Words & Music by Arthur Trevelyan.

Andante moderato.

1. At the twi-light hour of a win-ter's day, I dream'd a dream di-vine,..... And it a-woke as soon as the mu-sic ceased; Mine eyes were dim with tears,..... And my brought re-lief to a wea-ry heart. No oth-er heart than mine;..... At the thoughts flew back in their wing-ed flight, To scenes of oth-er years;..... And I gate of Heav-en I meek-ly stood, I saw the shin-ing strand,..... And I won-dered if there would come a time, By God's E-ter-nal Grace,..... When a
