Oh! I just got back to - day, — From a town not far a - way, — I've been It's a most pec - u - liar sight, — And it does -n't seem quite right, — To see look - ing at the Quak - ers, In their clothes of gray; — And it struck me night - y strange, Caus' there's all the Quak - ers danc - ing, Way in - to the night; — When the cur - few starts to ring, — Ev - 'ry - been an aw - ful change; — If you think those folks are slow, — There's a lot that you don't know.

- bod - y starts to sing; — And they grab their danc - ing shoes, While they hum a Quak - er blues.

Chorus

All the Quak - ers are shoul - der shak - ers, Down in Quak - er town, Things are up - side down— The Jazz Bug bit 'em, How it hit 'em; Ev - ry wig - gle just makes you gig - gle, Ev - ry sis - ter is quite a twist - er,

At the meet - ing hall; Bands are play - ing, Folks are sway - ing, To the lov - in' "Strut - ters Ball"
Of a wick - ed knee; Ba - by brother, Dad and Moth - er, Do the "Mem - phis Shiv - er - ee!"

Broth - er Hal - sey, with the pal - sy, You re - mem - ber him, He's the man who first be - gan to Broth - er Mor - gan at the or - gan, Jazzes all the notes, Gee it's sim - ply great to watch them teach them how to "shim;"— Oh! the home of Will - iam Penn, — Won't be quite the same a - sow their Quak - er oats; — You should see how Sis - ter Birch, — Does a fox - trot down to

- gain, 'Cause all the Quak - ers are shoul - dershake - ers, Down in Quak - er Town. — Town - church,

D.5.
