hour of love; Won - drous vi-sions since then have I be - held. Dark thro' my dreams appear'd the fear lest he_ prove un-true;

Larghetto (♩ = 52)

Black thoughts like an-gry clouds of mid-night hung o-ver me.

(appassionato)
Love has been tor-ment and sor-row to me, Day or night my an-guish'd soul found no rest, For me-seem'd as if the will of God I transgress'd, That my love was a sin a-gainst His ho-ly law. Fa-ther, if I have sinn'd, if wicked was my love, Spare not Thy child, spare not Thine erring child! Oh, take me hence, and

pp

may my bod - y die, So that by death my soul may be re - deem - ed!

sfz p

ten. Ah, — those burn - ing nights when first he spoke to me, ten. Soft - ly whisp'ring of his dolce pp

love and my hap - pi - ness! Now has our love been shrouded dark - ly in sombre clouds,

p

Now has the i - cy hand of Fate_ gripp'd our hearts, Now, be-hold, the hour of_

tr. h.
espress.

death is at_ hand, My be - lov - ed, I bid thee now a_ last fare-well. Hal - le -

l. h.

lu - jah! Hal - le - lu - jah! Hal - le - lu - jah! Hal - le - lu - jah!

dim. pp dolciss.

p 3 pp smorzando

* For concert-performances the air can finish here.

(The Funeral Pyre)

Tempo di Marcia funebre (♩ = 66)

Hark! Dost thou hear, a - far be - yond the for - est,

The first system of music features a vocal line in the upper staff and a piano accompaniment in the lower staff. The key signature has four flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat, D-flat). The tempo is marked 'Tempo di Marcia funebre' with a quarter note equal to 66 beats per minute. The vocal line begins with a rest, followed by the lyrics 'Hark! Dost thou hear, a - far be - yond the for - est,'. The piano accompaniment starts with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic and a piano (p) dynamic. The piano part includes a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a steady eighth-note bass line in the left hand.

Clash and din of arms that pro - claim the hosts approach-ing? Lost! all is lost!

The second system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has the lyrics 'Clash and din of arms that pro - claim the hosts approach-ing? Lost! all is lost!'. The piano accompaniment features a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a bass line with a 'ped.' (pedal) marking. The dynamics remain consistent with the first system.

See, they sur-round us! No - where to hide us, - no - where sal-va-tion!

The third system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has the lyrics 'See, they sur-round us! No - where to hide us, - no - where sal-va-tion!'. The piano accompaniment features a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a bass line with a 'ped.' (pedal) marking. The dynamics remain consistent with the first system.

'Twas Fate her-self that weld - ed close our lives to - geth - er; Now we must die, the

The fourth system concludes the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has the lyrics ''Twas Fate her-self that weld - ed close our lives to - geth - er; Now we must die, the'. The piano accompaniment features a triplet of eighth notes in the right hand and a bass line with a 'ped.' (pedal) marking. The dynamics are marked pp (pianissimo) and cresc. (crescendo).

voice of Doom has spoken! No tears a-vail, nor an-y sigh-ing or— reproach-es; The

pp cresc.

hour now has struck, the hour of con-se-cra-tion— Ah!— my heart re-calls the

rit. Largo (come prima) pp misterioso dolce

first bright hour of love! Ah!— those burning nights of love and hap-pi-ness!

pp

In fier-y fur-naces shall our love— be tem-pered for aye!

ppp mp sostenuto smorzando

Mus 546 .3 .8
Masters of Russian song
Loeb Music Library

AM0545

3 2044 040 682 833

