Sixth system of musical notation, featuring a vocal line and piano accompaniment.

Handwritten musical score on a single page, featuring multiple systems of staves. The notation includes treble and bass clefs, notes, rests, and bar lines. The score is arranged in a vertical column of systems, with some systems containing multiple staves. The handwriting is in ink on aged paper.

The musical score is organized into several systems. The first system at the top consists of two staves with rhythmic notation. The second system features a single staff with a melodic line and some lyrics written below it. The third system contains two staves with rhythmic notation. The fourth system also has two staves with rhythmic notation. The fifth system consists of a single staff with a melodic line. The sixth system contains two staves with rhythmic notation. The seventh system features two staves with rhythmic notation and some lyrics below. The eighth system has two staves with rhythmic notation. The ninth system contains two staves with rhythmic notation. The tenth system consists of two staves with rhythmic notation. The score concludes with a double bar line at the end of the final system.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation, likely a score for a vocal piece with piano accompaniment. The page is organized into four systems, each consisting of three staves. The top staff of each system is the vocal line, and the bottom two staves are the piano accompaniment. The notation includes various musical symbols such as clefs, time signatures, notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The handwriting is in dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The overall appearance is that of a personal manuscript or a composer's draft.

Handwritten musical notation on a single staff, featuring a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The notation includes a series of notes with stems and beams, and a final measure with a fermata.
