RHYTHMIC NOTATION

The letter "R" above or below a note indicates to hold that note longer than its normal time value. A double R "RR" means to hold the note considerably longer. The sign R-p (or R-pecc) is to hold the note very little longer.

The letter "A" above or below a note indicates to hold that note less than its indicated time value. A double A "AA" means to hold the note considerably less than its value. The sign A-p (or A-pecc) is to hold the note much less than its value.

The sign P means Pedal. M indicates Metronome.

The metronome marks are merely approximate.

*) This work, except the parts expressly not so noted, must be played with real "Rubato" (Impulse supreme).
