

Dear Application Software Developer:

This package is your license to distribute a single executable program built with LabVIEW™ for the Concurrent PowerMAX Application Builder. This license permits you to distribute one executable on a single machine.

To activate this license, please complete and return the enclosed amendment to the license agreement. After you sign the agreement, please make a copy of it for your future records. Please send the original to the National Instruments corporate office in your country.

If you have any questions, please contact your local National Instruments office.

Sincerely,

Tamra Kerns
LabVIEW Marketing Manager
